

Huge Merchandise Mart To Open in Atlanta January 29

The South's Standard Newspaper

VOL. LXVI., No. 209.

THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION

City and Suburban Circulation Largest of Any Sunday Newspaper in Atlanta

ONLY MORNING NEWSPAPER
PUBLISHED IN ATLANTA

ATLANTA, GA., SUNDAY MORNING, JANUARY 7, 1934.

Entered at Atlanta Postoffice
As Second-Class Mail Matter.

Single Copies: Daily, 5c; Sunday, 10c.
Daily and Sunday: Weekly 30c; Monthly 90c.

JACK KLUTAS, HEAD OF MID-WEST KIDNAP RING, DIES UNDER FIRE OF CHICAGO'S POLICE GUNS

SIX-FLOOR EXHIBIT TO DISPLAY WARES OF 150 COMPANIES

Lullwater Building, on West Peachtree Street, Is Leased for Term of Years From Walter T. Candler for $100,000.

ATLANTA SLATED AS STYLE CENTER

Prominent Citizens Backing Enterprise, Which Is Expected To Prove Boon to Southeastern Retailer.

Opening on January 29 of the Southeastern Merchandise Market, an enterprise which is designed primarily to attract merchants of the southeast to Atlanta to do their buying, but which, its sponsors believe, will result in making Atlanta one of the important style centers of the United States, was announced Saturday.

The building which will house the market has been leased from Walter T. Candler for a term of years and a consideration of $100,000, the six-story and basement Lullwater building at West Peachtree and Peachtree Grand. The lease transaction, as well as much of the organization work, was handled by Sam Rothberg.

Display booths have been leased by 150 leading manufacturers of ready-to-wear in the east. They will have permanent displays here, as well as seasonal fashion shows, these to be timed with similar events in New York. There will be other mercantile exhibits.

Cuts Out ~~Going~~ Trips.

It is estimated that there are 10,000 retailers in the southeast, and that they spend $500,000,000 a year on their stocks. With the market here showing the latest trends, the merchants can compare Atlanta with the displays, and place their orders without going to the expense and loss of the time incident to a trip to New York.

Realizing the value of this project not only to Atlanta but to the southeast, a group of Atlanta businessmen raised funds necessary for the preliminary expenses of the plan. Among these were Howard Candler, Wiley L. Moore, A. L. Helle Isle, Cecil Cannon, J. D. Robinson, W. T. Candler, P. S. Arkwright, T. Guy Woolford, George W. West, James A. Greene, Robert W. Woodruff, W. R. C. Smith, Clark Howell Sr., John Paschal and Herbert Portor.

A loan has been applied for through Alston, Alston, Foster & Moise, attorneys. Meanwhile the incorporators have designated W. R. C. Smith as trustee, who, with the officers, will begin Monday to get the market in shape for operation. Ira A. Stone, a textile manufacturer, of Charlotte, is president of the corporation, and E. P. Minogue is vice president and general manager. Mr. Minogue will live here and be in

Continued in Page 4, Column 2.

Continued in Page 4, Column 2.

The News at a Glance

Cut this each day and make your scrap-book a thumb nail history. Jan. 7, 1934.

LOCAL: Lively political year is forecast, with many aspirants preparing to take field in city, county and state races.

Page 1-A.

Full week of grand opera to open in Atlanta Monday night with "Aida."

Page 1-A.

Atlanta budget committee and council finance committee to meet Monday in attempt to iron out financial difficulties faced in new year.

Page 5-A.

Probe of railroad rates by Georgia public service commission will start Monday.

Page 4-A.

Mrs. Ella W. Smillie, S2, pioneer Atlanta teacher, dies at home here after brief illness; lasts Monday.

Page 7-A.

Talmadge assumes charge of new, directs Adams to take full control of Sutton's work; cities reorganization act as authority.

Page 1-A.

Officials silent as new relief setup, with Miss Shepperson in full charge, begins functioning.

Page 1-A.

Great new merchandise mart to open here January 29 in Lullwater building. 150 manufacturers to apply for products.

Page 1-A.

Chamber of Commerce to install new officers at annual banquet on night of January 18.

Page 7-B.

Probe of county affairs urged by P. C. McDuffie in letter to E. A. Bancker, present foreman of Fulton granite.

Page 1-A.

Charlie Preston, star of Georgia Tech's freshman football team last fall, elopes to Alabama with Miss Mary Josephine Hamilton, Atlanta schoolgirl.

Page 1-A.

FOREIGN: (Georgia news in Page 9-A.)

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Government to employ 311 enumerators for business census of Georgia.

ADEL—Douglas Poole sentenced to pay $500 fine or serve 12 months on

Mart Executive

MORGENTHAU WINS FORMAL APPROVAL AS BAILIE RESIGNS

Treasury Head Now Must Find Another Expert To Take Charge of Vast Borrowing Operation.

By RICHARD L. TURNER.
WASHINGTON, Jan. 6.—(AP)—The last senatorial objection to the confirmation of Henry Morgenthau Jr. as secretary of the treasury was removed today by the resignation of Earle Baile, whom he brought into the department as a special assistant in charge of fiscal affairs.

While the senate finance committee voted favorably on the Morgenthau appointment this week, such forcible objection to Baile's continuance was raised by Senator Couzens, republican, Michigan, that a senate vote on confirmation was postponed to give time for a controversy to flare up on the floor.

Baile's integrity was not questioned in any particular, the objections of Couzens and his colleagues being based upon his previous and continuing association with the New York banking firm of J. & W. Seligman & Company, which, Couzens contend, had floated several issues of foreign bonds now partially or wholly in default.

While Morgenthau said only last Tuesday that he expected Baile to continue working with him on the temporary basis upon which the latter entered the department, the secretary today said he had accepted his resignation, submitted by letter to be effective at Morgenthau's convenience before the end of January.

Reason for Resignation.

Baile's communication called attention to the understanding that his services were to be temporary and said that due to the recent death of a partner in J. & W. Seligman & Company, he felt he should devote his entire attention to the affairs of the firm.

Because of Baile's long experience in the investment banking field, Morgenthau's plan was for him to take over charge of the vast borrowing operation which the government must undertake in the next six months, and for which plans were said today to be advancing.

To pay the costs of the recovery program, government securities totaling $6,000,000,000 must be floated, President Roosevelt reported to congress this week, and an additional $4,000,000,000 of government paper must be issued to meet an equivalent amount of obligations maturing before June 30.

Baile, in his month and a half in the department, has also been in close touch with the development of the president's monetary program, with which he has professed full agreement.

Under the existing plan of operations of the regional agricultural credit corporations, 75 per cent of the farmers cannot qualify, he said, whereas all would be made eligible by the proposed legislation.

Meanwhile, republicans began their preparations for the Roosevelt budget today as the senate and house took time off and prepared for the contests to come.

With both houses in recess until Monday and committees and leaders busying themselves for next week's grappling with liquor taxes, the state legislature was to meet Saturday.

Under the existing plan of operations of the regional agricultural credit corporations, 75 per cent of the farmers cannot qualify, he said, whereas all would be made eligible by the proposed legislation.

Because of Baile's long experience in the investment banking field, Morgenthau's plan was for him to take over charge of the vast borrowing operation which the government must undertake in the next six months, and for which plans were said today to be advancing.

To pay the costs of the recovery program, government securities totaling $6,000,000,000 must be floated, President Roosevelt reported to congress this week, and an additional $4,000,000,000 of government paper must be issued to meet an equivalent amount of obligations maturing before June 30.

Baile, in his month and a half in the department, has also been in close touch with the development of the president's monetary program, with which he has professed full agreement.

Meanwhile, republicans began their preparations for the Roosevelt budget today as the senate and house took time off and prepared for the contests to come.

With both houses in recess until Monday and committees and leaders busying themselves for next week's grappling with liquor taxes, the state legislature was to meet Saturday.

Under the existing plan of operations of the regional agricultural credit corporations, 75 per cent of the farmers cannot qualify, he said, whereas all would be made eligible by the proposed legislation.

Because of Baile's long experience in the investment banking field, Morgenthau's plan was for him to take over charge of the vast borrowing operation which the government must undertake in the next six months, and for which plans were said today to be advancing.

To pay the costs of the recovery program, government securities totaling $6,000,000,000 must be floated, President Roosevelt reported to congress this week, and an additional $4,000,000,000 of government paper must be issued to meet an equivalent amount of obligations maturing before June 30.

Baile, in his month and a half in the department, has also been in close touch with the development of the president's monetary program, with which he has professed full agreement.

Meanwhile, republicans began their preparations for the Roosevelt budget today as the senate and house took time off and prepared for the contests to come.

Under the existing plan of operations of the regional agricultural credit corporations, 75 per cent of the farmers cannot qualify, he said, whereas all would be made eligible by the proposed legislation.

Because of Baile's long experience in the investment banking field, Morgenthau's plan was for him to take over charge of the vast borrowing operation which the government must undertake in the next six months, and for which plans were said today to be advancing.

To pay the costs of the recovery program, government securities totaling $6,000,000,000 must be floated, President Roosevelt reported to congress this week, and an additional $4,000,000,000 of government paper must be issued to meet an equivalent amount of obligations maturing before June 30.

Baile, in his month and a half in the department, has also been in close touch with the development of the president's monetary program, with which he has professed full agreement.

Meanwhile, republicans began their preparations for the Roosevelt budget today as the senate and house took time off and prepared for the contests to come.

Under the existing plan of operations of the regional agricultural credit corporations, 75 per cent of the farmers cannot qualify, he said, whereas all would be made eligible by the proposed legislation.

Because of Baile's long experience in the investment banking field, Morgenthau's plan was for him to take over charge of the vast borrowing operation which the government must undertake in the next six months, and for which plans were said today to be advancing.

To pay the costs of the recovery program, government securities totaling $6,000,000,000 must be floated, President Roosevelt reported to congress this week, and an additional $4,000,000,000 of government paper must be issued to meet an equivalent amount of obligations maturing before June 30.

Baile, in his month and a half in the department, has also been in close touch with the development of the president's monetary program, with which he has professed full agreement.

Meanwhile, republicans began their preparations for the Roosevelt budget today as the senate and house took time off and prepared for the contests to come.

Under the existing plan of operations of the regional agricultural credit corporations, 75 per cent of the farmers cannot qualify, he said, whereas all would be made eligible by the proposed legislation.

Because of Baile's long experience in the investment banking field, Morgenthau's plan was for him to take over charge of the vast borrowing operation which the government must undertake in the next six months, and for which plans were said today to be advancing.

To pay the costs of the recovery program, government securities totaling $6,000,000,000 must be floated, President Roosevelt reported to congress this week, and an additional $4,000,000,000 of government paper must be issued to meet an equivalent amount of obligations maturing before June 30.

Baile, in his month and a half in the department, has also been in close touch with the development of the president's monetary program, with which he has professed full agreement.

Meanwhile, republicans began their preparations for the Roosevelt budget today as the senate and house took time off and prepared for the contests to come.

Under the existing plan of operations of the regional agricultural credit corporations, 75 per cent of the farmers cannot qualify, he said, whereas all would be made eligible by the proposed legislation.

Because of Baile's long experience in the investment banking field, Morgenthau's plan was for him to take over charge of the vast borrowing operation which the government must undertake in the next six months, and for which plans were said today to be advancing.

To pay the costs of the recovery program, government securities totaling $6,000,000,000 must be floated, President Roosevelt reported to congress this week, and an additional $4,000,000,000 of government paper must be issued to meet an equivalent amount of obligations maturing before June 30.

Baile, in his month and a half in the department, has also been in close touch with the development of the president's monetary program, with which he has professed full agreement.

Meanwhile, republicans began their preparations for the Roosevelt budget today as the senate and house took time off and prepared for the contests to come.

Under the existing plan of operations of the regional agricultural credit corporations, 75 per cent of the farmers cannot qualify, he said, whereas all would be made eligible by the proposed legislation.

Because of Baile's long experience in the investment banking field, Morgenthau's plan was for him to take over charge of the vast borrowing operation which the government must undertake in the next six months, and for which plans were said today to be advancing.

To pay the costs of the recovery program, government securities totaling $6,000,000,000 must be floated, President Roosevelt reported to congress this week, and an additional $4,000,000,000 of government paper must be issued to meet an equivalent amount of obligations maturing before June 30.

Baile, in his month and a half in the department, has also been in close touch with the development of the president's monetary program, with which he has professed full agreement.

Meanwhile, republicans began their preparations for the Roosevelt budget today as the senate and house took time off and prepared for the contests to come.

Under the existing plan of operations of the regional agricultural credit corporations, 75 per cent of the farmers cannot qualify, he said, whereas all would be made eligible by the proposed legislation.

Because of Baile's long experience in the investment banking field, Morgenthau's plan was for him to take over charge of the vast borrowing operation which the government must undertake in the next six months, and for which plans were said today to be advancing.

To pay the costs of the recovery program, government securities totaling $6,000,000,000 must be floated, President Roosevelt reported to congress this week, and an additional $4,000,000,000 of government paper must be issued to meet an equivalent amount of obligations maturing before June 30.

Baile, in his month and a half in the department, has also been in close touch with the development of the president's monetary program, with which he has professed full agreement.

Meanwhile, republicans began their preparations for the Roosevelt budget today as the senate and house took time off and prepared for the contests to come.

Under the existing plan of operations of the regional agricultural credit corporations, 75 per cent of the farmers cannot qualify, he said, whereas all would be made eligible by the proposed legislation.

Because of Baile's long experience in the investment banking field, Morgenthau's plan was for him to take over charge of the vast borrowing operation which the government must undertake in the next six months, and for which plans were said today to be advancing.

To pay the costs of the recovery program, government securities totaling $6,000,000,000 must be floated, President Roosevelt reported to congress this week, and an additional $4,000,000,000 of government paper must be issued to meet an equivalent amount of obligations maturing before June 30.

Baile, in his month and a half in the department, has also been in close touch with the development of the president's monetary program, with which he has professed full agreement.

Meanwhile, republicans began their preparations for the Roosevelt budget today as the senate and house took time off and prepared for the contests to come.

Under the existing plan of operations of the regional agricultural credit corporations, 75 per cent of the farmers cannot qualify, he said, whereas all would be made eligible by the proposed legislation.

COMBINATION TAX ON LIQUOR URGED

Federal-State Levy Proposal Seen; Debt Default Retaliation Looms.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6.—(P)—A new proposal to include a combined federal-state liquor levy will be made to the senate finance committee today when it starts work on the house liquor tax bill.

The suggestion, together with a probable amendment to provide for a retaliation against debt defaulters, appeared tonight to be the most likely sources of controversy during senate consideration of the measure passed yesterday by the house.

Chairman Harrison said he would ask the finance committee to speed the bill to the senate early next week. He also said he would ask the committee to give "very serious consideration" to a tax of $2.60 a gallon with states not levying a gallonage tax to receive a 20 per cent credit.

A similar proposal was advanced by President Roosevelt's interdepartmental committee but was thrown out by the house, and the measure committee on the ground it would be too difficult to administer. The house, in passing its $2 tax bill yesterday, 385 to 5, also ignored the combination federal-state levy.

Opposition in Prospect.

Considerable opposition has developed around the Harrison proposal, although democratic committee members generally said they would favor the principle if the president said he wanted it. Mr. Roosevelt endorsed the idea at first. Whether he still favors it is not known.

While not promising himself definitely to the proposal, Harrison said he thought the departmental recommendation was a "very full and fair way of raising revenue" and would not "perpetuate bootlegging."

Many senators from the more than 20 states that do not permit sale of liquor and therefore would not share in the combination levy were non-committal, fearing the proposition, as it stands, would amount to $3.60 a gallon. Some states, he said, already had enacted $1 and $2 gallonage levies.

Such states would receive no credit under the $2.60 rate and Harrison believes these instances were combination levies would amount to $3.60 a gallon. A gallon would influence the states to confine their taxation to license fees, as before prohibition.

Urge Lower Levy.

Senator Clark, of Missouri, a democratic member of the finance committee, said he preferred $1.50 to $1.75 for the tax and let the states do as they please. He added he would "go along with the administration," however, if it wanted the combination levy, despite his belief it would be difficult to administer.

Clark will propose an excise tax of 50 cents a gallon on all liquor on imports over and above the import levies, on such beverages coming from countries that have defaulted on their war debts to the United States.

The house rejected a similar proposition by Representative Knutson, republican, of Minnesota, 25 to 160.

Under Clark's proposed amendment the revenues from the excise taxes would be credited on the debts from the nations in default.

"England and France," he said, "are counting on repeal of the eighteenth amendment bringing their debts of the depression by sale of their liquor here. At the same time they are thumbing their noses at us on debts."

Passport Fee Hike.

Clark also intends offering an amendment to boost to $500 passport fees for tourists traveling to debt-defaulting countries.

Senator Couzens, of Michigan, a republican member of the finance committee, will seek approval of an amendment to make the buyer of bootleg liquor as guilty as the seller.

Rep. Frank Murphy, of Pennsylvania, was expected to take issue with the combined liquor tax on the ground the federal government should not be a "tax-collecting agency for the states."

It is not believed Harrison will press the proposal if he sees opposition to it.

The committee, he said in a statement today, "will expedite consideration of the measure so that the increased tax can become operative as early as a date possible."

Estimates have been made that every day the bill is delayed the government loses $750,000 in revenue.

TWO LINERS COLLIDE IN N. Y. HARBOR FOG

NEW YORK, Jan. 6.—(P)—Dense fog billowed in from the sea and settled over New York harbor today, causing a collision between two liners and holding major shipping at a standstill.

The outward-bound Furness liner Dominica collided with the incoming Gerstein, of the Arnold Bernstein line, off Christopher street. The vessels were slightly damaged. No one was injured.

The Mauretania, due to sail yesterday at 5 p. m. with 200 passengers, was held up continuously for 15 hours late, when the fog lifted somewhat this afternoon.

Mists were so thick off Sandy Hook that the marine observer reported "no visibility, until a breeze blew up and started rolling the gray vapor away."

J. C. Morris, of the Consul, put to sea in the fog. The vessel is en route down the coast to pick up its owner for a West Indies cruise.

FLETCHER OBSERVES HIS 75TH BIRTHDAY

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6.—(P)—On his 75th birthday anniversary, Senator Fletcher, of Florida, today, sat in his swivel chair and said "I'm feeling fine."

HALF SOLES and HEELS
Fine Oak Tanned
Leather
79¢
THIS LOW PRICE
EVERY DAY

BASEMENT DAVISON-PAXON CO.
WYATT ASSOCIATED WITH DAVISON-
PAXON CO.

Stars of Chicago Opera Company Who Will Sing Here This Week

WEEK OF OPERA TO OPEN MONDAY

Continued From First Page.

Ransome, accompanied by Baccolini. The balance of the company will arrive at 7:30 to play Monday morning, with appearances for the cast made at the Georgian Terrace hotel. Two carloads of scenery are being brought to Atlanta, insuring adequate backgrounds for the glorious musical presentations.

Coming to Atlanta with the Chicago company are soprano Santa Blanca; Elvira Mirella, Carlotta Bruno; Alice Hasseler and Charlotte Ryan; mezzo soprano, Dreda Aves; tenors, Giuseppe Radolfi and Lawrence Power; baritones, Pasquale Amato and Giuseppe Interante; basses, Nino Ruisi and Dalle Molle; conductors, Giuseppe Bamboscheck and Alberto Baccolini.

Additions to Cast.

In addition to the originally announced cast, the company is bringing Annunziata Garrotto and Beatrice Alvieri, sopranos; Georgin Standing, soprano; Edward Ransome, dramatic tenor; Elsie Hottinger, mezzo soprano, and Fernando Bertini and Costante Sorvino, basses.

Mimi Garrotto is one of the most beautiful and talented young sopranos of the day. A resident of Omaha, she studied three years in Italy and made her debut as Mimi in "La Boheme" at the Theatre Del Verne, Milan. She was featured in the leading soprano roles in "Faust," "Boris," and "Ivan the Terrible," produced and is a particularly fine Mimi, which she will sing in Atlanta. Her debut in Atlanta will be as Marguerite in "Faust" on Tuesday night.

Miss Standing is being brought to Atlanta to sing Hansel in "Hansel and Gretel" in English at the Wednesday matinee.

Mr. Ransome was with the Metropolitan for four years, and sang in Italy with tremendous success under the name of Edward Ranzone, and will sing Manrico in "Il Trovatore" on Saturday night.

Ticket sales have been huge, according to reports from the booths at Davison-Paxson's and at Rich's. Many season tickets were sold for the performances beginning Tuesday night, "Aida" on Monday night as an all star concert series feature not being included in the season prices. Individual tickets are now being sold at 50 cents, 75 cents, $1 and $1.50, with a special offer of half price to all school children for the performances of "Hansel and Gretel" at the Wednesday matinee, the offeg including high school students.

Cast of Operas.

Under the general direction of Alfred Salmaggi, the company has arranged the following series of operas and casts (matinées beginning at 2:15 and night performances at 8:15 o'clock):

"Aida," Monday night, January 8; Charlotte Ryan, Aida; Dreda Aves, Amneris; Giuseppe Radolfi, Carotto, Bruno, Siebel; Giuseppe Interante, Valentine; Nino Ruisi, Mephistopheles, Incidental dances by Lumi Nestor and the ballet; Bamboscheck, conductor.

"Faust," Tuesday night, January 9; Lawrence Power, Faust; Annunziata Garrotto, Marguerite; Carlotta Bruno, Siebel; Giuseppe Interante, Valentine; Nino Ruisi, Mephistopheles, Incidental dances by Lumi Nestor and the ballet; Bamboscheck, conductor.

"Hansel and Gretel," Wednesday matinee, January 10; Georgin Standing, Hansel; Bamboscheck, conductor; "Cavalleria Rusticana," Wednesday night, January 11; Santa Biondo, Santuzza; Elvira Mirella, Lola; Lawrence Power, Turridi; Dalle Molle, Alfio; Giuseppe Radolfi, Mamma Lucia; Costante Sorvino, Tonio; Pasquale Amato, Don Fernando; Alfredo Bertini, Lohengrin; Giuseppe Interante, Telramundo; Dalle Molle, herald; Bamboscheck, conductor.

"Lohengrin," Thursday night, January 11; Nino Ruisi, the king; Charlotte Ryan, Elsa; Dreda Aves, Valentine; Nino Ruisi, Lohengrin; Giuseppe Interante, Telramundo; Dalle Molle, herald; Bamboscheck, conductor.

"Carmen," Saturday matinee, January 13; Dreda Aves, Carmen; Santa Biondo, Micaela; Giuseppe Radolfi, Don Jose; Giuseppe Interante, Escamillo; Nino Ruisi, Zuniga; Georgin Standing, Meleodoro; Dance divertimenti by Lumi Nestor and the ballet; Bamboscheck, conductor.

"La Boheme," Friday night, January 12; Annunziata Garrotto, Mimi; Santa Biondo, Musetta; Lawrence Power, Rodolfo; Pasquale Amato, Marcello; Nino Ruisi, Colline; Dalle Molle, Beppe; Bamboscheck, conductor.

"La Boheme," Friday night, January 13; Dreda Aves, Carmen; Santa Biondo, Micaela; Giuseppe Radolfi, Don Jose; Giuseppe Interante, Escamillo; Nino Ruisi, Zuniga; Georgin Standing, Meleodoro; Dance divertimenti by Lumi Nestor and the ballet; Bamboscheck, conductor.

"Aida" was given in Atlanta by the Metropolitan in its first season of 1910 and again in 1912, 1914, 1916 and 1912. Another who sings Amneris had the same role in the 1912 season. "Faust" was given in 1912, 1919, 1922 and 1924. "Hansel and Gretel" was given during the first season of the Metropolitan and was repeated during the more recent seasons.

"Cavalleria Rusticana" and "Pagliacci" have been given during numerous seasons, the latter including the famous Caruso in 1910 and 1912. "Lohengrin" was the first opera presented in Atlanta by the Metropolitan. It was presented again in 1923 and 1924.

"La Boheme" was presented in 1912, 1917, 1919 and 1921, with Caruso and Amato in the 1917 cast. "Carmen" was given during 1915, 1917, 1919 and 1922, the first time with

TWO MEN ARRESTED AFTER RAZOR AFFRAY

Two men were arrested by police Saturday night as the result of a fight in which W. B. Burtz, of 510 Sunset avenue, received a severe razor wound in the throat, according to police reports.

Clyde Tarbush, of 943 Rice street, was charged with disorderly conduct and stabbing another when he was caught with a bloody razor in his hand near the scene where Burtz was cut at Echo street and Bankhead avenue. Radio Patrolman Olin Williams arrested Tarbush and after Burtz was treated at Grady hospital for a wound that just missed his jugular, he was arrested and charged with drunk and disorderly conduct. Tarbush denied that he cut Burtz.

Arson Laid to 7.

MORRISTOWN, N. J., Jan. 6.—A man arrested tonight to seven today the number of persons held in connection with an alleged arson ring whose operations extended throughout North Jersey and even as far south as Chattanooga, Tenn.

Geraldine Farrar and the other time with Florence Easton. "Il Trovatore" was given in 1911, 1914, 1917, 1919 and 1924.

TRAVEL BY TRAIN-IT'S CHEAPER 1 1/2c MILE 2c MILE

IN COACHES
ONE WAY

Tickets On Sale Daily to All Points on Seaboard Air Line and Many Points in Southeast on Connecting Lines

EXAMPLE OF FARES FROM ATLANTA

	ONE WAY	ROUND TRIP
ONE WAY	COACH	IN SLEEPER
BIRMINGHAM	.....	$2.50 6.70
MEMPHIS	.....	6.31 16.80
RALEIGH	.....	6.33 16.90
RICHMOND	.....	8.15 21.75
NORFOLK-PORTSMOUTH	.....	8.96 23.90
WASHINGTON	.....	9.58 25.55

One-Way Tickets Honored in Sleepers 3c Mile

Beth or Seat Fare in Pullman Additional—No Surcharge

TRAVEL THE SAFE WAY

SEABOARD WALNUT 5018
62 LUCKIE ST., N. W.

EDWIN JOHNSON SEEKS FULTON BOARD PLACE

Board Aspirant

J. L. WELLS TO SEEK PLACE IN ASSEMBLY

Former Eighth Ward Coun- cilman Announces in Op- position to Eckford.

James L. Wells, former eighth ward councilman for seven years, Saturday formally announced his candidacy for the Georgia assembly from Fulton county to succeed George Eckford, incoming.

Eckford has made no announcement of his intentions.

Wells, regarded as one of the most progressive and efficient members of council for several years, held every important committee assignment in the gift of Atlanta mayors. He was an chairman of the finance committee during one of the most difficult periods in recent Atlanta history, and established an enviable record.

He was one of the most popular members of council despite his job of cutting personnel and of general reorganization made necessary in the municipality because of reduced revenues.

He is president of the Sloan Paper Company and regarded as one of the city's leading business executives.

Text of Wells' announcement follows:

"This is my announcement as a candidate for the state legislature for the office now held by Mr. George Eckford.

"Believing that the city of Atlanta should have representation in the state legislature by business men familiar with the problems of the city of Atlanta, I am offering myself as a candidate, having had seven years experience representing the eighth ward in the city council."

EDWIN F. JOHNSON.

HUSBAND IS CHARGED WITH DEATH OF WIFE

HAGERSTOWN, Md., Jan. 6.—(P)—E. Russel Koons, 34-year-old machinist, who was formerly charged with the murder of his wife, Mrs. Catherine Maugans Koons, 23, was exonerated by Magistrate Richard Sweeny.

The warrant was issued at the request of State's Attorney Lloyd Henshaw after Mrs. Koons died earlier in the day from pistol wounds received yesterday.

A hearing was set for next Wednesday before the magistrate. Before she died, Mrs. Koons told county officers that her husband had shot her.

This Koons denied when questioned, insisting the shooting was accidental.

"Intelligent rigid economy."

"Equalization of tax assessments, looking to a revision downward of all assessments, with relief to home and realty owners."

"A plan for the public works department to be as nearly self-sustaining as possible, in co-operation with county farmers, merchants and free labor."

"The use of a prison camp to be occupied exclusively by those convicted of first minor offenses in order that they may be segregated from the evil influences of hardened criminals."

"A high standard of maintenance for our system of streets and roads, new paving to be engaged in when and as county finances permit."

"A fair percentage of tax money to be spent in Atlanta and other Fulton county municipalities in co-operation with the elected representatives of the municipalities."

"First consideration for protection of health, life and property; safeguard our streams against pollution; construction of an adequate modern sewerage system, using county forces largely in this work without additional expense."

"Citizens who live in Fulton county outside the limits of Atlanta to receive equal hospital attention; help in any practical plan to better equip and operate Grady hospital and Battle Hill sanatorium for service to suffering humanity."

1933 Busiest Year, Annual Report Of Atlanta Motor Club Sets Forth

More than 20,000 persons were served by the Atlanta Motor Club during 1933, not including better than 47,223 requests for information or emergency service.

During the year 1,942 letters asking information about Georgia were received and the desired information given in replies. With practically every letter replied to maps and fold-ers of Georgia were enclosed.

"The year just closed has been the busiest in our history," Mr. Straus said. "We have given more information to 14,520 persons. These accounted for a total of 1,341,500 miles of touring.

Registrations were received at the club's touring bureau, and information on routes and the best roads and high-ways was given this number, in addition to the thousands of Georgians who availed themselves of this service.

The amount of literature given out for information which totaled 72,905 pieces, including 20,000 requests for information or emergency service.

Maps and routings were given to 14,520 persons. These accounted for a total of 1,341,500 miles of touring.

According to the records kept by the touring bureau under the direction of Mrs. Mary Lawrence.

Service calls, when emergency service was furnished club members, totalled 3,154 for the year. In this record were included the telephone calls

HOTEL OPERATORS OF SOUTH TO MEET WITH STATE GROUP

Hotel operators in 13 southern states have been called to meet in Atlanta January 18, 19 and 20 in conjunction with the 28th annual meeting of the Georgia Hotel Association.

Between 1,200 and 1,500 men and women are expected here, according to the announcement. An exhibition of more than 25 exhibits will be housed in the Piedmont hotel, meeting headquarters, with exhibitors coming from various sections of the country to show their wares to southern buyers.

The gathering of hotel men from the south is expected to become an annual affair and probably, according to L. O. Moseley, president of the Georgia Association, a joint meeting with the hotel body. An interesting program of entertainment is planned for the visitors and exhibitors.

Vespers Resumed.

Vesper services will be resumed at Spelman College at 3 o'clock this afternoon when Rev. Robert N. Brooks, professor of church history at Gammon Theological Seminary, will be the speaker. The services, which are held in Sisters' chapel, are open to the public.

BUSINESS CENSUS BY CWA TO BEGIN IN STATE MONDAY

A CWA census of business operations in Georgia to determine "where the American dollar goes," and incidentally to provide employment for the white collar jobless, will be started in Atlanta and other cities and towns of the state Monday. The work will be under the general supervision of W. L. McWhorter, Mr. B. B. Barrett, with quarters in the new postoffice building, actively in charge.

The state is divided into 45 districts with ten supervisors. Enumerators will be chosen from the relief list, and will make a census of every type of business and retail business. A form will be filled out by each business, but, it was emphasized, this quiz has nothing to do with taxes, and the information will be confidential with the bureau of the census.

It is estimated that 307 persons will be employed in the state. Atlanta is one of 35 cities selected as headquarters of the census.

Information to be asked involves the functions of each business, salaries for private employees, expenses, net sales, and employment given. Employment is to be emphasized. The data will be compared with the 1929 census distribution, and will, it was said, give material for economic planning.

The state of Georgia is one district. Similar censuses will be obtained in every state. All counties will be included.

MITCHELL REPORTS CODE FIGHTS SETTLED

Final adjustment of more than 200 proposed codes of ethics and regulations which had been received prior to January 1, was reported on Saturday by W. L. Mitchell, district compliance director of the NRA.

Including cases which had been referred to national and local agencies for private adjustments, Mr. Mitchell estimated that the final adjustments would reach over 50 percent. He said that two out of 10 complaints must be rejected because of legal insufficiency. Employers have co-operated with him, he added.

DAVISON'S

January WHITE SALE January SILK SALE

Linen Damask Cloths

Approximately 1/2 today's prices!

All sizes, all qualities, practically every pattern you could wish! Bought last June in Ireland with Macy's tremendous order, when American money bought double in English merchandise!

Hemmed and Laundered, 63x63-inch Cloth . . . 1.88
Matching Napkins, 18x18, dozen ..... 2.88
Hand-Hemmed and Laundered 72x90 Cloth ..... 4.99

Mayflower Sheets

81x103 $\frac{1}{2}$ , regularly \$1.89 . . . . . 1.44

6 for \$8.50! The finest round-thread cotton sheets, with sewn-in labels. 4 $\frac{1}{2}$  inches of extra length. 72x103 $\frac{1}{2}$ , regularly \$1.79—\$1.34, 6 for \$7.75; regular 39c cases, 34c, 6 for \$2.

Cannon Turkish Towels

Extra large and heavy ..... 27c

Strong, heavy double thread weaves. Thirsty as the morning after. Colored borders of blue, rose, green, gold, orchid.

21x27-inch FEATHER PILLOWS, regularly $5.94, pr. ..... 3.99

MATTRESS PROTECTORS, single and double, reg. $1.89, $1.98, 1.29

WAMSUTTA and FEATHERLITE
PERCALE SHEETS at a 10% Discount!

LINENS, SECOND FLOOR

Spring 1934 Silk Prints

Pure silk, printed in the newest of Spring 1934 patterns! Vivid flower prints, gay little diminutive patterns, conventional designs . . . alive with Spring's colors. 39-in.

88c yd.

Davison's All-Silk Flat Crepe

regularly 69c . . . . . 58c yd.

Too many thousands of yards of this popular all-silk crepe are sold to Atlanta women month in, month out to need tell you more than the price! Full range of all colors: black, white, sports, street and exquisite pastel lingerie shades. 38-inch.

WASHABLE SILK PRINTS, regularly $1.69 . . . . . 1.28
WASHABLE PURE-DYE CREPE, regularly $1.38 . . . . . 99c
ALL-SILK FAILLE CREPE, regularly $1.98 . . . . . 1.48

Every Yard All Perfect, as Always!

SILKS REDUCED!

formerly $1.19 to $1.49

89c

Exquisite Silk Taffetas, Silk Canvons, Silk Satins! Also other all-silk fabrics the experienced silk-buyer will recognize as truly marvelous values!

DAVISON'S PERCALES

regularly 25c . . . . . 15c

Atlanta's been swarming 'round these fast-color new Spring prints like bees 'round the honey-pot! Dozens of new 1934 patterns—thousands of yards!

SILKS, SECOND FLOOR

DAVISON-PAXON CO.
ATLANTA -- affiliated with MACY'S, New York

VIOLENCE FLARES IN MILK EMBARGO

18,000 Farmers Picket Chicago Highways and Stop Flow to City.

CHICAGO, Jan. 6.—(AP)—A milk embargo, marked by violence and threatening the city's comfort and health, tightened around Chicago tonight as 18,000 angry farmers picketed highways and defied their neighbors' attempts to deliver milk.

Chicago and scores of towns surrounding it within a radius of 100 miles were menaced with a milk shortage by Monday. In some places dairy companies announced they could not make Sunday deliveries.

Thousands of gallons of milk were dumped into lakes and rivers by farmers in Illinois, Wisconsin and Indiana refrained from marketing their milk, or were restrained by neighbors from doing so.

Even the best dairy companies of Chicago admitted their supplies had been cut seriously. An official of the Pure Milk Association, organization of farmers which called the strike, declared Chicago received "far less than 20 per cent" of its normal supply.

Only dairies supplying hospitals and other institutions were allowed to obtain the quota from farmers. States were taken to assure adequate supplies for infants.

The Wisconsin co-operative milk pool, instigator of strikes of its own not long ago, announced it would fight the strike my shipping milk into Chicago, but officials of the P. M. A. said they doubted if such action would have any serious effect on the embargo.

There was an attitude of "let them try it" among P. M. A. officials, but all denied any intention of recommending violence. They insisted the strike consisted only of its most far-reaching objectives.

TOM A. LIBERS, 55, DIES AFTER LONG ILLNESS

Tom A. Libers, 55, a native of Greece who was an American citizen and a widely known resident of Atlanta for more than 20 years, died Saturday at a private hospital after a long illness. He resided at 406 Washington street.

Funeral services will be held at 2:30 o'clock Monday afternoon at the Greek Orthodox church. The Rev. Panos Constantines will conduct the services and interment will be in Greenwood cemetery, with Harry G. Poole in charge. Chaplain No. 1 of the Order of Ahepa of which Mr. Libers was an active member, will have charge of the services.

Surviving Mr. Libers are his wife, Mrs. Margaret Libers; a daughter, Miss Doris Ridgeway Libers; two sisters and three brothers who live in Greece, and a nephew, Charlie Kliros, of Atlanta.

MERCHANDISE MART TO EXHIBIT WARES OF 150 COMPANIES

Continued From First Page.

charge of the active administration of the project.

The Lullwater building, whose name has been changed to the Southeastern Merchandise Market, is six stories and basement, and has 100,000 square feet of space. There will be from 110 to 120 display booths on each floor, ranging in area from 100 to 1,000 square feet.

George M. Hoole, of the Hoole studios of Charlotte, will be in charge of the arrangement and designing of the booths and the display rooms, the latter being larger and specially arranged in hotel style shown in show models. He will start work Monday on the necessary alterations in the building.

Will Employ 50 Persons.

Fifty persons will be employed in the market. It will be open at 9 o'clock every business day and remain open until 9 p.m. Little merchants will be given every possible co-operation not only by the management, but by the Chamber of Commerce which, through Wiley Moore, is taking an enthusiastic interest in the plan.

The market is the contribution of Atlanta to the commercial setup of the South, Mr. Moore said. "Georgia's sister states are invited to participate in its benefits."

The Chamber of Commerce takes this occasion to extend a hearty invitation to the merchants of the southeast to attend the opening on January 29, and the entire facilities of the chamber will be available to them.

Mr. Smith said that Mr. Moore's hearty co-operation made this project an assured venture.

"Mr. Moore felt, as we did, that the market was the outstanding local business development of the year," he said, "and that the co-operation that it was successful."

It is hoped through enabling out-of-town merchants to see styles here simultaneously with their showing in New York to make Atlanta one of the important style centers of the country. This was regarded by the market's sponsors as one of its most far-reaching objectives.

There was an attitude of "let them try it" among P. M. A. officials, but all denied any intention of recommending violence. They insisted the strike consisted only of its most far-reaching objectives.

Continued From First Page.

overwhelmingly under the control of the administration," he asserted. "that only an aroused public opinion can stop the wild orgy of spending now going on."

The American people, he continued, were "no doubt shocked at the administration's spending." He said, "less than a year ago promised a prompt balancing of the federal budget" that the first fiscal year of his administration would end with a deficit of $7,309,088,211, exclusive of debt retirement amounting to $288,171,500.

Democrats Leader Message.

Democrats leaders reported that the president's budget message was a frank statement of conditions brought about by essential emergency spending, that the ordinary budget was nearly balanced and that by 1936 both ordinary and emergency appropriations would be on a pay-as-you-go basis.

During the informal budget debate, Chairman Harrison, of the Senate finance committee, announced his group would meet Monday to expedite the house liquor tax bill, but started a round of discussion by saying it would give "very serious consideration" to a bill for an $82-million tax with a credit of 20 per cent to states that refrained from enacting gallonage levies.

There will be opposition to the quarters of the Southeastern Merchandise Market, the Lullwater building on West Peachtree street, and some of the leading figures in its organization. Below, left to right, Ira A. Stone, of Charlotte, president; W. R. C. Smith, an incorporator, who will act as trustee until the charter is granted, and Wiley L. Moore, president of the Chamber of Commerce and one of the incorporators.

ADKINS ARRANGEMENTS NOT YET COMPLETED

Final arrangements had not been completed Saturday night for Dr. William Nevin Adkins, 50, widely known physician and Fulton county health officer, whose death occurred unexpectedly Friday. It was expected that arrangements would be completed today by H. M. Patterson & Son.

Dr. Adkins, a World War veteran and active member of the Fulton County Medical Society, had been ill plan in committee and on the floor of the committee approves it, despite Harrison's contention that it will perpetuate bootlegging" and was a "very full and fair way of raising revenue."

Harrison did not commit himself to the idea definitely.

Action Seen on Nominations.

The liquor tax bill probably will not reach the senate floor until mid-week, meanwhile, the senate will act on nominations.

Mr. Nevin Adkins, of Atlanta, son of Henry Morgenbesser Jr., as treasury secretary, and may begin consideration of the controversial St. Lawrence waterway treaty with Canada.

The house, having gotten away to a flying start by enacting the first big bill on the third day of the session—the $2 liquor levy measure—will have some speeches and act on miscellaneous measures Monday and later in the week will consider the District of Columbia liquor regulation and the independent offices appropriation bill.

The way was opened today for early consideration of the first farm relief bill of the session—the $100,000,000 crop loan measure—offered by Senator Smith, democrat, South Carolina.

The senate agriculture committee headed by Smith approved it unanimously.

President Roosevelt plans to send a message or a letter to congress early in the week proposing that the government guarantee the principal, as well as the interest on the $2,000,000,000 of farm mortgage refinancing bonds and may follow it up with another recommending the same treatment for the $2,000,000,000 of home loans.

Senator Couzens, republican, Michigan, indeed both of these proposals today, as well as the farm relief bill, said both classes of bonds should be fully fledged government obligations.

The impending clash over the St.

Lawrence treaty opening the west to ocean-going transportation took on new life today with Senator Vandenberg, republican, Michigan, an advocate of the pact, disputing claims of Senator Couzens, democrat, New York, that he had 50 votes against it.

"If the senator thinks he has 50 votes in favor of the pact would be very happy to vote at once."

Although President Roosevelt is a firm advocate of the treaty, administration has expressed doubt over its fate at this session.

Proponents of the pact believe the required two-thirds for ratification could be had if the issue ever comes to a vote, but they doubt the availability of strength to keep it before the senate that long.

Frank P. Glass III.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Jan. 6.—(AP)—Frank P. Glass, publisher of the Montgomery Advertiser, and member of the federal railroad board of mediation today was seriously ill in a hospital here.

Some interesting facts about the Blood

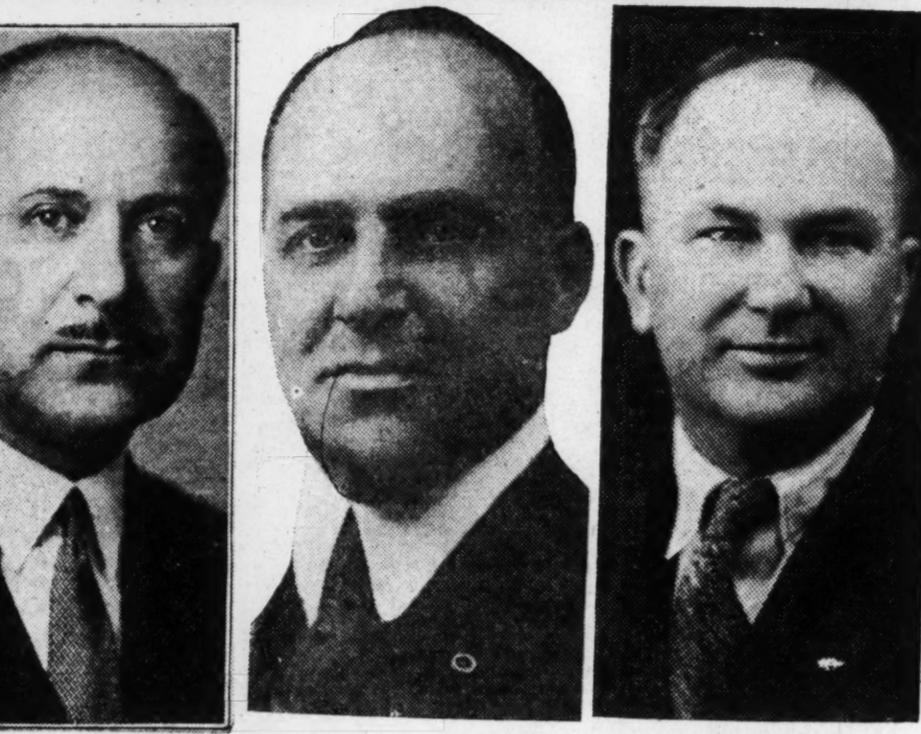

About 8% of the body weight is blood. It circulates over the entire body something like 200 times daily. On each trip it passes through the lungs, before entering the heart, to throw off dead air from the tissues and to take up the vitalizing oxygen to convert food material into tissue repair and energy. The only way food can be utilized in the body to give it heat and energy and replace worn out tissue is to combine it with the oxygen released from the blood in the tissues. Hemo-glo-bin of the red-cells carries the oxygen. It is just as important that the body tissues get their oxygen and can remove the waste matter as it is to eat nourishing food. Constant rebuilding of the red cells is necessary, as their ordinary life is only about 80 days, and extra help is needed when they are below normal.

© The S.S.S. Co.

builds sturdy health

New Market Home and Leading Figures

RAIL RATE PROBE TO OPEN MONDAY

Public Service Commission Will Hold Hearing on Freight Schedules.

With revision of power rates ordered, but partially blocked by litigation, the Georgia public service commission Monday will tackle its third big job in six months—railroad rates.

The commission took the matter of elimination of Pullman surcharges in its stride, the railroads taking off the surcharges and going a step further to cut regular fares, before the hearing on that question got well under way.

The case coming up Monday is based on a commission order to all railroads operating in Georgia to show cause why all their rates should not be lowered.

First the commission will take up the question or class rates, which are the basic charges on which other tariffs are figured.

Specifically, the commission has called on the railroads to show cause why those rates should not be lowered to the same prevailing in the northern section of the country for first-class freight, with the same percentage of reduction for lower classifications as is now applied in Georgia.

The effect would be to cut the cost of sending a package of first-class freight 400 miles, from $1 to 75 cents.

Later the question of commodity rates, or special tariffs set up for specified articles, will be taken up.

The rail carriers have remained silent on their plans, but the preparations made by the commission's experts for the hearing indicated they expected a determined fight.

George Kreuger, freight rate expert for the commission, has prepared a large number of statistical studies and comparisons of rates in force here and elsewhere, for use in the inquiry. Details of the exhibits were withheld pending their presentation at the hearing.

John Goree, assistant attorney-general who assisted in both the power hearing and the telephone case, questioning witnesses and handling all legal phases of the cases, has turned his attention to the freight rate matter and for more than a week now has been busy night and day digging into the statutes and court decisions bearing on the question.

CHARLES PRESTON AND ATLANTA GIRL
ELOPE TO WED

Continued From First Page.

ed by the Georgia Tech freshman eleven last season. It is not believed that his marriage will affect his chances for playing on the varsity next season, as it was pointed out that Tech has had several star players who were married during their college careers.

Preston was captain and star center of the Boys' High team in 1932 and was considered one of the most brilliant players ever to wear the purple and white. He was named on a number of All-Southern prep teams at the close of the 1932 football season.

His bride, a pretty blonde, is one of the most popular members of her class at Girls' High school.

Mr. and Mrs. Preston plan to reside with the bride's parents at present, but have not made definite plans for the future.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter J. Preston, of 388 Boulevard, N. E.

CHANGE IN SUPERVISION OF AUDITORIUM SOUGHT

Separation of management of the city auditorium from the office of superintendent of public buildings will be recommended at the January 15 meeting of council, it was announced Saturday by Councilman John A. White, chairman of the public buildings committee.

Action by the committee was taken at a meeting held Saturday on recommendation of L. Glenn Dewberry, superintendent of buildings. Walker T. Lee has been assistant superintendent in charge of the auditorium, and probably will remain in his position.

K. Roscoe Lummus, 43, a resident of Atlanta for about four years and formerly prominent in the cotton gin business here, died Saturday afternoon after a long illness. He resided at 1301 Peachtree street.

Until four years ago Mr. Lummus was connected with the Centennial Cotton Gin Company of Columbus. He engaged in the advertising business in Atlanta, failing there, and forced his retirement about a year ago. His brother, F. E. Lummus, is vice president and general manager of the Lummus Cotton Gin Company, of Columbus, of which company the father, the late E. Frank Lummus, was president.

Mr. Lummus was a native of Columbus. He was widely known in Atlanta, and was a member of the All Masons and Shrine.

The body will be taken to Columbus this morning. Funeral services will be held at 2:30 o'clock Monday afternoon at the home of his widow, Mrs. Frank Lummus, 107 W. Peachtree street. Interment will be at Columbus. H. M. Patterson & Son will have charge of the arrangements.

Surviving Mr. Lummus, in addition to his brother, are his wife; two daughters, Miss Sarah Archavala Lummus and Miss Dorothy Lummus, of Montgomery, Ala.; a son, K. Roscoe, Jr., a member of the firm; a mother, and three sisters, Mrs. C. C. Hartpence, Mrs. N. G. Oattis, and Mrs. Drain Bullock, all of Columbus.

The body will be taken to Columbus this morning. Funeral services will be held at 2:30 o'clock Monday afternoon at the home of his widow, Mrs. Frank Lummus, 107 W. Peachtree street. Interment will be at Columbus. H. M. Patterson & Son will have charge of the arrangements.

He was once convicted of transporting dynamite for sabotage and in the present instance stands convicted of murder in first degree, which caused the death of ten persons and the maiming of many more.

Billings said he was not surprised by the adverse decision.

"I think that if the matter were left to the decision of the parole board, without directions from 'higher-ups,' the board would have granted me a parole," he said.

Asked whether he had in mind Governor James Ralph Jr., considering the fact the governor had granted a parole to Mooney, Billings replied:

"Yes, I guess so. I think the governor's feelings toward the Mooney case had some bearing on my case. There is nothing I can say. I will go along and make the most of it. That is all I can do. I did not expect any other action, so it isn't very much of a disappointment."

BILLINGS DENIED PAROLE PETITION

Continued From First Page.

ties. He was once convicted of transporting dynamite for sabotage and in the present instance stands convicted of murder in first degree, which caused the death of ten persons and the maiming of many more.

Billings said he was not surprised by the adverse decision.

"I think that if the matter were left to the decision of the parole board, without directions from 'higher-ups,' the board would have granted me a parole," he said.

Asked whether he had in mind Governor James Ralph Jr., considering the fact the governor had granted a parole to Mooney, Billings replied:

"Yes, I guess so. I think the governor's feelings toward the Mooney case had some bearing on my case. There is nothing I can say. I will go along and make the most of it. That is all I can do. I did not expect any other action, so it isn't very much of a disappointment."

MRS. DORA M'DONALD PASSES NEAR ATHENS

WINDER, Ga., Jan. 6.—Mrs. Dora McDonald, 68, member of a well-known family, died Saturday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. J. W. Lester, in Oconee Heights, near Athens. She had been ill only a short time. In addition to her daughter, she is survived by two sons, W. A. McDonald, widely known Winder farmer, and J. W. McDonald, of Greensboro. The funeral is to be held Monday at 2 o'clock, eastern time, at the Pendergrass Baptist church, Pendergrass, Ga., and the Rev. Harry Smith will officiate. Burial will be in the churchyard, with the Tucker Funeral Home, of Winder, in charge.

NOTICE

Home Loan Administration Explains Dual Guarantee

Plan Designed To Put Check on Discounting and Make Bonds More Attractive to Buyers.

By ELTON C. FAY.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5.—(AP)—Administration spokesman explained today that a two-fold purpose lay back of the plan of the government to guarantee both the principal and interest of farm and home loan bonds.

Such a plan, outlined yesterday and measures to carry it out will be produced next week.

The administration explanation of the reason for the government guaranteeing the $1,000,000,000 of bonds was:

To check a tendency toward heavy discounting when the bonds appear on the open market.

To make them more attractive—in the words of the spokesman, "to give any 'doubting Thomases' a flat, unconditional guarantee."

These in turn, it was pointed out, would offset any tendency toward slow sale of the bonds issued.

Only Interest Guaranteed.

At present the interest only and not the principal is guaranteed by the government, but officials said that in view of the fact that of the bonds guaranteed interest "until paid" they were backed by virtually no principal.

Word that President Roosevelt directed legislation to guarantee the principal of the bonds produced some surprise on the part of congressional leaders, who said they did not see the necessity for a guarantee but that if the president desired it, it would be done.

Chairman Steagall, of the house banking committee, was one of these, saying that "if a man is given the choice between foreclosing on a house he can't sell or taking the bonds on which the government guarantees the interest, he isn't going to hesitate long."

A member of the Federal Home Loan bank board, William F. Stevenson, recently said his organization was

DEAD DOCTOR Heals... STOMACH AILMENTS

A famous stomach specialist, since passed away, is still helping millions to banish stomach suffering. Years ago, he created a prescription for stomach ulcers, acid stomach, indigestion and other signs of excess acid. One patient after another reported marvelous results, sound sleep, restored appetite, freedom from pain.

BUS GOES INTO DITCH, 3 PASSENGERS HURT

Trying to avoid a truck parked in the middle of the highway in a fog near Fairburn, a Montgomery-Atlanta bus of the Hood Coach Lines Saturday morning sideswiped the truck and landed in a ditch, slightly injuring seven passengers in all.

Miss Betty Tucker, 22, of 380 Washington street, admitted to Georgia Baptist hospital, was in good condition Saturday night, it was said. J. L. Puckett, 23, soldier of Fort Benning, and Mrs. Leslie Lyons, 25, of Clayton, were treated at Georgia Baptist hospital and dismissed.

CHOIR WILL REPEAT CHRISTMAS CANTATA

Because of the success of the first performance, preceding Christmas, the choir of the Central Presbyterian church again will present the Christmas cantata, "The Coming of the King," at 5 o'clock this afternoon at the church.

"The Coming of the King" was written by Dudley Buck, and Lawrence G. Nilson, organist and choirmaster, will direct its second presentation here. Miss Lucia Moore, Miss Berlin Shinn, E. R. Boyd and Ernest Allen are soloists of the choir, which numbers more than 25 voices.

WOMAN TAKES POISON, SAYS SHE WAS 'NAGGED'

Because her husband "nagged" her, Mrs. Alice Adams, 26, of 636 Forman street, took poison at her home Saturday afternoon and was admitted to Grady hospital, according to police.

The woman told officers that continued domestic trouble caused her to be despondent and that she took a slow-acting poison to end it. She was admitted to the hospital for observation. Her husband brought her to Grady.

ROUTE 3 BUS LINE IS GIVEN APPROVAL

The Georgia public service commission, Atlanta, announced today a certificate for operation had been granted to the Capital Cities Motor Lines which will operate a passenger bus service between Atlanta and Tallahassee, using the recently completed Route 3 through Griffin, Thomaston, Americus and Albany.

In granting the certificate, the commission reversed a recent ruling in which the application was denied. The reconsideration was given and the certificate granted after Attorney J. E. R. Stewart, representing the motor lines, produced evidence showing necessity for the new system.

SEARCH FOR GIRL IS CONTINUED HERE

Search for Frances Ellison, 13, of 605 Pryor street, who disappeared last Sunday, proceeded Saturday without success. The girl was last seen walking on Pryor street, near her home. She is four feet, eight inches tall and weighs about 89 pounds. She has blue eyes and fair complexion, and a scar in the right eye from an operation.

Anyone having knowledge of the girl's whereabouts is requested to communicate with her father, W. H. Ellison, at Main 5660 in the day time, or Main 9690 at night.

UNIONS DEFENDED BY OIL EXECUTIVE

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6.—(AP)—Voluntary company unions were defended today by Walter C. Teagle as the most modern and the most cooperative form of labor organization. The views of the president of the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey were made known in a report by him as chairman of the industrial relations committee of Secretary Roper's business advisory counsel.

BUDGET GROUPS TO MEET MONDAY

Commission and Finance Body Seek To Absorb Total of $254,000.

experiencing no difficulty in selling the bonds.

While the bonds place a new burden on the treasury, they represent a collateralized burden, backed by the property on which the mortgages have been written.

To date, approximately $150,000,000 worth of the farm bonds are reported to have been sold to the Reconstruction Finance Corp. Cities with more than $90,000,000 in home loan bonds out, exchanged for home mortgages. For the week ending January 4, the home loan bank board reported it had approved loans of $234,000.

A bill in an administration guarantee bill has yet to appear on Capitol Hill, at least one member of Congress had offered his own measure.

Representative Boland, democrat, Pennsylvania, Boland said that in his home state difficulty had been experienced in inducing some loan organizations to accept the bonds.

FAIRNESS Plan.

Senate Committee, republicans, Michigan, a member of the Senate banking committee, declared himself for the guarantee plan, but differed slightly as to the method. Rather than issue them as separate home and farm bonds, he said, he favored bonding them as "general government obligations."

While the administration moved to strengthen its federal home loan system in the financing field, it also had under way a study looking to a further bolstering of the protection of the home owners' money it supervises.

Word that President Roosevelt directed legislation to guarantee the principal of the bonds produced some surprise on the part of congressional leaders, who said they did not see the necessity for a guarantee but that if the bonds guaranteed interest "until paid" they were backed by virtually no principal.

There was a ballet to prevent cutting 61 employees from the pay rolls to save $106,000 as recommended by the budget commission.

It was later decided to make additional appropriations.

On Saturday night, the budget commission recommended a reduction of $106,000 in supplies, the committee held that if such drastic slashes were made in supplies, the committee would be forced to make additional appropriations.

It was later decided to make additional appropriations.

On Saturday night, the budget commission recommended a reduction of $106,000 in supplies, the committee held that if such drastic slashes were made in supplies, the committee would be forced to make additional appropriations.

It was later decided to make additional appropriations.

On Saturday night, the budget commission recommended a reduction of $106,000 in supplies, the committee held that if such drastic slashes were made in supplies, the committee would be forced to make additional appropriations.

It was later decided to make additional appropriations.

On Saturday night, the budget commission recommended a reduction of $106,000 in supplies, the committee held that if such drastic slashes were made in supplies, the committee would be forced to make additional appropriations.

It was later decided to make additional appropriations.

On Saturday night, the budget commission recommended a reduction of $106,000 in supplies, the committee held that if such drastic slashes were made in supplies, the committee would be forced to make additional appropriations.

It was later decided to make additional appropriations.

On Saturday night, the budget commission recommended a reduction of $106,000 in supplies, the committee held that if such drastic slashes were made in supplies, the committee would be forced to make additional appropriations.

It was later decided to make additional appropriations.

On Saturday night, the budget commission recommended a reduction of $106,000 in supplies, the committee held that if such drastic slashes were made in supplies, the committee would be forced to make additional appropriations.

It was later decided to make additional appropriations.

On Saturday night, the budget commission recommended a reduction of $106,000 in supplies, the committee held that if such drastic slashes were made in supplies, the committee would be forced to make additional appropriations.

It was later decided to make additional appropriations.

On Saturday night, the budget commission recommended a reduction of $106,000 in supplies, the committee held that if such drastic slashes were made in supplies, the committee would be forced to make additional appropriations.

It was later decided to make additional appropriations.

On Saturday night, the budget commission recommended a reduction of $106,000 in supplies, the committee held that if such drastic slashes were made in supplies, the committee would be forced to make additional appropriations.

It was later decided to make additional appropriations.

On Saturday night, the budget commission recommended a reduction of $106,000 in supplies, the committee held that if such drastic slashes were made in supplies, the committee would be forced to make additional appropriations.

It was later decided to make additional appropriations.

On Saturday night, the budget commission recommended a reduction of $106,000 in supplies, the committee held that if such drastic slashes were made in supplies, the committee would be forced to make additional appropriations.

It was later decided to make additional appropriations.

On Saturday night, the budget commission recommended a reduction of $106,000 in supplies, the committee held that if such drastic slashes were made in supplies, the committee would be forced to make additional appropriations.

It was later decided to make additional appropriations.

On Saturday night, the budget commission recommended a reduction of $106,000 in supplies, the committee held that if such drastic slashes were made in supplies, the committee would be forced to make additional appropriations.

It was later decided to make additional appropriations.

On Saturday night, the budget commission recommended a reduction of $106,000 in supplies, the committee held that if such drastic slashes were made in supplies, the committee would be forced to make additional appropriations.

It was later decided to make additional appropriations.

On Saturday night, the budget commission recommended a reduction of $106,000 in supplies, the committee held that if such drastic slashes were made in supplies, the committee would be forced to make additional appropriations.

It was later decided to make additional appropriations.

On Saturday night, the budget commission recommended a reduction of $106,000 in supplies, the committee held that if such drastic slashes were made in supplies, the committee would be forced to make additional appropriations.

It was later decided to make additional appropriations.

On Saturday night, the budget commission recommended a reduction of $106,000 in supplies, the committee held that if such drastic slashes were made in supplies, the committee would be forced to make additional appropriations.

It was later decided to make additional appropriations.

On Saturday night, the budget commission recommended a reduction of $106,000 in supplies, the committee held that if such drastic slashes were made in supplies, the committee would be forced to make additional appropriations.

It was later decided to make additional appropriations.

On Saturday night, the budget commission recommended a reduction of $106,000 in supplies, the committee held that if such drastic slashes were made in supplies, the committee would be forced to make additional appropriations.

It was later decided to make additional appropriations.

On Saturday night, the budget commission recommended a reduction of $106,000 in supplies, the committee held that if such drastic slashes were made in supplies, the committee would be forced to make additional appropriations.

It was later decided to make additional appropriations.

On Saturday night, the budget commission recommended a reduction of $106,000 in supplies, the committee held that if such drastic slashes were made in supplies, the committee would be forced to make additional appropriations.

It was later decided to make additional appropriations.

On Saturday night, the budget commission recommended a reduction of $106,000 in supplies, the committee held that if such drastic slashes were made in supplies, the committee would be forced to make additional appropriations.

It was later decided to make additional appropriations.

On Saturday night, the budget commission recommended a reduction of $106,000 in supplies, the committee held that if such drastic slashes were made in supplies, the committee would be forced to make additional appropriations.

It was later decided to make additional appropriations.

On Saturday night, the budget commission recommended a reduction of $106,000 in supplies, the committee held that if such drastic slashes were made in supplies, the committee would be forced to make additional appropriations.

It was later decided to make additional appropriations.

On Saturday night, the budget commission recommended a reduction of $106,000 in supplies, the committee held that if such drastic slashes were made in supplies, the committee would be forced to make additional appropriations.

It was later decided to make additional appropriations.

On Saturday night, the budget commission recommended a reduction of $106,000 in supplies, the committee held that if such drastic slashes were made in supplies, the committee would be forced to make additional appropriations.

It was later decided to make additional appropriations.

On Saturday night, the budget commission recommended a reduction of $106,000 in supplies, the committee held that if such drastic slashes were made in supplies, the committee would be forced to make additional appropriations.

It was later decided to make additional appropriations.

On Saturday night, the budget commission recommended a reduction of $106,000 in supplies, the committee held that if such drastic slashes were made in supplies, the committee would be forced to make additional appropriations.

It was later decided to make additional appropriations.

On Saturday night, the budget commission recommended a reduction of $106,000 in supplies, the committee held that if such drastic slashes were made in supplies, the committee would be forced to make additional appropriations.

It was later decided to make additional appropriations.

On Saturday night, the budget commission recommended a reduction of $106,000 in supplies, the committee held that if such drastic slashes were made in supplies, the committee would be forced to make additional appropriations.

It was later decided to make additional appropriations.

On Saturday night, the budget commission recommended a reduction of $106,000 in supplies, the committee held that if such drastic slashes were made in supplies, the committee would be forced to make additional appropriations.

It was later decided to make additional appropriations.

On Saturday night, the budget commission recommended a reduction of $106,000 in supplies, the committee held that if such drastic slashes were made in supplies, the committee would be forced to make additional appropriations.

It was later decided to make additional appropriations.

On Saturday night, the budget commission recommended a reduction of $106,000 in supplies, the committee held that if such drastic slashes were made in supplies, the committee would be forced to make additional appropriations.

It was later decided to make additional appropriations.

On Saturday night, the budget commission recommended a reduction of $106,000 in supplies, the committee held that if such drastic slashes were made in supplies, the committee would be forced to make additional appropriations.

It was later decided to make additional appropriations.

On Saturday night, the budget commission recommended a reduction of $106,000 in supplies, the committee held that if such drastic slashes were made in supplies, the committee would be forced to make additional appropriations.

It was later decided to make additional appropriations.

On Saturday night, the budget commission recommended a reduction of $106,000 in supplies, the committee held that if such drastic slashes were made in supplies, the committee would be forced to make additional appropriations.

It was later decided to make additional appropriations.

On Saturday night, the budget commission recommended a reduction of $106,000 in supplies, the committee held that if such drastic slashes were made in supplies, the committee would be forced to make additional appropriations.

GREATEST CROWD IN PAST 34 YEARS JAMS N. Y. AUTO SHOW

250 CAR VERSIONS SEEN BY VISITORS TO GREAT DISPLAY

Airplane Design Evident in New Models; Mechanical Novelties, Beautiful Designs Feature Exhibits.

NEW YORK, Jan. 6.—(P)—The automobile of 1934 came to town today—a glorification of the horseless carriage mirroring the effect of airplane design in its streamlined body.

As for the crowd that attended the show—officials there reported the greatest jam in 34 years of auto shows. Special police squads had their hands full before the doors opened and by 3 p.m.—an hour after the show opened—dealers and exhibitors found the public jammed in the corridors and main exhibition halls.

More than 250 versions of the new car were on display at New York's 34th national automobile show, which begins with sleek modern passenger cars on the first floor and ends with a display of the 1934 main street garage on the fourth.

Air transportation is reflected everywhere—from hoods shaped like the tip of a flying boat to the skirted or “trousered” wheels. Designers of all models have patterned their models on wind tunnel and have studied streamlining extensively.

Even the control panels reflect airplane design, with the speed, oil, gas and heat indicators set in round circular cases.

Mechanically the newest feature of the show is the independent front wheel settings by which one wheel may ride over a bump in the road without disturbing the smooth progress of the other of rocking the car itself.

NEW TERMS FIGURE.

You'll have to learn new names like “knee-action,” which means “steering-point” ventilation, “center-control” steering, “airflow” and “land cruiser” designs, and a hundred others if you would learn the trade names new developments in mechanical and body design brought to the show.

The new cars run speedily, silently and in a smooth, comfortable manner.

General Motors, in the Chevrolet features “knee-action” front wheels, a powerful engine with a maximum of 80 horsepower, providing a comfortable speed of 80 miles an hour.

Chrysler's new “airflow”-designed car has an egg-shaped nose with curved lines running to a smooth arc to the front end, pointed rear wheels and a full, roomy interior.

OTHER FIXTURES.

In the new Nash and the Nash Motor Company's new automobile, the LaFayette, Nash builders have featured a twin-injection, valve-in-head motor, with individually-sprung front wheel optional and a built-in ventilation system.

Reeves is showing a car without gearshift, which has been on the market since last May. Gears are shifted automatically by acceleration into high and changed back to the proper ratio merely by slowing down.

All the Chrysler models, including DeSoto and Plymouth, feature various degrees of streamlining construction, with the exception of the Alfred Reeves, vice president and general manager of the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce, manages the exhibition, which will be open all next week.

The names of the designs alone show how the air design mood has won over the manufacturers. The new car is not only aerodynamic, aerostreamed and “airflow,” but it has slipstream, airfoil, skyway and speedstream stuff.

Over the fenders are what various manufacturers call familiarly “busies,” but which are known on the various models as ears, shirts, or for the more popular phrase, ears.

Speed and power, the new car boasts of better acceleration, superior hill-climbing ability and greater economy in consumption of gas and oil.

Gadgets Shown.

Gadget manufacturers have entered the show with displays of every conceivable accessory for round-town driving or for round-world tours.

Although few of the new models include auto-radios as standard equipment, all of them are fitted with space for the installation of the radio and the set.

A new development in the 1934 car is the rear seat luggage holder, which means that you can stow anything from a baby carriage to a thumb quite safely in a padded compartment reached by pulling forward the back of the rear seat.

These compartments take up the space provided for in the upper, duck or fish-tail rear ends.

Prices for many of the General Motors and Chrysler models have not yet been announced with other builders also holding out, but it is generally conceded that in most instances prices will be higher this year than last.

Generally the 1934 car displays one feature that passengers and drivers everywhere will salute as a great advance in construction. There's more room in the bodies, doors are wider, seats are deeper and there's more space for legs, heads and hands.

Goodrich Officials
Here for Dealer Meeting Monday

Salesmen for the B. F. Goodrich Company in this district will assemble at the Atlanta Biltmore hotel on January 7-8 for their annual sales conference according to William Candler, home manager.

S. B. Robertson, Goodrich vice president, will head the conference party, consisting of members of the company's staff organization from its principal offices in Akron, Ohio.

One feature of the conferences will be the showing of a 10-reel talking picture designed to show the new automobile features for the coming year, augmented by a stage presentation. During fadouts at various intervals during the picture, the living actors will make their appearances and carry on the continuity.

Mr. Robertson with C. B. O'Connor, general tire sales manager, and other members of the Akron staff will conduct the conferences.

Decatur Ford Dealer Boasts Fine Record

Sales records in every line of business have reached new heights in the past few months, and the automobile business has had its share in the rapid rise to prosperity. Robert Ingram, Inc., popular Ford dealer, located on West Ponce de Leon avenue in Decatur, record has been so impressive it deserves widespread mention. His staff stepped out in December, one of the poorest automobile months in the year, and established it as the best month for the company, in over two years. This record, of course, was made through the public's response and action on purchasing the new Ford V-8 for 1934, the sales of which have caused the factory to increase the production to meet the demand and four times since early December. Top, left, insert Robert Ingram, president; right, A. M. Chandler Jr., sales manager. Their building covers over 50,000 square feet for sales and service activities. Bottom, executive's and sales staff, left to right, Boyd Pounds, Roy Lewis, Sam Thomas, A. M. Chandler Jr., Robert Ingram, B. A. Caldwell, Jim Brock, Alton Tribble, George Long and Bill Tumlin.

Beautiful New Cadillac Cars To Be Shown Here This Week

A completely new and graceful interpretation of aerodynamics and streamlining as applied to body lines, and revolutionary changes in chassis design, featured by “knee-action” steering, “airflow” and “land cruiser” designs, and a hundred others if you would learn the trade names new developments in mechanical and body design brought to the show.

The new cars run speedily, silently and in a smooth, comfortable manner.

General Motors, in the Chevrolet features “knee-action” front wheels, a powerful engine with a maximum of 80 horsepower, providing a comfortable speed of 80 miles an hour.

Chrysler's new “airflow”-designed car has an egg-shaped nose with curved lines running to a smooth arc to the front end, pointed rear wheels and a full, roomy interior.

OTHER FIXTURES.

In the new Nash and the Nash Motor Company's new automobile, the LaFayette, Nash builders have featured a twin-injection, valve-in-head motor, with individually-sprung front wheel optional and a built-in ventilation system.

Reeves is showing a car without gearshift, which has been on the market since last May. Gears are shifted automatically by acceleration into high and changed back to the proper ratio merely by slowing down.

All the Chrysler models, including DeSoto and Plymouth, feature various degrees of streamlining construction, with the exception of the Alfred Reeves, vice president and general manager of the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce, manages the exhibition, which will be open all next week.

The names of the designs alone show how the air design mood has won over the manufacturers. The new car is not only aerodynamic, aerostreamed and “airflow,” but it has slipstream, airfoil, skyway and speedstream stuff.

Over the fenders are what various manufacturers call familiarly “busies,” but which are known on the various models as ears, shirts, or for the more popular phrase, ears.

Speed and power, the new car boasts of better acceleration, superior hill-climbing ability and greater economy in consumption of gas and oil.

Gadgets Shown.

Gadget manufacturers have entered the show with displays of every conceivable accessory for round-town driving or for round-world tours.

Although few of the new models include auto-radios as standard equipment, all of them are fitted with space for the installation of the radio and the set.

A new development in the 1934 car is the rear seat luggage holder, which means that you can stow anything from a baby carriage to a thumb quite safely in a padded compartment reached by pulling forward the back of the rear seat.

These compartments take up the space provided for in the upper, duck or fish-tail rear ends.

Prices for many of the General Motors and Chrysler models have not yet been announced with other builders also holding out, but it is generally conceded that in most instances prices will be higher this year than last.

Generally the 1934 car displays one feature that passengers and drivers everywhere will salute as a great advance in construction. There's more room in the bodies, doors are wider, seats are deeper and there's more space for legs, heads and hands.

Goodrich Officials Here for Dealer Meeting Monday

Salesmen for the B. F. Goodrich Company in this district will assemble at the Atlanta Biltmore hotel on January 7-8 for their annual sales conference according to William Candler, home manager.

S. B. Robertson, Goodrich vice president, will head the conference party, consisting of members of the company's staff organization from its principal offices in Akron, Ohio.

One feature of the conferences will be the showing of a 10-reel talking picture designed to show the new automobile features for the coming year, augmented by a stage presentation. During fadouts at various intervals during the picture, the living actors will make their appearances and carry on the continuity.

Mr. Robertson with C. B. O'Connor, general tire sales manager, and other members of the Akron staff will conduct the conferences.

Plymouth Factory In Production On New '34 Models

A preview of the new Plymouth for 1934 was accorded the press at the Plymouth factory today as the plant swung into production on new models.

Although complete details of the cars were not available for publication, inspection of the new automobiles revealed many new mechanical and style features. As previously announced, the new Plymouth has had a type of individual front wheel springing, which will be standard on even the lowest priced cars in the line.

The cars are more striking looking than any previous models. While not unconventional in design, the styling gives the new cars a low, sleek appearance. Many new features have been added in interior fittings have been added. The cars also have many mechanical innovations and more powerful motors.

Plymouth will be offered in two lines in 1934, it was revealed at the preview. There will be the Plymouth and a larger model, the de luxe Plymouth. The de luxe model has all of the features of its companion car, plus a number of exclusive advantages, including a revolutionary new type of ventilation. Both the Plymouth six and the de luxe Plymouth six retain their previous engine and transmission features, such as floating power, safety-steer bodies and hydraulic brakes.

We look forward to the new year with the utmost of confidence,” stated B. E. Hutchinson, chairman of the board of the Plymouth Motor Corporation, who was present at the preview. “This is a new administration and we are determined to make our 1934 cars even more popular. In fact, if orders for our 1934 cars keep up at their present rate during the next few days, we will have broken all previous records for orders for a new model.

“Our Plymouth factory starts production today and will soon be in full swing. Due to the large number of orders on hand, it is doubtful whether or not they can be filled until the latter part of January, but we will ship as fast as they are produced.

“The year just past has been a record-breaking one for Plymouth. Our company's sales have increased to the greatest gains in the low-price field, and sales have more than doubled the previous year.

For the first time, we have passed the quarter-million mark during 1933 in car shipments. There will be no letting down in our efforts in 1934.

Our forces in the field have been increased and we are continuing our aggressive advertising efforts.”

Experts Analyze Public's Reaction To Color Schemes

Sales of paints and glass in this territory showed substantial gains beginning in May and continuing through to the beginning of the winter months. Increased volume is anticipated in the coming months, according to a statement made by B. E. Hutchinson, manager of the local warehouse of the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company, at the opening of the company's district sales meeting, held in held here at the Biltmore hotel.

“Business forecasts for spring are generally encouraging, although there are a few dark spots and reports from some few spots and reports from a few sources, who are not as yet fully satisfied. Still, we have made,” Mr. Hutchinson said.

“Our sales program is being backed up by more intensive advertising effort.”

The gains in the company's business during the past summer and fall came from increased demand from these various sources. Mr. Hutchinson said:

“The automobile industry for safety glass for new cars and replacement of plain glass with safety glass in old cars; lacquers and finishes for motor cars; from home owners who repainted for the first time in several years; from many different dealers that use paints and lacquers in finishing their lines of goods, and there is quite a gain in the sale of paint brushes.

The renovation and modernization of existing structures in the aggregate represents a substantial volume of business.

“Due to compliance with the provisions of the new motor vehicle safety laws, we have increased our production of safety glass for new cars and replacement of plain glass with safety glass in old cars; lacquers and finishes for motor cars; from home owners who repainted for the first time in several years; from many different dealers that use paints and lacquers in finishing their lines of goods, and there is quite a gain in the sale of paint brushes.

The gains in the company's business during the past summer and fall came from increased demand from these various sources. Mr. Hutchinson said:

“The automobile industry for safety glass for new cars and replacement of plain glass with safety glass in old cars; lacquers and finishes for motor cars; from home owners who repainted for the first time in several years; from many different dealers that use paints and lacquers in finishing their lines of goods, and there is quite a gain in the sale of paint brushes.

The gains in the company's business during the past summer and fall came from increased demand from these various sources. Mr. Hutchinson said:

“The automobile industry for safety glass for new cars and replacement of plain glass with safety glass in old cars; lacquers and finishes for motor cars; from home owners who repainted for the first time in several years; from many different dealers that use paints and lacquers in finishing their lines of goods, and there is quite a gain in the sale of paint brushes.

The gains in the company's business during the past summer and fall came from increased demand from these various sources. Mr. Hutchinson said:

“The automobile industry for safety glass for new cars and replacement of plain glass with safety glass in old cars; lacquers and finishes for motor cars; from home owners who repainted for the first time in several years; from many different dealers that use paints and lacquers in finishing their lines of goods, and there is quite a gain in the sale of paint brushes.

The gains in the company's business during the past summer and fall came from increased demand from these various sources. Mr. Hutchinson said:

“The automobile industry for safety glass for new cars and replacement of plain glass with safety glass in old cars; lacquers and finishes for motor cars; from home owners who repainted for the first time in several years; from many different dealers that use paints and lacquers in finishing their lines of goods, and there is quite a gain in the sale of paint brushes.

The gains in the company's business during the past summer and fall came from increased demand from these various sources. Mr. Hutchinson said:

“The automobile industry for safety glass for new cars and replacement of plain glass with safety glass in old cars; lacquers and finishes for motor cars; from home owners who repainted for the first time in several years; from many different dealers that use paints and lacquers in finishing their lines of goods, and there is quite a gain in the sale of paint brushes.

The gains in the company's business during the past summer and fall came from increased demand from these various sources. Mr. Hutchinson said:

“The automobile industry for safety glass for new cars and replacement of plain glass with safety glass in old cars; lacquers and finishes for motor cars; from home owners who repainted for the first time in several years; from many different dealers that use paints and lacquers in finishing their lines of goods, and there is quite a gain in the sale of paint brushes.

The gains in the company's business during the past summer and fall came from increased demand from these various sources. Mr. Hutchinson said:

“The automobile industry for safety glass for new cars and replacement of plain glass with safety glass in old cars; lacquers and finishes for motor cars; from home owners who repainted for the first time in several years; from many different dealers that use paints and lacquers in finishing their lines of goods, and there is quite a gain in the sale of paint brushes.

The gains in the company's business during the past summer and fall came from increased demand from these various sources. Mr. Hutchinson said:

“The automobile industry for safety glass for new cars and replacement of plain glass with safety glass in old cars; lacquers and finishes for motor cars; from home owners who repainted for the first time in several years; from many different dealers that use paints and lacquers in finishing their lines of goods, and there is quite a gain in the sale of paint brushes.

The gains in the company's business during the past summer and fall came from increased demand from these various sources. Mr. Hutchinson said:

“The automobile industry for safety glass for new cars and replacement of plain glass with safety glass in old cars; lacquers and finishes for motor cars; from home owners who repainted for the first time in several years; from many different dealers that use paints and lacquers in finishing their lines of goods, and there is quite a gain in the sale of paint brushes.

The gains in the company's business during the past summer and fall came from increased demand from these various sources. Mr. Hutchinson said:

“The automobile industry for safety glass for new cars and replacement of plain glass with safety glass in old cars; lacquers and finishes for motor cars; from home owners who repainted for the first time in several years; from many different dealers that use paints and lacquers in finishing their lines of goods, and there is quite a gain in the sale of paint brushes.

COTTON MEN URGE PROCESS TAX CUT

Reduction To Be Sought
as Means of Stimulating Prices, Trade.

By GLADSTONE WILLIAMS.
WASHINGTON, Jan. 6.—With a view of relieving the textile industry of some of the burdens imposed by the cotton processing tax and at the same time stimulating an advance of cotton prices, southern representatives in congress are giving consideration to a proposal for reducing the cotton processing tax by the amount of revenue derived from similar compensatory taxes since levied on jute and paper.

Representatives of the textile industry, now constituting a major portion of the industrial activity of the south, have urged this proposal since the start that the processing tax of 4 cents a pound on cotton not only has retarded the industry but has prevented a more wholesome advance in the price of cotton. Although proceeds of the tax are distributed to farmers as benefits for acreage curtailment agreements, they argue, the farmer grows cotton in the least the same amount for their cotton without the tax, which, they say, is included in the price the manufacturer pays on the open market.

Price Stimulant.

On the other hand, reduction of the tax or its elimination altogether would tend to increase the demand for cotton by increasing the demand through opening the way for the mills to increase their stocks, thus maintaining the present price level as a minimum. Because of the cash requirements of the processing tax, the mills, it is contended, purposely refrain from keeping any more stocks on hand than necessary.

While southern congressional leaders are not prepared to go to the extent of eliminating the tax in its entirety, yet some of them do see a certain merit in the claims of the textile industry that it at least should be given the benefit of compensation taxes levied on the cotton processing tax on jute and paper. Just how much of a reduction in the cotton taxes would be permitted in such a course cannot be determined for the moment, as the agricultural adjustment administration has not been able to compute as yet what the proceeds of the late acreage compensation taxes will be. Obviously, however, a substantial reduction would be possible without affecting the sum total of revenue now raised for acreage curtailment agreements distribution.

Estimate of Yield.

In arriving at the 4 cents a pound tax originally proposed by cotton processors, officials of course estimated that this would yield all necessary revenue to cover the acreage reduction benefits program. Now that similar taxes have been levied on jute and paper, the treasury will be enriched by additional funds. The textile people contend that since the cotton crop is the basis of the cotton tax, the excess revenue of the government to benefit by the program, the cotton manufacturing industry should be credited with the tax surplus in the manner outlined.

Senator Ellison D. Smith, of South Carolina, chairman of the upper chamber agricultural committee, and one of the framers of the present act, is now looking into the situation with a view to seeking proper modification of the cotton taxes if that seems to be a proper course.

Cotton textile operators not only in Georgia but throughout the south generally have expressed keen interest in such a modification, which may be prepared to show where the cotton grower will benefit in the end by having a more active market provided for his product.

Russo-American Trade Developments Seen

NEW YORK, Jan. 6.—(AP)—The speed of the first soviet ambassador to the United States, Alexander A. Tsvetkov, in presenting his credentials in Washington, was taken tonight in well-informed circles as an indication of quickly-forming developments in Russian-American trade.

The liner Washington, bearing Troynovskiy and William C. Bullitt, the American ambassador to Moscow, was due to arrive at Quantico, Virginia, around midnight after a lengthy and rough crossing of the Atlantic.

They will be taken off early tomorrow on a special cutter. Troynovskiy, formerly the soviet envoy to Japan, will go at once to Washington. Monday morning he will call at the state department. Later in the day he will go to the White House to call on President Roosevelt.

ALL-NIGHT PARTY FAILS TO "FINISH" MAN READY TO DIE

EXETER, England, Jan. 6.—(AP)—With the arrival of his first and the remains of a champagne supper he had been cleared away today, W. J. A. Grant, 82, was alive and feeling fine.

Mr. Grant had just staged one of the most remarkable all-night parties ever held in the west country. It was not that he had his "swan song" for physicians had warned him he did not have long to live.

He invited in 500 friends from all parts of England, including Elinor Glyn, the novelist, and Lord Vivian—and they all came. So did a bevy of beautiful dancing girls who surrounded the man for whom Cape Grant in Franz-Josef land is reputed to be named.

"I am having my final kick-up," the wealthy globe trotter told his guests. "My doctors told me that I am dying of a complication of ailments and that my heart is hanging by a thread."

He was pleased: "I don't want to live any longer," he had said.

But the party apparently had no ill effects for, after a champagne supper and two hours' sleep, Grant arose to say he was feeling fine.

WOMAN FOUND SLAIN ON DETROIT HIGHWAY

DETROIT, Jan. 6.—(AP)—The battered body of Mrs. Virginia Gibson, 33, was found on a highway just outside the city of Detroit this morning. Wayne county sheriff's deputies said she had been thrown from an automobile after an attempted attack upon her.

The body of the young woman was identified at the county morgue by her husband, Gordon Gibson, an interior decorator. He said his wife left their apartment in the Victoria hotel at 6 o'clock last night to go to a theater while he did some work. They had been married five years.

OLD SORES

Since 1869 ALLEN'S ULCERINE SALVE has healed more old sores than all other salves combined. It is the most powerful salve known to man. It soaks the sores up, drawing out the poisons. At drugstores by mail 65 cents. Send for free book.

Talmadge Greets Brother

NASHVILLE BANKER ACCUSED IN WARRANT

Paul M. Davis Denies Accusation of Making False Entries.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Jan. 6.—(AP) For the second time in a week, Paul M. Davis, Nashville banker, was arrested today on a warrant sworn out by the prosecuting attorney's office, and a short time later issued a statement denying the charges and branding them as "a part of a continued, deliberate and malicious attempt to injure me."

Mr. Davis, president of the American National Bank and a brother of Max H. Goldschein, United States ambassador at large, was accused in today's warrant, sworn to by Max H. Goldschein, assistant district attorney-general, of making false entries on the books of the Nashville and American Trust Company of December 31.

The warrant charged him with "making and concurring in false entry" on the trust company's books by "falsely setting up $500,000 on deposit with American National Bank when there was no such deposit, and at the same time making a similar false entry in the books of the National bank books" and revoking said entries on January 5, 1932, for the purpose of deceiving stockholders, creditors, and the public."

In the earlier warrant, issued after the grand jury had considered the charges and refused to indict, the banker and the attorney general agreed to drop the charge of "attempt to have conspired to defraud the state of $22,682 for use in the gubernatorial election campaign of 1932."

At his office in the bank, Mr. Davis said:

"The warrant which was served on me today was sworn out by Mr. Max Goldschein, special assistant to District Attorney-General Atkinson, notwithstanding the fact that the grand jury is in session, to whom the facts must be submitted."

"This is a part of a continued, deliberate and malicious attempt to injure me, and undoubtedly comes from the same sources as the other attacks. There is absolutely nothing in the matters charged."

Mr. Goldschein also issued a statement outlining "a few of the facts" about the charge against Mr. Davis in the second warrant, and said that "in view of Davis' prominent position in this community, his offense is all the more aggravating."

The banker pleaded not guilty in Magistrate John L. Draper's court to both warrants and made bond.

Rain's End by Noon Seen by Forecaster

End of rainy conditions by noon today, and a temperature of 45 to 55 degrees, were forecast Saturday by the weather bureau.

Saturday's range was 44 to 51 degrees with enough mist to keep the pavements wet. The bureau reported that .01 of an inch of rain had fallen in the 24 hours ending at 7 o'clock Saturday.

The temperature was expected to be slightly lower tonight.

LOUISIANA TO AID IN KEMP-SANDERS TILT

BATON ROUGE, La., Jan. 6.—(AP) Participation of the Louisiana attorney-general's office in the Mrs. Kemp-Sanders sixth Louisiana congressional district election contest Monday before the house of representatives elections committee No. 3 was assured tonight by announcement of Attorney-General Gaston P. Porter.

Porter said George M. Wallace, his first assistant, would appear before the committee and give it "any information it wished regarding Louisiana's election laws."

SANDERS IS APPOINTED MUSE ART DIRECTOR

Tom Sanders, widely known Atlanta artist, has been appointed art director of the George Muse Clothing Company. Announcement was

Tribute Paid at Grave Of Theodore Roosevelt

OSTER BAY, N. Y., Jan. 6.—(AP) Forty members of the family of the late Theodore Roosevelt made an annual pilgrimage to the former president's grave today in Young cemetery.

David Hinshaw, of Westown, Pa., read excerpts from a Roosevelt speech which was delivered at Columbus, Ohio, in 1912 before the Ohio constitutional convention.

After a brief ceremony at the grave the pilgrims were entertained at luncheon by the president's widow at Sagamore Hill. Following the luncheon they retired to the famous trophy room of the home to hold their annual meeting.

TENNESSEE TO HONOR MEMORY OF JACKSON

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Jan. 6.—(AP)

Tennesseans will pay homage Monday to its own Andrew Jackson, a man of such tough fiber he won the sobriquet "Old Hickory," and of such brilliant military record he became the seventh president of the United States.

Observances in Nashville of Jackson Day—the anniversary old Hickory's smashing victory over the British in New Orleans 119 years ago—will be climaxed by a pilgrimage under auspices of the Ladies' Hermitage Association to Jackson's country home, the Hermitage, where he died June 8, 1845.

who appointed him official state artist. Georgia was the first state to have an "artist-laureate," and Mr. Sanders' association as art director at Muse's will reflect his official capacity in this regard.

Before studying at the High Museum of Art and taking special work in Chicago, he attended the Georgia School of Technology.

TRUST AN OLD TRUSS!
Oldest Truss Department in Atlanta
Light, Airy Fitting Rooms. Medical Expert is Attendance. Elastic Stockings—Trusses.
JACOBS PHARMACY CO.
WHITEHALL AT ALABAMA ST.

Congress Warned by Expert Against Over-Taxing People

Those Least Able To Pay Bear Burden, Says Prof. E. R. A. Seligman, of Columbia University.

(NOTE: A distinguished authority on tax problems writes here a warning to congress against overtaxing the people to the point of creating a financial depression.

It must not be forgotten that the primary objective is speedy emergency from the slough of depression. Under ordinary circumstances high or low prices are immaterial: the businessman and the consumer soon adjust themselves to either. It is rising or falling prices which are of importance.

Falling prices are good for bondholders and other recipients of fixed incomes; rising prices are good for the employer and the wage earner. In the aftermath of a great crisis, however, high prices are in themselves to be welcomed, because they lift heavy burdens from the great section of the community who are on salaries to be put in the debtor class. The task confronting congress is to envisage the economic situation as a whole. To this larger end both the monetary and the fiscal programs must be subordinated.

Our conclusions may be put as follows:

1: We need, in addition to the ordinary budget, an extraordinary budget dealing with emergency and capital needs. In balancing one we must include the interest and amortization of the other.

2: The revenue problems should be considered as a whole. It is high time congress should attack the co-ordination of local, state and federal levies.

3: Taxation must be regarded from the social as well as the fiscal point of view. While the fiscal aspect is primary, the social and political objectives are always important, and in emergencies like the present, may be paramount.

4: In formulating a fiscal program, congress should be prepared to supplement the heavy direct taxes on incomes and inheritances by a substantial amount of indirect levies on liquor, tobacco and imports. But great care should be taken to lighten the burden of production, exchange and consumption.

5: Amid the welter of conflicting class interests—debtors and creditors, agriculture and industry, the west and the east, the producer and the consumer, the present and the future—the outstanding duty of the statesman is to observe the Greek precept of the middle way and the golden mean.

Wynekoop To Offer Plea of Not Guilty

CHICAGO, Jan. 6.—(AP)—Dr. Alice Wynekoop, 62-year-old physician, scheduled to go on trial next Thursday as the slayer of her daughter-in-law, Rheta, 23, will enter a plea of not guilty.

Her attorney, W. W. Smith, made the announcement today as he said that Dr. James Whitney Hall, attorney, had been retained as defense.

Dr. Hall, alienist who testified in the Leopold-Loeb case, examined the defendant for two hours in her jail cell. Asked if retention of Dr. Hall meant that an insanity defense was to be made, Smith said:

"I cannot answer that at this time. Draw your own conclusions."

FORTUNES IN GOLD BELIEVED IN SANDS OF MOJAVE DESERT

SAN BERNARDINO, Cal., Jan. 6.—(AP)—Restless sands of the great Mojave desert, mining experts believe, may hold fortunes in gold dust to the tune of billions.

Millions of dollars worth of gold salt, washed down from arid hills by rare rains or carried by incessant winds through the progress of natural erosion, is lying, they say, on long stretches of wasteland.

Only an extensive process is needed, experts believe, to wrest great wealth from sands that in the summer bake under a temperature of 100 degrees or more. Dry lake beds furnish the experts with experimental material.

In between we have the great bulk of outlays for public works—roads, slum clearance, reforestation and the like, for which, at the risk of some unpopularity, I earnestly pleaded considerably more than a year ago.

In the broader sense all these peace outlays are not only as legitimate as those of war, but perhaps less disadvantageous because in large measure susceptible of being credited to capital account. It is hence not illogical to expect that such outlays are an extraordinary burden. But it is of signal importance that in the ordinary budget the balancing of which is the cornerstone of national prosperity, there be included the interest and amortization of the new loans.

Thus the extent of the fresh borrowing is automatically limited by the feasible tax rates, while there is evident the recklessness of the demands for boundless outlays to be financed from loans. Public credit is not the inexhaustible and self-filling pitcher of fabled fame.

Fortunately the repeal of prohibition, with a large revenue from liquor taxes, will not only provide the interest and amortization on many bil-

JANUARY CLEARANCE

Featuring Some Wonderful Values
In Our
After-Inventory
Clean-Up
SALE
of Living Room GROUPS

Our Usual Convenient Terms

Group No. 1--
Large Davenport, Club Chair, upholstered in beautiful grade of tapestry—mahogany End Table, upholstered Radio Bench, large Wall Whatnot, Electric Smoker and 1 Modernistic Wilton Throw Rug and Foot Stool—8 pieces in all ..... $69.50

Group No. 3--
Consists of 2-Piece Rayon Tapestry Covered Living Room Suite—carved top and bottom mahogany frame, with pillow effect, Rayon tapestry—and Electric Smoker, upholstered Radio Bench, Mahogany End Table, Modernistic Wilton Throw Rug, Foot Stool and large Wall Whatnot—all for ..... $99.50

Group No. 2--
2-Piece Tapestry Suite in Charles of London design—choice of patterns—and upholstered Radio Bench, Mahogany End Table, Electric Smoker, large Wall Whatnot, Foot Stool and one Modernistic Wilton Throw Rug ..... $79.50

Group No. 4--
3-Piece All-Over Mohair Reversed in Moquette Living Room Suite, Davenport, Club Chair and Barrel Chair, large Wall Whatnot, Mahogany End Table, Modernistic Wilton Throw Rug, upholstered Radio Bench and one Foot Stool—all for ..... $119.50

ED MATTHEWS & COMPANY

86--ALABAMA ST., S. W.--88

Just Off
Whitehall

Telephones
WA. 0622-0623

THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION

VOL. LXVI, No. 209.

ATLANTA, GA., SUNDAY MORNING, JANUARY 7, 1934.

STATE DELEGATION AT CAPITAL WAITS ROOSEVELT PLANS

Georgians Alert, But Anxious To Back Administration Program for Recovery.

By FRANCIS M. LE MAY.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6.—(P)— Moved by esteem for the president to whose leadership they attribute in large the return to better times down south, Georgia's delegation in congress shows a disposition to await word from the White House before making alignments on important legislation.

This does not mean, however, the Georgians are not alert, but rather that they are cautious against taking any position or introducing any legislation which might complicate and confuse the machinery for recovery.

"Wait and let's see!" was the watchword, and the senators and representatives of Georgia, as those of other states of the cotton country and various regions where there are signs of better times will not express themselves on such touchy questions as the monetary policy and further recovery measures until the president has made known his wishes.

Only a few bills have been introduced by the Cracker state senators and representatives.

An agricultural bill has been introduced by Representative Brown, of the tenth Georgia district. It would provide for the establishment of growing areas and commodity control. He proposes that the public works administration establish in each state markets for the sale, exchange, storage and processing of all agricultural, horticultural, poultry, live stock and dairy products. The measure was referred to the committee on agriculture.

Most of the time of Senators George and Russell has been taken by the finance and appropriations committees, respectively. George has introduced a measure to provide for a coast guard life-saving station at Sea Island Beach.

Robert Ramspeck, representing the Atlanta district, has brought forward a bill proposing to create a second federal beach in the northern district of Georgia.

Would Guarantee Bonds.

Representative Vinson, of the district which includes Macon and Milledgeville, is devoting what time he can to the Senate finance committee to sponsoring a bill which would guarantee bonds of the Federal Home Loan bank both as to interest and principal. At present the government guarantees only the interest and Vinson believes home mortgage holders, such as insurance companies and banks, will be more disposed to exchange the mortgages for these bonds if they are backed by the treasury.

Vinson is also busy himself with the public works administration trying to get through a loan for a building at the Milledgeville state hospital.

Braswell Deen, who came to congress as a member of the editorial staff of a daily paper at Alma, Ga., has joined a movement to have the crop production loan section of the agricultural adjustment act revised so as to eliminate details of organization and expedite loans.

Cox Issues Statement.

E. E. Cox, from the second district, issued a statement today which perhaps reflected the sentiment of the majority of the Georgia delegates. It said, in part:

"Such new legislation as I may propose will be supplementary to and in support of the administration program.

"My position in the house is such as to commit me to this course and I think the good of the country demands it. This program takes such a wide range as to leave little not touched upon. Every new proposal must be shaped so as to fit in and make more complete the structure that is being built."

Most all the senators and representatives are keeping an eye on public works for opportunities for saying a good word for Georgia projects. Just now the proposal of an Atlantic-Gulf canal through south Georgia and north Florida is lying dormant and perhaps will not come into discussion again until it is decided whether the public works bill will be replenished by congress.

DALTON POLICE FORCE
UNDERGOES SHAKE-UP

DALTON, Ga., Jan. 6.—The first meeting of the city council for the new year was held here this week. Mayor McDaniel and his new council dismissed all save two, Chief Bill Britton's police force. The two remaining are Cliff Warmack and Hill Anderson. The four who were dismissed were Henry Hill, Roy Hill, Berry Wood and Frank Edwards. The new and appointed were J. S. Bingham, Burge, Butler, Spencer Goad and Lloyd Bramlett.

Other officials elected at this time included Dr. W. V. Russell, city physician; C. D. McCutchen, city attorney; Harry Springfield, fire chief; John Stocks, assistant fire chief; W. R. B. Bennett, city secretary; Lee L. Kinns, superintendent of streets; W. H. Speck, Guy Keister and Jack Cavender, tax assessors; Frank Pruden, J. C. Screws and Claude Huston, registrars; Hugh F. Hamilton, mayor pro tem. C. B. Bowen was named a member of the city water, light and sinking fund commission to succeed John Herndon.

Reports from the water, light and sinking fund commission, the city clerk and the city school board all showed that the city closed the year of 1933 in an excellent financial standing, with an average balance over liabilities of $6,029.64 and a net bond indebtedness of only $76,000.

VILLA RICA ELECTION.

VILLA RICA, Ga., Jan. 6.—A. A. Parker was elected mayor of Villa Rica for the ensuing year. His opponent was E. W. Williams. The former were elected councilmen. W. B. Candler, R. K. Malone, A. O. White, James W. Smith and R. O. Taylor. B. P. Robertson was named city clerk.

U. S. GOVERNMENT ASKED TO FINISH OCONEE RIVER DAM

Move Launched in Milledgeville To Secure Federal Aid for Incomplete Project.

MILLEDGEVILLE, Ga., Jan. 6.—The Kiwanis Club added its indorsement at a meeting Thursday night to a plan suggested by J. L. Sibley that the government take over the unfinished dam on the Oconee river started in 1929 and complete the job. Dr. R. C. Swint, president of the club, wired the congressmen from this section and the senators from Georgia urging their support in getting the plan approved.

Mr. Sibley suggested that the government co-operate with the power company and complete the dam, which is three miles from this city. He pointed out that the project would be self-liquidating and would give employment to about 800 men for a period of two years. He also stated that the dam would be an important unit in a flood control system that will eventually be applied to the Oconee river valley, just as it is now being applied to other rivers in other states.

Gaines said the unusually early appearance of the disease was favored by recent mild weather and that if warm weather continues, young seedlings in plant beds may be seriously affected and "much damage may follow."

Growers were advised to sow more plant beds to forestall a possible plant shortage. The specialist said the beds should be located in warm, sunny places and that all holdover tobacco plants in old plant beds and fields should be destroyed.

Further suggestions for controlling the disease were discussed at a tobacco meeting here on January 10.

The blue mold first made its appearance in tobacco plant beds in Georgia in 1931 but did not do great damage. The disease appeared again about this time in 1932 and with the assistance of a late freeze, almost wiped out the Georgia crop that year.

With Georgia acreage expected to be reduced to a minimum this year by reduction agreements, crop experts said if the mold gets many of the plants the state will not make enough tobacco in 1934 to justify operating tobacco markets.

The blue mold first made its appearance in tobacco plant beds in Georgia in 1931 but did not do great damage. The disease appeared again about this time in 1932 and with the assistance of a late freeze, almost wiped out the Georgia crop that year.

Further suggestions for controlling the disease were discussed at a tobacco meeting here on January 10.

The blue mold first made its appearance in tobacco plant beds in Georgia in 1931 but did not do great damage. The disease appeared again about this time in 1932 and with the assistance of a late freeze, almost wiped out the Georgia crop that year.

Further suggestions for controlling the disease were discussed at a tobacco meeting here on January 10.

The blue mold first made its appearance in tobacco plant beds in Georgia in 1931 but did not do great damage. The disease appeared again about this time in 1932 and with the assistance of a late freeze, almost wiped out the Georgia crop that year.

Further suggestions for controlling the disease were discussed at a tobacco meeting here on January 10.

The blue mold first made its appearance in tobacco plant beds in Georgia in 1931 but did not do great damage. The disease appeared again about this time in 1932 and with the assistance of a late freeze, almost wiped out the Georgia crop that year.

Further suggestions for controlling the disease were discussed at a tobacco meeting here on January 10.

The blue mold first made its appearance in tobacco plant beds in Georgia in 1931 but did not do great damage. The disease appeared again about this time in 1932 and with the assistance of a late freeze, almost wiped out the Georgia crop that year.

Further suggestions for controlling the disease were discussed at a tobacco meeting here on January 10.

The blue mold first made its appearance in tobacco plant beds in Georgia in 1931 but did not do great damage. The disease appeared again about this time in 1932 and with the assistance of a late freeze, almost wiped out the Georgia crop that year.

Further suggestions for controlling the disease were discussed at a tobacco meeting here on January 10.

The blue mold first made its appearance in tobacco plant beds in Georgia in 1931 but did not do great damage. The disease appeared again about this time in 1932 and with the assistance of a late freeze, almost wiped out the Georgia crop that year.

Further suggestions for controlling the disease were discussed at a tobacco meeting here on January 10.

The blue mold first made its appearance in tobacco plant beds in Georgia in 1931 but did not do great damage. The disease appeared again about this time in 1932 and with the assistance of a late freeze, almost wiped out the Georgia crop that year.

Further suggestions for controlling the disease were discussed at a tobacco meeting here on January 10.

The blue mold first made its appearance in tobacco plant beds in Georgia in 1931 but did not do great damage. The disease appeared again about this time in 1932 and with the assistance of a late freeze, almost wiped out the Georgia crop that year.

Further suggestions for controlling the disease were discussed at a tobacco meeting here on January 10.

The blue mold first made its appearance in tobacco plant beds in Georgia in 1931 but did not do great damage. The disease appeared again about this time in 1932 and with the assistance of a late freeze, almost wiped out the Georgia crop that year.

Further suggestions for controlling the disease were discussed at a tobacco meeting here on January 10.

The blue mold first made its appearance in tobacco plant beds in Georgia in 1931 but did not do great damage. The disease appeared again about this time in 1932 and with the assistance of a late freeze, almost wiped out the Georgia crop that year.

Further suggestions for controlling the disease were discussed at a tobacco meeting here on January 10.

The blue mold first made its appearance in tobacco plant beds in Georgia in 1931 but did not do great damage. The disease appeared again about this time in 1932 and with the assistance of a late freeze, almost wiped out the Georgia crop that year.

Further suggestions for controlling the disease were discussed at a tobacco meeting here on January 10.

The blue mold first made its appearance in tobacco plant beds in Georgia in 1931 but did not do great damage. The disease appeared again about this time in 1932 and with the assistance of a late freeze, almost wiped out the Georgia crop that year.

Further suggestions for controlling the disease were discussed at a tobacco meeting here on January 10.

The blue mold first made its appearance in tobacco plant beds in Georgia in 1931 but did not do great damage. The disease appeared again about this time in 1932 and with the assistance of a late freeze, almost wiped out the Georgia crop that year.

Further suggestions for controlling the disease were discussed at a tobacco meeting here on January 10.

The blue mold first made its appearance in tobacco plant beds in Georgia in 1931 but did not do great damage. The disease appeared again about this time in 1932 and with the assistance of a late freeze, almost wiped out the Georgia crop that year.

Further suggestions for controlling the disease were discussed at a tobacco meeting here on January 10.

The blue mold first made its appearance in tobacco plant beds in Georgia in 1931 but did not do great damage. The disease appeared again about this time in 1932 and with the assistance of a late freeze, almost wiped out the Georgia crop that year.

Further suggestions for controlling the disease were discussed at a tobacco meeting here on January 10.

The blue mold first made its appearance in tobacco plant beds in Georgia in 1931 but did not do great damage. The disease appeared again about this time in 1932 and with the assistance of a late freeze, almost wiped out the Georgia crop that year.

Further suggestions for controlling the disease were discussed at a tobacco meeting here on January 10.

The blue mold first made its appearance in tobacco plant beds in Georgia in 1931 but did not do great damage. The disease appeared again about this time in 1932 and with the assistance of a late freeze, almost wiped out the Georgia crop that year.

Further suggestions for controlling the disease were discussed at a tobacco meeting here on January 10.

The blue mold first made its appearance in tobacco plant beds in Georgia in 1931 but did not do great damage. The disease appeared again about this time in 1932 and with the assistance of a late freeze, almost wiped out the Georgia crop that year.

Further suggestions for controlling the disease were discussed at a tobacco meeting here on January 10.

The blue mold first made its appearance in tobacco plant beds in Georgia in 1931 but did not do great damage. The disease appeared again about this time in 1932 and with the assistance of a late freeze, almost wiped out the Georgia crop that year.

Further suggestions for controlling the disease were discussed at a tobacco meeting here on January 10.

The blue mold first made its appearance in tobacco plant beds in Georgia in 1931 but did not do great damage. The disease appeared again about this time in 1932 and with the assistance of a late freeze, almost wiped out the Georgia crop that year.

Further suggestions for controlling the disease were discussed at a tobacco meeting here on January 10.

The blue mold first made its appearance in tobacco plant beds in Georgia in 1931 but did not do great damage. The disease appeared again about this time in 1932 and with the assistance of a late freeze, almost wiped out the Georgia crop that year.

Further suggestions for controlling the disease were discussed at a tobacco meeting here on January 10.

The blue mold first made its appearance in tobacco plant beds in Georgia in 1931 but did not do great damage. The disease appeared again about this time in 1932 and with the assistance of a late freeze, almost wiped out the Georgia crop that year.

Further suggestions for controlling the disease were discussed at a tobacco meeting here on January 10.

The blue mold first made its appearance in tobacco plant beds in Georgia in 1931 but did not do great damage. The disease appeared again about this time in 1932 and with the assistance of a late freeze, almost wiped out the Georgia crop that year.

Further suggestions for controlling the disease were discussed at a tobacco meeting here on January 10.

The blue mold first made its appearance in tobacco plant beds in Georgia in 1931 but did not do great damage. The disease appeared again about this time in 1932 and with the assistance of a late freeze, almost wiped out the Georgia crop that year.

Further suggestions for controlling the disease were discussed at a tobacco meeting here on January 10.

The blue mold first made its appearance in tobacco plant beds in Georgia in 1931 but did not do great damage. The disease appeared again about this time in 1932 and with the assistance of a late freeze, almost wiped out the Georgia crop that year.

Further suggestions for controlling the disease were discussed at a tobacco meeting here on January 10.

The blue mold first made its appearance in tobacco plant beds in Georgia in 1931 but did not do great damage. The disease appeared again about this time in 1932 and with the assistance of a late freeze, almost wiped out the Georgia crop that year.

Further suggestions for controlling the disease were discussed at a tobacco meeting here on January 10.

The blue mold first made its appearance in tobacco plant beds in Georgia in 1931 but did not do great damage. The disease appeared again about this time in 1932 and with the assistance of a late freeze, almost wiped out the Georgia crop that year.

Further suggestions for controlling the disease were discussed at a tobacco meeting here on January 10.

The blue mold first made its appearance in tobacco plant beds in Georgia in 1931 but did not do great damage. The disease appeared again about this time in 1932 and with the assistance of a late freeze, almost wiped out the Georgia crop that year.

Further suggestions for controlling the disease were discussed at a tobacco meeting here on January 10.

The blue mold first made its appearance in tobacco plant beds in Georgia in 1931 but did not do great damage. The disease appeared again about this time in 1932 and with the assistance of a late freeze, almost wiped out the Georgia crop that year.

Further suggestions for controlling the disease were discussed at a tobacco meeting here on January 10.

The blue mold first made its appearance in tobacco plant beds in Georgia in 1931 but did not do great damage. The disease appeared again about this time in 1932 and with the assistance of a late freeze, almost wiped out the Georgia crop that year.

Further suggestions for controlling the disease were discussed at a tobacco meeting here on January 10.

The blue mold first made its appearance in tobacco plant beds in Georgia in 1931 but did not do great damage. The disease appeared again about this time in 1932 and with the assistance of a late freeze, almost wiped out the Georgia crop that year.

Further suggestions for controlling the disease were discussed at a tobacco meeting here on January 10.

The blue mold first made its appearance in tobacco plant beds in Georgia in 1931 but did not do great damage. The disease appeared again about this time in 1932 and with the assistance of a late freeze, almost wiped out the Georgia crop that year.

Further suggestions for controlling the disease were discussed at a tobacco meeting here on January 10.

The blue mold first made its appearance in tobacco plant beds in Georgia in 1931 but did not do great damage. The disease appeared again about this time in 1932 and with the assistance of a late freeze, almost wiped out the Georgia crop that year.

Further suggestions for controlling the disease were discussed at a tobacco meeting here on January 10.

The blue mold first made its appearance in tobacco plant beds in Georgia in 1931 but did not do great damage. The disease appeared again about this time in 1932 and with the assistance of a late freeze, almost wiped out the Georgia crop that year.

Over Seas

By CHARLES E. HARNER,
Associated Press Foreign Staff.

NEW YORK, Jan. 6.—(P)—The most ancient of civilization and the most modern of inventions claimed their places in the history of the week just past.

Manchukuo, which Japan and it self proclaimed a sovereign nation, prepared to make the 28-year-old former boy emperor of China who now is its chief executive, the emperor of the new state. The coronation is scheduled for March 1, the second anniversary of the establishment of Manchukuo by the Japanese.

It is Henry Pu-yi, who ruled before the revolution which made China a republic.

The coronation undoubtedly will be as colorful as Chinese pageantry can make it but it is not color alone which will make it interesting to the world.

The interest lies in the fact that a republican country now becomes a monarchy.

It is the first time the world has seen that phenomenon for many years. Elsewhere in the world, monarchies have become republics and republics have become dictatorships, but the downing of emperors generally has been reserved for gala performances at the opera.

Another significant point of interest is the fact that the Manchukuo will get a new constitution with its king, and the new constitution is to be patterned closely after that of emperor-ruled Japan.

While the thorn of Manchukuo is pricking the left side of China, that republic likewise is experiencing considerable pain in the region of its appendix—Fukien. And the pain was felt last week way up into the region of its heart—Peiping.

Down in Foochow, the capital of Fukien, a band of insurgents who call themselves the people government took steps to assure their secession from the republic. The national government of Nanking and Peiping sent out airplanes to put the fear of power into Fukien rebels, not to be outdone, directed a counter-attack almost to the gates of Peiping.

On the other side of the world a high-speed commercial airplane marked another step in the strides of western civilization; a new southern cross blazed over the south Atlantic.

It was the French four-motored plane, a band of insurgents who call themselves the people government took steps to assure their secession from the republic. The national government of Nanking and Peiping sent out airplanes to put the fear of power into Fukien rebels, not to be outdone, directed a counter-attack almost to the gates of Peiping.

On the other side of the world a high-speed commercial airplane marked another step in the strides of western civilization; a new southern cross blazed over the south Atlantic.

It was the French four-motored plane, a band of insurgents who call themselves the people government took steps to assure their secession from the republic. The national government of Nanking and Peiping sent out airplanes to put the fear of power into Fukien rebels, not to be outdone, directed a counter-attack almost to the gates of Peiping.

Romania, as often happens, went into the throes of political crisis. This time it was a tragedy which overthrew the nation's government—the assassination in the previous week of Premier Ion G. Duca.

King Carol selected two more premiers before a government was reformed and even then there were indications that general political satisfaction had not been found.

Time was when Queen Marie was the person to be satisfied in Romania, but now that distinction pretty generally rests with Nicholas Titulescu, veteran minister of foreign affairs, who organized the Little Entente between his nation and Czechoslovakia and Yugoslavia and whom France consults religiously on eastern European affairs.

The greatly publicized sterilization campaign of Germany entered its active phase January 2, on which date the law specified that special courts should go about the business of sterilizing persons afflicted with hereditary diseases. Nothing happened immediately, however, for the law also specifies that no one is to be sterilized without due process of trial, and that takes time.

The jaded tastes of tea-sippers in London and in every other place where the name of Duke of Westminster conjures up visions of state-borne baronial halls received a fillip when the duke announced he was bringing a suit for libel against his own niece, Lady Sibell Lygon, a magazine writer.

The duke, it appeared, took grave exception to what he regarded as unkindly remarks concerning him personally in Lady Sibell's writing. The gossiping hoped to hear everything greatly amplified in court.

POLICE INVESTIGATE DEATH OF YOUTH, 17

DETROIT, Jan. 6.—(P)—Police today sought to fill in the patchwork of facts surrounding the mysterious death of Charles Bertie, 17-year-old high school senior, whose unclothed body, covered with a bathrobe, was found face upward on a piano bench in his home late Friday, a cord tightly drawn about the neck, waist and limbs.

The body was discovered by his mother, Mrs. Carolyn Bertie, as she returned from her downtown office.

The boy had been alone in the house for several hours before the mother's return, she told authorities.

Dry Agent Slain.

WILMINGTON, N. C., Jan. 6.—(P)—A dry Barbary, federal dry agent, who was shot from ambush Wednesday after raiding still in a federal court, died from his wounds shortly before midnight last night.

2 Killed by Blast.

OKLA., Jan. 6.—(P)—Two men were killed and four others injured today when a quantity of dynamite they were handling in a lime- rock quarry near here exploded.

PARIS, BERLIN HOLD PEACE HOPE KEY

Cross Sections of Life In Gate City of South

In a news article carried in The Constitution December 18, it was erroneously reported that Mrs. D. E. Peace was acquitted with the late G. H. Copeland, who was killed December 3. Mrs. Peace stated to The Constitution Saturday that she did not know Copeland and never had met him.

A. R. Wilkes, trolley car motorman, Saturday morning was held up and robbed of $20 by a white youth at Sams crossing on the South Decatur line, according to a report to police. Wilkes said that the bandit was the only passenger on the car.

O. W. Wilson, 52, of East Point, was arrested on "suspicion" Saturday morning by police when he was found standing in front of a smashed plate glass window at Waller's drug store at 1029 Edgewood avenue. Wilson said another man threw a rock through the window and then asked him to help rob the store. The stranger fled before police arrived. Wilson is the workman invited.

The coronation undoubtedly will be as colorful as Chinese pageantry can make it but it is not color alone which will make it interesting to the world.

The interest lies in the fact that a republican country now becomes a monarchy.

It is the first time the world has seen that phenomenon for many years. Elsewhere in the world, monarchies have become republics and republics have become dictatorships, but the downing of emperors generally has been reserved for gala performances at the opera.

Another significant point of interest is the fact that the Manchukuo will get a new constitution with its king, and the new constitution is to be patterned closely after that of emperor-ruled Japan.

While the thorn of Manchukuo is pricking the left side of China, that republic likewise is experiencing considerable pain in the region of its appendix—Fukien. And the pain was felt last week way up into the region of its heart—Peiping.

George H. West, well-known Atlanta, has been elected a director of the Federal Home Loan bank in Winston-Salem, N. C. It was announced Saturday. Thomas W. Elliott, president-elect, and John A. Lesner, of Norfolk, Va., and C. W. Loveland, of Palatka, Fla., are other new directors. They were named at the annual organization meeting of the bank.

Willie Moore, 40, of 110 Piedmont avenue, was arrested on "suspicion" Saturday morning because he was unable to tell police how he came to be in possession of a non-motorable motor. Officers found Moore rolling the motor down Piedmont avenue in a wheelbarrow but when they questioned him he could not tell where he got it. He is being held for investigation.

Valuable clothing was stolen from the apartment of Mrs. B. H. Lockett at 118 Forrest avenue, some time Saturday afternoon, she reported to police. Mrs. Lockett said burglars entered through a door and escaped with a quantity of clothing, including a coat which cost $118.

J. B. Abercrombie, who, police said, was the last known person to have been with Alex Gordon, of Hapeville, the night Gordon was fatally injured at Chamberlain and Fitzgerald streets, is being held incommunicado by detective for questioning. Gordon died Saturday morning when he was received in the hospital with a quantity of wounds he received when he was beaten up the night of December 27. Abercrombie denied knowing anything about the fight.

J. S. Trammel, of 879 Confederate avenue, was charged with disorderly conduct, reckless driving and leaving the scene of an accident with an accident at Pratt and Decatur Saturday morning in which his automobile was involved. The car crashed into a telephone pole half a block from the police station but was abandoned when police arrived. Trammel, traced through the license number, denied he was driving but could not name the driver.

Judge Virlyn B. Moore will be the principal speaker at the luncheon meeting of the Exchange Club at the Atlanta Athletic Club at 12:30 o'clock Tuesday. A musical program will also be given.

Baby health clinics will be held at the following places this week. Dr. J. P. Kennedy, city health officer, announced: Monday, Stewart Avenue; Tuesday, Luckie Street and Peeples Street schools; Wednesday, Fair Street school; Thursday, Capital View and Forrest Avenue schools; and Friday, the James L. Key school.

The centers are for children under 4 and begin each afternoon at 1:30 o'clock.

Freak egg laid Christmas morning by black hen owned by W. F. Nease, of Ellwood, Ga., bears a perfectly embossed figure of the letter "C" on its shell.

Men of Justice will have Jere Wells, county superintendent of education, as their guest speaker at meeting of the organization in their assembly rooms in the Mortgage Guarantee Building Tuesday evening.

The greatly publicized sterilization campaign of Germany entered its active phase January 2, on which date the law specified that special courts should go about the business of sterilizing persons afflicted with hereditary diseases. Nothing happened immediately, however, for the law also specifies that no one is to be sterilized without due process of trial, and that takes time.

The jaded tastes of tea-sippers in London and in every other place where the name of Duke of Westminster conjures up visions of state-borne baronial halls received a fillip when the duke announced he was bringing a suit for libel against his own niece, Lady Sibell Lygon, a magazine writer.

The duke, it appeared, took grave exception to what he regarded as unkindly remarks concerning him personally in Lady Sibell's writing. The gossiping hoped to hear everything greatly amplified in court.

POLICE INVESTIGATE DEATH OF YOUTH, 17

DETROIT, Jan. 6.—(P)—Police today sought to fill in the patchwork of facts surrounding the mysterious death of Charles Bertie, 17-year-old high school senior, whose unclothed body, covered with a bathrobe, was found face upward on a piano bench in his home late Friday, a cord tightly drawn about the neck, waist and limbs.

The body was discovered by his mother, Mrs. Carolyn Bertie, as she returned from her downtown office.

The boy had been alone in the house for several hours before the mother's return, she told authorities.

Dry Agent Slain.

WILMINGTON, N. C., Jan. 6.—(P)—A dry Barbary, federal dry agent, who was shot from ambush Wednesday after raiding still in a federal court, died from his wounds shortly before midnight last night.

2 Killed by Blast.

OKLA., Jan. 6.—(P)—Two men were killed and four others injured today when a quantity of dynamite they were handling in a lime- rock quarry near here exploded.

BRITAIN WORRIED BY HER WEAKNESS IN DOMAIN OF AIR

March 20, 1926, in an automobile collision on Jonesboro road.

Offices of the county health department were closed Saturday because of the death Friday night of Dr. W. N. Adkins, county health officer.

Men's Bible Class of the Second Pompey de Leon Baptist church will meet at the church at 9:30 o'clock this morning with Whit M. Smith, class president, in charge.

Second of a series of lectures on "Lenin, Gandhi and Mussolini" will be delivered by M. Dorin at the Workman Circle lyceum at 8 o'clock.

Third of a series of lectures on "Lenin, Gandhi and Mussolini" will be delivered by M. Dorin at the Workman Circle lyceum at 8 o'clock.

Fourth of a series of lectures on "Lenin, Gandhi and Mussolini" will be delivered by M. Dorin at the Workman Circle lyceum at 8 o'clock.

Men's Bible Class of the Second Pompey de Leon Baptist church will meet at the church at 9:30 o'clock this morning with Whit M. Smith, class president, in charge.

Second of a series of lectures on "Lenin, Gandhi and Mussolini" will be delivered by M. Dorin at the Workman Circle lyceum at 8 o'clock.

Third of a series of lectures on "Lenin, Gandhi and Mussolini" will be delivered by M. Dorin at the Workman Circle lyceum at 8 o'clock.

Fourth of a series of lectures on "Lenin, Gandhi and Mussolini" will be delivered by M. Dorin at the Workman Circle lyceum at 8 o'clock.

Men's Bible Class of the Second Pompey de Leon Baptist church will meet at the church at 9:30 o'clock this morning with Whit M. Smith, class president, in charge.

Second of a series of lectures on "Lenin, Gandhi and Mussolini" will be delivered by M. Dorin at the Workman Circle lyceum at 8 o'clock.

Third of a series of lectures on "Lenin, Gandhi and Mussolini" will be delivered by M. Dorin at the Workman Circle lyceum at 8 o'clock.

Men's Bible Class of the Second Pompey de Leon Baptist church will meet at the church at 9:30 o'clock this morning with Whit M. Smith, class president, in charge.

Second of a series of lectures on "Lenin, Gandhi and Mussolini" will be delivered by M. Dorin at the Workman Circle lyceum at 8 o'clock.

Third of a series of lectures on "Lenin, Gandhi and Mussolini" will be delivered by M. Dorin at the Workman Circle lyceum at 8 o'clock.

Men's Bible Class of the Second Pompey de Leon Baptist church will meet at the church at 9:30 o'clock this morning with Whit M. Smith, class president, in charge.

Second of a series of lectures on "Lenin, Gandhi and Mussolini" will be delivered by M. Dorin at the Workman Circle lyceum at 8 o'clock.

Third of a series of lectures on "Lenin, Gandhi and Mussolini" will be delivered by M. Dorin at the Workman Circle lyceum at 8 o'clock.

Men's Bible Class of the Second Pompey de Leon Baptist church will meet at the church at 9:30 o'clock this morning with Whit M. Smith, class president, in charge.

Second of a series of lectures on "Lenin, Gandhi and Mussolini" will be delivered by M. Dorin at the Workman Circle lyceum at 8 o'clock.

Third of a series of lectures on "Lenin, Gandhi and Mussolini" will be delivered by M. Dorin at the Workman Circle lyceum at 8 o'clock.

Men's Bible Class of the Second Pompey de Leon Baptist church will meet at the church at 9:30 o'clock this morning with Whit M. Smith, class president, in charge.

Second of a series of lectures on "Lenin, Gandhi and Mussolini" will be delivered by M. Dorin at the Workman Circle lyceum at 8 o'clock.

Third of a series of lectures on "Lenin, Gandhi and Mussolini" will be delivered by M. Dorin at the Workman Circle lyceum at 8 o'clock.

Men's Bible Class of the Second Pompey de Leon Baptist church will meet at the church at 9:30 o'clock this morning with Whit M. Smith, class president, in charge.

Second of a series of lectures on "Lenin, Gandhi and Mussolini" will be delivered by M. Dorin at the Workman Circle lyceum at 8 o'clock.

Third of a series of lectures on "Lenin, Gandhi and Mussolini" will be delivered by M. Dorin at the Workman Circle lyceum at 8 o'clock.

Men's Bible Class of the Second Pompey de Leon Baptist church will meet at the church at 9:30 o'clock this morning with Whit M. Smith, class president, in charge.

Second of a series of lectures on "Lenin, Gandhi and Mussolini" will be delivered by M. Dorin at the Workman Circle lyceum at 8 o'clock.

Third of a series of lectures on "Lenin, Gandhi and Mussolini" will be delivered by M. Dorin at the Workman Circle lyceum at 8 o'clock.

Men's Bible Class of the Second Pompey de Leon Baptist church will meet at the church at 9:30 o'clock this morning with Whit M. Smith, class president, in charge.

Second of a series of lectures on "Lenin, Gandhi and Mussolini" will be delivered by M. Dorin at the Workman Circle lyceum at 8 o'clock.

Third of a series of lectures on "Lenin, Gandhi and Mussolini" will be delivered by M. Dorin at the Workman Circle lyceum at 8 o'clock.

Men's Bible Class of the Second Pompey de Leon Baptist church will meet at the church at 9:30 o'clock this morning with Whit M. Smith, class president, in charge.

Second of a series of lectures on "Lenin, Gandhi and Mussolini" will be delivered by M. Dorin at the Workman Circle lyceum at 8 o'clock.

Third of a series of lectures on "Lenin, Gandhi and Mussolini" will be delivered by M. Dorin at the Workman Circle lyceum at 8 o'clock.

Men's Bible Class of the Second Pompey de Leon Baptist church will meet at the church at 9:30 o'clock this morning with Whit M. Smith, class president, in charge.

Second of a series of lectures on "Lenin, Gandhi and Mussolini" will be delivered by M. Dorin at the Workman Circle lyceum at 8 o'clock.

Third of a series of lectures on "Lenin, Gandhi and Mussolini" will be delivered by M. Dorin at the Workman Circle lyceum at 8 o'clock.

Men's Bible Class of the Second Pompey de Leon Baptist church will meet at the church at 9:30 o'clock this morning with Whit M. Smith, class president, in charge.

Second of a series of lectures on "Lenin, Gandhi and Mussolini" will be delivered by M. Dorin at the Workman Circle lyceum at 8 o'clock.

PROBE OF COUNTY ASKED BY M'DUFFIE

Letter to Jury Foreman Hits Commission, Urges Cut in Expenses.

Investigation of Fulton county affairs with a view of decreasing expenses and improving efficiency was recommended to E. A. Bunker, foreman of the January-February term grand jury, by the county commissioners, with Phil C. McDuffie, attorney, charging that statements by the county commission in regard to finances are "misleading." McDuffie said that "it is of vital importance that a responsible public agency, like the grand jury, get down to facts and determine how our debts are to be paid and to whom, and to see that no delay is given to the overburdened taxpayer."

McDuffie urged cuts in salaries of the judges, and the abolition of "sinecures to politicians and relatives." He pointed out that the state of Georgia reduced its tax rate 20 per cent and saved many millions of dollars. His letter is as follows:

"The grand jury, in view of the announcement of the Fulton county commissioners that the 1934 budget will be the same as the excessive budget of 1933,

"You and your associates on the present grand jury have an opportunity to render to the citizens of this county a public service of the very highest importance. You are charged by law with the duty of investigating the books, vouchers and records of the commissioners, which will enable you to determine what is becoming of the large amounts of money collected from the taxpayers and spent by the commissioners."

"The grand jury at the March-April term, 1933, began an investigation of the operations of the commissioners, and made recommendations which would have saved the taxpayers at least $500,000. The commissioners, in order to avoid further investigation, under date of April 24, 1933, pledged themselves in writing:

"To make immediate reductions which will put the reductions into effect."

"This pledge was violated. The economies were never put into effect. Gross extravagance and waste still continue and will continue until the force of public opinion is brought to bear upon the commissioners to reduce public burdens."

"An investigation should be made into the public works department in order that its efficiency may be increased. This can be done without reducing the salaries of the large number of poorly paid employees of that department or discharging any of those who, at modest compensation, do their work satisfactorily. The waste is at the top and not at the bottom."

"An investigation should be made to determine the names and jobs of the large number of relatives of influential politicians who have been placed on the public pay roll and receive compensation for slight duties performed. Sinecures should be abolished."

"Salaries paid to municipal court judges and officials of that court should be reduced to the amounts provided by law. The compensation of superior court judges should be reduced to the same amount as the salaries of judges of the supreme court. The excessive number of bailiffs with good salaries and almost imaginary duties should be looked into."

"These matters will require considerable time, but I venture to suggest that the grand jury can do a great deal to help us to bring better advantages in saving the homes of taxpayers from sole for delinquent taxes than in the rendering of perfunctory indictments."

(Signed) "P. C. McDUFFIE."

WHO WANTS TO WIN $2,500?

Over $5,000 in Prizes and Thousands of Dollars in Extra Cash Rewards. Not a Cent of Your Money Needed to Win.

DES MOINES, IOWA—[Special]—Do you want money?—$2,500 in cash or a Buick and $1,000 cash? Here's your opportunity and not one cent of your money is required now or ever to win. The Des Moines Company, the Des Moines Company to advertise—actually giving away over $5,000—100 cash prizes—and thousands of dollars in extra cash rewards. You are guaranteed to cash rewards if you take an active part. Not a lottery—no money risk.

Can You Find 4 Dogs in Picture?

Some are upside down. Simply mark dogs you find, clip picture, mail quick—or write on personal card. Extra mail for finding. For replying you will receive a mail also a big extra cash rewards and $2,500 too. Answer now! State which you prefer to win—$2,500 cash or Buick and $1,000. Address—Merrill Johnson, Price Manager, Des Moines, Iowa.

Dept. 1152.

GEORGIA SAVINGS BANK & TRUST CO.

Member

FEDERAL DEPOSIT INSURANCE CORPORATION

4% Interest on Savings

All individual deposits to $2,500.00 fully insured according to Banking Act of 1933.

Atlanta's Oldest Savings Bank Established 1899

74 Peachtree Street

Lane Manager Wins Radio

W. J. CROSSWELL SR., GRAIN DEALER, DIES

W. J. Crosswell, 59, president and general manager of the W. L. Fain Grain Company, and a resident of Atlanta for 26 years, died Saturday night at a private hospital after an illness of ten days. He resided at 939 Ponce de Leon avenue.

It is of vital importance that the county has no adequate field book which will show property on which taxes are not being paid. The federal government has offered to make such a map which would bring in a large return from those who have avoided their just share of the tax burden. For some conceivable reason, the county commissioners declined the offer.

Mr. Crosswell was a native of Greenville, S. C., the son of the late W. J. Crosswell and Mrs. Mary Gower Crosswell. He was educated in Greenville and at the Citadel in Charleston. His parents moved to Wilmington, N. C., where he resided for several years during his young manhood.

In 1899 Mr. Crosswell married Miss Helen Frances Fain of Atlanta, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Fain. He was active in civic and social programs in the city and was a member of the North Avenue Presbyterian church.

Funeral services for Mr. Crosswell will be held at 2 o'clock Monday afternoon at Spring Hill chapel of H. M. Patterson & Son. Dr. Richard Orme Flint will conduct the service and interment will be in West View cemetery.

He is survived by his wife; a daughter, Miss Frances Crosswell; a son, W. J. Crosswell Jr., of Buffalo, N. Y., widely known airplane pilot; a sister, Mrs. Edward S. Croft, of Aiken, S. C., and four brothers, Gower, Harry M. and J. E. Crosswell, of Atlanta, and H. Markley Crosswell, of Houston, Texas.

(Signed) "P. C. McDUFFIE."

GOTHAM 'Dead Line' Now at City Limits

NEW YORK, Jan. 6.—(AP)—The "dead line" established 50 years ago by one of the greatest sleuths the nation has ever produced has been moved out to the city limits.

General J. P. Ryan, the new fusion administrator's police commissioner, did the moving.

For 50 years every person with a criminal record was liable to arrest just for crossing Fulton street into lower Manhattan.

Every day was open season for criminals there, with two undercover squads, led by Jerry O'Farrell and Wall Street squadroneers running about.

General Ryan changed all that.

He told his 19,000 men that the "dead line" was to be moved to the city limits—meaning that any criminals with records, any of the gunmen, racketeers, petty thieves or lieutenants of Gotham gang leaders were to be picked up on sight if seen anywhere in the five boroughs.

SOUTH SIDE CIVIC BODY WILL ELECT OFFICERS

Annual election of officers of the South Side Civic Federation will be held at 7:30 o'clock Monday night at the hall of the Harrison, president, announced Saturday.

Reports of the civic work done in the city and on the South Side during the last year will be made and plans for furtherance of the various projects of the federation will be discussed. The "Atlanta spirit" and Atlanta industries will be emphasized.

ELECTRICITY FOR FARMS $42,773,826 IN 1933

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6.—(AP)—

Electrical energy sold to ultimate consumers as farm service for all uses was reported today to have totalled 1,504,257,440 kilowatt hours in 1932, with a revenue of $42,773,826 in revenue to the generating companies. There were 613,753 customers, averaging payments of $70 a customer, while the average payment per kilowatt hour was 2.8 cents.

GREEK SPONGE DIVER RETRIEVES GOLD CROSS

TARZAN SPRINGS, Fla., Jan. 6. (UPI)—A year of hard strenuous toil has it, awaits Michael Eleon, the aged young Greek sponge diver who emerged from the depths of Spring Bayou today clutching a golden cross thrown into the water by Archbishop Athanasios, head of the Greek Orthodox church in North and South America. The cross was thrown into the water by other divers who had competed with Eleon for the honor watching the young youth return the cross to the archbishop and kneel to receive his blessing.

The ceremony was today's highlight in the observance of the Feast of the Magi, commemorating the coming of the Magi to Jesus at Bethlehem.

LABOR PLANS DRIVE FOR 30-HOUR WEEK

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6.—(AP)—Organized labor, with an assurance of some sympathy in both the senate and house, is pushing forward for a legislative drive in bringing a 30-hour work week into all industries.

Senator Wagner, chairman of the national labor board, disclosed today he is working on legislation to revise the labor section of the national recovery act, and to test additional power in the labor board.

MISSISSIPPI SOLONS IN WEEK-END RECESS

JACKSON, Miss., Jan. 6.—(AP)—The Mississippi legislature was in recess today with relief for tax-paying motorists chalked up as the only definite accomplishment of the first week of the four-day session.

The stage was cleared, however, during the four-day session, for early action next week on the question of legalization of beer and light wines.

RUM ADS ON RADIO MAY BE BANNED

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6.—(AP)—

The radio commission's legal division prepared today to recommend revocation of licenses of stations broadcasting advertising for hard liquors.

MEXICO TO SEEK U. S. TRADE PACT

Liquor Commerce To Play Major Role in Washington Negotiations.

By CLARENCE G. LEE.

MEXICO, D. F., Jan. 6.—(AP)—With trade between the United States and Mexico steadily improving and with present currency conditions favorable to further expansion, the hope was expressed in commercial circles here today for mutually beneficial arrangements during American-Mexican negotiations beginning Monday in Washington.

Mr. Lee, who has announced plans and prizes for a number of other contests, sponsored by various individuals and groups.

All prizes will be awarded in November, at the 1934 general convention of the organization. The contests close October 1.

The contestants have selected

U.D.C. Offers 30 Prizes For Historical Essays

RALEIGH, N. C., Jan. 6.—(AP)—

Miss John Huske Anderson, of Raleigh, historian general of the United Daughters of the Confederacy, today announced the organization would give more than 30 prizes in 1934 for the best essays submitted on historical subjects.

Mr. Lee, who has announced plans and prizes for a number of other contests, sponsored by various individuals and groups.

All prizes will be awarded in November, at the 1934 general convention of the organization. The contests close October 1.

The contestants have selected

"For Your Year With the U. D. C." as their study for this year and throughout the chapters' history will be the major theme for 1934.

shown by the fact that contracts are about to be signed for the sale of $750,000 worth of cast iron pipe by New Jersey firms, the federal distributor, and that negotiations are under way between the same plant and the municipal government of Vera Cruz for an order worth $250,000.

American commercial experts here believe any reciprocal trade agreement reached in Washington should provide for reduced rates on sheet steel, lard, fine textiles, motion picture films and many other products in the newly-opened liquor market in which Mexico hopes to gain a large share.

In turn, Mexico has an equally potent tool in government control, through the Bank of Mexico, of the peso exchange rate. Experts who have been studying trade problems in Mexico believe the peso could raise tariffs 12 per cent by lowering the peso from the present 3.60 to the dollar to 4.00, or could lower them by strengthening the peso.

The belief is general, therefore, that the currency question must be thoroughly studied in Washington and some sort of arrangement made before any trade agreements can have lasting effects.

Official figures show United States exports to Mexico increased more than $3,000,000 in the first nine months of 1933 compared to the same period in 1932, the figures being $26,757,752 for the former period and $23,992,752 for 1932.

Domestic business in Mexico, both retail and wholesale, has also picked up considerably and a recent Washington commercial report said the present was "an opportune time for Americans to expand their business in Mexico."

The money, he said, is being pooled with the regular relief fund of the administration of needy families in the state.

That they have been doing so is shown by the fact that contracts are about to be signed for the sale of $750,000 worth of cast iron pipe by New Jersey firms, the federal distributor, and that negotiations are under way between the same plant and the municipal government of Vera Cruz for an order worth $250,000.

American commercial experts here believe any reciprocal trade agreement reached in Washington should provide for reduced rates on sheet steel, lard, fine textiles, motion picture films and many other products in the newly-opened liquor market in which Mexico hopes to gain a large share.

In turn, Mexico has an equally potent tool in government control, through the Bank of Mexico, of the peso exchange rate. Experts who have been studying trade problems in Mexico believe the peso could raise tariffs 12 per cent by lowering the peso from the present 3.60 to the dollar to 4.00, or could lower them by strengthening the peso.

The belief is general, therefore, that the currency question must be thoroughly studied in Washington and some sort of arrangement made before any trade agreements can have lasting effects.

Official figures show United States exports to Mexico increased more than $3,000,000 in the first nine months of 1933 compared to the same period in 1932, the figures being $26,757,752 for the former period and $23,992,752 for 1932.

Domestic business in Mexico, both retail and wholesale, has also picked up considerably and a recent Washington commercial report said the present was "an opportune time for Americans to expand their business in Mexico."

The money, he said, is being pooled with the regular relief fund of the administration of needy families in the state.

That they have been doing so is shown by the fact that contracts are about to be signed for the sale of $750,000 worth of cast iron pipe by New Jersey firms, the federal distributor, and that negotiations are under way between the same plant and the municipal government of Vera Cruz for an order worth $250,000.

American commercial experts here believe any reciprocal trade agreement reached in Washington should provide for reduced rates on sheet steel, lard, fine textiles, motion picture films and many other products in the newly-opened liquor market in which Mexico hopes to gain a large share.

In turn, Mexico has an equally potent tool in government control, through the Bank of Mexico, of the peso exchange rate. Experts who have been studying trade problems in Mexico believe the peso could raise tariffs 12 per cent by lowering the peso from the present 3.60 to the dollar to 4.00, or could lower them by strengthening the peso.

The belief is general, therefore, that the currency question must be thoroughly studied in Washington and some sort of arrangement made before any trade agreements can have lasting effects.

Official figures show United States exports to Mexico increased more than $3,000,000 in the first nine months of 1933 compared to the same period in 1932, the figures being $26,757,752 for the former period and $23,992,752 for 1932.

Domestic business in Mexico, both retail and wholesale, has also picked up considerably and a recent Washington commercial report said the present was "an opportune time for Americans to expand their business in Mexico."

The money, he said, is being pooled with the regular relief fund of the administration of needy families in the state.

That they have been doing so is shown by the fact that contracts are about to be signed for the sale of $750,000 worth of cast iron pipe by New Jersey firms, the federal distributor, and that negotiations are under way between the same plant and the municipal government of Vera Cruz for an order worth $250,000.

American commercial experts here believe any reciprocal trade agreement reached in Washington should provide for reduced rates on sheet steel, lard, fine textiles, motion picture films and many other products in the newly-opened liquor market in which Mexico hopes to gain a large share.

In turn, Mexico has an equally potent tool in government control, through the Bank of Mexico, of the peso exchange rate. Experts who have been studying trade problems in Mexico believe the peso could raise tariffs 12 per cent by lowering the peso from the present 3.60 to the dollar to 4.00, or could lower them by strengthening the peso.

The belief is general, therefore, that the currency question must be thoroughly studied in Washington and some sort of arrangement made before any trade agreements can have lasting effects.

Official figures show United States exports to Mexico increased more than $3,000,000 in the first nine months of 1933 compared to the same period in 1932, the figures being $26,757,752 for the former period and $23,992,752 for 1932.

18 NEWS of STAGE and SCREEN

EDITED by RALPH T. JOINES

Coward's 'Design for Living,' Daring Play, on Fox Screen

Noel Coward's fascinating and daring play, "Design for Living," is showing in its screen version at the Fox theater this week. Miriam Hopkins, Frederic March, Gary Cooper and Edward Everett Horton head the cast of this brilliant picture, which was prepared for the screen by Ben Hecht.

Hecht has retained the spirit and story of the Coward play intact, but has added much of his own cleverness to the dialogue, making the three-dimensional play more so. The girl runs away with Horton, a prosaic American advertising executive and tries to settle down as a businesswoman's wife and helpmate in a mid-western city.

But it doesn't work, the artist and the playwright turn up again and a new adventure develops which could never be solved by plot masters less adroit than Coward and Hecht.

The cleverest sequence is the party that Horton gives to important business acquaintances and which his wife and her wild Parisian friends succeed in completely ruining.

Short subjects on the Fox program this week include a fascinating Bing Crosby and a rearrangement of his most successful songs, including "Please," a Betty Boop cartoon satire on Mae West, entitled "She Wronged Him Right," newsreel, etc. Jimmy Beers, at the organ, has a brilliant laugh arrangement entitled, "All God's Chillico Got Codes."

'Dinner at Eight' Held Over For Second Week at Grand

Those who have seen "Dinner at Eight" at Loew's Grand theater will understand why Eddie Melniker, the manager, decided to hold this film for a second week. It is one of the finest films ever made, and its cast outshines even the aggregation of talent assembled a year ago in "Grand Hotel." Marie Dressler, John and Lionel Barrymore, Wallace Beery, Billie Burke, Jean Harlow, Lee Tracy, Phillips Holmes, Edmund Lowe, Karen Morley, Madge Evans, Jean Hersholt, Louise Closser Hale and May Robson—these are some of the great names of filmdom assembled in Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's brilliant film version of the Broadway success of last season, written by Edna Ferber and George Kaufman.

Like "Grand Hotel," this film concerns the high points in the lives of several groups of people, brought together as guests at a dinner party. Each group is interested only in its own affairs and the audience, of the others and only the audience, which has been taken into the confidence and the privacy of everyone present, appreciates the full significance of the drama.

When the guests file into dinner, each smiling and happy, the threatened tragedy of the past few days has somehow been overcome and each has taken a new grip on his life. The future looks brighter and the experiences of the past few weeks are gone. One member of the dinner party may have been instrumental in

PONCE DE LEON
TODAY (SUNDAY)
CALL HER SAVAGE
CLARA BOW—GILBERT ROLAND
MONDAY—TUESDAY
BE MINE TONIGHT
(AN IMPORTANT MUSICAL)
WEDNESDAY
INDIA SPEAKS
RICHARD HALLIBURTON
THURSDAY—FRIDAY
FALSE FACES
LOWELL SHERMAN—PEGGY SHANNON
SATURDAY
END OF THE TRAIL
TIM MC COY

ATLANTA
THEATRE
TEL. . . Wa6056
Note THIS IS A PERMANENT INSTITUTION BE NOT AFRAID / BE NOT DECEIVED

TWICE DAILY All This Week 2:30
Peaches BROWNING

The most talked about girl in AMERICA

NEW SONGS DANCES NOVELTIES

SPOTLIGHT PARIS SPARKLING MUSICAL

Special Matinee

Matinee 25¢ 30¢ 40¢
Evening 30¢ 40¢ 50¢

FOX THE SOUTH'S FINEST

For Your Amusement, Messieurs et Mesdames---

Upper left, Joan Blondell grows pensive in "Havana Widows," at the Paramount. Top center, Miriam Hopkins loves both Frederic March and Gary Cooper in "Design for Living" at the Fox. Upper right, Edmund Lowe cannot decide between Ann Sothern and Miriam Jordan in "Let's Fall in Love," at the Rialto. Lower left is a scene from "Take a Chance," now at the Capitol.

"Dinner at Eight," held over at Loew's Grand. Billie Burke and Marie Dressler are shown. Lower right is from "One Man's Journey" at the Georgia, showing Lionel Barrymore and Frances Dee. And in the circle at center bottom is James Dunn, playing a leading role in "Take a Chance," now at the Capitol.

"Havana Widows," Farce Comedy Now on Screen at the Paramount

Patrons of the Paramount theater find themselves roaring with laughter this week as "Havana Widows," the "all-star comedy," wisecracking comedy of the screen, is the feature attraction at that popular playhouse.

Joan Blondell's well-earned reputation for the grandest sort of repartee is enhanced by this tangy, dazzling comedy. The flippant Joan Blondell and the equally flippant and clever Glenda Farrell are two burlesque queens who decide to desert the stage and go in for millionaire collecting and go in for millionaire collecting in Havana on a large scale. They're out for the dough, and they don't care if they have to resort to the old badger game to snare it.

Ray Kibbee is the dumb money victim, selected for the plucking. Al Jenkins is "Havana" the immensely popular playboy for "big shot" gambler. Frank McHugh is the hard drinking attorney who acts as the go-between after the gold-diggers have compromised their victim. And when it comes to romantic interest, Lyle Talbot is just the handsome, capable one for the straight lead.

Mar and Sadie, that's Joan and Glenda, stumble onto the idea of going to Havana, and looking for sappy millionaires, after one of their chaperone friends visits them, looking like a million dollars. What happens to the girls in Havana forms the basis for a succession of laughs in situations which if they had been less broadly played might have been less broadly played.

Ray Enright, who directed from the screen play, Earl Baldwin, has kept the story moving at a fast, even clip. "All at Sea," featuring that well-known star, Pat Rooney, and Vincent Lopez and band, prove entertaining, as is the cartoon, "Sitting on a Back-Yard Fence," which, with Fox News, completes the program.

Mama Loves Papa' At the Empire Today

The Mary Boland-Charlie Ruggles comedy, "Mama Loves Papa," opens this afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Empire theater, corner of Georgia Avenue and Crew street. "Mama Loves Papa" is the story of a middle-aged suburban couple whose guns are enough to start any trouble, but it is Al Jenkins' sense of refinement, that actually gets them into their series of misadventures. A Laurel and Hardy comedy will round out the splendid program engineered by Manager Alfred Fowler for his Sunday.

"The Eagle and the Hawk," a thrillingly dramatic war picture, with George C. Scott, Carole Lombard, Jack Oakie, and others, heads the program Monday and Tuesday, while Wednesday finds the Empire offering another opportunity of reviewing "Girl Missing," with Bea Lyon, Glenda Farrell, Mary Bryan, Lyle Talbot and Guy Kibbee of "A Lady for a Day" come.

"The Eagle and the Hawk" is a thrill-studded drama of war, airmen, with George C. Scott, Carole Lombard, Jack Oakie, and others, heads the program Monday and Tuesday, while Wednesday finds the Empire offering another opportunity of reviewing "Girl Missing," with Bea Lyon, Glenda Farrell, Mary Bryan, Lyle Talbot and Guy Kibbee of "A Lady for a Day" come.

"The Eagle and the Hawk" is a thrill-studded drama of war, airmen, with George C. Scott, Carole Lombard, Jack Oakie, and others, heads the program Monday and Tuesday, while Wednesday finds the Empire offering another opportunity of reviewing "Girl Missing," with Bea Lyon, Glenda Farrell, Mary Bryan, Lyle Talbot and Guy Kibbee of "A Lady for a Day" come.

"The Eagle and the Hawk" is a thrill-studded drama of war, airmen, with George C. Scott, Carole Lombard, Jack Oakie, and others, heads the program Monday and Tuesday, while Wednesday finds the Empire offering another opportunity of reviewing "Girl Missing," with Bea Lyon, Glenda Farrell, Mary Bryan, Lyle Talbot and Guy Kibbee of "A Lady for a Day" come.

"The Eagle and the Hawk" is a thrill-studded drama of war, airmen, with George C. Scott, Carole Lombard, Jack Oakie, and others, heads the program Monday and Tuesday, while Wednesday finds the Empire offering another opportunity of reviewing "Girl Missing," with Bea Lyon, Glenda Farrell, Mary Bryan, Lyle Talbot and Guy Kibbee of "A Lady for a Day" come.

"The Eagle and the Hawk" is a thrill-studded drama of war, airmen, with George C. Scott, Carole Lombard, Jack Oakie, and others, heads the program Monday and Tuesday, while Wednesday finds the Empire offering another opportunity of reviewing "Girl Missing," with Bea Lyon, Glenda Farrell, Mary Bryan, Lyle Talbot and Guy Kibbee of "A Lady for a Day" come.

"The Eagle and the Hawk" is a thrill-studded drama of war, airmen, with George C. Scott, Carole Lombard, Jack Oakie, and others, heads the program Monday and Tuesday, while Wednesday finds the Empire offering another opportunity of reviewing "Girl Missing," with Bea Lyon, Glenda Farrell, Mary Bryan, Lyle Talbot and Guy Kibbee of "A Lady for a Day" come.

"The Eagle and the Hawk" is a thrill-studded drama of war, airmen, with George C. Scott, Carole Lombard, Jack Oakie, and others, heads the program Monday and Tuesday, while Wednesday finds the Empire offering another opportunity of reviewing "Girl Missing," with Bea Lyon, Glenda Farrell, Mary Bryan, Lyle Talbot and Guy Kibbee of "A Lady for a Day" come.

"The Eagle and the Hawk" is a thrill-studded drama of war, airmen, with George C. Scott, Carole Lombard, Jack Oakie, and others, heads the program Monday and Tuesday, while Wednesday finds the Empire offering another opportunity of reviewing "Girl Missing," with Bea Lyon, Glenda Farrell, Mary Bryan, Lyle Talbot and Guy Kibbee of "A Lady for a Day" come.

"The Eagle and the Hawk" is a thrill-studded drama of war, airmen, with George C. Scott, Carole Lombard, Jack Oakie, and others, heads the program Monday and Tuesday, while Wednesday finds the Empire offering another opportunity of reviewing "Girl Missing," with Bea Lyon, Glenda Farrell, Mary Bryan, Lyle Talbot and Guy Kibbee of "A Lady for a Day" come.

"The Eagle and the Hawk" is a thrill-studded drama of war, airmen, with George C. Scott, Carole Lombard, Jack Oakie, and others, heads the program Monday and Tuesday, while Wednesday finds the Empire offering another opportunity of reviewing "Girl Missing," with Bea Lyon, Glenda Farrell, Mary Bryan, Lyle Talbot and Guy Kibbee of "A Lady for a Day" come.

"The Eagle and the Hawk" is a thrill-studded drama of war, airmen, with George C. Scott, Carole Lombard, Jack Oakie, and others, heads the program Monday and Tuesday, while Wednesday finds the Empire offering another opportunity of reviewing "Girl Missing," with Bea Lyon, Glenda Farrell, Mary Bryan, Lyle Talbot and Guy Kibbee of "A Lady for a Day" come.

"The Eagle and the Hawk" is a thrill-studded drama of war, airmen, with George C. Scott, Carole Lombard, Jack Oakie, and others, heads the program Monday and Tuesday, while Wednesday finds the Empire offering another opportunity of reviewing "Girl Missing," with Bea Lyon, Glenda Farrell, Mary Bryan, Lyle Talbot and Guy Kibbee of "A Lady for a Day" come.

"The Eagle and the Hawk" is a thrill-studded drama of war, airmen, with George C. Scott, Carole Lombard, Jack Oakie, and others, heads the program Monday and Tuesday, while Wednesday finds the Empire offering another opportunity of reviewing "Girl Missing," with Bea Lyon, Glenda Farrell, Mary Bryan, Lyle Talbot and Guy Kibbee of "A Lady for a Day" come.

"The Eagle and the Hawk" is a thrill-studded drama of war, airmen, with George C. Scott, Carole Lombard, Jack Oakie, and others, heads the program Monday and Tuesday, while Wednesday finds the Empire offering another opportunity of reviewing "Girl Missing," with Bea Lyon, Glenda Farrell, Mary Bryan, Lyle Talbot and Guy Kibbee of "A Lady for a Day" come.

"The Eagle and the Hawk" is a thrill-studded drama of war, airmen, with George C. Scott, Carole Lombard, Jack Oakie, and others, heads the program Monday and Tuesday, while Wednesday finds the Empire offering another opportunity of reviewing "Girl Missing," with Bea Lyon, Glenda Farrell, Mary Bryan, Lyle Talbot and Guy Kibbee of "A Lady for a Day" come.

"The Eagle and the Hawk" is a thrill-studded drama of war, airmen, with George C. Scott, Carole Lombard, Jack Oakie, and others, heads the program Monday and Tuesday, while Wednesday finds the Empire offering another opportunity of reviewing "Girl Missing," with Bea Lyon, Glenda Farrell, Mary Bryan, Lyle Talbot and Guy Kibbee of "A Lady for a Day" come.

"The Eagle and the Hawk" is a thrill-studded drama of war, airmen, with George C. Scott, Carole Lombard, Jack Oakie, and others, heads the program Monday and Tuesday, while Wednesday finds the Empire offering another opportunity of reviewing "Girl Missing," with Bea Lyon, Glenda Farrell, Mary Bryan, Lyle Talbot and Guy Kibbee of "A Lady for a Day" come.

"The Eagle and the Hawk" is a thrill-studded drama of war, airmen, with George C. Scott, Carole Lombard, Jack Oakie, and others, heads the program Monday and Tuesday, while Wednesday finds the Empire offering another opportunity of reviewing "Girl Missing," with Bea Lyon, Glenda Farrell, Mary Bryan, Lyle Talbot and Guy Kibbee of "A Lady for a Day" come.

"The Eagle and the Hawk" is a thrill-studded drama of war, airmen, with George C. Scott, Carole Lombard, Jack Oakie, and others, heads the program Monday and Tuesday, while Wednesday finds the Empire offering another opportunity of reviewing "Girl Missing," with Bea Lyon, Glenda Farrell, Mary Bryan, Lyle Talbot and Guy Kibbee of "A Lady for a Day" come.

"The Eagle and the Hawk" is a thrill-studded drama of war, airmen, with George C. Scott, Carole Lombard, Jack Oakie, and others, heads the program Monday and Tuesday, while Wednesday finds the Empire offering another opportunity of reviewing "Girl Missing," with Bea Lyon, Glenda Farrell, Mary Bryan, Lyle Talbot and Guy Kibbee of "A Lady for a Day" come.

"The Eagle and the Hawk" is a thrill-studded drama of war, airmen, with George C. Scott, Carole Lombard, Jack Oakie, and others, heads the program Monday and Tuesday, while Wednesday finds the Empire offering another opportunity of reviewing "Girl Missing," with Bea Lyon, Glenda Farrell, Mary Bryan, Lyle Talbot and Guy Kibbee of "A Lady for a Day" come.

"The Eagle and the Hawk" is a thrill-studded drama of war, airmen, with George C. Scott, Carole Lombard, Jack Oakie, and others, heads the program Monday and Tuesday, while Wednesday finds the Empire offering another opportunity of reviewing "Girl Missing," with Bea Lyon, Glenda Farrell, Mary Bryan, Lyle Talbot and Guy Kibbee of "A Lady for a Day" come.

"The Eagle and the Hawk" is a thrill-studded drama of war, airmen, with George C. Scott, Carole Lombard, Jack Oakie, and others, heads the program Monday and Tuesday, while Wednesday finds the Empire offering another opportunity of reviewing "Girl Missing," with Bea Lyon, Glenda Farrell, Mary Bryan, Lyle Talbot and Guy Kibbee of "A Lady for a Day" come.

"The Eagle and the Hawk" is a thrill-studded drama of war, airmen, with George C. Scott, Carole Lombard, Jack Oakie, and others, heads the program Monday and Tuesday, while Wednesday finds the Empire offering another opportunity of reviewing "Girl Missing," with Bea Lyon, Glenda Farrell, Mary Bryan, Lyle Talbot and Guy Kibbee of "A Lady for a Day" come.

"The Eagle and the Hawk" is a thrill-studded drama of war, airmen, with George C. Scott, Carole Lombard, Jack Oakie, and others, heads the program Monday and Tuesday, while Wednesday finds the Empire offering another opportunity of reviewing "Girl Missing," with Bea Lyon, Glenda Farrell, Mary Bryan, Lyle Talbot and Guy Kibbee of "A Lady for a Day" come.

"The Eagle and the Hawk" is a thrill-studded drama of war, airmen, with George C. Scott, Carole Lombard, Jack Oakie, and others, heads the program Monday and Tuesday, while Wednesday finds the Empire offering another opportunity of reviewing "Girl Missing," with Bea Lyon, Glenda Farrell, Mary Bryan, Lyle Talbot and Guy Kibbee of "A Lady for a Day" come.

"The Eagle and the Hawk" is a thrill-studded drama of war, airmen, with George C. Scott, Carole Lombard, Jack Oakie, and others, heads the program Monday and Tuesday, while Wednesday finds the Empire offering another opportunity of reviewing "Girl Missing," with Bea Lyon, Glenda Farrell, Mary Bryan, Lyle Talbot and Guy Kibbee of "A Lady for a Day" come.

"The Eagle and the Hawk" is a thrill-studded drama of war, airmen, with George C. Scott, Carole Lombard, Jack Oakie, and others, heads the program Monday and Tuesday, while Wednesday finds the Empire offering another opportunity of reviewing "Girl Missing," with Bea Lyon, Glenda Farrell, Mary Bryan, Lyle Talbot and Guy Kibbee of "A Lady for a Day" come.

"The Eagle and the Hawk" is a thrill-studded drama of war, airmen, with George C. Scott, Carole Lombard, Jack Oakie, and others, heads the program Monday and Tuesday, while Wednesday finds the Empire offering another opportunity of reviewing "Girl Missing," with Bea Lyon, Glenda Farrell, Mary Bryan, Lyle Talbot and Guy Kibbee of "A Lady for a Day" come.

"The Eagle and the Hawk" is a thrill-studded drama of war, airmen, with George C. Scott, Carole Lombard, Jack Oakie, and others, heads the program Monday and Tuesday, while Wednesday finds the Empire offering another opportunity of reviewing "Girl Missing," with Bea Lyon, Glenda Farrell, Mary Bryan, Lyle Talbot and Guy Kibbee of "A Lady for a Day" come.

"The Eagle and the Hawk" is a thrill-studded drama of war, airmen, with George C. Scott, Carole Lombard, Jack Oakie, and others, heads the program Monday and Tuesday, while Wednesday finds the Empire offering another opportunity of reviewing "Girl Missing," with Bea Lyon, Glenda Farrell, Mary Bryan, Lyle Talbot and Guy Kibbee of "A Lady for a Day" come.

"The Eagle and the Hawk" is a thrill-studded drama of war, airmen, with George C. Scott, Carole Lombard, Jack Oakie, and others, heads the program Monday and Tuesday, while Wednesday finds the Empire offering another opportunity of reviewing "Girl Missing," with Bea Lyon, Glenda Farrell, Mary Bryan, Lyle Talbot and Guy Kibbee of "A Lady for a Day" come.

"The Eagle and the Hawk" is a thrill-studded drama of war, airmen, with George C. Scott, Carole Lombard, Jack Oakie, and others, heads the program Monday and Tuesday, while Wednesday finds the Empire offering another opportunity of reviewing "Girl Missing," with Bea Lyon, Glenda Farrell, Mary Bryan, Lyle Talbot and Guy Kibbee of "A Lady for a Day" come.

"The Eagle and the Hawk" is a thrill-studded drama of war, airmen, with George C. Scott, Carole Lombard, Jack Oakie, and others, heads the program Monday and Tuesday, while Wednesday finds the Empire offering another opportunity of reviewing "Girl Missing," with Bea Lyon, Glenda Farrell, Mary Bryan, Lyle Talbot and Guy Kibbee of "A Lady for a Day" come.

"The Eagle and the Hawk" is a thrill-studded drama of war, airmen, with George C. Scott, Carole Lombard, Jack Oakie, and others, heads the program Monday and Tuesday, while Wednesday finds the Empire offering another opportunity of reviewing "Girl Missing," with Bea Lyon, Glenda Farrell, Mary Bryan, Lyle Talbot and Guy Kibbee of "A Lady for a Day" come.

"The Eagle and the Hawk" is a thrill-studded drama of war, airmen, with George C. Scott, Carole Lombard, Jack Oakie, and others, heads the program Monday and Tuesday, while Wednesday finds the Empire offering another opportunity of reviewing "Girl Missing," with Bea Lyon, Glenda Farrell, Mary Bryan, Lyle Talbot and Guy Kibbee of "A Lady for a Day" come.

"The Eagle and the Hawk" is a thrill-studded drama of war, airmen, with George C. Scott, Carole Lombard, Jack Oakie, and others, heads the program Monday and Tuesday, while Wednesday finds the Empire offering another opportunity of reviewing "Girl Missing," with Bea Lyon, Glenda Farrell, Mary Bryan, Lyle Talbot and Guy Kibbee of "A Lady for a Day" come.

"The Eagle and the Hawk" is a thrill-studded drama of war, airmen, with George C. Scott, Carole Lombard, Jack Oakie, and others, heads the program Monday and Tuesday, while Wednesday finds the Empire offering another opportunity of reviewing "Girl Missing," with Bea Lyon, Glenda Farrell, Mary Bryan, Lyle Talbot and Guy Kibbee of "A Lady for a Day" come.

"The Eagle and the Hawk" is a thrill-studded drama of war, airmen, with George C. Scott, Carole Lombard, Jack Oakie, and others, heads the program Monday and Tuesday, while Wednesday finds the Empire offering another opportunity of reviewing "Girl Missing," with Bea Lyon, Glenda Farrell, Mary Bryan, Lyle Talbot and Guy Kibbee of "A Lady for a Day" come.

NEWS of STAGE and SCREEN

EDITED by RALPH T. JONES

Noted 'Peaches'
Plays Atlanta
All This Week

With Peaches Browning, former wife of the notorious "Daddy" Brown, of Broadway, present in person, and with Harvey Curzon, noted dance director from Detroit, producing the dance numbers for the show, the Atlanta theater this week promises something entirely new to local patrons.

In addition to these great attractions, other new faces will include Ray King, an exceedingly clever straight man, known on the stage as the living fashion plate. Also Michael Overling, a tenor singer from Chicago, and several new faces in the ranks of the ladies of the ensemble.

It is of course, Peaches Browning who will be the big box office lung of the week. The girl who was the feature of New York's front pages for weeks, has proved a veritable sensation wherever she has appeared on the stage. In Chicago, people from all walks of life jammed the theater where she appeared, and the press and she has proven just as sensational in every other city she has visited.

That she will repeat this record at the Atlanta theater is indicated by the heavy advance sale of seats. There are, however, many desirable locations untaken for most performances.

There will be a matinee at 2:30 and a night show at 8:30 every day of the week, including Monday.

The title of this week's production is "Lights o' Paris" and it is extremely French in its atmosphere throughout. It boasts some remarkable stage settings, with colorful drapes, artistic scenes, and the shapely curves of the cherries combined into eye-filling pictures.

Two scenes of especial beauty are an "Old Fashioned" number and the finale, which is in Spanish style.

EMPIRE
Ga. Ave at Crew St. MA. 8430
TODAY-SUNDAY 2 P.M.
CHARLES RUGGLES
"MAMA LOVES PAPA"
MARY BOLAND
PLUS LAUREL AND HARDY IN "SCRAM"
MON-TUES. DONT MISS
"THE HAWK"
WITH FREDRIC MARCH-CARY GRANT
CAROLE LOMBARD-JACK OAKIE

Capacity Audience Now Assured For Marcus Show Tuesday Night

A BEAUTY OF "LA VIE PAREE."

The A. B. Marcus show, entitled "La Vie Paree," which is coming to the Fox theater at midnight on Tuesday for one performance only, will be greeted by capacity audience, despite the fact that 5,000 people can be comfortably admitted to that theater.

Advance sale of seats by Saturday night had made that fact sure, although there are still desirable locations to be had at the box office, which will be open all day Monday and Tuesday.

There are 75 people—50 of them girls—in the Marcus production. It is said to be a combination of the three most sensational shows that modern Paris boasts, with the exception that the lines and songs are, of course, all in English.

But it is to the eye that the show most appeals. The 50 girls with the company have been chosen solely for their beauty and they display that beauty in gorgeous stage sets just as completely as the law will permit. Costumes, what there are of them, are the finest money will buy, but at that the quantity of material used by the ladies of the ensemble cannot have cost so much.

Two of the most famous performers in the cast, Ha Cha San and La Fanete, are sisters. Ha Cha's act is entitled "The Silver Goddess." Her entire costume consists of a coating of heavy varnish mixed with silver paint, which, of course, covers her completely from head to toe, but leaves not a curve of a gorgeous figure unseen.

Her sister, La Fanete, is the Danse D'Eventail, which in English is a fan dance. She claims, with emphasis, to be the originator of this idea, and insists that Faith Bacon, Sally Rand, and all the other fan dancers are her imitators. Anyways, her dance is said to be about the best and most sensational fan dance of them all, so that ought to be enough.

Marcus believes that the best kind of show is the one with the most and most beautiful girls. Nevertheless, he does not stint on other performers and his company boasts some of the greatest comedians, finest vocalists and the feminine pulchritude that will make the big impression when the show opens before that huge crowd that is certain to pack the big Fox theater for the midnight performance next Tuesday night.

Ken Maynard appears as "The Phantom Thunderbolt" Saturday.

When Trouble or Sickness Came, They Prayed and Called Eli Watt, M. D.!

Greater MARCUS SHOW
La Vie Paree SPECTACLE SUPREME

The Silver Goddess
HA CHA SAN Sensational Feature of Old Mexico at the Century of Progress Exposition, Chicago

LA FANETTE
In Her Exotic
DANSE D'EVENTAIL
(Fan Dance)
Originated by this Artist at the Cafe
Le Mort Rat, Paris

LEON MILLER BEN MCATEE
LILLIAN MCCOY GEORGENE MILLAR DOTTIE COUDY
HERSHEY SISKIN ELMER COUDY LES SECHRIST
BEN WINSOME—Lee Mason—ROLAND TURNER
Harvey, Young & Kay—Six Rounding Ali Babas

36 MARCUS PEACHES 36
SEATS NOW ALL RSV'D. GALLERY 50c
HUNDREDS OF CHOICE SEATS $1 MANY AT LESS FEW FRONT ROWS $1.50 PLUS TAX

Now Playing
GEORGIA
Coming Wednesday
WARNER BAXTER IN
"AS HUSBANDS GO"

—COMING—
ESKIMO
M.G.M.'s
BIGGEST THRILL

S. R. O.
by Ralph T. Jones

Two pictures did so well in Atlanta theaters last week that they are held over for extended engagements.

"Dinner at Eight," at Loew's Grand, will be there another week, which, if you count the roadshowing at the Erlanger last season, makes three weeks for this mighty star aggregation.

"Bitter Sweet," the English production of Noel Coward's musical romance, is held at the Buckhead for two additional days, today and tomorrow, because of the crowds and enthusiasm it engendered last week.

And if "Little Women" hadn't had the advantage of the huge Fox capacity it would undoubtedly have had to stay with us, also.

The amusement follower who wouldn't miss anything will be a busy person in Atlanta this week. Take a glance down the list of extra attractions:

First of all, of course, is the Chicago Opera Company at the auditorium. With the old favorites of the grand operatic libraries such as "Aida," "Trovatore," "Carmen," "Hansel and Gretel," etc., offered every night—mean one each night—of the week.

Fortunately the A. B. Marcus show, "La Vie Paree," with its half hundred feminine beauties, its Ha Cha San and La Fanete and etc., etc., plays at midnight. At the Fox, Tuesdays. The hour of the performance makes it possible to get to two attractions Tuesday night you see. And, just as a straight-from-the-table tip, if you haven't got tickets for the Marcus show better hurry to the box office right away. Indications are for a complete sell-out by Monday night, or Tuesday noon at latest.

Then, if you like to look at folks who make the headlines in the more sensational news sheets, you'll go to the Atlanta to see "Peaches" Browning, who is present all this week in the flesh, in person, herself. Remember what fun we used to have a couple of years ago following "Peaches" and "Daddy" Browning in their much publicized Broadway romance? Of course, "Daddy Doesn't Live Here Any More," but they do say Peaches is well worth seeing in her act with the burlesques.

If you remember to keep next Sunday afternoon open for the appearance of the Shankar troupe of Hindu dancers and musicians, at the Capitol theater, you'll have managed to take care of the more important, flesh and blood shows.

Turning to the screen, you are urgently recommended not to miss "Design for Living," at the Fox this week. Noel Coward, you remember, wrote that play. Ben Hecht took that play and, with the use of his own highly pungent dialogue made a picture that is one of the big 'uns' of the season, particularly if you like your screen fare thoroughly sophisticated.

"One Man's Journey," at the Georgia, looks like promising entertainment. "Havana Widows," at the Paramount, is just farce, pure enough to get by and simple enough to please plenty of folks.

Loew's Grand has "Dinner at Eight," for the benefit of the careless ones who have overlooked it so far. And next week they have that highly touted and certain to be interesting "Eskimo." Ask Ralph McGill about the dogs and the penguins.

Tuesday and Wednesday next the Buckhead plays Mae West's "She Done Him Wrong," for its sixth engagement. And there is one gentleman who is going to see it if he loses his job thereby.

The manager of the Jacobs drug store, directly across the street from the Buckhead, has never seen the film. He says that every time the Buckhead plays it the fountain in the drug store is so busy cooling off the theater patrons—is the picture, not the theater, that is so hot—he hasn't had a chance. But if he doesn't catch it on this, the sixth opportunity, he'll forever hang his head in shame when Mae is mentioned. Which is not infrequently.

Another home town girl makes good in the big city. Word from New York tells that Sunya Shurman, who only a few months ago was studying dancing under our own Mrs. Senia Solomonoff, is now a featured dancer with the new Ziegfeld Follies. Remember Sunya dancing to "Anitra's Dance" or "The Rosary" at recitals given by Mrs. Solomonoff's pupils?

Gaynor and Baxter At DeKalb in 'Paddy'

Janet Gaynor, a scamp with a fiery temper and a big heart, plays opposite Warner Baxter, a big strapping fellow with a heart of gold and a twinkle in his eye, in "Paddy, The Next Best Thing," the feature of the DeKalb theater Monday and Tuesday. The supporting players include Walter Connolly, Harvey Stephens and Margaret Lindsey.

"Hell and High Water" plays at the DeKalb Wednesday. The feature players are Richard Arlen and Judith Allen.

The feature of the DeKalb Thursday and Friday is "My Weakness," with Lillian Harvey and Lew Ayres. It is a gay, giddy musical romance, filled with glorious girls and uproarious comedy. Harry Langdon and Eddie Borden, Butterworth furnish plenty of laughs. "Three Little Pigs" is added to the program as a special attraction.

Ken Maynard appears as "The Phantom Thunderbolt" Saturday.

Arizona to Broadway
Playing Hilan Today

"Arizona to Broadway," comes to the Hilan theater Sunday. James Dunn, cast in the leading masculine role, has a new leading lady opposite him. She is Joan Bennett, who makes her return to the screen after an absence of several months. Herbert Mundin is co-featured with the two stars, in a role that is entirely new for him, the adventurous barker of a medicine show who becomes a big city big-shot. There's romance, too, the kind that has made the name of James Dunn a household word on the feminine side of the house.

Monday and Tuesday "Love and Oh Baby" with Slim Summerelle and Zazu Pitts. Wednesday, with Spencer Tracy and Fay Wray. Thursday and Friday, "Paddy, The Next Best Thing" with Janet Gaynor and Warner Baxter. Saturday, "Hell and High Water" with Richard Arlen and Judith Allen.

TALMADGE REDUCES TWO DRY LAW FINES

Fines of two probation law violators were reduced Saturday by Governor Talmadge, and a similar case a 12-month changing sentence was changed to a $300 fine.

The governor reduced to $400 a $1,000 fine imposed on Elmer Grant, alias Edward L. Guyol, and commuted to present service a 12-month suspended sentence. In the case of W. G. M. Flynn, a $2,000 fine given in connection with a 2-year suspended sentence was reduced to $250. Cland Ogle was given a $300 fine by the governor in lieu of a 12-month sentence originally imposed. All three convictions were in the criminal court of Atlanta.

BABY LEROY GETS TOYS.
So far as Baby Leroy was concerned his only rewards for playing in Paramount's "Miss Fane's Baby Is Stolen" consisted of a teddy bear and a toy sailing yacht. His earnings were invested in his ranch and in insurance.

NEW HILAN
800 HIGHLAND AVE.

SUNDAY
Arizona To Broadway
JAMES DUNN-JOAN BENNETT

MONDAY AND TUESDAY
Love, Honor and Oh Baby
SLIM SUMMERELLE, ZAZU PITTS

WEDNESDAY
Shanghai Madness
SPENCER TRACY-FAY WRAY

THURSDAY AND FRIDAY
Paddy, The Next Best Thing
JANET GAYNOR-WARNER BAXTER
TWENTY-FOUR HOUR PATHÉ NEWS

SATURDAY
Hell and High Water
RICHARD ARLEN-JUDITH ALLEN
TARZAN-CHAPTER NO. 8

SUNDAY
Shanghai Madness
SPENCER TRACY-FAY WRAY

MONDAY
Love, Honor and Oh Baby
SLIM SUMMERELLE, ZAZU PITTS

TUESDAY
Shanghai Madness
SPENCER TRACY-FAY WRAY

WEDNESDAY
Love, Honor and Oh Baby
SLIM SUMMERELLE, ZAZU PITTS

THURSDAY
Shanghai Madness
SPENCER TRACY-FAY WRAY

FRIDAY
Love, Honor and Oh Baby
SLIM SUMMERELLE, ZAZU PITTS

SATURDAY
Shanghai Madness
SPENCER TRACY-FAY WRAY

SUNDAY
Love, Honor and Oh Baby
SLIM SUMMERELLE, ZAZU PITTS

MONDAY
Shanghai Madness
SPENCER TRACY-FAY WRAY

TUESDAY
Love, Honor and Oh Baby
SLIM SUMMERELLE, ZAZU PITTS

WEDNESDAY
Shanghai Madness
SPENCER TRACY-FAY WRAY

THURSDAY
Love, Honor and Oh Baby
SLIM SUMMERELLE, ZAZU PITTS

FRIDAY
Love, Honor and Oh Baby
SLIM SUMMERELLE, ZAZU PITTS

SATURDAY
Shanghai Madness
SPENCER TRACY-FAY WRAY

SUNDAY
Love, Honor and Oh Baby
SLIM SUMMERELLE, ZAZU PITTS

MONDAY
Shanghai Madness
SPENCER TRACY-FAY WRAY

TUESDAY
Love, Honor and Oh Baby
SLIM SUMMERELLE, ZAZU PITTS

WEDNESDAY
Shanghai Madness
SPENCER TRACY-FAY WRAY

THURSDAY
Love, Honor and Oh Baby
SLIM SUMMERELLE, ZAZU PITTS

FRIDAY
Love, Honor and Oh Baby
SLIM SUMMERELLE, ZAZU PITTS

SATURDAY
Shanghai Madness
SPENCER TRACY-FAY WRAY

SUNDAY
Love, Honor and Oh Baby
SLIM SUMMERELLE, ZAZU PITTS

MONDAY
Shanghai Madness
SPENCER TRACY-FAY WRAY

TUESDAY
Love, Honor and Oh Baby
SLIM SUMMERELLE, ZAZU PITTS

WEDNESDAY
Shanghai Madness
SPENCER TRACY-FAY WRAY

THURSDAY
Love, Honor and Oh Baby
SLIM SUMMERELLE, ZAZU PITTS

FRIDAY
Love, Honor and Oh Baby
SLIM SUMMERELLE, ZAZU PITTS

SATURDAY
Shanghai Madness
SPENCER TRACY-FAY WRAY

SUNDAY
Love, Honor and Oh Baby
SLIM SUMMERELLE, ZAZU PITTS

MONDAY
Shanghai Madness
SPENCER TRACY-FAY WRAY

TUESDAY
Love, Honor and Oh Baby
SLIM SUMMERELLE, ZAZU PITTS

WEDNESDAY
Shanghai Madness
SPENCER TRACY-FAY WRAY

THURSDAY
Love, Honor and Oh Baby
SLIM SUMMERELLE, ZAZU PITTS

FRIDAY
Love, Honor and Oh Baby
SLIM SUMMERELLE, ZAZU PITTS

SATURDAY
Shanghai Madness
SPENCER TRACY-FAY WRAY

SUNDAY
Love, Honor and Oh Baby
SLIM SUMMERELLE, ZAZU PITTS

MONDAY
Shanghai Madness
SPENCER TRACY-FAY WRAY

TUESDAY
Love, Honor and Oh Baby
SLIM SUMMERELLE, ZAZU PITTS

WEDNESDAY
Shanghai Madness
SPENCER TRACY-FAY WRAY

THURSDAY
Love, Honor and Oh Baby
SLIM SUMMERELLE, ZAZU PITTS

FRIDAY
Love, Honor and Oh Baby
SLIM SUMMERELLE, ZAZU PITTS

SATURDAY
Shanghai Madness
SPENCER TRACY-FAY WRAY

SUNDAY
Love, Honor and Oh Baby
SLIM SUMMERELLE, ZAZU PITTS

Briton Sees Monarch As Labor Party Foe

NOTTINGHAM, England, Jan. 6. (AP)—Influences which the labor party will have to overcome when it attains power in Great Britain may be seen in the most unusual nature, inasmuch as Buckingham Palace, said Sir Stafford Cripps, one of the aspirants to the labor party leadership, in a speech here tonight.

"When the labor party comes into power," he declared, "it must act rapidly and it will be necessary to deal with the house of lords and the influences of the city of London.

"There is no doubt we shall have to overcome opposition from Buckingham Palace (a royal residence) and other places as well."

Sir Stafford's contention was of the most unusual nature, inasmuch as Buckingham Palace has always been considered out of bounds politically, and the modern constitutional position of the crown is entirely apart from political considerations and conflicts.

The Sunday Times called Sir Stafford's reference "a blazing indiscretion" in which "the king's name was dragged into politics."

EX-SCHOOL BOARD HEAD SCORES KEY IN LETTER

DR. NOAH W. BAIRD, 1933 president of the Atlanta board of education, Saturday attacked Mayor James L. Key in a letter addressed to the mayor.

He contended that the schools lived within the 1933 income, and said that from the $140,000 due Atlanta schools from the state and the $30,000, which was said was owed the board for school books, had been paid, a reserve was being held.

In his annual message Key hit schools for not effecting economies as other departments have.

COTTON DEALER KILLED IN HUNTING ACCIDENT

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Jan. 6. (AP)—Hugh R. Wynne, member of the cotton firm of Abston, Wynne and Company, was killed accidentally this afternoon in a duck blind at the exclusive Wappanocca Hunt Club in the northern part of Crittenden county, Arkansas.

Hugh Wynne, Jr. said the negro piddler, who was with his father, reported that Mr. Wynne was standing, holding his gun on a shell bucket, when the gun slipped to the floor and fired, the charge hitting him in the face.

Edith McCormick's Treasures of Art Bring $330,617 in Gotham Auction

By ELENORE KELLOGG.

NEW YORK, Jan. 6. (AP)—Having drawn a larger crowd than any other auction on record, the sale of the ornate art treasures of Mrs. Edith Rockefeller McCormick ended today with a grand total of $330,617 for her estate.

Beginning January 16, the contents of Mrs. McCormick's Lake Shore drive mansion in Chicago and her villa at Lake Forest, Ill., will be placed on sale on the premises.

Though laces, tapestries, silver, and antique furniture have been going under the hammer here for five days, the auctioneer announced that the Chicago home was still "practically intact."

Mrs. McCormick's daughter, Muriel, the wife of Major Elisha Dyer Hubbard of Middletown, Conn., will go to Chicago for the sale.

She has attended every day of the auction in New York and has bought, by her mother's behest, a number of pieces.

Today was one of the biggest days, the auction room being jammed, with standees at the back just like the opera and at the door a milling crowd unable to get in. Furtive women brought their lorgnettes and dogs and waved greetings to each other across the rows of seats.

An interesting figure in the crowd was Edward Krenn, the Swiss architect of Mrs. McCormick's constant escort in Chicago. A stocky blonde man, he wore spats, diamond and onyx cuff links as big as his thumb, and an enormous grey pearl in a bright red tie.

He sat down four rows behind Mrs. McCormick Hubbard, fixed her with his eyes, sat there for a few moments, and then moved to a seat further back. It had been reported that he was interested in some of the bronzes, but he bought nothing.

Clutching a sealskin-lined coat, he left when reporters approached him.

Today's sales, which were of valuable antiques, old English furniture, and old French furniture, brought in $105,085. The two highest sales were to the Hubbards, who paid $8,100 each for two rare Gothic hunting tapestries of the 16th century.

Mrs. McCormick's daughter also bought a very rare silver "caudle" or a cup of the Cromwellian period, for $2,800, and an "important" pair of George III silver wine coolers for $2,000. She also paid $1,900 for an Aubusson silk tapestry screen, $1,025 for a French "canape"—sofa to the simple—and $1,020 for 12 George III silver plates.

One more tapestry at $1,200 rounded out her purchases.

MORTUARY

MRS. JULIA WYNNE.

Mrs. Julia Wynne, 73, of 202 Berne street, S. E., the wife of Tucker Wynne, and a resident of Atlanta for about 50 years, died at 12:45 a. m. this morning at a private hospital. Funeral services will be held at 2 o'clock this afternoon at the chapel of Blanton Mortuary. The Rev. Mr. McLane will officiate and intercessor will be in Mount Zion cemetery. Mrs. Wynne is survived by her husband, two sons, R. J. and W. H., and two daughters, Mrs. F. F. Harris, of Atlanta; Mrs. M. A. Jones, of Mount Zion; and Mrs. G. T. Read of Smyrna; 12 grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

MRS. J. J. KING.

Mrs. J. J. King, 48, died Saturday morning of pneumonia at her residence, on the Bankhead highway. The body will be taken to Georgia, Ala., at 10 o'clock this afternoon for funeral and interment. Mrs. King is survived by her husband: two sons, Harry and Roy Jones; two daughters, George and Frank Bell; her mother, Mrs. Ella Harris, and two sisters, Mrs. B. L. D. Churchwell and D. Churchwell. Howard L. Carmichael will have charge of funeral arrangements.

A. H. VAUGHN.

A. H. Vaughn, 35, died Saturday at his residence at 216 Beeson avenue, S. E. Funeral services will be held at 2 o'clock this afternoon at the Emanuel Baptist church. The Rev. J. P. Glorie officiating. Interment services will be held Monday at the Oak Hill cemetery.

Surviving are his wife, a son, Eddie, two sons, Eddie and Sparks and Mrs. L. W. Parker, and three brothers, Arthur, Clifford and Douglas Vaughn.

MRS. W. H. HUGHES.

Final rites for Mrs. W. H. Hughes, who died Friday at her residence in Smyrna, Ga., in her seventy-second year, will be conducted Saturday at 12:30 o'clock at the chapel of Harry G. Poole by the Rev. S. R. Oglesby. Interment will be at West View cemetery.

MRS. MARGARET LOWRY.

The funeral of Mrs. Margaret Lowry, of 570 State street, S. E., died Thursday at her residence, will be held this afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Bright Star Methodist church of Douglasville, Ga. The Rev. N. S. Nance will officiate. Mrs. Quin will officiate and interment will be in the Douglasville cemetery with Avery & Lowrie in charge.

J. J. LAWHON.

Final rites for Mr. J. J. Lawhun, 96, a Confederate veteran, died Friday at his residence at 785 Kirkwood avenue, S. E., will be held at 2 o'clock this afternoon at the First Baptist church, 1250 Peachtree street, with the Rev. J. M. L. Lively officiating. Interment will be in the cemetery with Avery & Lawhun in charge.

MRS. EDITH MORGAN.

Final rites for Mrs. Edith Morgan, 21, of 11 Wootton street, Center Hill, who died Friday at 12:30 a. m., will be held Saturday at 2 o'clock this afternoon at the Center Hill Baptist church by the Rev. R. D. Parker. Interment will be in the Magnolia cemetery with Avery & Lawhun in charge.

W. F. STEELE.

W. F. Steele, 62, a pensioner, died Saturday night at a private hospital. He survived by a daughter, Mrs. Julia Steele, of Cincinnati, Ohio, and W. F. Steele, Jr., of Atlanta; a sister, Mrs. Linda E. Watson, of Atlanta; and two brothers, John and Gordon Steele, both of Atlanta. Funeral arrangements will be announced by H. M. Patterson & Son.

MRS. JULIA FLOCK.

Funeral services for Mrs. Julia Flock, 86 years ago, will be held Saturday night at 12:30 o'clock at 122 Westfield avenue, S. E. The body will be carried to Fort Payne, Ga., for interment.

Mrs. Flock is survived by her son, Ernest Dillon Company in charge.

MRS. E. W. HARRIS.

The funeral of Mrs. E. W. Harris, 72, of 1220 Peachtree street, S. E., will be held Saturday at 12:30 o'clock at the First Baptist church, 1250 Peachtree street, with the Rev. S. R. Oglesby officiating. Interment will be in the cemetery with Avery & Lawhun in charge.

MRS. ERITH MORGAN.

Final services for Mrs. Edith Morgan, 21, of 11 Wootton street, Center Hill, who died Friday at 12:30 a. m., will be held Saturday at 2 o'clock at the Center Hill Baptist church by the Rev. R. D. Parker. Interment will be in the Magnolia cemetery with Avery & Lawhun in charge.

MRS. ERITH MORGAN.

Final services for Mrs. Edith Morgan, 21, of 11 Wootton street, Center Hill, who died Friday at 12:30 a. m., will be held Saturday at 2 o'clock at the Center Hill Baptist church by the Rev. R. D. Parker. Interment will be in the Magnolia cemetery with Avery & Lawhun in charge.

MRS. ERITH MORGAN.

Final services for Mrs. Edith Morgan, 21, of 11 Wootton street, Center Hill, who died Friday at 12:30 a. m., will be held Saturday at 2 o'clock at the Center Hill Baptist church by the Rev. R. D. Parker. Interment will be in the Magnolia cemetery with Avery & Lawhun in charge.

MRS. ERITH MORGAN.

Final services for Mrs. Edith Morgan, 21, of 11 Wootton street, Center Hill, who died Friday at 12:30 a. m., will be held Saturday at 2 o'clock at the Center Hill Baptist church by the Rev. R. D. Parker. Interment will be in the Magnolia cemetery with Avery & Lawhun in charge.

MRS. ERITH MORGAN.

Final services for Mrs. Edith Morgan, 21, of 11 Wootton street, Center Hill, who died Friday at 12:30 a. m., will be held Saturday at 2 o'clock at the Center Hill Baptist church by the Rev. R. D. Parker. Interment will be in the Magnolia cemetery with Avery & Lawhun in charge.

MRS. ERITH MORGAN.

Final services for Mrs. Edith Morgan, 21, of 11 Wootton street, Center Hill, who died Friday at 12:30 a. m., will be held Saturday at 2 o'clock at the Center Hill Baptist church by the Rev. R. D. Parker. Interment will be in the Magnolia cemetery with Avery & Lawhun in charge.

MRS. ERITH MORGAN.

Final services for Mrs. Edith Morgan, 21, of 11 Wootton street, Center Hill, who died Friday at 12:30 a. m., will be held Saturday at 2 o'clock at the Center Hill Baptist church by the Rev. R. D. Parker. Interment will be in the Magnolia cemetery with Avery & Lawhun in charge.

MRS. ERITH MORGAN.

Final services for Mrs. Edith Morgan, 21, of 11 Wootton street, Center Hill, who died Friday at 12:30 a. m., will be held Saturday at 2 o'clock at the Center Hill Baptist church by the Rev. R. D. Parker. Interment will be in the Magnolia cemetery with Avery & Lawhun in charge.

MRS. ERITH MORGAN.

Final services for Mrs. Edith Morgan, 21, of 11 Wootton street, Center Hill, who died Friday at 12:30 a. m., will be held Saturday at 2 o'clock at the Center Hill Baptist church by the Rev. R. D. Parker. Interment will be in the Magnolia cemetery with Avery & Lawhun in charge.

MRS. ERITH MORGAN.

Final services for Mrs. Edith Morgan, 21, of 11 Wootton street, Center Hill, who died Friday at 12:30 a. m., will be held Saturday at 2 o'clock at the Center Hill Baptist church by the Rev. R. D. Parker. Interment will be in the Magnolia cemetery with Avery & Lawhun in charge.

MRS. ERITH MORGAN.

Final services for Mrs. Edith Morgan, 21, of 11 Wootton street, Center Hill, who died Friday at 12:30 a. m., will be held Saturday at 2 o'clock at the Center Hill Baptist church by the Rev. R. D. Parker. Interment will be in the Magnolia cemetery with Avery & Lawhun in charge.

MRS. ERITH MORGAN.

Final services for Mrs. Edith Morgan, 21, of 11 Wootton street, Center Hill, who died Friday at 12:30 a. m., will be held Saturday at 2 o'clock at the Center Hill Baptist church by the Rev. R. D. Parker. Interment will be in the Magnolia cemetery with Avery & Lawhun in charge.

MRS. ERITH MORGAN.

Final services for Mrs. Edith Morgan, 21, of 11 Wootton street, Center Hill, who died Friday at 12:30 a. m., will be held Saturday at 2 o'clock at the Center Hill Baptist church by the Rev. R. D. Parker. Interment will be in the Magnolia cemetery with Avery & Lawhun in charge.

MRS. ERITH MORGAN.

Final services for Mrs. Edith Morgan, 21, of 11 Wootton street, Center Hill, who died Friday at 12:30 a. m., will be held Saturday at 2 o'clock at the Center Hill Baptist church by the Rev. R. D. Parker. Interment will be in the Magnolia cemetery with Avery & Lawhun in charge.

MRS. ERITH MORGAN.

Final services for Mrs. Edith Morgan, 21, of 11 Wootton street, Center Hill, who died Friday at 12:30 a. m., will be held Saturday at 2 o'clock at the Center Hill Baptist church by the Rev. R. D. Parker. Interment will be in the Magnolia cemetery with Avery & Lawhun in charge.

MRS. ERITH MORGAN.

Final services for Mrs. Edith Morgan, 21, of 11 Wootton street, Center Hill, who died Friday at 12:30 a. m., will be held Saturday at 2 o'clock at the Center Hill Baptist church by the Rev. R. D. Parker. Interment will be in the Magnolia cemetery with Avery & Lawhun in charge.

MRS. ERITH MORGAN.

Final services for Mrs. Edith Morgan, 21, of 11 Wootton street, Center Hill, who died Friday at 12:30 a. m., will be held Saturday at 2 o'clock at the Center Hill Baptist church by the Rev. R. D. Parker. Interment will be in the Magnolia cemetery with Avery & Lawhun in charge.

MRS. ERITH MORGAN.

Final services for Mrs. Edith Morgan, 21, of 11 Wootton street, Center Hill, who died Friday at 12:30 a. m., will be held Saturday at 2 o'clock at the Center Hill Baptist church by the Rev. R. D. Parker. Interment will be in the Magnolia cemetery with Avery & Lawhun in charge.

MRS. ERITH MORGAN.

Final services for Mrs. Edith Morgan, 21, of 11 Wootton street, Center Hill, who died Friday at 12:30 a. m., will be held Saturday at 2 o'clock at the Center Hill Baptist church by the Rev. R. D. Parker. Interment will be in the Magnolia cemetery with Avery & Lawhun in charge.

MRS. ERITH MORGAN.

Final services for Mrs. Edith Morgan, 21, of 11 Wootton street, Center Hill, who died Friday at 12:30 a. m., will be held Saturday at 2 o'clock at the Center Hill Baptist church by the Rev. R. D. Parker. Interment will be in the Magnolia cemetery with Avery & Lawhun in charge.

MRS. ERITH MORGAN.

Final services for Mrs. Edith Morgan, 21, of 11 Wootton street, Center Hill, who died Friday at 12:30 a. m., will be held Saturday at 2 o'clock at the Center Hill Baptist church by the Rev. R. D. Parker. Interment will be in the Magnolia cemetery with Avery & Lawhun in charge.

MRS. ERITH MORGAN.

Final services for Mrs. Edith Morgan, 21, of 11 Wootton street, Center Hill, who died Friday at 12:30 a. m., will be held Saturday at 2 o'clock at the Center Hill Baptist church by the Rev. R. D. Parker. Interment will be in the Magnolia cemetery with Avery & Lawhun in charge.

MRS. ERITH MORGAN.

Final services for Mrs. Edith Morgan, 21, of 11 Wootton street, Center Hill, who died Friday at 12:30 a. m., will be held Saturday at 2 o'clock at the Center Hill Baptist church by the Rev. R. D. Parker. Interment will be in the Magnolia cemetery with Avery & Lawhun in charge.

MRS. ERITH MORGAN.

Final services for Mrs. Edith Morgan, 21, of 11 Wootton street, Center Hill, who died Friday at 12:30 a

'Pa' Stribling Bounds Right Back Into the Headlines Once More!

"Pa" Stribling has been going along, doing a very acceptable job of banging his way back into the fight game without a great deal of attention being paid the successful venture. He's back in the headlines again.

It was just yesterday afternoon that a letter came from the Bainbridge Fat Boy saying that he would not be able to go hunting as planned because he was tossing Jim Maloney, of the Boston Maloneys, in there against Johnny Risko at Miami on January 8.

That happens to be next Monday night and it is a rather good fight which should draw down one of the good, small purses of the year.

Now, the Bainbridge boy had something to sell when he was taking his son, the late W. L. Stribling, around to the fighting places. Because W. L. Stribling was a card, no matter where he fought. He had that elusive quality called, for want of better word, "color."

When W. L. was gone in that unhappy accident on the Macon road, the Bainbridge Boy hustled around for something to keep him busy. He had to be busy.

He discovered that Jim Maloney had been turned out to be forgotten by the fight people. Jim Maloney was through if ever a man was. He was through when Ernie Schaaf pounded him down with those big fists of his. And when, at a later date, Johnny Dixon, the Boston college boy, blew him down it was really all over. And no pretending.

He started Jim Maloney at Washington against Red Barry, a tough young lad. Jim Maloney was out of shape. There was a balloon tire inner tube of fat jiggling about his waist. He lasted the limit but he lost the decision.

Since then Maloney has been fighting here and there, winning decisions. He is the type fighter who will always be a bit fat. But he is in shape again.

I do not see how he can win from Johnny Risko. The Cleveland boy has been tough right along. Had he ever liked to train or stick to the tough end of the game he might have been champion. As it was he was the toughest stumbling block in the ring.

Risko has a decision over Jim Maloney. And he figures to have another. But it was just two years ago, and in Miami, that Maloney was jobbed out of a decision over Primo Carnera. He may fare better this time. He could never hit but he could box. He will be up against a hitter in Risko. How did the Bainbridge Boy accomplish all this?

At any rate, it occurred to me that Pa Stribling is doing a swell job handling the come-back efforts of the Boston veteran. And the Bainbridge Boy must feel rather confident about tossing his man in there at Miami.

ALMOST LAUGHED HIMSELF TO DEATH.

It was Johnny Risko who almost laughed himself to death one evening at the Stribling camp before the Schmeling fight at Cleveland.

A photographer was the cause of it all. Izzy Kaplan, of the Mirror, one of the better men in the game despite his 360 pounds, had convulsed the camp all day. His crowning achievement came in the evening.

There were fireworks for sale. Kaplan purchased himself a large and vicious sky rocket. He was planning to set it off when the lights were turned off for the sparring in the ring.

The lights were turned off. Kaplan grasped his sky-rocket by the stick and lit the fuse. And then he pointed it toward the ring AND HELD ON.

Now, a sky rocket will do its duty according to its lights. And its duty is to get away from there and soar. For that purpose it fires backwards a vicious stream of exploding power to give it the upward urge.

The horrified Kaplan opened his eyes to find his entire hand receiving the backward rush of fire. He flung the rocket to earth while it went skittering around letting loose balls of fire and other pyrotechnics.

Johnny Risko was there. And he was convulsed for hours by the recollection of Kaplan, his eyes closed, holding onto his sky rocket in the belief that it was merely a new fangled roman candle.

Kaplan, his hand powder marked and burned, was around next day.

"The doctor," he said, "says I will the jaw lock haff if I do not go to Cleveland and get shot in the arm. But I was shot in the arm last night."

And he didn't go. And didn't get the jaw lock. Because Izzy Kaplan's jaws were never closed long enough to lock.

But he almost killed Johnny Risko. With laughter.

NOT SO BADLY WRECKED.

When Connie Mack sold out some of his stars there was a loud lament in the land that he had wrecked his ball club. But he has Jimmy Foxx. And after looking at the records it is hardly conceivable that the Athletics are really wrecked. The saga of Jimmy Foxx for 1933 runs like this:

Hit .356.

Made 204 hits.

Batted 48 home runs.

Was most valuable player.

Made four hits in four times up.

Twice made five hits in single games.

In five times at bat hit single, double, triple and home run.

Six times made two home runs in single games.

Hit four home runs in one double-header.

In one game hit for total of 13 bases.

In one game made three home runs.

Batted in nine runs in one game.

All of which should make it very, very clear that none of the big bad ball clubs will just naturally walk over Mr. Connie Mack's Athletics. And no pitcher will whoopla with joy when he walks out to the rubber to throw at the Athletics.

Because Jimmy Foxx is to be in the Athletic lineup. It may be that the wrecked Athletics will wreck quite a few clubs in 1934.

THE RASSLING MATCHES.

Mr. Henry Weber seems to have scored with the announcement that on January 16, one week from next Tuesday, Jim Lodos and George Zaharias, the meanest man, will meet in Atlanta. THAT should be a match.

THE OWNER OF THE TEE.

Howard Beckett at Capital City, reports that an Atlantan, noted for his Scottish instincts, asked the other day what it would cost to have a split tee fixed.

"Five cents," said the pro.

"I'll think it over," said the Scot.

The next day he arrived. "We've decided not to have it fixed," said he.

"We," said the startled pro.

"Yes," said the Scot, "four of us own it."

National Grid Rules Body Will Meet Here; Georgia's Football Schedule Is Announced

Georgia Five
In a 'Huddle'
With Enright

SPORTS

ATLANTA CONSTITUTION

RALPH MCGILL, Sports Editor.

Grantland Rice - Clarence Nixon - Jimmy Jones - Roy White - Jack Troy - Henry McLemore - Alan J. Gould

ATLANTA, GA., SUNDAY MORNING, JANUARY 7, 1934.

This is a huddle, but not a football picture. The young men in the shorts are members of University of Georgia's basketball squad, talking it over with Coach Rex Enright in Woodruff Hall at Athens before an afternoon practice. The players in the huddle are, left to right, O'Kelley, center; Wilder, guard; Anderson, forward; Rogers, center; Chastain, guard; Costa, forward; Bowden, center; Gibson, guard. Staff photo.

National Rules Body Will Meet in Atlanta

Famous Coaches From All Over Country Will Gather Here on February 9 To Study Code.

In a noteworthy departure from its perennial custom of meeting somewhere in the east, the national football rules committee has decided to hold its 1934 convention in Atlanta on the date of February 9, to and 11.

The decision followed an invitation by H. J. Stegeman, athletic director at University of Georgia and member of the committee, to meet here.

Chairman Walter R. Okeson, of the important executive group, officially announced acceptance in a communication to Mr. Stegeman.

At the same time, the recently appointed advisory committee, which includes Coach W. A. Alexander, of Georgia Tech; Lou Little, of Columbia; Noble Kizer, of Purdue; Babe Hollingsby, of Washington State, and four officials, will convene here to study proposed legislation which will come up at the time.

The advisory group is an adjunct of the rules group and a sort of appellate court for proposals of coaches on alterations and amendments to the rules.

FAMOUS COACHES.

The meeting will bring to Atlanta most of nationally famous coaches and officials and will be a red letter event in Atlanta's history. It is the first time on record that the meeting has been so large and not only members of the two committees, but coaches from all parts of the country will be there.

Handling the ball with a confidence and deftness of touch they lacked in the opening game, the Bulldogs came from behind to win the game and the victory.

The advisory group is an adjunct of the rules group and a sort of appellate court for proposals of coaches on alterations and amendments to the rules.

GEORGIA ROUTS MOCCASINS, 32-18

By Al Smith.

ATHENS, Ga., Jan. 6.—Three sophomores who played their first football game in the fall of 1932 led Georgia to an overwhelming 32-18 victory over the University of Chattanooga at Woodruff hall tonight.

The victory gave the Bulldogs a clean sweep of the two-game series.

Handling the ball with a confidence and deftness of touch they lacked in the opening game, the Bulldogs came from behind to win the game and the victory.

The rules committee, of which Mr. Okeson is chairman, includes as other members: W. S. Langford, secretary; A. A. Stagg, life member; W. G. Cawelti, Swarthmore; C. E. Smith, University of Colorado; W. J. Birmingham, Harvard; Dana X. Bible, Nebraska; H. J. Stegeman, Georgia; Fielding H. Yost, Michigan; Ray Morrison, Southern Methodist; W. O. Hunter, Southern California.

Smith is a Notre Dame man who has had marked success at Santa Clara and the board here gave him a high recommendation on him.

He was a graduate of Wyoming and with Frank Thomas at the University of Alabama now. Whether Smith would leave the Pacific coast is a question.

Miller, who was backfield coach at Georgia following his graduation and then who is on the staff at Ohio State, was not until the last minute half-gone with the Chattanooga team, retaliated with two points for the Moccasins. That just about ended the Chattanooga scoring for the first period. Clinger made a few more points and Dick Richard tossed in a field goal as the half drew near a close, but outside of those five points the Bulldogs did the scoring in the first half. Georgia had a 20-5 lead.

Nothing official was forthcoming today but P. O. Davis, executive secretary, when asked concerning reports that a man had been selected, said "no contracts have been offered anybody. We are going forward very carefully, and hope to settle the matter soon."

In Auburn fan circles, however, three names stood out:

Smith is a Notre Dame man who has had marked success at Santa Clara and the board here gave him a high recommendation on him.

He was a graduate of Wyoming and with Frank Thomas at the University of Alabama now. Whether Smith would leave the Pacific coast is a question.

Miller, who was backfield coach at Georgia following his graduation and then who is on the staff at Ohio State, was not until the last minute half-gone with the Chattanooga team, retaliated with two points for the Moccasins. That just about ended the Chattanooga scoring for the first period. Clinger made a few more points and Dick Richard tossed in a field goal as the half drew near a close, but outside of those five points the Bulldogs did the scoring in the first half. Georgia had a 20-5 lead.

The Georgia attack eased up in the second half as the Bulldogs were half as its most ardent supporters at first feared.

Georgia's defense was solid and the ball was not until the last minute half-gone with the Chattanooga team, retaliated with two points for the Moccasins. That just about ended the Chattanooga scoring for the first period. Clinger made a few more points and Dick Richard tossed in a field goal as the half drew near a close, but outside of those five points the Bulldogs did the scoring in the first half. Georgia had a 20-5 lead.

The Georgia attack eased up in the second half as the Bulldogs were half as its most ardent supporters at first feared.

Georgia's defense was solid and the ball was not until the last minute half-gone with the Chattanooga team, retaliated with two points for the Moccasins. That just about ended the Chattanooga scoring for the first period. Clinger made a few more points and Dick Richard tossed in a field goal as the half drew near a close, but outside of those five points the Bulldogs did the scoring in the first half. Georgia had a 20-5 lead.

The Georgia attack eased up in the second half as the Bulldogs were half as its most ardent supporters at first feared.

Georgia's defense was solid and the ball was not until the last minute half-gone with the Chattanooga team, retaliated with two points for the Moccasins. That just about ended the Chattanooga scoring for the first period. Clinger made a few more points and Dick Richard tossed in a field goal as the half drew near a close, but outside of those five points the Bulldogs did the scoring in the first half. Georgia had a 20-5 lead.

The Georgia attack eased up in the second half as the Bulldogs were half as its most ardent supporters at first feared.

Georgia's defense was solid and the ball was not until the last minute half-gone with the Chattanooga team, retaliated with two points for the Moccasins. That just about ended the Chattanooga scoring for the first period. Clinger made a few more points and Dick Richard tossed in a field goal as the half drew near a close, but outside of those five points the Bulldogs did the scoring in the first half. Georgia had a 20-5 lead.

The Georgia attack eased up in the second half as the Bulldogs were half as its most ardent supporters at first feared.

Georgia's defense was solid and the ball was not until the last minute half-gone with the Chattanooga team, retaliated with two points for the Moccasins. That just about ended the Chattanooga scoring for the first period. Clinger made a few more points and Dick Richard tossed in a field goal as the half drew near a close, but outside of those five points the Bulldogs did the scoring in the first half. Georgia had a 20-5 lead.

The Georgia attack eased up in the second half as the Bulldogs were half as its most ardent supporters at first feared.

Georgia's defense was solid and the ball was not until the last minute half-gone with the Chattanooga team, retaliated with two points for the Moccasins. That just about ended the Chattanooga scoring for the first period. Clinger made a few more points and Dick Richard tossed in a field goal as the half drew near a close, but outside of those five points the Bulldogs did the scoring in the first half. Georgia had a 20-5 lead.

The Georgia attack eased up in the second half as the Bulldogs were half as its most ardent supporters at first feared.

Georgia's defense was solid and the ball was not until the last minute half-gone with the Chattanooga team, retaliated with two points for the Moccasins. That just about ended the Chattanooga scoring for the first period. Clinger made a few more points and Dick Richard tossed in a field goal as the half drew near a close, but outside of those five points the Bulldogs did the scoring in the first half. Georgia had a 20-5 lead.

The Georgia attack eased up in the second half as the Bulldogs were half as its most ardent supporters at first feared.

Georgia's defense was solid and the ball was not until the last minute half-gone with the Chattanooga team, retaliated with two points for the Moccasins. That just about ended the Chattanooga scoring for the first period. Clinger made a few more points and Dick Richard tossed in a field goal as the half drew near a close, but outside of those five points the Bulldogs did the scoring in the first half. Georgia had a 20-5 lead.

The Georgia attack eased up in the second half as the Bulldogs were half as its most ardent supporters at first feared.

Georgia's defense was solid and the ball was not until the last minute half-gone with the Chattanooga team, retaliated with two points for the Moccasins. That just about ended the Chattanooga scoring for the first period. Clinger made a few more points and Dick Richard tossed in a field goal as the half drew near a close, but outside of those five points the Bulldogs did the scoring in the first half. Georgia had a 20-5 lead.

The Georgia attack eased up in the second half as the Bulldogs were half as its most ardent supporters at first feared.

Georgia's defense was solid and the ball was not until the last minute half-gone with the Chattanooga team, retaliated with two points for the Moccasins. That just about ended the Chattanooga scoring for the first period. Clinger made a few more points and Dick Richard tossed in a field goal as the half drew near a close, but outside of those five points the Bulldogs did the scoring in the first half. Georgia had a 20-5 lead.

The Georgia attack eased up in the second half as the Bulldogs were half as its most ardent supporters at first feared.

Georgia's defense was solid and the ball was not until the last minute half-gone with the Chattanooga team, retaliated with two points for the Moccasins. That just about ended the Chattanooga scoring for the first period. Clinger made a few more points and Dick Richard tossed in a field goal as the half drew near a close, but outside of those five points the Bulldogs did the scoring in the first half. Georgia had a 20-5 lead.

The Georgia attack eased up in the second half as the Bulldogs were half as its most ardent supporters at first feared.

Georgia's defense was solid and the ball was not until the last minute half-gone with the Chattanooga team, retaliated with two points for the Moccasins. That just about ended the Chattanooga scoring for the first period. Clinger made a few more points and Dick Richard tossed in a field goal as the half drew near a close, but outside of those five points the Bulldogs did the scoring in the first half. Georgia had a 20-5 lead.

The Georgia attack eased up in the second half as the Bulldogs were half as its most ardent supporters at first feared.

Georgia's defense was solid and the ball was not until the last minute half-gone with the Chattanooga team, retaliated with two points for the Moccasins. That just about ended the Chattanooga scoring for the first period. Clinger made a few more points and Dick Richard tossed in a field goal as the half drew near a close, but outside of those five points the Bulldogs did the scoring in the first half. Georgia had a

'Wide Open' Race Is Indicated for Kentucky Derby on May 5

SURVEY REVEALS PRESENT ENTRY WELL MATCHED

Dozen Brilliant Performers Entered in May Turf Classic.

By Thomas H. Noone,

United Press Racing Editor.
NEW YORK, Jan. 6.—(UP)—A survey today of the prospective field for the next running of the Kentucky Derby indicates a wide open race for the leading American turf prize. That one of the largest fields will be listed on the program is not to be expected, as the eligible to the event to be run at Churchill Downs, Saturday, May 5.

There are no eligibles to this year's renewal of the mile and a quarter classic which appear to have any decided advantage over their rivals, despite the fact that more than a dozen of the prospective nominees are brilliant stakes winners in 1933.

Among the more prominent prospects for the sixteenth running of the derby are: Mrs. John Hay Whitney's Singing Wood, leading money winner last year; Mrs. Payne Whitney's First Minstrel, regarded by many as one of the best horses in the country at the close of the season; Charles T. Fisher's fleet filly, Mata Hari and Star Star; William Dodge Sloan's Cavalcade and High Quest; J. H. Locheim's Elvive; Warren Wright's Hadagel; E. R. Bradley's Bazaar and Blue Again; Mrs. C. M. Amory's Red Wagon; C. Whitney's His Majesty; and the Doughty, E. A. Burton's Wise Doughty; A. B. Gordon's Sir Thomas; A. G. Vanderbilt's Discovery; Mrs. H. C. Phillips' Slapdash; M. L. Schwartz's Observatory; George D. Widener's Chictray; J. Simonetti's Sergeant Byrne and William Woodward's Reserve.

With the exception of others almost as highly regarded, the openness of the race is realized and it would be a bold prognosticator who would attempt to select the winner at the present time.

Whether or not the $50,000 added money given to the derby in recent years will be decreased, has not been decided. The $50,000 added by J. Winn, executive director of Churchill Downs, through the years, has been one of raising values of stakes whenever possible, and whether the added money should be reduced or not, it is not expected to affect the quality of the field which will parade to the post on Derby Day.

Boxer, Wrestler Matched Monday

In addition to a high-class wrestling program, a mixed bout between a boxer and a wrestler will be presented tomorrow night at the Fair Street arena, Fair street and Capitol avenue, by Matchmaker Jason Thompson.

Headlining the evening's bill is a match between the bitter rivals, Hugh Winn and Bill O'Neill. They have met on two other occasions during the past four years, but haven't yet settled their differences.

The Masked Marvel, who made a hit in his opening appearances at Fair Street, is taking on a real test in meeting Tarzan Jordan. This match is of special interest, as it is hoped that Tarzan can throw the Marvel and make him unmask.

Matchmaker Thompson has worked several weeks to satisfy the demand for a good mixed bout and has scheduled the boxer, "K. O." Ketchel, against a fast and aggressive young winner from London. This bout will consist of 15 three-minute rounds.

The usual prices will prevail, with reserved seats on tap by calling Dearborn 3932.

S. S. A. A.

Basketball teams in both leagues will start on the second round of the schedule this week. The National league, playing on Tuesday night, has three teams tied for first place, while the Southern, featuring Oakland City Methodists and the Central Baptists, are tied for second.

Decision to hold the tournament was announced simultaneously today by Dr. R. R. Sermon, of North Carolina State College, chairman of the conference tournament committee, and the Raleigh Junior Committee of Commerce.

This year Richmond, Roanoke, Va., and Columbia, S. C., made strong bids for the tournament, officials said.

The University of South Carolina is continuing its bid for the tournament of the ten school conference. Before last year, when the present membership of the Southeastern conference was in the Southern conference, all tournaments were in Atlanta, Ga.

Junior Chamber of Commerce officials said plans were under way for a post-season series for the Dixie championship between the winners of the Southern and Southeastern conferences.

Eight of the ten conference teams are selected by the basketball committee to compete in the tournament.

Members of the conference are University of South Carolina, Columbia, N. C., State, University of North Carolina, Duke, University of Virginia, V. M. I. V. P. I., Washington & Lee, and of course, was not present at the meeting.

Putting credit where it belonged, Tracy West wired home: "New base on balls rule suggested by Pat Linnehan, of Birmingham, adopted by Southern league." Pat Linnehan had been doctoring watches and mending broken engagement rings for a number of years, but it was the first time anyone in Birmingham had thought about his breaking into prints about something pertaining to sports. And it took a lot of pressure from ye to shake out his confession.

Luke McLuke might as well have thought of it as far as Mr. Linnehan is concerned. There is one thing, however, that he doesn't like about the rule that was adopted.

THERE'S A CATCH.

It was not his contention to let a man score from second on an intentional pass unless the batter had been given a fair chance to hit the ball.

He feels that a batter has more strike, either called, struck or fouled, on him the runner should not be entitled to score. For in this instance the batter has had a chance to hit the ball. He believes, though, that in case of an intentional pass, the full power of the rule should be enforced.

Mr. Linnehan believes the rule will be altered before it is a total success and he thinks that major leagues will follow in the footsteps of the Southern after it is tried out this season. The rule, when made to conform with his original idea, will add much interest to the game. If a star batter is up with men on base, the fan would be assured of seeing the star batter get at least one crack at the ball, or else the man on second or third would score.

You Can Have Them If You Want Them... in Basketball

Outside of Georgia a couple of years back and the Fort Wayne Hoosiers last year, there hasn't been a basketball team in the last two years that could look back at the end of a game and discover a victory over the Y. M. C. A. Triangles, southern independent champions. The Triangles have won something like 44 games out of the last 47. Members of the team include, left to right: Joe McCrory, guard; Johnny Phillips, forward; Wild Bill Strickland, center; Bill Underwood, forward; Oscar Brock, forward, and Tommy Reeder, guard. Staff photo.

SOUTHERN CAGE TOURNAMENT SET

'John Fan' Scores One, League Uses His Idea

Birmingham Jeweler Devised Southern's New Base on Balls Rule; Baseball World Watches.

By Jack House.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Jan. 6.—A brain child of Pat Linnehan, Birmingham jeweler, the new base on balls rule will go into effect in the Southern Association this season and baseball eyes throughout the nation will be focused on its developments.

The most observing pair of eyes, however, will be those of Pat Linnehan himself.

An elderly gentleman, whose life has been devoted to making and selling jewelry at his exclusive shop in the heart of Birmingham, Mr. Linnehan has an outside hobby for baseball. Past the span of life when he can take a more active part in the sport, he has spent two years in perfecting a plan he believes will revolutionize baseball and keep it as our national pastime.

When and if the Linnehan plan is perfect enough to warrant other leagues adopting its policy, no person will feel more proud than Mr. Linnehan, but he doesn't care to take credit for the rule even if it succeeds.

TOLD IT TO WEST.

Modestly, Mr. Linnehan, after spending two years on an idea that struck him as being a good one, presented his proposal to Billy West, president of the Birmingham Baseball Association. Through the Baron prexy, it was presented to the Southern association directors at their last meeting at Galveston. Mr. Linnehan, of course, was not present at the meeting.

Putting credit where it belonged, Tracy West wired home: "New base on balls rule suggested by Pat Linnehan, of Birmingham, adopted by Southern league." Pat Linnehan had been doctoring watches and mending broken engagement rings for a number of years, but it was the first time anyone in Birmingham had thought about his breaking into prints about something pertaining to sports.

And it took a lot of pressure from ye to shake out his confession.

Luke McLuke might as well have thought of it as far as Mr. Linnehan is concerned. There is one thing, however, that he doesn't like about the rule that was adopted.

THERE'S A CATCH.

It was not his contention to let a man score from second on an intentional pass unless the batter had been given a fair chance to hit the ball.

He feels that a batter has more strike, either called, struck or fouled, on him the runner should not be entitled to score. For in this instance the batter has had a chance to hit the ball. He believes, though, that in case of an intentional pass, the full power of the rule should be enforced.

Mr. Linnehan believes the rule will be altered before it is a total success and he thinks that major leagues will follow in the footsteps of the Southern after it is tried out this season. The rule, when made to conform with his original idea, will add much interest to the game. If a star batter is up with men on base, the fan would be assured of seeing the star batter get at least one crack at the ball, or else the man on second or third would score.

AMERICANS WIN.

OXFORD, England, Jan. 6.—(UP)—The touring United States ice-hockey team, that will defend its amateur championship in Europe, defeated an English combination, 2-0, today. A crowd of 5,000 witnessed the match.

The main event, Young Americans, Baltimore, Md., will tackle Dutch Green, Washington, D. C. This should be a good one.

Young Americans, Baltimore, Md., have won in so far as both of these men have won all of their past matches recently. Dutch Green has just arrived from Florida, having a string of victories to his credit.

The semi-final match will bring together Tony Padrone, St. Louis, Mo., wrestling the rugged Bull Smith from Toledo, Ohio. Smith was disqualified in his match with Young Americans last week, on account of roughness, and this match was especially arranged for him.

Glenn Cowan, of Atlanta, will wrestle Eddie Wagner, former navy champion, in the opening match, which is a winner-take-all grudge affair.

All the fans who attended the Lakewood Heights arena during the freezing weather last week were well pleased with the new heating system which has just been installed.

The low price of tickets at this arena will still prevail this week.

Tiger Spring Card Calls for 22 Games

DETROIT, Jan. 6.—(UP)—The Detroit Tigers will play 22 games on their spring training tour and the practice tilts will include games with two American league baseball clubs—the Boston Red Sox and the Philadelphia Athletics.

The usual prices will prevail, with reserved seats on tap by calling Dearborn 3932.

STANDINGS.

AMERICAN LEAGUE.

Tuesday Night, Y. W. C. A.

Mr. Vernon Baptist vs. Kirkwood (girls)

McPherson Baptist vs. Joy Class (boys), 7:40 o'clock.

Mr. Vernon Baptist vs. Junior Dadadas (girls), 8:00 o'clock.

Mr. Vernon Baptist vs. Oakland City Methodists, 8:00 o'clock.

Wednesday, Y. W. C. A.

Peacocke Christians vs. Aarons, 7:30 o'clock.

Imman Park Baptist vs. Blue Eagles, 8:20 o'clock.

Imman Park Baptist vs. by.

Cracker Exhibition Card Will Present Galaxy of Major League Stars

RUTH, HUBBELL, GEHRIG, OTHERS WILL PLAY HERE

Toronto Will Open Card; Club Starts Training March 19.

By Jimmy Jones.

Bischoff may not be just around the corner, but Business Manager Earl Mann, of the Atlanta Crackers, walked around it yesterday with some interesting baseball announcements.

Among other things, Earl announced for today's papers a most attractive exhibition schedule, which will bring the New York Yankees and Babe Ruth, the world champion New York Giants and Carl Hubbell, the rejuvenated Boston Red Sox and Mel Ott, the man who has fine class big league outfits to Atlanta.

Mann, in announcing the schedule, pointed out the significant fact that three Sunday dates are included, with Toronto here on April 1, Newark on April 8 and Buffalo on April 15.

A BAROMETER.

This trio of games to be played at Ponce de Leon park will prove a strong barometer toward indicating the course of sentiment for Sunday baseball here and the Atlanta public, which voted decisively for legalization of the sport on the Sabbath in a referendum vote last summer, is expected to react favorably to the announcement.

Thus far, only a few sandlot games at which the hat was passed for donations have been played here, but they were attended by surprisingly large and enthusiastic crowds. Organized games would draw even greater ones.

Last summer a regular league game was scheduled between Atlanta and Memphis to be played at Ponce de Leon on Sunday, but a ministerial council killed it with both teams prepared to play.

Business Manager Mann, meaning brightly in anticipation of the spring practice just around the corner, also had another announcement to make.

The new manager of the club, which has definitely been decided upon as the date on which the Crackers will start spring training at Macon.

BATTERYMAN.

The batters, pitchers and catchers, will report to the new manager, Spencer Abbott, in that city on that date, to be followed a few days later by the rest of the squad. There will be only two weeks training in Macon, the spring training here to be the long exhibition schedule on April 1.

Due to the recent decision of Southern league directors to open the season a week later—on April 17 this year—clubs will be able to start practice a week later and play more exhibitions, meanwhile missing some very nearly every weekend.

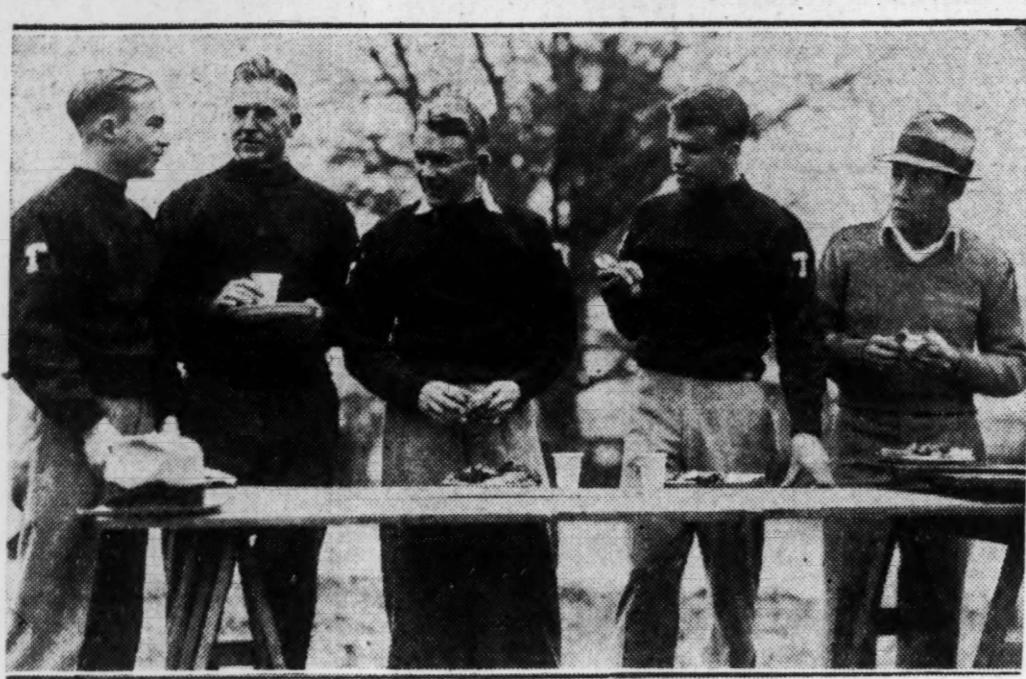

The city of Macon has offered to the Crackers the use of its spacious ball park and up-to-date clubhouse for the two weeks there. This short training trip out of town was decided upon instead of the long jaunt the club took to Mobile last year, and the climate there is more like that of Atlanta in which the Crackers will have to do their early season playing.

TRY 29 PLAYERS.

The Crackers plan to give tryouts to 29 players this spring. Manager Abbott will come to Georgia from Washington, D. C., in a few days to go over the list with President Wilbert Robinson at Dover Hall and may discuss the addition of some right-handed pitching strength.

Business Manager Mann, starting his first year in that capacity after renewing his affiliation with the club, is well pleased with the exhibition schedule.

Only three of the games will be played out of Atlanta. The Crackers will take on the Cincinnati Reds in Macon on April 10, the same day on which Walter Johnson's Cleveland Jacket team; John Ridley, Charlie Yates and Roger K. Whittier, president of the Chattahoochee club. Yates and Dennison defeated Ridley and Moore, 2 up, in the nine-hole exhibition. Constitution staff photo.

DRESEN IS NOW HOLDING OWN'

HOUSTON, Texas, Jan. 6.—(AP)—The nurse attending Charlie Dresen, captain of the Atlanta baseball team, has been released by the team and former major league third baseman, said he was "holding his own" late.

Attendants emphasized, however, that he was not yet out of danger. Physicians planned to give him a physical examination tomorrow.

Mrs. Dresen arrived today from their home in Decatur, Ill.

Star Kentucky Guard Must Leave School

LEXINGTON, Ky., Jan. 6.—(AP)—There is no joy in Lexington, for "Little Bill" Davis, crack guard who is a sophomore last year was a main generator in Kentucky's powerhouse which won the Southeastern conference basketball championship, has left school.

Indians will hook up with the champion New York Giants here.

For what is one could term a double-header by remote control, the Crackers also plan to play two exhibitions at Macon before they break camp, probably with a local team.

COLORFUL CARD.

Mann is to be commended for arranging such a colorful exhibition card. One that brings Babe Ruth, Carl Hubbell, Lefty Grove, Bill Terry and other noted players, not to mention Walter Johnson here in the space of 15 days, is indeed a good schedule.

It is a vast improvement over the colorless teams which come here to play the Crackers in the last two seasons.

Following is the Crackers' complete schedule of exhibitions as announced:

April 1—Toronto at Atlanta.

April 2—Toronto at Atlanta.

April 3—Yankees at Atlanta.

April 5—Oglethorpe University at Atlanta.

April 6—Boston Braves at Atlanta—team.

April 7—Newark at Atlanta.

April 8—Newark at Atlanta.

April 9—Boston Red Sox at Atlanta.

April 10—Cleveland and Giants at Atlanta.

April 10—Atlanta and Cincinnati at Macon.

April 11—Cincinnati at Atlanta.

April 12—Oglethorpe University at Atlanta.

April 13—Buffalo at Atlanta.

April 14—Atlanta at Atlanta.

April 15—Open.

April 17—Southern association season starts.

Cards Supply 4 Managers For 1934

By Roy White.

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 6.—(AP)—If Bob O'Farrell becomes manager of the Cincinnati Reds, as appeared almost certain tonight, he will be the fourth member of the 1933 Cardinals to manage a major league team next season.

Frankie Frisch, who relieved O'Farrell as manager of the Cardinals during the last season and is back on the job this year; Rogers Hornsby, manager of the St. Louis American league Browns and Jimmy Wilson, recently signed to manage the Philadelphia Phillies, as well as O'Farrell, started the last campaign as Cardinal players.

Larry MacPhail, general manager of the Reds, has "made up my mind" that O'Farrell, veteran St. Louis catcher, is the man he wants to pilot the Cincinnati club, said Sam Brown, Cardinal president, said today he "won't stand in O'Farrell's way."

"We are not going to drive any hard bargain for his (O'Farrell's) services," Braden said. "That doesn't mean, however, that we won't ask something for O'Farrell."

Formal announcement of a deal formalizing O'Farrell, also one-time manager of the Cardinals, to the Reds is expected in the near future, following the return of Branch Rickey, Cardinals vice president, from Cincinnati, where he has been in conference with MacPhail.

The 37-year-old catcher, if appointed, will be a playing manager of the Reds and devote particular attention to young pitchers. He has been in the National League for 16 years, and is credited by baseball experts with being unusually effective in the handling of pitchers.

Yates carded a fine 37, 4 strokes over par for the nine holes, with Professor Dennison second with a 38. Moore had a 41 and Ridley was 1 stroke back with a 42.

The exhibition started at 11:30 o'clock and was completed after nine holes, due to the unfavorable weather.

BARBECUE SERVED.

A barbecue was served at 1 o'clock at the completion of the nine-hole round.

Other attractions at the reopening included a foot race, a greased pole climb, a greased pig race and a driving contest for both men and women.

A stroke farther back was the 1932 winner of the Miami open with 137 came Phil Perkins of Willoughby, Ohio, who was one of the leading British amateurs before he turned pro. Perkins, who tied with Armour with a 69 in third place yesterday, moved into a 69 in second division today with 68. He was out in 36 and back in a snappy 32.

Wilfred E. (Fritz) Knothe, Atlanta's new third baseman, should add some speed to the club. He holds the record of having stolen 115 bases in three seasons in the Coast league, and also is a great defensive ball player. He was voted the best third baseman in the Coast league in 1931, when he stole 44 bases and batted .317 for Seattle. He is a brother of George Knothe, New Orleans shortstop.

31 ON FIRST NINE.

Although he finished fourth back in the field with a par 140 for the two rounds, John Kinder, of Ashbury Park, N. J., carried off the low scoring honors for a single round today when he carded a smart 31 on the first nine. He took a 30 on the back side for a 68 to pair with a 72 scored yesterday.

The only other player to post a sub-par score at the halfway mark was Ralph Stonehouse, of Indianapolis, holder of the Eastern Indiana and Tri-state Indiana championships. He posted a par 70 today to go with a 69 collected yesterday for a total of 139.

Three entries tied with a regulation 139. The next Eddie Williams and Charles Rice of Chicago, each with a pair of 70's and Joe Kinder of Ashbury Park, N. J., with a 72-68. Williams' was out in 36 today and back in 34, while Rice picked up a 24 in 36 and Kinder a 27 in 34.

Ties are next with 142 campers. Brady of Mamaroneck, N. Y.; Billy Burke of Belleview, Fla.; Joe Turnesa, of Bayside, L. I., and Reggie Myles, of Cleveland. Brady took a second place. Jesse McMurray won the men's driving contest.

More than two dozen players attempted to climb the pole for the $5 double-bonus, but all gave up and slid down after failing to climb more than six feet above the ground. No one was successful.

Yates and Professor Dennison won, 2 up, over Moore and Ridley in the exhibition foursome.

GREENS HEAVY.

The heavy greens and light rain caused the scores to be much higher than usual. The fine and soft holes proved the most difficult. Only Yates, with a fine drive, made par as a starter, and not one of the four scored a carded a par 4 on the 212-yard second.

Iron play was the best of the afternoon and made several unusually good shots. Ridley's second on the long 5470-yard 9th hole was one of the best of the afternoon. He finished up with a birdie 4.

Soon after the barbecue was served and the added attractions completed, a large crowd played over the course, despite the cold rain.

Smith, Weaver Tie at East Lake.

Mugsy Smith and C. E. Weaver share first honor Saturday afternoon in the regular weekly blind bogey tourney on the East Lake course.

The scores were 84.

Second place was shared by C. C. Clegg and W. C. Galloway, who were one stroke away from the leaders. Others who finished close to the top were J. W. Welch, Dr. C. W. Stricker, C. E. Peppitt, A. C. Bromberg, W. R. Prescott and J. C. Thompson. H. R. Stone won a prize of one golf ball.

Dog Fight Set Today at Lake.

Another of the regular Sunday afternoon dog fights will be staged at 1 o'clock this afternoon on the No. 2 East Lake course. The pairings will be drawn shortly after the noon hour.

Work on Bleachers Employs 700 Men

BOSTON, Jan. 6.—(AP)—Club officials planned immediate action today to make fire-swept Fenway park, home of the Boston Red Sox baseball club, habitable by April 1.

Seven hundred men have been employed on new construction, and it was planned to increase that number to between 900 and 1,000 workers.

Fire swept the centerfield bleachers yesterday and spread to nearby garages, automobile agencies and two tire warehouses.

Firemen estimated the loss at $250,000.

The fire began in the woodwork of new bleachers which were being built at a cost of $500,000 in the expectation the rejuvenated Red Sox would draw large crowds in the coming season.

Snavely Won't Talk About Tarheel Job

LEWISBURG, Pa., Jan. 6.—(AP)—Carl Snavely, Bucknell University's football coach, admits he has "been down to North Carolina," but beyond that he declines to comment on a report that the southern university will announce him as their new gridiron mentor on Monday.

Willie Livingston At Forrest Hills

Willie Livingston, for the last nine years assistant pro at Brookhaven, has severed connections there and accepted a pro's position at the Forrest Hills golf course, it was announced yesterday.

Forrest Hills, in making the announcement, stated that Livingston already had taken over his new duties and that he would have charge of all instruction, repairs and other duties of the professional.

The coach was injured on October 29 at the Louisiana State Fair grounds, when he was struck by a racer while flagging the races.

The coach was formerly connected with J. Alex Sloan, of Chicago, and to him the professional's position was a starter for the International Motor Contest Association. He had visited the city several times and was in charge of several races at Lakewood park.

Frank Judson and Milo Steinborn have been rematched for the one-hour semi-windup on the card. They met here last Wednesday and wrestled to a draw. Many fans urged Matchmaker Weber to rematch them and this was done.

London's match here is one of the few he has participated in since his return from Greece and Zaharias is conceded a good chance against the great little ruler of the heavyweights.

TOMMY ARMOUR FOUR UNDER PAR IN MIAMI MEET

Black Scot Shoots 69 To Lead Field With Brilliant 136.

By Ted Gill.

MIAMI, Fla., Jan. 6.—(AP)—Stepping out of a recent slump, Tommy Armour, the Black Scot from Scotland, blazed a scorching trail of pars and birdies today to post a 36-hole score of 136, four under regulation figures, and led the field at the halfway mark in the $2,000 Miami open golf tournament.

The tall, slender pro from the Medina Country Club, who, during his colorful days here, won most of the major tournaments, was under par, which with a 69 yesterday, pulled him out of third place to top the field of approximately 160 of the best shot-makers of the country.

Never bowing to par on today's 18-hole round, Armour exceeded the turn with a 34, one under perfect golf, and came home with a snappy 33. His card of 69 yesterday was composed of a 34 and a 35.

LONG DRIVES.

Spanking out long drives, Armour was on top of his short game and sank putts with dead accuracy from all ranges of the green.

He shot the first nine in eight pars and one birdie four, collected on the 500-yard fifth, and picked up two more birdies on the back side to go with the seven other holes he played in perfect figures.

ARMOUR'S CARD.

Par 36—644 354 424—35.

Armour Out—644 344 432—34.

Armour In—434 353 434—35—70-70—140.

Score—644 353 434—35—70-70—140.

A stroke farther back was the 1932 winner of the Miami open with 137 came Phil Perkins of Willoughby, Ohio, who was one of the leading British amateurs before he turned pro.

Perkins, who tied with Armour with a 69 in third place yesterday, moved into a 69 in second division today with 68. He was out in 36 and back in a snappy 32.

31 ON FIRST NINE.

Although he finished fourth back in the field with a par 140 for the two rounds, John Kinder, of Ashbury Park, N. J., carried off the low scoring honors for a single round today when he carded a smart 31 on the first nine. He took a 30 on the back side for a 68 to pair with a 72 scored yesterday.

The only other player to post a sub-par score at the halfway mark was Ralph Stonehouse, of Indianapolis,

Major Managers Know 'Grief'

48 HAVE COME,
GONE SINCE 1928
UNDER BIG TOP

Connie Mack Is Only Pilot Who Has Stuck to Same Job.

By Paul Mickelson.

CHICAGO, Jan. 6.—(P)—If misery loves company, the haunted college football coaches should form a mutual consolation society with the big league managers of baseball.

There mutes, is a bunch of fellows who really take it. They know what the "hot seat" is like, and they mean the "gate" mean. They don't have any alumni to make life miserable for them like the college football wizards, but to a man they'd probably swap one section of bleachers for any set of alumni in the country.

MAYBE IT HAS SPREAD.

Maybe, the habit of hiring and firing has spread from the college grid-iron and fieldhouses, but since 1928 a total of 48 big league managers have gone and come to make that profession one of the most transient occupations in sports. Since June, when Cleveland gave Roger Peinpaugh the ozone for Walter Johnson, the "mortality rate" within the mutes ranks has been so heavy that seven changes—four of them in the American League—have been made. Only one, Harry Harris, was able to get another managerial job in the majors, transferring from Detroit to the Boston Red Sox.

Except for Connie Mack, who has been running the Philadelphia Athletics on the field ever since the American league was organized 33 years ago, every manager in 1928 has deserted from the scenes. Miller Huggins, of the Yankees, died and John McGraw retired, but except for them, it generally has been the case of "make room."

The Boston Red Sox have had the greatest turnover in managers since 1928 with five pilots while St. Louis, the A's and Boston Braves have had four each. The average has been three managers for each club in six seasons. Twenty-four pilots have seen action during that period in each league.

THE ROLL.

Calling the roll since 1928, club by club:

NATIONAL LEAGUE.

Chicago—Joe McCarthy, Rogers Hornsby and Charlie Grimm.

Pittsburgh—Donie Bush, Jewell Eans and George Gibson.

Brooklyn—Wilbert Robinson and Mac Carey.

Philadelphia—Burt Shotton and Jimmy Wynn.

Boston—Jack Slatney, Rogers Hornsby, Emil Fuchs (acted as manager for one season), Bill McKechnie.

New York—John McGraw and Bill Terry.

St. Louis—Bill McKechnie, Billy Southworth, Garry Street and Frankie Friend.

Cincinnati—John Hendricks, Dan Howley, Donie Bush, and manager to be named for 1934.

AMERICAN LEAGUE.

New York—Miller Huggins (deceased), Bob Shawkey and Joe McCarthy.

Washington—Connie Mack.

Washington—Bucky Harris, Walter Johnson and Joe Cronin.

Cleveland—Roger Peinpaugh and Walter Johnson.

Detroit—George Moriarty, Bucky Harris and Mickey Cochrane.

St. Louis—Dan Howley, Bill Killeffer and Rogers Hornsby.

St. Paul—Tom Schalk, Lena Blackburne, Donie Bush and Lew Fonseca.

Boston—Bill Carrigan, Charles Wagner, John Collins, Marty McManus and Bucky Harris.

DUTRA LEADING IN COAST PLAY.

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 6.—(P)—Dutra Los Angeles, whose forbears sailed the Spanish main, exploded a sparkling new difficult championship course of the Los Angeles Country Club today to lead the field in the Los Angeles open and then went home to practice.

Although he clipped three strokes from a very exacting par, the big fellow from Santa Monica was not satisfied with his tee shots and hurried away to the practice tee of the Brentwood Club, where he is pro, to try to straighten out his driving before the start of the second round tomorrow.

Two pros of the younger school, Johnny Revolta, of Milwaukee, Wis., and Paul Runyan, of White Plains, N. Y., followed Dutra by two strokes with scores of 69.

George Von Elm, of Los Angeles, former amateur champion who no longer plays for the fun of it, and Ky Laffoon, straight-shooting Denver pro, equaled the revised par of 70.

Johnny Dawson, of Chicago, and Charlie Seever, of Los Angeles, tied for first place, the amateurs with rounds of 71. Roland Mackenzie, former Walker cup player, who has been professional at the Broadmoor Golf Club, Colorado Springs, will move to the Congression Club in Washington, his native city, also had 71, as did Archie Hambrick, of Zanesville, Ohio; Joe Kirkwood, of Miami, Fla.; Harry Cooper, of Chicago; John Perelli, of Lake Tahoe, Cal., and Art Krueger, of Beloit, Wisconsin.

Krueger had a great chance to do much better as he played the first nine holes in 33 strokes, but he used up 38 coming home.

Dutra's round started as an opening day gallers of 2,000.

Weather Keeps Skeeters Indoors.

Atlanta sportmen do not seem to mind cold, crisp weather if the skies are clear, yet when such a foggy day as yesterday occurs on the day of a show there is not much play at the skeeter traps.

And so there was only one squad at the Capitol Gun Club, Guy Melchor, Ted Jones, Benson Freeman Jr., Dr. McDougal, Dr. Riley and Dr. Mrs. Smith braved the day and entered their favorite sport.

The weather will be the regular Sunday show at the West End Gun Club today. Secretary C. L. Davis announced that, because of uncertain weather conditions, there will be no prizes at stake.

"It's mighty poor fishing," said he.

"There should have been twice as many."

From across the river came the devious "Haw, haw, haw," of a gallinule.

"It's mighty poor fishing," said he.

"There should have been twice as many."

From across the river came the devious "Haw, haw, haw," of a gallinule.

"It's mighty poor fishing," said he.

"There should have been twice as many."

From across the river came the devious "Haw, haw, haw," of a gallinule.

"It's mighty poor fishing," said he.

"There should have been twice as many."

From across the river came the devious "Haw, haw, haw," of a gallinule.

"It's mighty poor fishing," said he.

"There should have been twice as many."

From across the river came the devious "Haw, haw, haw," of a gallinule.

"It's mighty poor fishing," said he.

"There should have been twice as many."

From across the river came the devious "Haw, haw, haw," of a gallinule.

"It's mighty poor fishing," said he.

"There should have been twice as many."

From across the river came the devious "Haw, haw, haw," of a gallinule.

"It's mighty poor fishing," said he.

"There should have been twice as many."

From across the river came the devious "Haw, haw, haw," of a gallinule.

"It's mighty poor fishing," said he.

"There should have been twice as many."

From across the river came the devious "Haw, haw, haw," of a gallinule.

"It's mighty poor fishing," said he.

"There should have been twice as many."

From across the river came the devious "Haw, haw, haw," of a gallinule.

"It's mighty poor fishing," said he.

"There should have been twice as many."

From across the river came the devious "Haw, haw, haw," of a gallinule.

"It's mighty poor fishing," said he.

"There should have been twice as many."

From across the river came the devious "Haw, haw, haw," of a gallinule.

"It's mighty poor fishing," said he.

"There should have been twice as many."

From across the river came the devious "Haw, haw, haw," of a gallinule.

"It's mighty poor fishing," said he.

"There should have been twice as many."

From across the river came the devious "Haw, haw, haw," of a gallinule.

"It's mighty poor fishing," said he.

"There should have been twice as many."

From across the river came the devious "Haw, haw, haw," of a gallinule.

"It's mighty poor fishing," said he.

"There should have been twice as many."

From across the river came the devious "Haw, haw, haw," of a gallinule.

"It's mighty poor fishing," said he.

"There should have been twice as many."

From across the river came the devious "Haw, haw, haw," of a gallinule.

"It's mighty poor fishing," said he.

"There should have been twice as many."

From across the river came the devious "Haw, haw, haw," of a gallinule.

"It's mighty poor fishing," said he.

"There should have been twice as many."

From across the river came the devious "Haw, haw, haw," of a gallinule.

"It's mighty poor fishing," said he.

"There should have been twice as many."

From across the river came the devious "Haw, haw, haw," of a gallinule.

"It's mighty poor fishing," said he.

"There should have been twice as many."

From across the river came the devious "Haw, haw, haw," of a gallinule.

"It's mighty poor fishing," said he.

"There should have been twice as many."

From across the river came the devious "Haw, haw, haw," of a gallinule.

"It's mighty poor fishing," said he.

"There should have been twice as many."

From across the river came the devious "Haw, haw, haw," of a gallinule.

"It's mighty poor fishing," said he.

"There should have been twice as many."

From across the river came the devious "Haw, haw, haw," of a gallinule.

"It's mighty poor fishing," said he.

"There should have been twice as many."

From across the river came the devious "Haw, haw, haw," of a gallinule.

"It's mighty poor fishing," said he.

"There should have been twice as many."

From across the river came the devious "Haw, haw, haw," of a gallinule.

"It's mighty poor fishing," said he.

"There should have been twice as many."

From across the river came the devious "Haw, haw, haw," of a gallinule.

"It's mighty poor fishing," said he.

"There should have been twice as many."

From across the river came the devious "Haw, haw, haw," of a gallinule.

"It's mighty poor fishing," said he.

"There should have been twice as many."

From across the river came the devious "Haw, haw, haw," of a gallinule.

"It's mighty poor fishing," said he.

"There should have been twice as many."

From across the river came the devious "Haw, haw, haw," of a gallinule.

"It's mighty poor fishing," said he.

"There should have been twice as many."

From across the river came the devious "Haw, haw, haw," of a gallinule.

"It's mighty poor fishing," said he.

"There should have been twice as many."

From across the river came the devious "Haw, haw, haw," of a gallinule.

"It's mighty poor fishing," said he.

"There should have been twice as many."

From across the river came the devious "Haw, haw, haw," of a gallinule.

"It's mighty poor fishing," said he.

"There should have been twice as many."

From across the river came the devious "Haw, haw, haw," of a gallinule.

"It's mighty poor fishing," said he.

"There should have been twice as many."

From across the river came the devious "Haw, haw, haw," of a gallinule.

"It's mighty poor fishing," said he.

STOCK PRICES SAG IN QUIET TRADING

Daily Stock Summary.

(Copyright, 1934, Standard Statistics Co.)

50	26	20	10
Ind's. RR's. U.S. Total	64.5	77.6
Saturday	89.7	41.8
Friday	89.7	41.8
Month ago	92.3	62.7	80.2
Year ago	84.2	62.3	60.6
5 yrs ago	54.3	47.7	52.8
10 yrs ago	125.1	98.1	128.1
15 yrs ago	117.7	122.8	127.7
20 yrs ago	103.3	96.1	98.0
High (1933-34)	42.8	23.3	51.0
Low (1933-34)	37.9	30.9	31.0
High (1932)	72.3	39.9	111.0
Low (1932)	35.0	22.2	35.0
High (1931)	100.2	106.2	104.1
Low (1931)	90.0	30.8	92.6
Year	98.2	41.3

Dow-Jones Averages.

BY THE UNITED PRESS.

Stocks.

High. Low. Close. Chg.

Net

30 Industrials

57.07 56.52 56.04 - .0.52

20 Railroads

39.84 40.00 39.97 - .0.12

20 Utilities

22.47 22.60 22.35 - .0.58

40 Bonds

90.73 88.00 88.30 - .27

10 First railroads

70.11 - .0.11

80.70 - .10

10 Utilities

86.30 - .20

10 Industrials

98.73 98.80 98.85 - .03

99.15 98.80 98.85 - .02

99.15 98.80 98.85 - .02

99.15 98.80 98.85 - .02

99.15 98.80 98.85 - .02

99.15 98.80 98.85 - .02

99.15 98.80 98.85 - .02

99.15 98.80 98.85 - .02

99.15 98.80 98.85 - .02

99.15 98.80 98.85 - .02

99.15 98.80 98.85 - .02

99.15 98.80 98.85 - .02

99.15 98.80 98.85 - .02

99.15 98.80 98.85 - .02

99.15 98.80 98.85 - .02

99.15 98.80 98.85 - .02

99.15 98.80 98.85 - .02

99.15 98.80 98.85 - .02

99.15 98.80 98.85 - .02

99.15 98.80 98.85 - .02

99.15 98.80 98.85 - .02

99.15 98.80 98.85 - .02

99.15 98.80 98.85 - .02

99.15 98.80 98.85 - .02

99.15 98.80 98.85 - .02

99.15 98.80 98.85 - .02

99.15 98.80 98.85 - .02

99.15 98.80 98.85 - .02

99.15 98.80 98.85 - .02

99.15 98.80 98.85 - .02

99.15 98.80 98.85 - .02

99.15 98.80 98.85 - .02

99.15 98.80 98.85 - .02

99.15 98.80 98.85 - .02

99.15 98.80 98.85 - .02

99.15 98.80 98.85 - .02

99.15 98.80 98.85 - .02

99.15 98.80 98.85 - .02

99.15 98.80 98.85 - .02

99.15 98.80 98.85 - .02

99.15 98.80 98.85 - .02

99.15 98.80 98.85 - .02

99.15 98.80 98.85 - .02

99.15 98.80 98.85 - .02

99.15 98.80 98.85 - .02

99.15 98.80 98.85 - .02

99.15 98.80 98.85 - .02

99.15 98.80 98.85 - .02

99.15 98.80 98.85 - .02

99.15 98.80 98.85 - .02

99.15 98.80 98.85 - .02

99.15 98.80 98.85 - .02

99.15 98.80 98.85 - .02

99.15 98.80 98.85 - .02

99.15 98.80 98.85 - .02

99.15 98.80 98.85 - .02

99.15 98.80 98.85 - .02

99.15 98.80 98.85 - .02

99.15 98.80 98.85 - .02

99.15 98.80 98.85 - .02

99.15 98.80 98.85 - .02

99.15 98.80 98.85 - .02

99.15 98.80 98.85 - .02

99.15 98.80 98.85 - .02

99.15 98.80 98.85 - .02

99.15 98.80 98.85 - .02

99.15 98.80 98.85 - .02

99.15 98.80 98.85 - .02

99.15 98.80 98.85 - .02

99.15 98.80 98.85 - .02

99.15 98.80 98.85 - .02

99.15 98.80 98.85 - .02

99.15 98.80 98.85 - .02

99.15 98.80 98.85 - .02

99.15 98.80 98.85 - .02

99.15 98.80 98.85 - .02

99.15 98.80 98.85 - .02

99.15 98.80 98.85 - .02

99.15 98.80 98.85 - .02

99.15 98.80 98.85 - .02

99.15 98.80 98.85 - .02

99.15 98.80 98.85 - .02

99.15 98.80 98.85 - .02

99.15 98.80 98.85 - .02

99.15 98.80 98.85 - .02

99.15 98.80 98.85 - .02

99.15 98.80 98.85 - .02

99.15 98.80 98.85 - .02

99.15 98.80 98.85 - .02

99.15 98.80 98.85 - .02

99.15 98.80 98.85 - .02

99.15 98.80 98.85 - .02

99.15 98.80 98.85 - .02

99.15 98.80 98.85 - .02

99.15 98.80 98.85 - .02

99.15 98.80 98.85 - .02

99.15 98.80 98.85 - .02

99.15 98.80 98.85 - .02

99.15 98.80 98.85 - .02

99.15 98.80 98.85 - .02

99.15 98.80 98.85 - .02

99.15 98.80 98.85 - .02

99.15 98.80 98.85 - .02

99.15 98.80 98.85 - .02

99.15 98.80 98.85 - .02

99.15 98.80 98.85 - .02

99.15 98.80 98.85 - .02

99.15 98.80 98.85 - .02

99.15 98.80 98.85 - .02

99.15 98.80 98.85 - .02

99.15 98.80 98.85 - .02

&lt;p

THE CONSTITUTION
CLARK HOWELL
Editor and General Manager
Clark Howell Jr., Business Manager.

Entered at the Postoffice at Atlanta as second class mail matter.

Telephone WALNUT 6505.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES
By Carrier or Mail:

Single copy . . . . . 10c

Daily only . . . . . 25c

Single Copies—Daily, 5c; Sunday, 10c.

Bi-Monthly . . . . . 25c

Feels Projects Like the Proposed Chancellorsville Community Offer Best Hope for Prosperity of Farmer

Editor Constitution: Your editor entitled "Farm Drift" continues" states that "it is impossible for life to be both happy and interesting in every farm home and every rural community." It is possible. Yes, but it is probable that the average farm home will have some of the automobile, radio, with the attached radio, which is a necessity to make life both happy and interesting? The average farmer's capital accumulation is about $100 annually. The farmers constitute 22 per cent of the workers of the United States yet they receive only 10 per cent of the national income.

To advise a concerted program to "repopulate the farms," Dr. Lionel D. Edie, noted economist, says, whereas in 1930 it required more than 40 per cent of the population to feed the whole population, today it requires a little over 21 per cent. The editor continues: "In addition, the carpenters, masons, stonemasons, mechanics, farmers and others all working together in a co-ordinated way, so that each family may have and enjoy, a radio, a bath tub, an automobile, a kitchen sink, a trip number of pictures, and subscriptions to pay check weekly, quarterly dividends and many other things which make life both happy and interesting.

Is it possible? Is it probable? My answer is yes. For three years, I have been living in a community which is operated on plans similar to those outlined above. It has been in successful operation for 30 years. JULIUS M. ELROD.

FEAST OF LIGHTS' TO BE CONDUCTED AT SAINT PHILIP'S

DRUID HILLS M. E. WILL HAVE SCHOOL FOR YOUNG PEOPLE

The Feast of the Lights, a ceremony of the Epiphany, will be conducted at 5 o'clock this afternoon at St. Philip's cathedral, with Bishop H. J. Mikell in charge, assisted by the cathedral clergy of Atlanta and vicinity.

Musical programs and a tableau of lighted candles symbolic of Christ's demonstration to the Gentiles will feature the ceremony. Ministers representing the apostles, and Daughters of the King, an organization of women in the church, will take part. Clerical assistants Bishop Mikell will be Dean H. H. Hayes, Dr. Canon William S. Turner, Dr. W. W. Memminger, the Rev. G. W. Gasque, and others. The public is invited.

Army Orders

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6.—Army orders: Major Harold G. Angier, cavalry, to Hot Springs, Ga., January 10; Lieutenant Colonel Thomas W. Hammond, infantry, retired.

Major Edward R. Stapp, engineer, to Fort Humphreys.

Major Haskett L. Connor, medical corps, to Honolulu.

Lieutenant Colonel Norman T. Kirk, Major John C. Clapp, Harrison H. Fisher, Albert W. Kenner, Rev. K. Oglevie, John R. Goss, A. Edward Sherman, Captain Stanis A. Park, Edward D. Sikes, and Captain James H. Hance, ordination, and Major Peter T. Carpenter, veterinary corps, to Panama.

Captain Lee L. Parlow, field artillery, to Fort Hill.

First Lieutenant Mark C. Neff, infantry, to Fort Hill.

Second Lieutenant Clifford C. Wagner, quartermaster corps, to Fort Thomas.

Things I Didn't Do

BY ERNEST NEAL
Poet Laureate of Georgia

I never in my younger days
Went crazy about a girl, keep away
But made a rule to keep her
From all the social whirl.

I never went to picture shows
To while away the time
But did my best to give Lord knows—
From sun up to sun down.

I never joined the candidate
That came to get me to get
And kiss and hugged my daughter Kate
Until the moon had set.

I never cut my neighbor's throat
Nor even sought his life,
Although he made of me a goat
And ran off with my wife.

My neighbor's sons I never molested,
Nor did I ever do you any harm,
May God have mercy on my soul
For the things I didn't do.

Smarty

Buzzard shut out on de fence;
Look, like he don't pack much sense.
Sparrow hawk down on him;
Preen like coon an' flit his tail.

Now no 'lun', who say no 'b'day'
Buzzard say, "Ah' pend on de 'lud."
Sparrow hawk low "Mighty po' way;
Preen'kin' better dan sleep all day."

Chimpunk run out on de lim';
Sparrow hawk down on him;
With him come like lightning crack.
Break his neck like bone dry stick;

Chimpunk grin in hole so stick.

Buzzard give one wing a stretch;
De edder, an' a hop he fetch;

Break his neck like bone dry stick;

Chimpunk grin in hole so stick.

MAIVA HOLIFIELD.

The Happy New Year

Gift the happy new year,
In your faith without fear!

For a father and mother,
Ring a silver bell—

The church and its seasons;

With a hearty good cheer,

To the church that are dear,

Give a hearty good cheer.

To the happy new year!

For it is your new year.

And it is my new year.

Let the bells far and near Ring to peasant and peer.

BENJAMIN M. BLACKBURN.

Two Loves

Two turtle doves in love,
Come each other under blue
Skies above, white butterflies here and there,
White butterflies fill here and there,
They know no world's care.

Here by a lovely, silent stream.

The real plan and scheme dream;

Castles the sky, the clouds the air,

Were love and romance, air.

Are love and queen there,

But all of them dreams can't come true,

For clouds will come to obscure

Their view, though with love.

—J. HOPE BRANCH.

A New Year's Wish

May your New Year be bounded on the north
By little flakes of snow.
And the south by the sun
And the joy you know.

While days you counted as your beat

Make up its boundary on the west.

And from the east, when there are

Snows down each twinkling New Year star.

ELIZABETH KING.

The Happenings of The Church World

BY HERMAN L. TURNER,
Pastor, Covenant Presbyterian Church,
Atlanta, Ga.

The New York Christian Advocate bears the cheering tidings that in the M. E. church "October turned out to be a recovery month for the board of foreign missions." To the same extent, The Kansas City of 48.5 for 1932 is 16 points below the rate in Georgia for the same year. If the Kansas rate had prevailed in Georgia, 1,000 of our 4,000 babies would not have died.

One thousand people would fill a small town if the entire population of a single year would be considered a catastrophe. This number of babies died in 1932 in Georgia largely from preventable causes. They did not "make the front page."

To save the thousand inhabitants of such a town, a spirit of close fraternity and in reading this morning some of the old "minutes" of the First Baptist church, I find and am quoting the following:

"We consider the following:

"That we tender the use of our house to our Presbyterian brethren when not in use by ourselves and Brethren Daniel, Kicklighter and McDaniel appointed to make the tender."

It may be of interest to our Presbyterians to know that in the beginning of the organization of our earliest churches of the different denominations, that there was a spirit of close fraternity and in reading the "minutes" of the First Baptist church, I find and am quoting the following:

"To save the thousand inhabitants of such a town, we have had a plenty of taxation without representation in Georgia. The report of the comptroller general for 1932

shows that the general poll and professional taxes charged in 1931

against the tax collectors of the state was $1,453,292, which is more than the total of 15,000,000

taxpayers in Georgia.

It is not claimed that representation is not proportion to wealth or taxes paid, for it would mean plutocracy. But it is claimed that the counties paying large taxes, as well as the others, should have a fair measure of representation in the body which levies and expends the taxes of the state.

The only practical just and democratic way of securing representation is to make it proportional to population. The law-makers have made a feeble gesture in that direction by giving eight counties three representatives each, and the remaining 121 counties one representative each.

Strangely enough, we seem to have a plenty of taxation without representation in Georgia. The report of the comptroller general for 1932

shows that the general poll and professional taxes charged in 1931

against the tax collectors of the state was $1,453,292, which is more than the total of 15,000,000

taxpayers in Georgia.

It is not claimed that representation is not proportional to wealth

or taxes paid, for it would mean plutocracy. But it is claimed that the counties paying large taxes, as well as the others, should have a fair

measure of representation in the body which levies and expends the taxes of the state.

The only practical just and democratic way of securing representation is to make it proportional to population. The law-makers have made a feeble gesture in that direction by giving eight counties three representatives each, and the remaining 121

counties one representative each.

Strangely enough, we seem to have a plenty of taxation without representation in Georgia. The report of the comptroller general for 1932

shows that the general poll and professional taxes charged in 1931

against the tax collectors of the state was $1,453,292, which is more than the total of 15,000,000

taxpayers in Georgia.

It is not claimed that representation

is not proportional to wealth

or taxes paid, for it would mean plutocracy. But it is claimed that the counties paying large taxes, as well as the others, should have a fair

measure of representation in the body which levies and expends the taxes of the state.

The only practical just and democratic way of securing representation is to make it proportional to population. The law-makers have made a feeble gesture in that direction by giving eight counties three representatives each, and the remaining 121

counties one representative each.

Strangely enough, we seem to have a plenty of taxation without representation in Georgia. The report of the comptroller general for 1932

shows that the general poll and professional taxes charged in 1931

against the tax collectors of the state was $1,453,292, which is more than the total of 15,000,000

taxpayers in Georgia.

It is not claimed that representation

is not proportional to wealth

or taxes paid, for it would mean plutocracy. But it is claimed that the counties paying large taxes, as well as the others, should have a fair

measure of representation in the body which levies and expends the taxes of the state.

The only practical just and democratic way

Published Every Sunday | News Of Interest From Atlanta's Public Schools

Boisfeuillet Jones, Editor

TECH HIGH STUDENTS
ENJOY IMPROVEMENTS

Here we are back at school again after the Christmas holidays and after such a long vacation we should be full of vim, vigor and vitality and ready to start the new year right.

Santa Claus has remained one of the Junior and Senior High students. We now get out at 2:30, whereas we have been getting out at 3 o'clock. Isn't that a nice gift?

Not only did Tech High get half an hour out, but we also got some improvements in the school building. The dungeon-like hall through the shop wing was greatly improved by painting the walls a creamy yellow and thus making it brighter. The old boardwalks have been replaced by new ones, and halls have been built between the portables. It's hard to recognize your room when you get to it, but to be sure when the novelty has worn off we will all be mighty appreciative of what has been done to make the school cleaner, and more comfortable.

JOE RYMSKI.

COMMERCIAL SCHOOL BUILDING IMPROVED

Commercial is to have 11 new classrooms as a result of the CWA appropriation. New floors, improved heating system, repairs to the old and new changes in the office arrangements, are also features of the overhauling being given the school buildings.

Mrs. Lucy Grogan has been appointed as assistant to Mrs. J. C. Chappell, clerk in the office. No changes in the faculty are anticipated.

JOHN LIPSON, Atlanta Georgia, car-ier, is a 12-day tour of South America as a winner of a contest sponsored by that paper.

GLADYS LINDSEY.

HIGHLAND PUPILS GIVE PRESENTS TO WOMEN

We hope that everyone had a pleasant vacation as we did, but it is a pleasure to be back together again and have nice nice time before us.

High 6 boys were glad to have a visit from Miss Graves Tuesday. She came to check on their chipping. The class had 100 per cent in attendance on the first school day of the new year.

Eight cars of sixth grade Christmas tree-makers were happy to be at the Home for Old Women before Christmas, distributing sewing kits for their busy fingers, narcissi for their windows and candy for their sweet teeth. Sarah Sims led the singing of Christmas carols.

Many members of Six-2 enjoyed trips during the holidays. Miss Sears, Mrs. Gedding and Ruth Gandy visited Florida; Harrison Smith, Elizabeth Warren, Emmaus Chandler and James Ingram visited their grandmothers. Others leaving Atlanta were Lula Mae Scott, James Barnwell, Bruce Robinson and Edward Burchell.

High-5 elected officers this week. The new president is Katherine Everett, and Richard Jackson is vice president.

Billie Shingler, one of the first-class pennmen of Low-5-2, has had his tonsils taken out. We hope he will be back Monday, however, as we depend on him for special copies of the yearbook.

Each pupil in Low-5-1 has received a small wooden desk calendar as a New Year's present from their teacher.

High-4 is happy to be back at school with three new friends. Donald Seaver from Druid Hills, Bartola Bautista from Tampa, Fla., and Morris Bishop from Spring Street school. We hope they will be happy in their new homes. The class was much pleased with the changes in their portable building and appreciates the freshness of their room.

Low-4-2 are having their room refloored and painted. While this work is being done, they are occupying the auditorium.

Low-2 is glad to welcome Ernestine Kishner, who has returned to High school.

The children in Mrs. Hodges' High and Low-1 were all present the first school day in the new year. They have one new classmate, Mai Evelyn Dobbin, who came from Montgomery. The class brought their dolls and other favorite things. They brought the other boys having printing presses.

Patricia Tate, Vincent Daley and Harold Chandler are new children in our kindergarten. All are enjoying the new Christmas dolls and toys that are coming to kindergartened each day.

GEORGIA AVENUE HAS CLASS MEDIEVAL FAIR

Every member of High-6 reported well and happy after their Christmas holidays and ready to begin the new year. We are glad to welcome our new pupils, Avanell Smith, from Rome, Ga.

Low-6 is preparing a medieval fair. The committees have been appointed and exhibits are being planned for this event. This will close the study of the middle ages for this grade.

High-5 is beginning the new year with much fine resolution.

Low-5 is sorry Louise Hamlette left us.

High-4 is working hard to go to the fifth grade in February.

Low-4 has been studying about Athens and Sparta.

High-3 have started the study of Japan and are now dressing Japanese paper dolls.

Low-3 is very glad to get back to school and we are all ready for the hard work we have to do before February.

Low-2 is very sorry to hear about Leota Farr being hit by an automobile and hope she will be able to come back to school soon.

High-2 is making the toys and playthings that Santa brought them Christmas.

Low-2 is happy to get back to school after such a nice vacation.

Low-1 is very happy to be back in school after the Christmas holidays. We are going to work hard so as to be promoted to Low 4 four weeks from today.

Six children in Low-6 have planted tulip bulbs for the trip show.

High 6-2 are working hard, determined to study hard and be promoted to junior high 100 per cent.

Prehistoric Exhibit at Fair Street School

In the picture is shown a scene, showing life of the cave men, taken from a play originated and given by pupils in the Low Second grade of Fair Street school which is used as a prehistoric exhibit in the school's winter's fair. The pupils are, left to right, seated, Louise Nabors, Anna Colerins and Carl Andrews; standing, Johnny Haddad and Morris Harrison. Photo by George Cornett, staff photographer.

Superintendent's Message

My dear Boys and Girls:

Beginning Monday, January 8, the Chicago Opera Company will give a week of grand opera in the city of Atlanta. It is a real opportunity for you, your brothers and your mothers, because of the fact that the prices are so exceedingly low.

The greatest needs of the people of the south is to develop their sense of love and appreciation for the beautiful. Opera contributes in a great many ways to this development. There is a scenic background which we might say brings in the appreciation of painting; there is the great art of dramatics coupled with the finest music, both of orchestra and of the human voice. And with these come the stories from the great literary works of the world. Where else can we find such a combination of art?

I am anxious for our boys and girls to grow up to love, to enjoy, to appreciate and to produce great works of art. The opera gives you this opportunity. I hope you will talk over the matter with your parents and will carefully select the opera or operas which you may hear. Always your friend,

WILLIS A. SUTTON,
Superintendent of Schools.TEACHERS AT COUCH
TRAVEL IN VACATION

Happy New Year! We are all back on the job after the long Christmas vacation. The second semester begins in three weeks, and we are busy "taking stock" to find out just what we know and what we don't know, hoping to supply the missing links.

The rains have been active during the vacation, and we came back to find a broad, green, svelvet award instead of the spotted lawn the long drough gave us this fall.

Low 3 is sorry that Mimi Womble has gone to California, and Tommy Stubbs has gone to South Carolina.

Low 4 received an interesting letter from P. C. McDuffie's sponsor. They are looking forward to a visit from him.

The High and Low 4 are studying about the Greeks. They were sorry to lose Ann Williamson, who goes to another city to New Orleans.

Low 1 enjoyed their holidays and have settled down to hard work at school. They enjoyed the study of China.

GOLDSMITH CHILDREN
SPONSOR TOY PARADE

Oh, boy! What a fine time we had at the toy parade Wednesday. Everyone had so much to be thankful for many pretty toys, bicycles, wagons, balls, dolls, carriages, books, Goodness! How generous Santa Claus was!

The kindergarten are so proud of their five new pupils.

Santa didn't forget anyone of the whole first grade.

The second grade has been busy learning to read new books and to sing new songs.

The third grade are so happy over their pampas. They can see their faces peeping up.

The fourth grade is busy working. They have started a new year off right.

The fifth and sixth grades are studying hard for the spelling test, and want to find out who are the best spellers. The sixth grade are so happy over their sweet pens that they are going to use them at promotion time.

EVELYN KING.

FAIR CHILDREN PLAN TO FIX RESOLUTIONS

Fair Street school pupils enjoyed their Christmas very much. Each child tried to share with the friend who did not have much for Christmas.

They all had a happy time. We are very glad of the purposeful way in which everybody in Formwalt has started the new year.

CHRISTINE NEELY,
FRANCIES TUBBS.

CAPITAL VIEW PUPILS
HAVE A GIFT PARADE

The children were glad to be back to school and we are looking forward to the unbroken period of work that is ahead of them. They realize that they are Atlanta's future citizens and they are beginning now to feel their responsibility.

CAROLYN HANNAH.

WALLS ARE PAINTED
FOR GORDON SCHOOL

Gordon school is very proud of its newly-painted walls. It was nice to see the children painting from building to building.

Low and high kindergarten are glad to be back in school. We had a lovely surprise when we came back. There was a nice, new merry-go-round in our room.

Low 1 has won the banking bank every week but one.

Low 2 are starting the New Year with 100 per cent attendance. No one was sick during the holidays.

Low 6 and High 5 are working hard on spelling, for they compete with other children for the spelling cup. Low 6 had an old-fashioned spelling match just before Christmas. Mary Anne Mitchell won.

Low 4 has an aquarium with four gold fish and five water snails. They have put in some seaweed to balance it.

The high kindergarten children had a beautiful Christmas tree before the holidays. They brought their toys to school this week. They have built a garage and took toy trucks in it.

EVELYN COLE.

INMAN SCHOOL PUPILS
WELCOME FOUR MORE

The children of S. M. Inman school enjoyed a long vacation but we are glad to be back and are going to work hard.

Low 1 are all glad to get back to school. They have some new books, too.

Low 2 is glad to welcome a new member, Bobby Wood, from Jacksonville, Fla.

Low 6 is glad to welcome three new pupils. They hope to start the new year with healthy bodies so they can do good work.

MARION BRUCE JEFFRIES,
CAROLYN BROWN.

THIRTEEN NEW PUPILS
ENROLL AT MORELAND

Everybody in Moreland is glad to be back to the regular routine of school. Work has begun in earnest. We were glad to welcome thirteen new pupils Tuesday morning.

Low 6 is completing some very attractive work.

We were delighted to see a picture of their sponsor, Judge John D. Hammarskjold, and an interesting article on astronomy by him in Sunday's paper.

CONSTANCE BAILEY.

LEAD AND ZINC PRICES
DECLINE DURING WEEK

NEW YORK, Jan. 6.—(AP)—Lead declined $3 per ton this week because of poor consumer demand and an unfavorable report of the steel market situation. Reports of continued mine operations at a relatively high rate and smaller shipments of metal were expected by the trade to result in a further increase in surplus stocks. The decline failed to stimulate buying, except for small prompt needs.

Zinc eased $1 per ton last week in sympathy with the reaction in lead. Smelters would like to be sold, but while some small sales for February and March shipment were reported and consumers were said to be showing moderate interest for nearby metal under the market, they were said to be waiting for evidences of stability.

Copper remained quiet and nominally unchanged at the basis of 8 1/4 cents for electrolytic delivered in the 200-lb. barrel.

High 4 is glad to resume work and try out the New Year resolutions. Here's hoping the one to do fine work and be even finer citizens. We last had a New Year's Day at least.

Low 6C welcomes a new pupil, George Cornett, from Baltimore, Md.

Low 5-1 has started the New Year with 100 per cent in attendance. They hope to have better attendance from now until June than they had before Christmas.

The children of High 5 had a very happy Christmas. They greeted the New Year by getting down to hard work.

High 4 are glad to be back in school after a happy Christmas vacation.

Low 4-C have begun the study of Greece and are enjoying it very much.

Low 4-C are happy to be back in school. We are enjoying the study of Greece.

Low 2, High 2 are glad to be back in school. They have enjoyed their vacation and want to work hard now and be promoted.

Low 2 pupils are glad to be back at school. They are going to study hard this New Year.

Low 3 is glad to be back to school. They are starting out working hard.

Low 3-B have taken up the study of shepherd life since they came back from their Christmas holidays.

High 4 and Low 3 wrote New Year resolutions Tuesday in order to start the New Year out by doing their best.

Low 3-B are happy to be back at school. They are going to study hard this New Year.

Low 4-C are happy to be back in school. They are going to study hard this New Year.

Low 5-1 are happy to be back at school. They are going to study hard this New Year.

Low 5-2 are happy to be back at school. They are going to study hard this New Year.

Low 6-C are happy to be back at school. They are going to study hard this New Year.

Low 6-C are happy to be back at school. They are going to study hard this New Year.

Low 6-C are happy to be back at school. They are going to study hard this New Year.

Low 6-C are happy to be back at school. They are going to study hard this New Year.

Low 6-C are happy to be back at school. They are going to study hard this New Year.

Low 6-C are happy to be back at school. They are going to study hard this New Year.

Low 6-C are happy to be back at school. They are going to study hard this New Year.

Low 6-C are happy to be back at school. They are going to study hard this New Year.

Low 6-C are happy to be back at school. They are going to study hard this New Year.

Low 6-C are happy to be back at school. They are going to study hard this New Year.

Low 6-C are happy to be back at school. They are going to study hard this New Year.

Low 6-C are happy to be back at school. They are going to study hard this New Year.

Low 6-C are happy to be back at school. They are going to study hard this New Year.

THE CONSTITUTION
CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING
Information

CLOSING HOURS

Want ads are accepted up to 8 p.m. for publication the next day. The closing hour for the Sunday edition is 8:30 p.m. Saturday.

CLASSIFIED RATES

Daily and Sunday rates per line for consecutive insertions:

One time ..... 20 cents

Three times ..... 17 cents

Seven times ..... 15 cents

Minimum charge $1.00 words.

In estimating the space of an ad, figure six average words to a line. Ads ordered for three or seven days and longer will be proportionately longer and will be charged for the number of times the ad appeared and adjustments made at the rate each time.

CASH for old gold. Watches, clocks repaired by our certified watchmaker will keep correctly. 119 Peachtree St., N. W. Established 1905.

PIANO teacher, widely acclaimed producer for concert, radio. Normal course for teachers; pr. lessons. W.A. 8234.

Reducing Developing Relaxation

Drugs, Therapy. Miss Manning, MA. 5870.

CURTAINS laundered, cal. delivered. Mrs. Estes, DE. 4241. Mrs. Higgins, DE. 5130-W.

CURTAINS laundered, tinted, called

CURTAINS for delivery. W.A. 1073.

FURS Remodeled and hand cleaned; tailoring, leather, etc. W.A. 5756.

DENTAL price cut. Dentist. Fares repaired $1. Dr. Keller, 1014 Whitehall.

Alcohol Rubs Reducing, Relaxation.

Mrs. Roberts, HE. 7534.

Investigations by experts. Reass. confidential. W.A. 6708.

DR. DUNCAN, plates $10, requiring $1.

Cleaning $1. 1532 Whitehall, MA. 4537.

Spencer Corsets and surgical garments. Miss Rickie, HE. 2007-W.

BABIES BOARDING—Individual care, confidential. Mrs. G. C. H. 4540-J.

FURS Remodeled, hand-cleaned, expert.

Tailoring, designing. HE. 6705.

WANTED Two little children to board; mother's care; refs. RE. 1345.

BOARD, rest, care, diet for elderly people, convalescents, invalids. W.A. 7065.

EVELYN—I am glad you are still reading the want ads. Howard.

To Phone An Ad

Call WALNUT 6565.

Ask for an Ad-Taker

Railroad Schedules

Schedule Published as Information. (Central Standard Time.)

TERMINAL STATION.

Arrives A. & W. R. H. Leaves

21:35 pm. New Orleans-Montgomery 6:10 am.

4:20 pm. Montgomery, Local ..... 1:00 pm.

7:45 pm. New Orleans-Montgomery 6:05 pm.

Arrives 6:40 am. New Orleans-Montgomery 6:05 pm.

Arrives 6:45 am. Macon-Savannah ..... 7:25 am.

10:30 am. Macon ..... 7:25 am.

5:30 pm. Macon-Tampa ..... 7:25 am.

10:25 am. Macon ..... 4:05 pm.

6:05 pm. Macon ..... 5:00 pm.

6:45 pm. Tampa-St. Petersburg ..... 9:50 pm.

6:40 pm. Tampa-St. Petersburg ..... 9:05 pm.

3:00 pm. Macon-Savannah-Albany ..... 10:00 pm.

Arrives 7:45 am. Birmingham ..... 7:25 am.

11:45 pm. Birmingham-Memphis ..... 11:55 pm.

11:30 am. Birmingham-Memphis ..... 4:15 pm.

6:00 pm. Birmingham ..... 9:10 pm.

7:45 pm. Birmingham ..... 9:10 pm.

8:30 am. Birmingham-Albany ..... 11:45 pm.

Arrives 7:45 am. BIRMINGHAM RAILWAY—Leaves

Wash., N. Y. Ashland ..... 12:30 pm.

7:45 pm. Wash.-Rich-Ro. ..... 11:55 pm.

11:30 am. Birmingham-Memphis ..... 4:15 pm.

6:00 pm. Birmingham ..... 9:10 pm.

7:45 pm. Birmingham ..... 9:10 pm.

8:30 am. Birmingham-Albany ..... 11:45 pm.

Arrives 7:45 am. BIRMINGHAM RAILWAY—Leaves

Wash., N. Y. Ashland ..... 12:30 pm.

7:45 pm. Wash.-Rich-Ro. ..... 11:55 pm.

11:30 am. Birmingham-Memphis ..... 4:15 pm.

6:00 pm. Birmingham ..... 9:10 pm.

7:45 pm. Birmingham ..... 9:10 pm.

8:30 am. Birmingham ..... 11:45 pm.

Arrives 7:45 am. BIRMINGHAM RAILWAY—Leaves

Wash., N. Y. Ashland ..... 12:30 pm.

7:45 pm. Wash.-Rich-Ro. ..... 11:55 pm.

11:30 am. Birmingham-Memphis ..... 4:15 pm.

6:00 pm. Birmingham ..... 9:10 pm.

7:45 pm. Birmingham ..... 9:10 pm.

8:30 am. Birmingham ..... 11:45 pm.

Arrives 7:45 am. BIRMINGHAM RAILWAY—Leaves

Wash., N. Y. Ashland ..... 12:30 pm.

7:45 pm. Wash.-Rich-Ro. ..... 11:55 pm.

11:30 am. Birmingham-Memphis ..... 4:15 pm.

6:00 pm. Birmingham ..... 9:10 pm.

7:45 pm. Birmingham ..... 9:10 pm.

8:30 am. Birmingham ..... 11:45 pm.

Arrives 7:45 am. BIRMINGHAM RAILWAY—Leaves

Wash., N. Y. Ashland ..... 12:30 pm.

7:45 pm. Wash.-Rich-Ro. ..... 11:55 pm.

11:30 am. Birmingham-Memphis ..... 4:15 pm.

6:00 pm. Birmingham ..... 9:10 pm.

7:45 pm. Birmingham ..... 9:10 pm.

8:30 am. Birmingham ..... 11:45 pm.

Arrives 7:45 am. BIRMINGHAM RAILWAY—Leaves

Wash., N. Y. Ashland ..... 12:30 pm.

7:45 pm. Wash.-Rich-Ro. ..... 11:55 pm.

11:30 am. Birmingham-Memphis ..... 4:15 pm.

6:00 pm. Birmingham ..... 9:10 pm.

7:45 pm. Birmingham ..... 9:10 pm.

8:30 am. Birmingham ..... 11:45 pm.

Arrives 7:45 am. BIRMINGHAM RAILWAY—Leaves

Wash., N. Y. Ashland ..... 12:30 pm.

7:45 pm. Wash.-Rich-Ro. ..... 11:55 pm.

11:30 am. Birmingham-Memphis ..... 4:15 pm.

6:00 pm. Birmingham ..... 9:10 pm.

7:45 pm. Birmingham ..... 9:10 pm.

8:30 am. Birmingham ..... 11:45 pm.

Arrives 7:45 am. BIRMINGHAM RAILWAY—Leaves

Wash., N. Y. Ashland ..... 12:30 pm.

7:45 pm. Wash.-Rich-Ro. ..... 11:55 pm.

11:30 am. Birmingham-Memphis ..... 4:15 pm.

6:00 pm. Birmingham ..... 9:10 pm.

7:45 pm. Birmingham ..... 9:10 pm.

8:30 am. Birmingham ..... 11:45 pm.

Arrives 7:45 am. BIRMINGHAM RAILWAY—Leaves

Wash., N. Y. Ashland ..... 12:30 pm.

7:45 pm. Wash.-Rich-Ro. ..... 11:55 pm.

11:30 am. Birmingham-Memphis ..... 4:15 pm.

6:00 pm. Birmingham ..... 9:10 pm.

7:45 pm. Birmingham ..... 9:10 pm.

8:30 am. Birmingham ..... 11:45 pm.

Arrives 7:45 am. BIRMINGHAM RAILWAY—Leaves

Wash., N. Y. Ashland ..... 12:30 pm.

7:45 pm. Wash.-Rich-Ro. ..... 11:55 pm.

11:30 am. Birmingham-Memphis ..... 4:15 pm.

6:00 pm. Birmingham ..... 9:10 pm.

7:45 pm. Birmingham ..... 9:10 pm.

8:30 am. Birmingham ..... 11:45 pm.

Arrives 7:45 am. BIRMINGHAM RAILWAY—Leaves

Wash., N. Y. Ashland ..... 12:30 pm.

7:45 pm. Wash.-Rich-Ro. ..... 11:55 pm.

11:30 am. Birmingham-Memphis ..... 4:15 pm.

6:00 pm. Birmingham ..... 9:10 pm.

7:45 pm. Birmingham ..... 9:10 pm.

8:30 am. Birmingham ..... 11:45 pm.

Arrives 7:45 am. BIRMINGHAM RAILWAY—Leaves

Wash., N. Y. Ashland ..... 12:30 pm.

7:45 pm. Wash.-Rich-Ro. ..... 11:55 pm.

11:30 am. Birmingham-Memphis ..... 4:15 pm.

6:00 pm. Birmingham ..... 9:10 pm.

7:45 pm. Birmingham ..... 9:10 pm.

8:30 am. Birmingham ..... 11:45 pm.

Arrives 7:45 am. BIRMINGHAM RAILWAY—Leaves

Wash., N. Y. Ashland ..... 12:30 pm.

7:45 pm. Wash.-Rich-Ro. ..... 11:55 pm.

11:30 am. Birmingham-Memphis ..... 4:15 pm.

6:00 pm. Birmingham ..... 9:10 pm.

7:45 pm. Birmingham ..... 9:10 pm.

8:30 am. Birmingham ..... 11:45 pm.

Arrives 7:45 am. BIRMINGHAM RAILWAY—Leaves

Wash., N. Y. Ashland ..... 12:30 pm.

7:45 pm. Wash.-Rich-Ro. ..... 11:55 pm.

11:30 am. Birmingham-Memphis ..... 4:15 pm.

6:00 pm. Birmingham ..... 9:10 pm.

7:45 pm. Birmingham ..... 9:10 pm.

8:30 am. Birmingham ..... 11:45 pm.

Arrives 7:45 am. BIRMINGHAM RAILWAY—Leaves

</div

Financial

Loans on Personal Property 40

YOU CAN BORROW
UP TO $300 FROM
"PERSONAL"
(Member N. R. A.)

On Furniture, Automobiles
And Endorsed Notes

On This Plan—

1. Full amount of your loan in cash in 24 hours or less.
2. Interest charges only. NO EXTRAS
of any kind.
3. Repayments to suit your working and financial needs.
4. And interest rates are the way of "whatever you want." We can give it to you. Come in, write, phone.

PERSONAL FINANCE CO.

"Atlanta's Leading Loan Service,"
318 Volunteer Life Bldg. Phone WA 5350
66 Luckie St. N. W. Opp. Piedmont Hotel

N BORROW

R up to

A $300.00

from American Security Co.

ONE-DAY SERVICE

At times, money is needed immediately. Our loan service is available to you.

NO DEDUCTIONS

You get full amount applied for.

Repayments to suit convenience.

AMERICAN

SECURITY CO.

207 CONNALLY BLDG.
Cor. Whitehall and Alabama
Main 3131

LOANS ON DIAMONDS
Jefferson Loan Society
8 Auburn Avenue Phone WA 4786
LOWEST INTEREST RATE IN GEORGIA

Loans on Automobiles 40-A

GET CASH on your car in fifteen minutes. No references required. See
A. F. MILLER
99 Auburn Ave.

MONEY ON YOUR CAR
10 MINUTE SERVICE & A YEAR
QUESTIONS? NO INVESTIGATIONS
AUTO SECURITY CO.

200 SPRING ST. JA. 1131

GET MONEY ON ANY MODEL AUTOMOBILE
ED BRYANT

203 MARIETTA ST. MA. 1244

Credit Clearing 40-B

START the new year free from worry.
Pool your accounts with us, have one place to pay. See us today.

ATLANTA CREDIT CLEARING CO.
400 WALTON BLDG.

Salaries Bought 41

MONEY can be easily secured by salaried people on their signatures only. Confidential service.

Williams Purchasing Corp.

206 Silver Bldg., 24 Floor 3 Edgewood Ave.

MONEY for salaried men and women same day applied for.

NATIONAL FINANCE CO.

503 Peters Bldg.

QUICK—READY—CASH

Money for Salaried Men and Women.

CAPITAL EXCHANGES, INC.

314 Volunteer Life Bldg.

READY MONEY for salaried people
213 GRANT BUILDING

READY MONEY FOR SALARIED PEOPLE

415 CITIZENS & SOUL, BANK BLDG.

204 Peters Bldg. $5.00 to $50.00

NO DELAY

Live Stock

Baby Chicks

BABY CHICKS—All popular breeds, 7 cents.
Woodlawn Hatcheries, 510 Piedmont, WA.

BIG, husky, blood-tested chicks, daily.

Blue Ribon Hatchery, 221 Forsyth, S. W.

Cows

FOR SALE—Dairy, 40 cows, 30 milking
Barns and milk house, good condition, electric refrigeration. 180-acre farm, good pasture. Three miles from town. Can be brought ready for milking parties. JA.
248-2. Address 1119, Constitution.

FRESH cow, sale or trade for beef cow.

45 East Side Ave., S. E.

Dogs

FOR PURE-BRED DOGS. CONSULT H. G.

HASTINGS' KENNEL DIRECTORY.

SPONSORED BY ATLANTA KENNEL CLUB.

BOSTON Terrier puppies, 2 mos. old; females $10. John L. Calloway, Covington, Ga.

Horses

TWO nice gentle saddle horses reasonable.

J. H. Hemphill, RA. 2374.

Hens

50 RHODE ISLAND laying hens for sale.

501 Crew St., S. W.

Mules

GOOD farm mules, also bay mare cheap.

J. H. Hemphill, RA. 2374.

Pigeons

500 fine White King, Car-neus. Splashes, 25 and 50 cents each. J. J.

Hemphill, 1091 Gordon St.

Ponies

FOR SALE—3 excellent Shetland ponies, well broke for wagon or saddle. P. O.

Box 45, Norcross, Ga.

Merchandise

Miscellaneous for Sale 51

Solid Wal. Dinettes, Buffet, large extend. & chairs, $100.00 each.

High Back, Side, Hollow back.

new. 21.5 x 36 in. in colour. 19.75

Mr. Dining Room, 8 ft. 10 in.

Mah. Poster Bed and Dresser.

Gas Range, A-1 condition, $11.50 to 17.50

Wal. Dresser, almost new.

2 Bed. Ladder Back Rush Seat.

Chairs, 15.99

Mar. Chiffonier.

Wal. Coat Closet, original.

$45. now.

Wal. Marble Top Table.

CENTRAL AUCTION CO.

See Mr. Andrew Miller.

SMART spring attire, sizes 14-16, by appointment only. Call JA. 2288, ask for

Merchandise

Miscellaneous for Sale 51

CABLE'S USED PIANO SACRIFICES

$149

NETTER, 1920, 8 ft. 10 in.

PHILLIPS & CREW

95

LUDDEN & RATES

95

LAR. player

115

FRANKLIN

125

IVERES & FOND

125

FREE DELIVERY and bench included. Terms if wanted.

CARLIE PIANO COMPANY,

"Musical Headquarters."

84 Broad St., N. W.

W. Peachtree

1924

AUCTION

WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 10, 1934

4:30 A. M.

EXTRA quality household goods, consisting of: Baby grand piano,
G. E. refrigerator, bedroom, living room, dining room furniture, antique pieces, occasional pieces;
china, bric-a-brac, silver, rugs, etc.
On display eighth and ninth.

Cathcart Allied Storage Co.

134 Houston St., N. E.

RECONDITIONED FURNITURE
PRICES TELL OUR STORY

Dandy Bed, new pad. $18.75

W. W. Murphy Dining Suite. $100.00

8x12 Amriton Bed. $100.00

8x6 Sun Parlor Suite. $22.50

Fine Wall Writing Desk. $10.75

IDEAL Writing Desk. $10.75

Oil and Gas Stoves as low as. $6.95

Thousands of Other Bargains.

157 WHITEHALL ST.

PAINT, all colors. $1.19 Gal.

ROOFING. . . . . 90c ROLL

KALISMORE. . . . . 6c LB

DOUBLE STRENGTH WINDOW GLASS

JACOBS SALES CO.

4547 Decatur St., S. E. WA. 2876

FOR SALE

BEAUTY equipment, machines, driers, mixers, scale, marbleizing tables, Illinois white chairs.

JA. 7089

NEW 1934 MODEL PIANOS; beautiful new design by ten world-famous manufacturers. See these magnificent pianos now on display at LUDDEN & BATES &
PEACHTREE.

Majestic Electric refrigerator, & cube freezer, model 1933. $10.50; H. H. Dugay, Inc.

1933

W. Peachtree

1933

1933

1933

1933

1933

1933

1933

1933

1933

1933

1933

1933

1933

1933

1933

1933

1933

1933

1933

1933

1933

1933

1933

1933

1933

1933

1933

1933

1933

19

BUREAU OF MARKETS AIDS SALES INCREASE

Volume Gains Despite Drop in Prices, Director Greer
Says in Report.

The state bureau of markets increased its volume of sales of farm products more than $30,000 for 1933 over 1932 despite the prevailing low prices. J. F. Greer, director of the bureau, reported to G. C. Adams, commissioner of agriculture, Saturday.

"The bureau of markets through its employees," he wrote, "tried to do its best in its ability to serve the people of Georgia satisfactorily."

"Low prices on all major products have prevailed through the year, which has made deep inroads on production and reduced volume far below some of the past years. However, in spite of low prices, the sales production of the main products handled through the department, an increase in volume of more than $30,000 over 1932 has resulted."

"Besides live stock and poultry, the department has handled large quantities of vegetables which brought the state a record amount of money, and it is hoped, that a similar program to the one put in operation in south Georgia in 1933 will be put into effect on a larger scale in 1934."

"A profitable crop will bring a good profit to its growers and a year-round, every section of Georgia will grow vegetables. Starting in the extreme southern part of the state truck crops can be produced and put on the market just behind the Florida crops and will most always bring good prices because there is practically no competition in the market at the time Georgia produce is coming in."

He reported that one small section in south Georgia shipped $50,000 worth of beans in one four-week period during the year and said organization of the farmers of existing aids would produce similar results in other parts of the state.

Total sales through the bureau in 1933, Greer said, were $227,328.54, in addition to many thousands of dollars worth sold through the services of the bureau which were not actually handled by the bureau.

Major items reported as sold through the bureau included 17,514 hogs, for $87,522.01; 1,061 cattle, for $36,031.19; 5,899 cases of eggs, for $31,058.28; 260,850 pounds of poultry, for $25,425.00; 47,150 carots of vegetables, for $24,583.30; 138 cars of watermelons, for $8,625; and 15 cars of corn, for $2,527.27. Other items handled by the bureau included hay, shucks, straw, velvet beans, peanuts, sweet potatoes, cabbage, pecans, onions, peas, wheat, peaches and peaches.

FOREIGN TRADE AND THE NEW DEAL' TO BE DISCUSSED

The Outlook for Foreign Trade Under the New Deal will be discussed by Armand May at the luncheon meeting of the Atlanta Foreign Trade and Travel Club, which will be held at the Atlanta Athletic Club at 12:30 o'clock Wednesday afternoon.

Mr. May is president of the American Associated Companies, which include the Atlanta Mills Company, the Atlanta Company and other companies doing a foreign business. He has an intimate knowledge of foreign trade, gained through years of experience in selling in foreign markets.

His frequent trips to Europe and other parts of the world bring him into close contact with world leaders and he is regarded as an authority in the foreign field. He has made a close study of present-day conditions and his address on foreign trade in relation to the new policies of the administration will be one of outstanding interest.

This will be the first session of the club this year and the new president, Irving Schweppes, who was elected at the annual meeting in December, will preside. Visitors will be welcome and reservations may be made by calling Walnut 2357.

FOUR NEW OIL LINES BROUGHT TO STATE

The recent expansion of the American Oil Company brought to Georgia four distinct lines of motor oils in addition to Amoco gas, the original premium fuel, and orange American gas, the original orange gas. Outstanding in this line of motor oils is Amoco motor oil, a running mate with Amoco gas.

Amoco motor oils are made exclusively from choice paraffin base crudes and are free from sulphur, asphalt, wax, petroleum and other impurities. In the making of Amoco motor oils selected crudes are used. Paraffin base crudes are recognized as the best basic material for making the highest quality motor oils.

In addition to the Amoco line of motor oils, the American Oil Company offers a brand of motor oil to meet the special demands of any customer. For instance, they offer to the motorist in some instances a Penn Amoco motor oil which is made from selected 100 per cent pure Pennsylvania base crudes; American motor oils sold in bulk only and Artex motor oils sold in bulk and in sealed two and five-gallon lithographed cans.

BIRTHS

The following families announce births: G. L. Shirley, 256 Eleventh street, N. E., girl; Mrs. J. C. Smith, 100 Peachtree street, S. W., girl; A. M. Calais, 601 Durant Jones, base road, S. E., girl; Mrs. J. C. Smith, 14 Spring avenue, East Point, boy; L. H. O'Neil, 1866 Peachtree street, boy; H. W. Winkbold, 1334 Peachtree street, boy; F. E. Sales, 1213 Virginia avenue, boy; E. E. Morris, 280 Peachtree street, boy; G. R. Newlin, 247 Myrtle street, N. E., girl; F. C. Payne, 954 Greenwood avenue, Atlanta, boy; J. P. Flynn, 190 Savannah street, boy; J. P. Flynn, 190 Savannah street, boy; D. L. Jordan, 171 Clark drive, boy; C. E. Averitt, 200 Hunter street, boy; E. C. Baker, 200 Hunter street, girl; O. J. Bradley, Jr., 29 Trenell street, girl; O. J. Bradley, Jr., 29 Trenell street, girl; L. W. Williams, 1815 Gordon road, boy; R. F. Stovall, 334 Rosedale road, N. E., girl; M. Hartman, Thomaston, Ga., girl; Mrs. J. C. Smith, 100 Peachtree street, girl; A. G. Dill, 121 Seventy street, girl; H. O. Smith, 715 Balsell street, boy; Mrs. J. C. Smith, 100 Peachtree street, girl; F. L. Irvin, 1138 Michigan, East Point, girl; H. W. Stephens, 900 Delaware avenue, S. E., girl; J. P. Flynn, 190 Savannah street, boy; G. B. Hinson, 369 Holderness street, S. W., boy; J. N. Thurman, 25 Woodward avenue, girl; J. N. Thurman, 74 Woodward avenue, girl; F. R. Horton, Route 10, Box 213, girl; O. L. Everett, 657 Hampton street, boy; A. D. Burges, 288 Moreland drive, boy; A. E. Wilson, 378 Richardson street, boy; W. E. Wilson, 477 Peachtree street, boy; Mrs. J. C. Smith, 100 Peachtree street, girl; R. L. Williams, 1815 Gordon road, boy; W. L. Collins, 222 East Valley street, girl; Mrs. J. C. Smith, 100 Peachtree street, girl; G. A. Henry, 658 Griffin street, girl.

Local Orchestra on WGST Sundays

BOOK REVIEWS IN TABLOID

Among the mystery stories by this young author are "Poison in Jesus," "The Hippo," "The Mystery, in which he uses an American background for the first time. In his previous books, "It Walks by Night," "Castle Skull" and "The Corpse in the Wax Works," the stories were laid in France. The author was only 23 when his first novel was published.

A native of Uniontown, Pa., Mr. Carr has traveled much abroad. He writes: "I have prowled round Limehouse, Cairo, and the gummier sections of Paris, but I have never yet seen (A) a really choice model (B) a mysterious, mysterious model. (C) a really good-looking adventures with sly eyes. This is discouraging. Something must be done about it."

His family wanted him to follow in his father's footsteps and study law, but his college career was interrupted because he preferred to spend 18 hours a day at the keys of a typewriter turning out detective stories. (Harrer & Bros.)

MYSTERY STORIES.

Murder in Bermuda. By Willoughby Sharp. A very popular magazine story writer. This story has been one of the most widely circulated and read of any mystery story of the year. The author of many stories will find in Mr. Sharp's contribution all the thrills that are needed to make it a first-class tale. (Claude Kendall, publisher, New York.)

Murder Flies the Atlantic. By Stanley Hart Page. This is one of the author's creepiest mystery stories. It tells how bodies will be solved in future when a regular trans-Atlantic Zeppelin service will be in operation between Paris, London and New York. Mr. Page did not like college any too well and just as soon as possible became a knight of the order. Though he was a deacon of John Hart, signer of the Declaration of Independence, he tried many professions before making his selection. (Alfred H. King, publisher, New York.)

The Master Murder. A Fleming Stone Detective Novel. By Carolyn Wells. This story deals with several cases of a maniac, a who-father, who were "wiped out overnight" each by different means. It is a thrilling mystery with not a dull line in it. (Lippincott's Book.)

Death Over Newark. By Alexander Williams, author of "The Jinx." The author of this mystery story, a former detective, is a member of the New York City newspapermen. There is more than a thrill in every page and a crashing climax. (William Farquhar Payson, publisher, New York.)

Flame in the Forest. By Harold Titus. Author of "Below Zero." This story deals with a boy who registered a vow that some day he would get "even" with a crooked man, Tod West. A boy never forgets. So after he became a man Terry started out to trail West until he found him. The result of his long search is most interesting told and, of course, suspense makes all the more enthralling. The people know Harold Titus and while "Below Zero" is a thrilling story of the north woods was enjoyable, and "Code of the North" also, it is "Flame in the Forest" that is the best of all. (Macaulay's Book.)

The Woman With Two Smiles. A New Arsene Lupin Story. By Maurice Leblanc. Very few, if any, readers of Arsene Lupin, the famous French gentleman crook who does not welcome a new story in which he plays the leading part. So here's a new story about the famous character, and when you have finished it you will agree with all his other readers that he has contributed another thrilling mystery with not a dull line in it. (Lippincott's Book.)

Death Over Newark. By Alexander Williams, author of "The Jinx." The author of this mystery story, a former detective, is a member of the New York City newspapermen. There is more than a thrill in every page and a crashing climax. (William Farquhar Payson, publisher, New York.)

The Woman With Two Smiles. A New Arsene Lupin Story. By Maurice Leblanc. Very few, if any, readers of Arsene Lupin, the famous French gentleman crook who does not welcome a new story in which he plays the leading part. So here's a new story about the famous character, and when you have finished it you will agree with all his other readers that he has contributed another thrilling mystery with not a dull line in it. (Lippincott's Book.)

Death Over Newark. By Alexander Williams, author of "The Jinx." The author of this mystery story, a former detective, is a member of the New York City newspapermen. There is more than a thrill in every page and a crashing climax. (William Farquhar Payson, publisher, New York.)

The Master Murder. A Fleming Stone Detective Novel. By Carolyn Wells. This story deals with several cases of a maniac, a who-father, who were "wiped out overnight" each by different means. It is a thrilling mystery with not a dull line in it. (Lippincott's Book.)

Death Over Newark. By Alexander Williams, author of "The Jinx." The author of this mystery story, a former detective, is a member of the New York City newspapermen. There is more than a thrill in every page and a crashing climax. (William Farquhar Payson, publisher, New York.)

The Woman With Two Smiles. A New Arsene Lupin Story. By Maurice Leblanc. Very few, if any, readers of Arsene Lupin, the famous French gentleman crook who does not welcome a new story in which he plays the leading part. So here's a new story about the famous character, and when you have finished it you will agree with all his other readers that he has contributed another thrilling mystery with not a dull line in it. (Lippincott's Book.)

Death Over Newark. By Alexander Williams, author of "The Jinx." The author of this mystery story, a former detective, is a member of the New York City newspapermen. There is more than a thrill in every page and a crashing climax. (William Farquhar Payson, publisher, New York.)

The Woman With Two Smiles. A New Arsene Lupin Story. By Maurice Leblanc. Very few, if any, readers of Arsene Lupin, the famous French gentleman crook who does not welcome a new story in which he plays the leading part. So here's a new story about the famous character, and when you have finished it you will agree with all his other readers that he has contributed another thrilling mystery with not a dull line in it. (Lippincott's Book.)

Death Over Newark. By Alexander Williams, author of "The Jinx." The author of this mystery story, a former detective, is a member of the New York City newspapermen. There is more than a thrill in every page and a crashing climax. (William Farquhar Payson, publisher, New York.)

The Woman With Two Smiles. A New Arsene Lupin Story. By Maurice Leblanc. Very few, if any, readers of Arsene Lupin, the famous French gentleman crook who does not welcome a new story in which he plays the leading part. So here's a new story about the famous character, and when you have finished it you will agree with all his other readers that he has contributed another thrilling mystery with not a dull line in it. (Lippincott's Book.)

Death Over Newark. By Alexander Williams, author of "The Jinx." The author of this mystery story, a former detective, is a member of the New York City newspapermen. There is more than a thrill in every page and a crashing climax. (William Farquhar Payson, publisher, New York.)

The Woman With Two Smiles. A New Arsene Lupin Story. By Maurice Leblanc. Very few, if any, readers of Arsene Lupin, the famous French gentleman crook who does not welcome a new story in which he plays the leading part. So here's a new story about the famous character, and when you have finished it you will agree with all his other readers that he has contributed another thrilling mystery with not a dull line in it. (Lippincott's Book.)

Death Over Newark. By Alexander Williams, author of "The Jinx." The author of this mystery story, a former detective, is a member of the New York City newspapermen. There is more than a thrill in every page and a crashing climax. (William Farquhar Payson, publisher, New York.)

The Woman With Two Smiles. A New Arsene Lupin Story. By Maurice Leblanc. Very few, if any, readers of Arsene Lupin, the famous French gentleman crook who does not welcome a new story in which he plays the leading part. So here's a new story about the famous character, and when you have finished it you will agree with all his other readers that he has contributed another thrilling mystery with not a dull line in it. (Lippincott's Book.)

Death Over Newark. By Alexander Williams, author of "The Jinx." The author of this mystery story, a former detective, is a member of the New York City newspapermen. There is more than a thrill in every page and a crashing climax. (William Farquhar Payson, publisher, New York.)

The Woman With Two Smiles. A New Arsene Lupin Story. By Maurice Leblanc. Very few, if any, readers of Arsene Lupin, the famous French gentleman crook who does not welcome a new story in which he plays the leading part. So here's a new story about the famous character, and when you have finished it you will agree with all his other readers that he has contributed another thrilling mystery with not a dull line in it. (Lippincott's Book.)

Death Over Newark. By Alexander Williams, author of "The Jinx." The author of this mystery story, a former detective, is a member of the New York City newspapermen. There is more than a thrill in every page and a crashing climax. (William Farquhar Payson, publisher, New York.)

The Woman With Two Smiles. A New Arsene Lupin Story. By Maurice Leblanc. Very few, if any, readers of Arsene Lupin, the famous French gentleman crook who does not welcome a new story in which he plays the leading part. So here's a new story about the famous character, and when you have finished it you will agree with all his other readers that he has contributed another thrilling mystery with not a dull line in it. (Lippincott's Book.)

Death Over Newark. By Alexander Williams, author of "The Jinx." The author of this mystery story, a former detective, is a member of the New York City newspapermen. There is more than a thrill in every page and a crashing climax. (William Farquhar Payson, publisher, New York.)

The Woman With Two Smiles. A New Arsene Lupin Story. By Maurice Leblanc. Very few, if any, readers of Arsene Lupin, the famous French gentleman crook who does not welcome a new story in which he plays the leading part. So here's a new story about the famous character, and when you have finished it you will agree with all his other readers that he has contributed another thrilling mystery with not a dull line in it. (Lippincott's Book.)

Death Over Newark. By Alexander Williams, author of "The Jinx." The author of this mystery story, a former detective, is a member of the New York City newspapermen. There is more than a thrill in every page and a crashing climax. (William Farquhar Payson, publisher, New York.)

The Woman With Two Smiles. A New Arsene Lupin Story. By Maurice Leblanc. Very few, if any, readers of Arsene Lupin, the famous French gentleman crook who does not welcome a new story in which he plays the leading part. So here's a new story about the famous character, and when you have finished it you will agree with all his other readers that he has contributed another thrilling mystery with not a dull line in it. (Lippincott's Book.)

Death Over Newark. By Alexander Williams, author of "The Jinx." The author of this mystery story, a former detective, is a member of the New York City newspapermen. There is more than a thrill in every page and a crashing climax. (William Farquhar Payson, publisher, New York.)

The Woman With Two Smiles. A New Arsene Lupin Story. By Maurice Leblanc. Very few, if any, readers of Arsene Lupin, the famous French gentleman crook who does not welcome a new story in which he plays the leading part. So here's a new story about the famous character, and when you have finished it you will agree with all his other readers that he has contributed another thrilling mystery with not a dull line in it. (Lippincott's Book.)

Death Over Newark. By Alexander Williams, author of "The Jinx." The author of this mystery story, a former detective, is a member of the New York City newspapermen. There is more than a thrill in every page and a crashing climax. (William Farquhar Payson, publisher, New York.)

The Woman With Two Smiles. A New Arsene Lupin Story. By Maurice Leblanc. Very few, if any, readers of Arsene Lupin, the famous French gentleman crook who does not welcome a new story in which he plays the leading part. So here's a new story about the famous character, and when you have finished it you will agree with all his other readers that he has contributed another thrilling mystery with not a dull line in it. (Lippincott's Book.)

Death Over Newark. By Alexander Williams, author of "The Jinx." The author of this mystery story, a former detective, is a member of the New York City newspapermen. There is more than a thrill in every page and a crashing climax. (William Farquhar Payson, publisher, New York.)

The Woman With Two Smiles. A New Arsene Lupin Story. By Maurice Leblanc. Very few, if any, readers of Arsene Lupin, the famous French gentleman crook who does not welcome a new story in which he plays the leading part. So here's a new story about the famous character, and when you have finished it you will agree with all his other readers that he has contributed another thrilling mystery with not a dull line in it. (Lippincott's Book.)

Death Over Newark. By Alexander Williams, author of "The Jinx." The author of this mystery story, a former detective, is a member of the New York City newspapermen. There is more than a thrill in every page and a crashing climax. (William Farquhar Payson, publisher, New York.)

The Woman With Two Smiles. A New Arsene Lupin Story. By Maurice Leblanc. Very few, if any, readers of Arsene Lupin, the famous French gentleman crook who does not welcome a new story in which he plays the leading part. So here's a new story about the famous character, and when you have finished it you will agree with all his other readers that he has contributed another thrilling mystery with not a dull line in it. (Lippincott's Book.)

Death Over Newark. By Alexander Williams, author of "The Jinx." The author of this mystery story, a former detective, is a member of the New York City newspapermen. There is more than a thrill in every page and a crashing climax. (William Farquhar Payson, publisher, New York.)

The Woman With Two Smiles. A New Arsene Lupin Story. By Maurice Leblanc. Very few, if any, readers of Arsene Lupin, the famous French gentleman crook who does not welcome a new story in which he plays the leading part. So here's a new story about the famous character, and

This Page Has Been for a Quarter of a Century the Official Organ of the Georgia Federation GEORGIA STATE FEDERATION OF WOMEN'S CLUBS

Organized in 1896—Membership 30,000—Joined General Federation in 1896—Motto: "Wisdom, Justice, Moderation"—Club Flower: Cherokee Rose.

PRESIDENT: Mrs. J. W. Gholston, of Comer; first vice president, Mrs. E. M. Bailey, of Acworth; recording secretary, Mrs. John Morganian, of Palmetto; corresponding secretary, Mrs. B. R. Hitchcock, of Atlanta; treasurer, Mrs. M. M. Ryan, of Jefferson; parliamentarian, Mrs. Howard Henry Grady hotel, Atlanta, Telephone Main 2173; national headquarters, 1785 N street, N. W., Washington, D. C.; Hartford Green, of Ebenezer, fifth; Mrs. John MacDowell, 94 Peachtree road; sixth; Mrs. Ralph Butler, of Dallas; eighth; Mrs. R. G. Dickerson, of Homersville; ninth; Mrs. H. P. La Ferriere, of Hoschton; tenth; Mrs. Walter Armistead, of Crawford; chairman, Parlor E, Henry Grady hotel.

American Citizenship Programs Will Be Featured in January

American citizenship, listed alphabetically as the first of the nine major departments of work in the General and State Federations of Women's Clubs, is the subject for many club programs in January. Miss Emily Louise Plumley of Glenbrook, Chicago, is the director of the work in the General Federation, and Mrs. Lena Felker Lewis is state chairman for Georgia. The December issue of The Clubwoman G. F. W. C. carries "My Country's Flag" words and music by Miss Plumley, in honor of and dedicated to the General Federation of Women's Clubs, which is appropriate to the month.

Augusta Woman's Club.—Mrs. C. L. Duvall, president, presented on January 2 "Law and Legislation," with Mrs. Albert Von Kamp, chairman, and Mrs. W. G. Johnson, S. A. Keefer and Walter Griffin. A cake sale under the direction of Mrs. W. L. Taylor was the project for the month.

Marietta Woman's Club.—January meeting of Manchester Woman's Club with Mrs. J. O. Dloses as leader featured "The Time of Beginning Again" with talks on "Resolutions and Their Influence" and "Resolutions in Relation to My Club." Hostesses were J. A. Johnson, S. A. Keefer and W. G. Johnson. A cake sale under the direction of Mrs. W. L. Taylor was the project for the month.

"Causes of Crime" will be the subject of the program of Vidalia Woman's Club on January 11, with Mrs. Frank C. Ladd, leader. Mr. Howard H. Hall will talk on "Environment" and Mrs. John T. Ragan will discuss "Our Casual Attitude and Failure of Punishment." A reading, "Miss Civilization," will be given by Mrs. J. E. Mercer.

Valdosta Wymodausis.

The first meeting of the new year of Wymodausis Club of Valsota, of which Mrs. W. H. Oliver is president, will be held at the clubhouse on January 10. The program will be "What tends to the building of human character is above price," will be under the leadership of Mrs. Harry Stump and will feature "The Clubwoman G. F. W. C. carries 'My Country's Flag' words and music by Miss Plumley, in honor of and dedicated to the General Federation of Women's Clubs, which is appropriate to the month.

Manchester Woman's Club.—January meeting of Manchester Woman's Club with Mrs. J. O. Dloses as leader featured "The Time of Beginning Again" with talks on "Resolutions and Their Influence" and "Resolutions in Relation to My Club." Hostesses were J. A. Johnson, S. A. Keefer and W. G. Johnson. A cake sale under the direction of Mrs. W. L. Taylor was the project for the month.

Marietta Woman's Club.—On January 23 the Marietta Woman's Club meets at the clubhouse with the president, Mrs. John Dorsey, presiding. Mrs. John Boston has arranged a "memorial luncheon" and Mrs. John T. Ragan will discuss "Our Casual Attitude and Failure of Punishment." A reading, "Miss Civilization," will be given by Mrs. J. E. Mercer.

Records Preserved.—From the records of the first annual meeting the society was able to reproduce the signatures of all the members. At that time and for many years thereafter, it was not the custom for a woman to take part in any public performance. Therefore, the officers of the society requested of their community, frequently their husbands and members of the Illinois College faculty, to read their reports on public occasions. This was done at the first annual meeting, with the directresses of the society attending, but remaining silent. That procedure was carried out at the anniversary meeting.

Girls Educated.—At present there are 12 members of the board of directors, chosen for life, by a unanimous vote of the other members. More than 2,000 girls have been aided in obtaining an education and have gone out as teachers and missionaries to all parts of the world. Most of the present members are the third generation of a family holding membership in the society.

General Federation President Presents Twelve Point Program

To give clubwomen everywhere a new angle on resolution-making, as they stand on the threshold of 1934, the president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, Mrs. Grace Morrison Poole, in her monthly address, presents her 12-point program for the year. Each point gives three points to be used in intimate everyday life: conservation of her physical resources, widening her spiritual heritage. Enlarging this, she explains it would mean keeping an even poise, refusing to be swayed by the winds of fashion, keeping cheerful no matter what life gives from day to day, refusing to believe this is not a good world and affirming it is good to be alive and a part of it. Mentally it means taking the wealth of the arts of yesterday with the best of today and letting them make us better people. "A girl in spirit" comes imperceptibly many times, but the wisdom of the spiritual leaders of the world may be had for the asking.

"Then," continues Mrs. Poole, "there is the three-point program affecting my community and my state. I'll start with a determination that I'm going to be a useful citizen. I'll make the place where I live as attractive as its physical surroundings allow. I'll count up the assets and liabilities of my home town and see if by group effort I can't increase and develop the assets. I'll stop being a destructive knocker and become a constructive booster." Her second point will be to study her neighbors, copy their best and go them one better, and the third will be to break down the barriers separating her from those other leaders and other neighbors.

"My community is being a part of a state," continues Mrs. Poole, "how much do I know about it? How closely do I follow its law-making activities? How much help do I give it by intelligently contributing to its civic life in relation to its component parts and is 47 partners in these United States? Many serious state problems await our decision, what do I know about them? Now, another question that I love so dearly is at one of the most critical cross-roads of its existence. If I love my country well enough to make the material sacrifice she is asking for, it will be a wonderful new day; if not, I must not blame the country for that result.

"Then there is the world, for it's a tridom after you leave home—state, nation, world. Shall I take one country a year and thoroughly study it, or shall I take the present world situation and study causes and effects, and shall I take my country as the center and study the world in relation to it? The last three points, Mrs. Poole states that she will have to have help to accomplish the nine-point program outlined and will find her most complete set of tools in her club affiliations. "Of course, like all tools, I've got to use them to have them work," she said.

"I'll start with a determination that I'm going to be a useful citizen. I'll make the place where I live as attractive as its physical surroundings allow. I'll count up the assets and liabilities of my home town and see if by group effort I can't increase and develop the assets. I'll stop being a destructive knocker and become a constructive booster." Her second point will be to study her neighbors, copy their best and go them one better, and the third will be to break down the barriers separating her from those other leaders and other neighbors.

"My community is being a part of a state," continues Mrs. Poole, "how much do I know about it? How closely do I follow its law-making activities? How much help do I give it by intelligently contributing to its civic life in relation to its component parts and is 47 partners in these United States? Many serious state problems await our decision, what do I know about them? Now, another question that I love so dearly is at one of the most critical cross-roads of its existence. If I love my country well enough to make the material sacrifice she is asking for, it will be a wonderful new day; if not, I must not blame the country for that result.

"Then there is the world, for it's a tridom after you leave home—state, nation, world. Shall I take one country a year and thoroughly study it, or shall I take the present world situation and study causes and effects, and shall I take my country as the center and study the world in relation to it? The last three points, Mrs. Poole states that she will have to have help to accomplish the nine-point program outlined and will find her most complete set of tools in her club affiliations. "Of course, like all tools, I've got to use them to have them work," she said.

"I'll start with a determination that I'm going to be a useful citizen. I'll make the place where I live as attractive as its physical surroundings allow. I'll count up the assets and liabilities of my home town and see if by group effort I can't increase and develop the assets. I'll stop being a destructive knocker and become a constructive booster." Her second point will be to study her neighbors, copy their best and go them one better, and the third will be to break down the barriers separating her from those other leaders and other neighbors.

"My community is being a part of a state," continues Mrs. Poole, "how much do I know about it? How closely do I follow its law-making activities? How much help do I give it by intelligently contributing to its civic life in relation to its component parts and is 47 partners in these United States? Many serious state problems await our decision, what do I know about them? Now, another question that I love so dearly is at one of the most critical cross-roads of its existence. If I love my country well enough to make the material sacrifice she is asking for, it will be a wonderful new day; if not, I must not blame the country for that result.

"Then there is the world, for it's a tridom after you leave home—state, nation, world. Shall I take one country a year and thoroughly study it, or shall I take the present world situation and study causes and effects, and shall I take my country as the center and study the world in relation to it? The last three points, Mrs. Poole states that she will have to have help to accomplish the nine-point program outlined and will find her most complete set of tools in her club affiliations. "Of course, like all tools, I've got to use them to have them work," she said.

"I'll start with a determination that I'm going to be a useful citizen. I'll make the place where I live as attractive as its physical surroundings allow. I'll count up the assets and liabilities of my home town and see if by group effort I can't increase and develop the assets. I'll stop being a destructive knocker and become a constructive booster." Her second point will be to study her neighbors, copy their best and go them one better, and the third will be to break down the barriers separating her from those other leaders and other neighbors.

"My community is being a part of a state," continues Mrs. Poole, "how much do I know about it? How closely do I follow its law-making activities? How much help do I give it by intelligently contributing to its civic life in relation to its component parts and is 47 partners in these United States? Many serious state problems await our decision, what do I know about them? Now, another question that I love so dearly is at one of the most critical cross-roads of its existence. If I love my country well enough to make the material sacrifice she is asking for, it will be a wonderful new day; if not, I must not blame the country for that result.

"Then there is the world, for it's a tridom after you leave home—state, nation, world. Shall I take one country a year and thoroughly study it, or shall I take the present world situation and study causes and effects, and shall I take my country as the center and study the world in relation to it? The last three points, Mrs. Poole states that she will have to have help to accomplish the nine-point program outlined and will find her most complete set of tools in her club affiliations. "Of course, like all tools, I've got to use them to have them work," she said.

"I'll start with a determination that I'm going to be a useful citizen. I'll make the place where I live as attractive as its physical surroundings allow. I'll count up the assets and liabilities of my home town and see if by group effort I can't increase and develop the assets. I'll stop being a destructive knocker and become a constructive booster." Her second point will be to study her neighbors, copy their best and go them one better, and the third will be to break down the barriers separating her from those other leaders and other neighbors.

"My community is being a part of a state," continues Mrs. Poole, "how much do I know about it? How closely do I follow its law-making activities? How much help do I give it by intelligently contributing to its civic life in relation to its component parts and is 47 partners in these United States? Many serious state problems await our decision, what do I know about them? Now, another question that I love so dearly is at one of the most critical cross-roads of its existence. If I love my country well enough to make the material sacrifice she is asking for, it will be a wonderful new day; if not, I must not blame the country for that result.

"Then there is the world, for it's a tridom after you leave home—state, nation, world. Shall I take one country a year and thoroughly study it, or shall I take the present world situation and study causes and effects, and shall I take my country as the center and study the world in relation to it? The last three points, Mrs. Poole states that she will have to have help to accomplish the nine-point program outlined and will find her most complete set of tools in her club affiliations. "Of course, like all tools, I've got to use them to have them work," she said.

"I'll start with a determination that I'm going to be a useful citizen. I'll make the place where I live as attractive as its physical surroundings allow. I'll count up the assets and liabilities of my home town and see if by group effort I can't increase and develop the assets. I'll stop being a destructive knocker and become a constructive booster." Her second point will be to study her neighbors, copy their best and go them one better, and the third will be to break down the barriers separating her from those other leaders and other neighbors.

"My community is being a part of a state," continues Mrs. Poole, "how much do I know about it? How closely do I follow its law-making activities? How much help do I give it by intelligently contributing to its civic life in relation to its component parts and is 47 partners in these United States? Many serious state problems await our decision, what do I know about them? Now, another question that I love so dearly is at one of the most critical cross-roads of its existence. If I love my country well enough to make the material sacrifice she is asking for, it will be a wonderful new day; if not, I must not blame the country for that result.

"Then there is the world, for it's a tridom after you leave home—state, nation, world. Shall I take one country a year and thoroughly study it, or shall I take the present world situation and study causes and effects, and shall I take my country as the center and study the world in relation to it? The last three points, Mrs. Poole states that she will have to have help to accomplish the nine-point program outlined and will find her most complete set of tools in her club affiliations. "Of course, like all tools, I've got to use them to have them work," she said.

"I'll start with a determination that I'm going to be a useful citizen. I'll make the place where I live as attractive as its physical surroundings allow. I'll count up the assets and liabilities of my home town and see if by group effort I can't increase and develop the assets. I'll stop being a destructive knocker and become a constructive booster." Her second point will be to study her neighbors, copy their best and go them one better, and the third will be to break down the barriers separating her from those other leaders and other neighbors.

"My community is being a part of a state," continues Mrs. Poole, "how much do I know about it? How closely do I follow its law-making activities? How much help do I give

General Federation's Oldest Club Was Organized in September, 1834

Several years ago when General Federation of Women's Clubs conducted a nation-wide survey to ferret out the oldest club in the country, it was gleaned that the Ladies' Educational Society, of Jacksonville, Ill., organized on September 18, 1834, had the distinction of being the oldest club carrying on continuously down to the present day.

The celebration of the one hundredth anniversary of the Ladies' Educational Society took the form of a reproduction of the first annual meeting of the society. Furniture, costumes, heirlooms—all of a year or more—were used. The original meeting, which took place in the Civil War, was much discussed. The society's ability of discontinuing the society, but was decided that the need of such a group was even greater in war time. The society was incorporated under the laws of the state of Illinois in 1872, so that bequests could be received. This money is divided into three funds: one for presidential scholarships, for local, and the other the Bannister fund, to make loans of not more than $100 a year to two senior girls in college who would not otherwise be able to complete their education.

Girls Educated.—At present there are 12 members of the board of directors, chosen for life, by a unanimous vote of the other members. More than 2,000 girls have been aided in obtaining an education and have gone out as teachers and missionaries to all parts of the world. Most of the present members are the third generation of a family holding membership in the society.

General Federation President Presents Twelve Point Program

To give clubwomen everywhere a new angle on resolution-making, as they stand on the threshold of 1934, the president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, Mrs. Grace Morrison Poole, in her monthly address, presents her 12-point program for the year. Each point gives three points to be used in intimate everyday life: conservation of her physical resources, widening her spiritual heritage. Enlarging this, she explains it would mean keeping an even poise, refusing to be swayed by the winds of fashion, keeping cheerful no matter what life gives from day to day, refusing to believe this is not a good world and affirming it is good to be alive and a part of it. Mentally it means taking the wealth of the arts of yesterday with the best of today and letting them make us better people. "A girl in spirit" comes imperceptibly many times, but the wisdom of the spiritual leaders of the world may be had for the asking.

"Then," continues Mrs. Poole, "there is the three-point program affecting my community and my state. I'll start with a determination that I'm going to be a useful citizen. I'll make the place where I live as attractive as its physical surroundings allow. I'll count up the assets and liabilities of my home town and see if by group effort I can't increase and develop the assets. I'll stop being a destructive knocker and become a constructive booster." Her second point will be to study her neighbors, copy their best and go them one better, and the third will be to break down the barriers separating her from those other leaders and other neighbors.

"My community is being a part of a state," continues Mrs. Poole, "how much do I know about it? How closely do I follow its law-making activities? How much help do I give it by intelligently contributing to its civic life in relation to its component parts and is 47 partners in these United States? Many serious state problems await our decision, what do I know about them? Now, another question that I love so dearly is at one of the most critical cross-roads of its existence. If I love my country well enough to make the material sacrifice she is asking for, it will be a wonderful new day; if not, I must not blame the country for that result.

"Then there is the world, for it's a tridom after you leave home—state, nation, world. Shall I take one country a year and thoroughly study it, or shall I take the present world situation and study causes and effects, and shall I take my country as the center and study the world in relation to it? The last three points, Mrs. Poole states that she will have to have help to accomplish the nine-point program outlined and will find her most complete set of tools in her club affiliations. "Of course, like all tools, I've got to use them to have them work," she said.

"I'll start with a determination that I'm going to be a useful citizen. I'll make the place where I live as attractive as its physical surroundings allow. I'll count up the assets and liabilities of my home town and see if by group effort I can't increase and develop the assets. I'll stop being a destructive knocker and become a constructive booster." Her second point will be to study her neighbors, copy their best and go them one better, and the third will be to break down the barriers separating her from those other leaders and other neighbors.

"My community is being a part of a state," continues Mrs. Poole, "how much do I know about it? How closely do I follow its law-making activities? How much help do I give it by intelligently contributing to its civic life in relation to its component parts and is 47 partners in these United States? Many serious state problems await our decision, what do I know about them? Now, another question that I love so dearly is at one of the most critical cross-roads of its existence. If I love my country well enough to make the material sacrifice she is asking for, it will be a wonderful new day; if not, I must not blame the country for that result.

"Then there is the world, for it's a tridom after you leave home—state, nation, world. Shall I take one country a year and thoroughly study it, or shall I take the present world situation and study causes and effects, and shall I take my country as the center and study the world in relation to it? The last three points, Mrs. Poole states that she will have to have help to accomplish the nine-point program outlined and will find her most complete set of tools in her club affiliations. "Of course, like all tools, I've got to use them to have them work," she said.

"I'll start with a determination that I'm going to be a useful citizen. I'll make the place where I live as attractive as its physical surroundings allow. I'll count up the assets and liabilities of my home town and see if by group effort I can't increase and develop the assets. I'll stop being a destructive knocker and become a constructive booster." Her second point will be to study her neighbors, copy their best and go them one better, and the third will be to break down the barriers separating her from those other leaders and other neighbors.

"My community is being a part of a state," continues Mrs. Poole, "how much do I know about it? How closely do I follow its law-making activities? How much help do I give it by intelligently contributing to its civic life in relation to its component parts and is 47 partners in these United States? Many serious state problems await our decision, what do I know about them? Now, another question that I love so dearly is at one of the most critical cross-roads of its existence. If I love my country well enough to make the material sacrifice she is asking for, it will be a wonderful new day; if not, I must not blame the country for that result.

"Then there is the world, for it's a tridom after you leave home—state, nation, world. Shall I take one country a year and thoroughly study it, or shall I take the present world situation and study causes and effects, and shall I take my country as the center and study the world in relation to it? The last three points, Mrs. Poole states that she will have to have help

FEDERATED CHURCH WOMEN OF GEORGIA

"Laborers Together With God"—1 Cor. 3:9. Founded by the Late Mrs. Albert Braswell.
OFFICERS: Mrs. T. L. Lewis, honorary president, 397 Fourth street, N. E., Atlanta; Mrs. C. R. Stauffer, vice president, 837 Virginia avenue, Atlanta, Ga.; Miss Mary Randolph Kent, first vice president, 455 N. Highland avenue, N. E., Atlanta; Mrs. L. O. Freeman, second vice president, 302 West Rugby street, College Park; Mrs. F. R. Graham, corresponding secretary, 1050 Gordon street, Atlanta; Mrs. A. V. Keebley, treasurer, 116 King's Highway, Decatur, Ga.; Mrs. Edgar Craighead, historian, 1789 N. Decatur road, N. E., Atlanta; Mrs. Thomas Morgan, chaplain, 947 Peachtree street, N. E., Atlanta.

STATE EDITOR: Miss Elizabeth Sawtell, 256 Richardson street, S. W., Atlanta; Ga. Associate Editors: Rev. Mrs. S. L. Astin, 1141 Hudson drive, and Mrs. R. E. Moore, 1230 Peachtree street, N. E.; Mrs. Chester Martin, F. O. Box 100, Marietta; Methodist, Mrs. E. L. Edwards, 600 Peachtree avenue, S. W.; Mrs. L. C. Hale, 1018 Oxford road, N. E.; Episcopalian, Mrs. Allan V. Gray, 2744 Peachtree road, and Mrs. W. E. Coulter, 955 Rosedale drive, N. E.; Presbyterian, Miss E. Elizabeth Sawtell, 256 Richardson street, S. W.; Congregational Christian, Mrs. W. T. McElveen, 16 Woodcrest avenue, N. E.

Atlanta Music Club Announces Hymn Chosen for Month of January

From the Atlanta Music Club's department of music and religious education, Miss Nana Tucker, chairman, comes the suggestion for the hymn of the month to be used for spiritual study in the churches of Atlanta sometime during January, "Watchman, Tell Us of the Night," a century-old hymn found in hymnals of all denominations is the one chosen.

In this well-known hymn is contained sentiment befitting the opening months of a new year.

Each year is observed in many churches. In the question asked by the traveler, "Watchman, tell us of the night, what its signs of promise are," and the answer of the watchman as he points upward to the day of promise, is a message applicable to the present day, more particularly to the period of the troublous times in which it was written, something over a hundred years ago.

In words that are clarion tones of faith and trust he directs the traveler to the Light of Christianity, Christian ideals and Christian principles, and bids him follow the gleam.

Sir John Rowling, a stout Unitarian, brilliant member of the British parliament, editor of The Westminster Review, consul to Hongkong, noted scholar and linguist, found expression for his deep religious convictions in two volumes of hymns, one of which he published in 1823, the other in 1825.

"Watchman, Tell Us of the Night," first appeared in 1825. The tune by which it is generally known is called "Watchman," a tune composed especially for the words of Lowell Mason, American hymn writer, in 1830.

The words of the hymn follow:

Watchman, tell us of the night,
What its signs of promise are?
Traveler, o'er you mountain height
See that gloomy evening star!

Watchman, does it promise ray
Of light or joy, or peace, or rest?
Traveler, yes, it brings the day,
Promised day of Israel.

Watchman, tell us of the night;
Higher yet that star ascends.
Traveler, blessedness and light,
Peace and truth its course portends:

Watchman, will its beams alone
Turn the dark night into day?
Traveler, ages pass, and time
See it burst o'er all the earth!

Watchman, tell us of the night,
For the morning seems to dawn.
Traveler, darkness takes its flight;
Doubt and terror are withdrawn.

Watchman, let thy wandering cease;
Hie thee to thy quiet home!
Traveler, lo, the Prince of Peace,
Lo, the Son of God is come!

In this well-known hymn is contained sentiment befitting the opening months of a new year, more particularly to the period of the troublous times in which it was written, something over a hundred years ago.

In words that are clarion tones of faith and trust he directs the traveler to the Light of Christianity, Christian ideals and Christian principles, and bids him follow the gleam.

Sir John Rowling, a stout Unitarian, brilliant member of the British parliament, editor of The Westminster Review, consul to Hongkong, noted scholar and linguist, found ex-

Important Announcements Feature Baptist W. M. U. Board Meeting

Many matters of importance were called to the attention of the members of the Atlanta association, extending at the meeting held at headquarters January 2. Chief among these was the announcement by the president, Mrs. Ben S. Thompson, of Madison, of the date of meeting of the annual convention of W. M. U. of Georgia. As has been the custom for a number of years past, the convention chairman will be guest speaker at the meeting, and the president and the public is invited to attend.

The report of Miss Mary Christian, state Young People's secretary, featured a tour of Georgia colleges during December, accompanied by Miss Pearl Bourne of Birmingham, Ala., in the interest of College Young Women Auxiliaries. Miss A. E. Mahon was elected on through her office 80 suggested programs, 2857 circular letters, 8,814 letters, 2,031 mission study awards, and 779 certificates.

The board welcomed Mrs. W. J. Neal, beloved former president, now associated with Dr. Ben S. Thompson, W. M. U. College. Mrs. Ethel D. Burge presented a chapter from "Intercessory Prayer," by McClure, as the devotional and T. P. Stephens' social and entertainment program.

Mrs. N. A. Moore, Mrs. Charles Witherspoon and Mrs. S. S. Curtis.

This class of more than 100 members was organized one year ago, the organization being perfected at a meeting held February 1, 1933, with 41 members present. The work of the class and 118 garments were made and delivered to the Atlanta branch of the American Needleworkers' Guild for distribution to the needy. The membership fee to the Needwork Guild was paid, the class thereby becoming a member of the National Council of America. One sewing machine was donated and three others graciously lent to the class for this purpose.

It is proposed this year to continue the former activities of the class, but the major purpose will be to develop the spiritual lives of its members. In addition to the committees which functioned last year, a devotional committee has been appointed, which will seek to promote the devotional and spiritual life and will conduct the devotional part of the Sunday morning class meetings. Spiritual development through service to others will be the keynote of the activities of the class for the year.

Those present were Mesdames Lester Brown, F. L. Phillips, Gordon Weekley, Roger S. Howell, W. Z. Ziegler, W. H. Henry, R. C. Lakin, L. B. Smith, Eliphen D. Burge, John T. Thompson, Ben S. Thompson, A. F. McMahon, J. C. Lanier, B. L. Rugg, Paul Etheridge, George Westmoreland, L. O. Freeman, S. L. Astin and Miss Mary Christian.

The board voted to endorse a movement to be known as the Mercer University pilgrimage to take place some time in April, the object of this movement being to bring the members of the students graduating from high schools by a personal visit to Mercer as guests of that institution. The co-operation of the Mercer alumnae, as well as the Mercer auxiliary, is sought by W. M. U. that this project is sponsored by them may result in much good to this loved institution.

Mrs. O. O. Neel, superintendent of the Atlanta association, extended an official invitation to the state board to be present at the annual associational meeting to be held at Druid Hills Baptist church, February 1 and 2. Mrs. Carter Wright, of Roanoke, Ala., southwide stewardship chairman will be guest speaker at the meeting, and the president and the public is invited to attend.

The report of Miss Mary Christian, state Young People's secretary, featured a tour of Georgia colleges during December, accompanied by Miss Pearl Bourne of Birmingham, Ala., in the interest of College Young Women Auxiliaries. Miss A. E. Mahon was elected on through her office 80 suggested programs, 2857 circular letters, 8,814 letters, 2,031 mission study awards, and 779 certificates.

The board welcomed Mrs. W. J. Neal, beloved former president, now associated with Dr. Ben S. Thompson, W. M. U. College.

Mrs. Ethel D. Burge presented a chapter from "Intercessory Prayer," by McClure, as the devotional and T. P. Stephens' social and entertainment program.

Mrs. N. A. Moore, Mrs. Charles Witherspoon and Mrs. S. S. Curtis.

This class of more than 100 members was organized one year ago, the organization being perfected at a meeting held February 1, 1933, with 41 members present. The work of the class and 118 garments were made and delivered to the Atlanta branch of the American Needleworkers' Guild for distribution to the needy. The membership fee to the Needwork Guild was paid, the class thereby becoming a member of the National Council of America. One sewing machine was donated and three others graciously lent to the class for this purpose.

It is proposed this year to continue the former activities of the class, but the major purpose will be to develop the spiritual lives of its members. In addition to the committees which functioned last year, a devotional committee has been appointed, which will seek to promote the devotional and spiritual life and will conduct the devotional part of the Sunday morning class meetings. Spiritual development through service to others will be the keynote of the activities of the class for the year.

Those present were Mesdames Lester Brown, F. L. Phillips, Gordon Weekley, Roger S. Howell, W. Z. Ziegler, W. H. Henry, R. C. Lakin, L. B. Smith, Eliphen D. Burge, John T. Thompson, Ben S. Thompson, A. F. McMahon, J. C. Lanier, B. L. Rugg, Paul Etheridge, George Westmoreland, L. O. Freeman, S. L. Astin and Miss Mary Christian.

The board voted to endorse a movement to be known as the Mercer University pilgrimage to take place some time in April, the object of this movement being to bring the members of the students graduating from high schools by a personal visit to Mercer as guests of that institution. The co-operation of the Mercer alumnae, as well as the Mercer auxiliary, is sought by W. M. U. that this project is sponsored by them may result in much good to this loved institution.

Mrs. O. O. Neel, superintendent of the Atlanta association, extended an official invitation to the state board to be present at the annual associational meeting to be held at Druid Hills Baptist church, February 1 and 2. Mrs. Carter Wright, of Roanoke, Ala., southwide stewardship chairman will be guest speaker at the meeting, and the president and the public is invited to attend.

The report of Miss Mary Christian, state Young People's secretary, featured a tour of Georgia colleges during December, accompanied by Miss Pearl Bourne of Birmingham, Ala., in the interest of College Young Women Auxiliaries. Miss A. E. Mahon was elected on through her office 80 suggested programs, 2857 circular letters, 8,814 letters, 2,031 mission study awards, and 779 certificates.

The board welcomed Mrs. W. J. Neal, beloved former president, now associated with Dr. Ben S. Thompson, W. M. U. College.

Mrs. Ethel D. Burge presented a chapter from "Intercessory Prayer," by McClure, as the devotional and T. P. Stephens' social and entertainment program.

Mrs. N. A. Moore, Mrs. Charles Witherspoon and Mrs. S. S. Curtis.

This class of more than 100 members was organized one year ago, the organization being perfected at a meeting held February 1, 1933, with 41 members present. The work of the class and 118 garments were made and delivered to the Atlanta branch of the American Needleworkers' Guild for distribution to the needy. The membership fee to the Needwork Guild was paid, the class thereby becoming a member of the National Council of America. One sewing machine was donated and three others graciously lent to the class for this purpose.

It is proposed this year to continue the former activities of the class, but the major purpose will be to develop the spiritual lives of its members. In addition to the committees which functioned last year, a devotional committee has been appointed, which will seek to promote the devotional and spiritual life and will conduct the devotional part of the Sunday morning class meetings. Spiritual development through service to others will be the keynote of the activities of the class for the year.

Those present were Mesdames Lester Brown, F. L. Phillips, Gordon Weekley, Roger S. Howell, W. Z. Ziegler, W. H. Henry, R. C. Lakin, L. B. Smith, Eliphen D. Burge, John T. Thompson, Ben S. Thompson, A. F. McMahon, J. C. Lanier, B. L. Rugg, Paul Etheridge, George Westmoreland, L. O. Freeman, S. L. Astin and Miss Mary Christian.

The board voted to endorse a movement to be known as the Mercer University pilgrimage to take place some time in April, the object of this movement being to bring the members of the students graduating from high schools by a personal visit to Mercer as guests of that institution. The co-operation of the Mercer alumnae, as well as the Mercer auxiliary, is sought by W. M. U. that this project is sponsored by them may result in much good to this loved institution.

Mrs. O. O. Neel, superintendent of the Atlanta association, extended an official invitation to the state board to be present at the annual associational meeting to be held at Druid Hills Baptist church, February 1 and 2. Mrs. Carter Wright, of Roanoke, Ala., southwide stewardship chairman will be guest speaker at the meeting, and the president and the public is invited to attend.

The report of Miss Mary Christian, state Young People's secretary, featured a tour of Georgia colleges during December, accompanied by Miss Pearl Bourne of Birmingham, Ala., in the interest of College Young Women Auxiliaries. Miss A. E. Mahon was elected on through her office 80 suggested programs, 2857 circular letters, 8,814 letters, 2,031 mission study awards, and 779 certificates.

The board welcomed Mrs. W. J. Neal, beloved former president, now associated with Dr. Ben S. Thompson, W. M. U. College.

Mrs. Ethel D. Burge presented a chapter from "Intercessory Prayer," by McClure, as the devotional and T. P. Stephens' social and entertainment program.

Mrs. N. A. Moore, Mrs. Charles Witherspoon and Mrs. S. S. Curtis.

This class of more than 100 members was organized one year ago, the organization being perfected at a meeting held February 1, 1933, with 41 members present. The work of the class and 118 garments were made and delivered to the Atlanta branch of the American Needleworkers' Guild for distribution to the needy. The membership fee to the Needwork Guild was paid, the class thereby becoming a member of the National Council of America. One sewing machine was donated and three others graciously lent to the class for this purpose.

It is proposed this year to continue the former activities of the class, but the major purpose will be to develop the spiritual lives of its members. In addition to the committees which functioned last year, a devotional committee has been appointed, which will seek to promote the devotional and spiritual life and will conduct the devotional part of the Sunday morning class meetings. Spiritual development through service to others will be the keynote of the activities of the class for the year.

Those present were Mesdames Lester Brown, F. L. Phillips, Gordon Weekley, Roger S. Howell, W. Z. Ziegler, W. H. Henry, R. C. Lakin, L. B. Smith, Eliphen D. Burge, John T. Thompson, Ben S. Thompson, A. F. McMahon, J. C. Lanier, B. L. Rugg, Paul Etheridge, George Westmoreland, L. O. Freeman, S. L. Astin and Miss Mary Christian.

The board voted to endorse a movement to be known as the Mercer University pilgrimage to take place some time in April, the object of this movement being to bring the members of the students graduating from high schools by a personal visit to Mercer as guests of that institution. The co-operation of the Mercer alumnae, as well as the Mercer auxiliary, is sought by W. M. U. that this project is sponsored by them may result in much good to this loved institution.

Mrs. O. O. Neel, superintendent of the Atlanta association, extended an official invitation to the state board to be present at the annual associational meeting to be held at Druid Hills Baptist church, February 1 and 2. Mrs. Carter Wright, of Roanoke, Ala., southwide stewardship chairman will be guest speaker at the meeting, and the president and the public is invited to attend.

The report of Miss Mary Christian, state Young People's secretary, featured a tour of Georgia colleges during December, accompanied by Miss Pearl Bourne of Birmingham, Ala., in the interest of College Young Women Auxiliaries. Miss A. E. Mahon was elected on through her office 80 suggested programs, 2857 circular letters, 8,814 letters, 2,031 mission study awards, and 779 certificates.

The board welcomed Mrs. W. J. Neal, beloved former president, now associated with Dr. Ben S. Thompson, W. M. U. College.

Mrs. Ethel D. Burge presented a chapter from "Intercessory Prayer," by McClure, as the devotional and T. P. Stephens' social and entertainment program.

Mrs. N. A. Moore, Mrs. Charles Witherspoon and Mrs. S. S. Curtis.

This class of more than 100 members was organized one year ago, the organization being perfected at a meeting held February 1, 1933, with 41 members present. The work of the class and 118 garments were made and delivered to the Atlanta branch of the American Needleworkers' Guild for distribution to the needy. The membership fee to the Needwork Guild was paid, the class thereby becoming a member of the National Council of America. One sewing machine was donated and three others graciously lent to the class for this purpose.

It is proposed this year to continue the former activities of the class, but the major purpose will be to develop the spiritual lives of its members. In addition to the committees which functioned last year, a devotional committee has been appointed, which will seek to promote the devotional and spiritual life and will conduct the devotional part of the Sunday morning class meetings. Spiritual development through service to others will be the keynote of the activities of the class for the year.

Those present were Mesdames Lester Brown, F. L. Phillips, Gordon Weekley, Roger S. Howell, W. Z. Ziegler, W. H. Henry, R. C. Lakin, L. B. Smith, Eliphen D. Burge, John T. Thompson, Ben S. Thompson, A. F. McMahon, J. C. Lanier, B. L. Rugg, Paul Etheridge, George Westmoreland, L. O. Freeman, S. L. Astin and Miss Mary Christian.

The board voted to endorse a movement to be known as the Mercer University pilgrimage to take place some time in April, the object of this movement being to bring the members of the students graduating from high schools by a personal visit to Mercer as guests of that institution. The co-operation of the Mercer alumnae, as well as the Mercer auxiliary, is sought by W. M. U. that this project is sponsored by them may result in much good to this loved institution.

Mrs. O. O. Neel, superintendent of the Atlanta association, extended an official invitation to the state board to be present at the annual associational meeting to be held at Druid Hills Baptist church, February 1 and 2. Mrs. Carter Wright, of Roanoke, Ala., southwide stewardship chairman will be guest speaker at the meeting, and the president and the public is invited to attend.

The report of Miss Mary Christian, state Young People's secretary, featured a tour of Georgia colleges during December, accompanied by Miss Pearl Bourne of Birmingham, Ala., in the interest of College Young Women Auxiliaries. Miss A. E. Mahon was elected on through her office 80 suggested programs, 2857 circular letters, 8,814 letters, 2,031 mission study awards, and 779 certificates.

The board welcomed Mrs. W. J. Neal, beloved former president, now associated with Dr. Ben S. Thompson, W. M. U. College.

Mrs. Ethel D. Burge presented a chapter from "Intercessory Prayer," by McClure, as the devotional and T. P. Stephens' social and entertainment program.

Mrs. N. A. Moore, Mrs. Charles Witherspoon and Mrs. S. S. Curtis.

This class of more than 100 members was organized one year ago, the organization being perfected at a meeting held February 1, 1933, with 41 members present. The work of the class and 118 garments were made and delivered to the Atlanta branch of the American Needleworkers' Guild for distribution to the needy. The membership fee to the Needwork Guild was paid, the class thereby becoming a member of the National Council of America. One sewing machine was donated and three others graciously lent to the class for this purpose.

It is proposed this year to continue the former activities of the class, but the major purpose will be to develop the spiritual lives of its members. In addition to the committees which

Ready! All Atlanta Is Set to Go! Monday Begins HIGH'S JANUARY SILK SALE

● Thousands upon Thousands of Yards of Important NEW 1934 Variations!

No wonder capacity crowds will swarm our Silk Department. The new, 1934 fascinating silks are here—diminutive prints—daring tri-color prints—neatly spaced, tiny prints—solids in luscious tones. It's easy to sew—or those individual personalities who feel that ready-made clothes are too much alike—or, who yearn to have a hand in the making of their own clothes—will side-track the most fascinating engagements—until after they've been numbered among the enthusiasts in our Silk Department on Monday!

● At Prices We Enthusiastically Hail as LOWER Than We Expected!

All-Silk PRINTS

6,500 Yards! Worth $1.39 Yd.!

They're new! They're gorgeous! A riotous array of the loveliest of the gay bright prints for this spring 1934! Fascinating field flower prints, scratch effects, Polka dots, tailored designs. Vivid colors—pastels—on medium and light grounds. 39-in. wide.

69c
Yd.

Heavy! All-Silk--Flat Crepes

You'd Expect to Pay 79c Yd.!

39 inches wide—and every inch all pure silk! Lovely suede-finish, in all the new and wanted shades!

59c
Yd.

High's Fashion Crepes

Regularly 89c Yd.!

Guaranteed washable!—and, all pure silk. The new, vivid shades—and softer tones, also plenty of black, also white. The colors you want for mid-season and early spring wear! 39 inches wide!

74c
Yd.

"Paris" PRINTS

Worth $1.69 Yd. All-Silk

The new spring prints, originating in Paris—as refreshing as a spring bouquet! Original beauty and gayety in the color-splashed folds of these new spring silks. Vivid colors and pale, large patterns and small—plaids, stripes, field flowers and fruit prints. All pure silk and washable—39-in. wide.

88c
Yd.

Experimental Pieces--Spring Silks

$1 to $1.98 Values!

Only one piece of a type—so hurry—for your choice of Krinkle Crepe—Matlassé Crepe—Silk Seersucker—Rough Crepes. All pure silk.

59c
Yd.

4,800 Yards! Fine Silks

Worth $1.98 Yd.!

$1

Don't confuse these with ordinary silks at this price—they are not—but really fine new, fashionable weaves—for the late winter season! Included are: faille crepes—satin crepes—tucked sheers—ribbed crepes. Yd. ....

Amazing 3-Day SALE CURTAINS

Values to $1.69 Pr.!

Sketched—
... a few of the many styles!

RUFFLED CURTAINS : TAILORED CURTAINS

98c
Pair

You don't need to have a home—all you need is windows—to take an avid interest in this mighty sale. Of marquisette—as fresh, dainty and lovely as a May morning—in the new cushion dots, flowers, pin dots, woven dots—and solid ivory and ecru. Also Boston net in ecru! Re-curtain! ... at savings you're not likely to forget!

Free!

To every purchaser of curtains during this sale, we will give a 15c size package of Linit—the scientific laundry starch.

This Offer Good
For Three Days Only!

CURTAINS. HIGH'S STREET FLOOR

The Rug That Stood the Sidewalk Test!

Masland's Argonne Rugs

$28.98
$39.50
Value!

The right rug for any room! Those who saw it in front of our store—those who saw it after the test—KNOW that this rug can stand wear and tear. Seamless, all-wool, in beautiful Persian and all-over carpet designs—highlighted (not washed), giving a soft, sheer effect. Fringed at both ends. Size 9x12-ft.

SIZE 8 1/2 x 10 1/2 ARGONNE
RUG, $37.50 value..... $26.98

$5 CARPET SWEEPERS

"Sterling"—a nationally known sweeper ..... $3.49

SCATTER RUGS, to match,
27x54-in. ..... $2.49

FELT BASE RUGS

$9.75 Value! De Luxe, Congoleum and other makes. 9x12 ft. $6.98

HIGH'S STREET FLOOR

Clearance

Now! When You Need Them Most!

Luxurious!
Fur-Trimmed!

COATS

Be among the first to choose! Everyone who has a coat to buy! Individual styles you'll wear with pride NEXT winter as well as now! Models with the beauty of such furs as these: Fox, Persian, Skunk, Badger! Misses' and women's sizes.

$59.75 COATS $29.85
Reduced to .....

$69.75 COATS $34.85
Reduced to .....

$79.75 COATS $39.85
Reduced to .....

$98.75 COATS $44.85
Reduced to .....

HIGH'S SECOND FLOOR

Let Nothing Keep You Away—Bargains Everywhere You Turn!

Annual January White Sale

What savings! Even on standard brands—you gain substantially! No wonder then, that hundreds of people are telling their friends about this wonder-event! Urging them to check up—and supply their needs in this great annual event!

Your Choice! Reg. $1.49

Mohawk Sheets Cannon Sheets

• 63x99 Single or Twin $1.19
• 81x99 Full Size $1.19

Whatever you do—remember here are TWO nationally known brands—January sale-priced! Genuine Cannon! Genuine Mohawk brands! You KNOW there's quality combined with years of wear in every wonderful sheet.

$1
EACH

EXTRA SIZE
SHEETS, $1.19
81x108

PILLOW CASES,
size 42x36 ..... 25c

Bates Bedspreads
Indeed! Spreads worth $3.98! Examine the extra quality of these fine Colonial spreads. Edges scalloped all around. Size 84x105. $2.49 Ea.

Cannon Bath Towels
Value surprise! Worth 22c ea.—heavy double thread, with neat colored borders. Size 18x36. 15c Ea.

Patchwork Quilts

Yes! Reversible—in quaint old designs—and thrilling color combinations. Scallop edges. Size 80x84. Worth $2.98! $1.98 Ea.

HIGH'S STREET FLOOR

J.M. HIGH CO.

ENGAGEMENTS ANNOUNCED

SHOUP—HARRISON.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Conwell Shoup announce the engagement of their daughter, Sylvia Aldrich, to Ernest Robert Harrison, of Atlanta, formerly of Red Oak, Texas, the marriage to be solemnized on Friday, January 26, at the residence of the bride-elect on West Peachtree street.

LIEBMAN—GORTATOWSKY.

Mrs. J. Edwin Liebman, of New York city, announces the engagement of her daughter, Harriette, to Claude Gortatowsky, of Atlanta, the date of the marriage to be announced later.

GUTTENBERGER—ILLGES.

Mrs. Curtis Nottingham Guttentberger, of Macon, announces the engagement of her daughter, Mary Kimbrough, to John Paul Illges Jr., of Columbus, the wedding to be solemnized the latter part of February.

WORD—WARREN.

Mrs. Thomas M. Word announces the engagement of her daughter, Billie Grace, to Peter S. Warren, the marriage to be solemnized at an early date.

BRAY—JONES.

Mrs. and Mrs. C. H. Bray, of College Park, announce the engagement of their daughter, Clara, to J. Raymond Jones, the marriage to take place at an early date.

COWART—WEAVER.

Mrs. O. J. Cowart, of Roswell, announces the engagement of her daughter, Mary Ottwell, to Rogers H. Weaver, the marriage to be solemnized at an early date.

CARROLL—O'MALIE.

M. J. Carroll announces the engagement of his daughter, Catherine, to Charles Warner O'Malie, of Five Points, Ala., the marriage to be solemnized January 20.

MIZE—MEWBORNE.

Mrs. and Mrs. George S. Mize announce the engagement of their daughter, Kathryn, to Gene Newborne, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Howell Newborne, of Bowman, the marriage to take place at an early date.

Face What Promises To Be A Great Year Knowing (not guessing) That Good Health Will Go With You Along The Road That's "Open Again."

Determine Now To Have A Physical Examination By Your Doctor

If he gives you a Prescription have it filled at your Lane Drug Store, with expert care, and with pure fresh drugs.

Lane
DRUG STORES

HANAN'S
Half-Yearly
SALE WOMEN'S SHOES
$5.85 $6.85 $8.85

AN INVESTMENT FOR THE FUTURE
(Men's Shoes Also on Sale)

HANAN
170 Peachtree St., N. W.

Miss Sylvia Shoup To Wed Mr. Harrison on January 26

MISS SYLVIA ALDRICH SHOUP.—DAVISON-TAXON STUDIOS.

The engagement of Miss Sylvia Aldrich Shoup, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Conwell Shoup, is announced to Ernest Robert Harrison, the marriage to be solemnized January 26 at the home of the bride-elect's parents on West Peachtree street. Miss Shoup is a sister of Richard Conwell Shoup Jr. and Francis Shoup. Her mother was the former Miss Peabody Beebe Peck, of Atlanta, daughter of Dr. Frank Hoy Peck and Robe Goodrich Pierce; the granddaughter of John Calvin Peck, pioneer resident of Atlanta and prominent in the upbuilding and social life of Atlanta.

Her maternal ancestors include many of the early settlers of the St. John's River of North Carolina and the Carries, Goodriches and Coakes, of Virginia. Her father, Richard Conwell Shoup, has been prominent in business and religious activities in the state, and is descended from Increase Mather and from Benji Ross. He is a nephew of the late Rev. Franklin A. Shoup, doctor of the University of the South at Sewanee, Tenn., and is related to the lives of Mississippi.

Miss Shoup is a niece of George Stark Peck and Mrs. Howard Stark Peck, of New York city, the inventor of colored motion pictures, and Emerson Peck, of Buffalo, N. Y., and is a cousin of Mrs. Thomas Mell of Atlanta. The beautiful bride-elect is an honor graduate of Woodberry Hall, which was the sponsor of the "best all around girl," and is captain of the basketball team, and she is also a past president of the Dolly Madison chapter of the Children of the American Revolution. She is a member of the Pi Epsilon sorority of Woodberry Hall.

Her maternal ancestors include many of the early settlers of the St. John's River of North Carolina and the Carries, Goodriches and Coakes, of Virginia. Her father, Richard Conwell Shoup, has been prominent in business and religious activities in the state, and is descended from Increase Mather and from Benji Ross. He is a nephew of the late Rev. Franklin A. Shoup, doctor of the University of the South at Sewanee, Tenn., and is related to the lives of Mississippi.

Miss Dorothy McKibben became the bride of John Bowman Hand, of Philadelphia, Pa., at a beautiful afternoon ceremony solemnized at 4 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Martin McKibben. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. S. A. F. Wagner.

The home was elaborately decorated for the occasion, an improvised altar of palms being formed at one end of the living room. On either side were the bride's mother, Mrs. Dorothy McKibben, and floor baskets of white lilies completed the arrangement. A violin solo, "Schubert's Serenade," rendered by Francis O'Steen, accompanied by Bennett Eubanks at the piano, composed the musical selection.

Miss Estelle McKibben, sister of the bride, acted as maid of honor and Miss Dorothy was bridesmaid. She was gowned in pale blue crepe fitted along graceful lines. Featuring her costume was a jacket of the same material with peplum and high neck, and embroidered with dull silver beads. She carried pink roses.

The petite bride entered with her father. Her blonde beauty was a picture in white satin, fitted along princess lines, and extending into a short train. Tiny white satin buttons extended from the neck to the waist in the back. The sleeves were fashioned with the valley in Philadelphia.

Mr. and Mrs. Hand will make their home in Philadelphia.

Miss Ozburn Weds Franklin W. Roberts.

Mr. and Mrs. P. C. Ozburn announce the marriage of their daughter, Miss Carolyn Louise Ozburn, to Franklin William Roberts.

The marriage was quietly solemnized on December 17 at the Oakland Christian church by Rev. E. E. Steele in the presence of a few very close friends.

The bride's costume was of brown crepe with brown accessories to match. Her only attendant was Miss Mary Kate Wardlaw, and George Robertson acted as best man. Mr. and Mrs. Roberts are at home at 75 Fifth street.

Tate—Bain.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 6.—The marriage of Miss Kathryn Tate to William Gladstone Bain was quietly solemnized Wednesday, January 3 at 3:30 o'clock in the Church of the Ascension, Washington, D. C., in the presence of a small group of relatives and friends. Rev. F. A. Parsons was the officiating minister.

The bride wore a Paton model of black and white crepe, made along simple lines, worn with hat and gloves of white. Her other accessories were of black. A shoulder spray of gardenias completed the attractive ensemble. She is the daughter of Mrs. Horace Tate, of Atlanta, Ga., where she made her education. She moved to Washington three years ago. Her sisters are Miss Hortense Tate and Mrs. Jess Albert Barrett.

Mr. Bain's mother is Mrs. Nellie Bain, of Washington, formerly of Aberdeen, Scotland. His father, William Frederick Bain, also of Washington. He attended school in Chicago, his early home, later continuing his studies in electrical engineering at Illinois Electrical Engineering school in Washington. He is connected with the electrical division of Emerson and Orme Company in that city. After a wedding journey, Mr. and Mrs. Bain will reside at 1228 Eye street, northwest, in Washington, D. C.

FOR EVENING WEAR
Backless Brassieres and Corselettes
Girdles and Corselettes of Two-Way Stretch Elastic
Pointies and Hucatells
EAGER & SIMPSON
24 Cain St., N. E.

WEDDING INVITATIONS
Reception, At Home and Visiting Cards
Monogrammed Stationery
J. P. Stevens Engraving Co.
103 Peachtree Street Atlanta, Georgia

SHERIFF—CRAWFORD.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Sheriff, of Eastanollee, announces the engagement of their daughter, Laura Helen, to Thomas Speed Crawford, of Luvonia, the marriage to be solemnized at an early date.

LASSETER—DENNARD.

Mr. and Mrs. Z. W. Lasseter, of Rochelle, announce the engagement of their daughter, Lillian, to William Irvin Dennard, of Pineview, the marriage to take place at an early date.

OWENS—TATE.

Mr. and Mrs. L. Z. Owens, of Calhoun, announce the engagement of their daughter, Dolly Dimple, to Charley A. Tate, the marriage to be solemnized at an early date. No cards.

MANSFIELD—CARROLL.

F. M. Mansfield, of Tucker, Ga., announces the engagement of his daughter, Jennie, to Eli Henry Carroll, of Lilburn, Ga., the marriage to be solemnized at an early date. No cards.

Hemperley-Moon Wedding Rites Solemnized at East Point Church

The First Baptist church at East Point formed the setting for the marriage of Miss Elizabeth Hemperley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. O. Hemperley, and Raymond S. Moon, which was solemnized Wednesday evening at 8:30 o'clock before an audience of relatives and friends. Dr. W. A. Duncan, pastor of the church, performed the impressive marriage service.

Palms and garlands of southern smilax were combined with seven-branched candelabra and pedestal baskets of calla lilies in the effective decorations. The altar was banked with palms and French wicker baskets holding white lilies were flanked by seven-branched candelabra supporting white waxen tapers.

Musical Program.

Proceeding the ceremony, a program of music was rendered by John B. Shockley and Miss Frances Durrette sang "At Dawning" and "Because," accompanied by Mr. Shockley. Mrs. Charles Duke rendered a violin solo, "O Promise Me." "To Wild Rose" was softly played during the ceremony. Men sang "Wedding March" was used as a recessional.

Ushers included J. E. Hughes, L. B. Reynolds, Ray Harris and Harold Cuddy. To the strains of the wedding march from "Lohengrin" the groomsman entered and included Harrison Hemperley, brother of the bride, Dr. W. A. Duncan, cousin of the bride, LeRoy Styronom, Clyde Hanson and Harry Graves. The bevy of attractive bridesmaids included Misses Rebecca Jones, Regina Barfield, cousins of the bride; Thelma Powell, Elizabeth Magee and Edythe Hand. They wore gowns fashioned alike, soft green satin with a bodice featuring lace trimmings in front, and the skirt flared slightly, extending in short trains. Their slippers were green satin of matching shade and they carried bouquets of calla lilies with green satin ribbons.

The little flower girls were Alice and Jo Fries, twin daughters of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Fries.

They wore buttercup yellow georgette dresses over yellow satin slips and carried muffs of green satin studded with roses and valley lilies. The ring-bearer, L. E. Smith Jr., son of Rev. and Mrs. L. E. Smith, and nephew of the bride, wore a white suit in white satin and carried the ring in a lily. The maid of honor was Miss Evelyn Hemperley, sister of the bride, who wore a gown of debutante pink satin with pink slippers and carried a bouquet of calla lilies.

Lovely Bride.

The bride entered with her father, Michael O. Hemperley, who gave her her veil, and went to the altar by the bridegroom and his best man, his brother, J. C. Moon. The dainty brunet beauty of the bride was enhanced by her gown of shimmering antique ivory satin. The waist was draped in a slight cowl neckline and the skirt flared into a train. Her tulle veil was caught in her hair with a lace cap, ornamented with orange blossoms. Completing the bridal ensemble was a shower bouquet of Johnson Hill roses and valley lilies.

Mr. and Mrs. M. O. Hemperley entertained at a reception at their home on Washington avenue. Mrs. Hemperley, mother of the bride, was gowned in black lace, pink brocaded velvet, with a shoulder spray of roses and valley lilies. Mrs. J. H. Moon, mother of the bridegroom, wore mouse-colored crepe with a corsage of Talisman roses and valley lilies.

The bride's book was kept by Mrs. J. K. Pair, aunt of the bride, who wore a gown of cerise crepe and her corsage was formed of roses and valentine. Mrs. J. B. Reynolds and Mrs. Harry Graves presided at the punch bowl. Mrs. Shiloh, Ga., and Mrs. Travis Beers, of Atlanta, were black taffeta, cut high in front and low in the back. Mrs. Graves wore pink crepe. Assisting in serving were Mrs. J. H. Hemperley, Mrs. W. J. Malloy, Mrs. Eugenia Williamson and Mrs. Dorothy and Frances Pair and Geraldine Davis.

The dining room was centered with an embossed wedding cake. A color scheme of green and white was carried out in the decorations and refreshments.

To Live in East Point.

The bride and groom left for an extended wedding trip and upon their return will reside at 316 Jefferson avenue, in East Point. Mrs. Moon wore a gray costume with accessories to match. The out-of-town guests were Mrs. J. H. Moon, J. C. Moon, and E. Smith, and Mrs. and Mrs. J. K. Pair, and Misses Frances and Dorothy Pair, of Macon, and Mrs. Travis Beers and Robert Beers, of Newnan, Georgia.

Moore—Boyd.

SHARON, Ga., Jan. 6.—The marriage of Miss Evelyn Moore to Thomas Boyd Jr. was solemnized at the Methodist church on December 28. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. J. R. Kirkland.

Prior to the ceremony Mrs. Eugene Winborne, the bride's sister, played "Simple Confession" by Thome, and Miss Ola Moore sang "At Dawning" and "I Love You Truly."

The ushers were Randall Evans, of Thomson, and Gordon McGee, of Crawfordville. They were followed by the maid of honor, Miss Virginia Boyd, the bridegroom's sister, wearing an all gray outfit with black with black accents and a cluster of orchid spray.

The bride entered with her oldest brother, Joe A. Moore, of Milledgeville, who gave her in marriage. They were met at the altar by the bridegroom and his best man, Felix House, of Washington. The bride was lovely wearing a gown of gray crepe with accessories of midnight blue. She carried a white brooch showered with ferns and Christmas honeysuckles.

Mr. Boyd, the youngest daughter of Mrs. A. D. Moore and the late Mr. Moore, is a descendant of the Stephens, Evans and Taylor families. She is a graduate of G. S. C. W. and for several years has been a member of the faculty of the Thomson school.

The bridegroom attended Mercer University and is a member of the Sigma Nu Fraternity. He is related to the Snavely, Stabler and Dickson families of Georgia. He and his bride left for a short wedding trip to Florida, after which they will be at Amity, Ga., for a few months.

The out-of-town guests at the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Randall Evans of Thomson, Mr. and Mrs. M. S. Smith, of Gilmer, of Milledgeville; Miss Sarah Rhodes of Jekyll Island; Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Moore, of Decatur; Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Boyd Sr., Jack Boyd, Jim Boyd, of Amity; Miss Pearl Moncrief, of Talapoosa.

The bridegroom attended Mercer University and is a member of the Sigma Nu Fraternity. He is related to the Snavely, Stabler and Dickson families of Georgia. He and his bride left for a short wedding trip to Florida, after which they will be at Amity, Ga., for a few months.

The out-of-town guests at the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Randall Evans of Thomson, Mr. and Mrs. M. S. Smith, of Gilmer, of Milledgeville; Miss Sarah Rhodes of Jekyll Island; Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Moore, of Decatur; Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Boyd Sr., Jack Boyd, Jim Boyd, of Amity; Miss Pearl Moncrief, of Talapoosa.

The bridegroom attended Mercer University and is a member of the Sigma Nu Fraternity. He is related to the Snavely, Stabler and Dickson families of Georgia. He and his bride left for a short wedding trip to Florida, after which they will be at Amity, Ga., for a few months.

The out-of-town guests at the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Randall Evans of Thomson, Mr. and Mrs. M. S. Smith, of Gilmer, of Milledgeville; Miss Sarah Rhodes of Jekyll Island; Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Moore, of Decatur; Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Boyd Sr., Jack Boyd, Jim Boyd, of Amity; Miss Pearl Moncrief, of Talapoosa.

The bridegroom attended Mercer University and is a member of the Sigma Nu Fraternity. He is related to the Snavely, Stabler and Dickson families of Georgia. He and his bride left for a short wedding trip to Florida, after which they will be at Amity, Ga., for a few months.

The out-of-town guests at the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Randall Evans of Thomson, Mr. and Mrs. M. S. Smith, of Gilmer, of Milledgeville; Miss Sarah Rhodes of Jekyll Island; Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Moore, of Decatur; Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Boyd Sr., Jack Boyd, Jim Boyd, of Amity; Miss Pearl Moncrief, of Talapoosa.

The bridegroom attended Mercer University and is a member of the Sigma Nu Fraternity. He is related to the Snavely, Stabler and Dickson families of Georgia. He and his bride left for a short wedding trip to Florida, after which they will be at Amity, Ga., for a few months.

The out-of-town guests at the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Randall Evans of Thomson, Mr. and Mrs. M. S. Smith, of Gilmer, of Milledgeville; Miss Sarah Rhodes of Jekyll Island; Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Moore, of Decatur; Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Boyd Sr., Jack Boyd, Jim Boyd, of Amity; Miss Pearl Moncrief, of Talapoosa.

The bridegroom attended Mercer University and is a member of the Sigma Nu Fraternity. He is related to the Snavely,

Wedding Bells Peal For Many Rites In Griffin, Ga.

GRIFIN, Ga., Jan. 6.—Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Post, of Carrollton, announced the marriage of their daughter, Estelle of Griffin and Sam Gatlin, which occurred in Griffin on December 25. The Rev. Dr. James B. Turner, pastor of the First Baptist church, officiated at his home on West Poplar street. The bride, who is a distinctive blonde, was gowned in black triple sheet crepe, worn with a small black hat and fur-trimmed coat and other accessories of black. She wore a corsage of Parma violets and valley lilies. Mr. Gatlin is the son of Mrs. W. B. Gatlin, of Griffin, and is in business here. Mrs. Gatlin has made many friends since coming to Griffin several years ago who are glad that her marriage will keep her in this city.

Miss Rochelle Jones and Frank C. Ridgeway, of Griffin, were married Sunday at the home of Judge Steve Wallace, ordinary of Spalding county, who officiated. The bride's smart frock was of dark blue crepe, worn with a blue coat and other accessories in matching tones. Mrs. Ridgeway is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Jones, of Griffin. Her mother was formerly Miss Augusta Martin, of Williamson. Mr. Ridgeway is the son of Frank C. Ridgeway and Mrs. Daisy Evans Ridgeway.

Miss Annie Belle Freeman and Rufus Anderson, both of Griffin, were married Saturday afternoon at his home in Griffin. After their wedding trip the young couple will reside in East Griffin, where Mr. Andrews is a valued employee of the Georgia-Kincaid mills.

Mrs. Mamie Tilford, of Griffin, announced the marriage of her daughter, Cecil, to Howard Morris, also of Griffin, which was solemnized Sunday in Fitzgerald. The young couple returned to Griffin, where they will make their home and where they have hosts of friends.

Miss Dorothy Wilson and Durwood Lee Adams, of Griffin, were married Saturday afternoon in Barnesville. A few friends accompanied them to that city for the ceremony. Mrs. Adams is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Wilson, of Griffin, and is a delightful and charming young woman. Mr. Adams is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Adams, also of Griffin, and is connected with the Griffin Manufacturing Company. The young couple will reside on North Fifteenth street.

Miss Minnie Lee Ridgeway and John McElroy, of Griffin, were married Saturday afternoon, the ordinary of Spalding county, Judge S. B. Wallace, officiating at his home on West Poplar street. The lovely bride wore a sport dress of dark blue crepe with a felt hat and other accessories in tones of blue. Mrs. Bell is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ridgeway, of Griffin, and Mr. Bell is the son of Mrs. Susie Lillian Bell and the late James Bell, also of this city.

Miss Anna Wilkerson and J. D. Dunn, of Griffin, were married Sunday afternoon at the home of the Rev. J. W. Rawls in Vineyard. A few friends attended the ceremony, performed by the Rev. Mr. Rawls. The house was beautifully decorated with handsome greens and with pots of colorful blooming plants. The bride's smart ensemble was of dark brown wool crepe, worn with a brown felt hat and other accessories in tones of brown. Mrs. Dunn is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Rawls and received her education in Griffin schools. Dr. Dunn holds a responsible position in Griffin, where he and his bride will make their home.

Delta Sigma Pi.
Kappa chapter at the University of Georgia Evening School, of the international fraternity of Delta Sigma Pi, will meet Sunday afternoon at 5 o'clock at the Henry Gray hotel. Fred B. Wenn, professor of finance at Georgia Tech, will speak on "Monetary Conditions."

Attractive Bride-Elect

Miss Billie Grace Word, lovely daughter of Mrs. Thomas M. Word, whose engagement is announced today to Peter S. Warren, the marriage to take place at an early date.

Congenial Groups Assemble for Dinner And Dance at Piedmont Driving Club

Congenial groups assembled last evening at the Piedmont Driving Club for the dinner-dance, where attractive visitors and debutantes shared the spotlight. Miss Isabel Davis, of Decatur, who is visiting from New York, was honored guest in the party given by Dr. Paul L. Hudson. Invited to meet this charming visitors were Mr. and Mrs. Martin E. Kilpatrick, Mr. and Mrs. Winfrey S. Ramsey, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Carter, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Hopkins, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bassett, Mr. and Mrs. James Threlkeld, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Edwards Conklin, Miss Jewel Tutt, Emil Zimmer, James D. Robinson Jr., and W. B. Armstrong.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Hilsman entertained a party honoring a group of debutantes, Misses Caroline Crumley, Suzanne Memminger, Lundy Sharp and Miriam Fleming. Covers were placed for a group of the younger contingent.

EastAtlanta, O.E.S., To Install Officers

EastAtlanta chapter, O. E. S., No. 108, will install the 1934 officers at 8 o'clock on Tuesday evening, January 9. Mrs. Julia Wall, grand Electra, will be the grand installing officer; Mrs. Ophelia Owens, acting grand marshal; Mrs. Floy Hudson, acting grand matron; Mrs. Margaret Crane, acting grand organizer.

Officers are Mrs. Fannie Hightower, worthy matron; Rev. Linkous, worthy patron; Mrs. Esther Gooch, associate matron; E. B. Gooch, associate patron; Mrs. Julia Wall, secretary; Mrs. Lessie McWilliams, treasurer; Mrs. Nell McDowell, colonel; Miss Mamie McRae, associate conductor; Mrs. W. A. Berry, chaplain; Mrs. Grace McWilliams, marshal; Mrs. Fannie Rountree, organist; Miss Anna Meador, Ada; Mrs. Maude Minor, Ruth; Mrs. J. L. Linkous, Esther; Miss Maude Lee, Martha; Mrs. Ruth Godwin, Electa; Mrs. Betty Mathews, warden, and W. A. Berry, sentinel. Members and friends of East Atlanta chapter are invited.

Decatur O. E. S. Installs Officers.

Officers of Decatur chapter No. 148, O. E. S., were installed Tuesday evening. Mrs. Julia Jackson Turner, past grand matron of the grand chapter of Georgia, acted as installing officer. Assisting her were Mrs. Pauline Dillon, acting grand marshal; Mrs. Janie Lou Garnon, acting grand chaplain and Mrs. Elizabeth Garrett, acting grand conductor. Mrs. LaVerne Mitchell was soloist. The hall was beautifully decorated with palms, ferns and potted plants. The officers installed were as follows: Mrs. Janie Baker, worthy matron; V. O. Kinsey, worthy patron; Mrs. Carrie Newman, associate matron; W. B. Mayo, associate patron; Mrs. Clara Kline, treasurer; Mrs. Mary Dowman, colonel; Mrs. Jodie Gardner, conductor; Mrs. Susie Smith, associate conductor; Mrs. Katherine Cook, chaplain; Mrs. Belle Benedict, marshal; Mrs. Harriet Stowell, organist; Mrs. Adelle G. Roberts, Ada; Mrs. Katie Swords, Ruth; Mrs. Mary Turner, Esther; Mrs. Kate Stanford, Martha; Mrs. Margaret McEntire, Electa; Mrs. Mary Sims, warden; Marion Smith, sentinel.

The chapter presented Mrs. Adelle Roberts, the retiring matron, and George McEntire, the retiring patron, with beautiful jewels, and their officers presented them with gifts as tokens of their love and esteem. Mrs. Roberts and Mrs. Baker were the recipients of many beautiful gifts. Mrs. Roberts presented each of her officers with a gift.

Civic Club Plans Bridge and Luncheon.

An event of Tuesday, January 9, will be a bridge-luncheon at the Civic Club of West End, with Mrs. Otis Witherspoon as general chairman. Mrs. L. A. Hollingsworth and Mrs. D. O. Cogbill will be in charge of decorations. Mrs. Hinton Blackshear will have charge of tables, and Mrs. J. L. Givens will be in charge of reservations. Prizes have been provided.

A turkey dinner will be served from 12 to 2 o'clock, at 35 cents each. For reservations call Mrs. J. P. Oliver. Raymond 7503.

The literary division met Wednesday afternoon at the home of the chairman, Mrs. E. Collier Davis, with Prof. A. E. H. Murray, host, and gave a paper on "Witches, Ghosts and Fairies," by Shakespeare. Roll call was answered with current events.

Harris-Smith.

Mr. and Mrs. David Van Harris, of Spartanburg, S. C., announced the marriage of their daughter, Miss Helen Marie Harris, to David Thomas Smith, of Atlanta, the ceremony having taken place on December 24 at the home of the bride on Ponce de Leon avenue. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Wade H. Boggs, pastor of Druid Hills Presbyterian church.

Mr. and Mrs. Smith motored to Sea Island Beach, where they spent 10 days. They are residing at the Colonial Court apartment on Ponce de Leon avenue.

$10
AND UP

Millinery
Salon
Third Floor

J.P. ALLEN & CO.

The Store All Women Know

Miss Henderson Weds Mr. Lunsford

CLEVELAND, Ga., Jan. 6.—Marked by interest was the marriage of Miss Mary Will Henderson, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Henderson, to James Orville Lunsford, of Crawfordville, Ga., and Detroit, Mich., which was solemnized at 7 o'clock Thursday evening. December 28, at the Cleveland Baptist church. Dr. C. W. Henderson, uncle of the bride and pastor of the First Baptist church, Quitman, Ga., performed the ceremony. Miss Mary Miller rendered a program of musical music. Ernest W. Henderson and Charles W. Henderson, brothers of the bride, acted as ushers and groomsmen. Misses Dorothy Lunsford and Lottie Lunsford, of Crawfordville, Ga.; Miss Bonnie Prickett, of Cornelia, Ga., and Miss Clara Cantrell acted as bridesmaids. Miss Dorothy Lunsford wore pink satin. Miss Prickett wore blue lace. Miss Lottie Lunsford was gowned in orchid satin. Miss Cantrell wore yellow silk crepe. Their accessories were white and their flowers were bouquets of snapdragons, sweet peas and chrysanthemums. Mrs. W. L. Brown, mother of the bride, was matron of honor. She was gowned in sheer white silk organza over white taffeta and wore a closely-fitted white turban with short veil. Other accessories were in matching shades. Her flowers were of yellow roses and yellow chrysanthemums. Miss Lois Henderson, maid of honor, was maid of honor and wore pink tulle over pink satin. Her flowers were snapdragons and chrysanthemums. The flower girl, little Miss Miriam Miller, wore pink silk with a pink bandana. She carried a basket of pink roses.

The bride was accompanied by her father, W. C. Henderson, by whom she was given away. They were joined by the bridegroom and his best man, William Lovett Bowen. The bride's wedding gown was fashioned of white satin with the modish high neckline and long sleeves ending in a pointed cuff. The bride's veil was adjusted behind her by a wreath of orange blossoms. She wore a tall white lace turban tied with white satin ribbon. The only ornament worn by the bride was a gold chain belonging to her paternal great-grandmother, the late Nannie Logan Craven, and has for more than 100 years been a family heirloom and now belongs to her bride's aunt, Mrs. J. W. H. Underwood.

The bride was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Henderson, of this city. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Oscar Lunsford, of Crawfordville, Ga. For several years he has held a responsible position with the Chevrolet Motor Company at Detroit, where he and his bride will make their home at 1973 Irvington avenue.

Mrs. Albert C. Morgan Will Sail For Philippines on January 19

ATHENS, Ga., Jan. 6.—One of the first entertainments of the winter quarter at the University of Georgia will be the dance this month at which freshmen in the co-ordinate college will be hostesses. The exact date of the dance will be announced soon and invitations will be issued. The entertainment will be held in the physics education building and the Georgia Bulldog orchestra will furnish the music.

Mrs. Morgan was associated with Mrs. Edith Van Winkle in the society department of the Atlanta Journal and later did free lance publicity during the biennial convention of Women's Clubs at the international meeting held in Atlanta. She acted as assistant to Mrs. McCord Roberts in the publicity work for this tremendous meeting. She wrote copy for Mairi and Berle, jewelers, handled publicity for the Atlanta League of Women Voters, and for the Girl Scouts, under the direction of Anna Aiken Patterson (Mrs. Willard Patterson), of New York, formerly of Atlanta, she reviewed motion pictures for the weekly Film Review, the magazine being published, owned and edited by Mrs. Patterson.

For several years she was associated with Davison-Paxon & Co., serving in the advertising department. She left Davison's to assume the direction of Allen's advertising department and has been in charge of that department until the present time. She will be succeeded by her sister, Mrs. Jewell Hull, who shares with Mrs. Morgan a marked literary ability.

Mrs. Morgan and her husband have resided at Fort McPherson for the past three years where Lieutenant Morgan has been detailed for duty with the 22nd Infantry. Both Lieutenant Morgan and his wife were attractive additions to the garrison social life. Mrs. Morgan has combined most happily her dual role of gracious hostess and business woman and their home at the garrison was a favorite gathering place for the younger married contingent.

Jenkins-Axford.

Miss Myrtle Alline Jenkins, of Sandersville, and Thomas J. Axford, of Sandersville and Marietta, were married on Sunday, December 24, at Gordon, Ga., the Rev. J. L. Pittman of

University Freshmen To Give Dance

ATHENS, Ga., Jan. 6.—One of the first entertainments of the winter quarter at the University of Georgia will be the dance this month at which freshmen in the co-ordinate college will be hostesses. The exact date of the dance will be announced soon and invitations will be issued. The entertainment will be held in the physics education building and the Georgia Bulldog orchestra will furnish the music.

Woman's Athletic Association of the university sponsored the second of a series of dances in the physical culture building Saturday evening. Hubert Owen, associate professor of landscape architecture, was in charge of decorations.

Home Economics Club of the university is planning a social gathering for Thursday evening, January 11, at which Miss Daisy Campbell, Ben Hill, will be in charge of the program.

Home Economics Club of the university is planning a social gathering for Thursday evening, January 11, at which Miss Daisy Campbell, Ben Hill, will be in charge of the program.

Home Economics Club of the university is planning a social gathering for Thursday evening, January 11, at which Miss Daisy Campbell, Ben Hill, will be in charge of the program.

Home Economics Club of the university is planning a social gathering for Thursday evening, January 11, at which Miss Daisy Campbell, Ben Hill, will be in charge of the program.

Home Economics Club of the university is planning a social gathering for Thursday evening, January 11, at which Miss Daisy Campbell, Ben Hill, will be in charge of the program.

Home Economics Club of the university is planning a social gathering for Thursday evening, January 11, at which Miss Daisy Campbell, Ben Hill, will be in charge of the program.

Home Economics Club of the university is planning a social gathering for Thursday evening, January 11, at which Miss Daisy Campbell, Ben Hill, will be in charge of the program.

Home Economics Club of the university is planning a social gathering for Thursday evening, January 11, at which Miss Daisy Campbell, Ben Hill, will be in charge of the program.

Home Economics Club of the university is planning a social gathering for Thursday evening, January 11, at which Miss Daisy Campbell, Ben Hill, will be in charge of the program.

Home Economics Club of the university is planning a social gathering for Thursday evening, January 11, at which Miss Daisy Campbell, Ben Hill, will be in charge of the program.

Home Economics Club of the university is planning a social gathering for Thursday evening, January 11, at which Miss Daisy Campbell, Ben Hill, will be in charge of the program.

Home Economics Club of the university is planning a social gathering for Thursday evening, January 11, at which Miss Daisy Campbell, Ben Hill, will be in charge of the program.

Home Economics Club of the university is planning a social gathering for Thursday evening, January 11, at which Miss Daisy Campbell, Ben Hill, will be in charge of the program.

Home Economics Club of the university is planning a social gathering for Thursday evening, January 11, at which Miss Daisy Campbell, Ben Hill, will be in charge of the program.

Home Economics Club of the university is planning a social gathering for Thursday evening, January 11, at which Miss Daisy Campbell, Ben Hill, will be in charge of the program.

Home Economics Club of the university is planning a social gathering for Thursday evening, January 11, at which Miss Daisy Campbell, Ben Hill, will be in charge of the program.

Home Economics Club of the university is planning a social gathering for Thursday evening, January 11, at which Miss Daisy Campbell, Ben Hill, will be in charge of the program.

Home Economics Club of the university is planning a social gathering for Thursday evening, January 11, at which Miss Daisy Campbell, Ben Hill, will be in charge of the program.

Home Economics Club of the university is planning a social gathering for Thursday evening, January 11, at which Miss Daisy Campbell, Ben Hill, will be in charge of the program.

Home Economics Club of the university is planning a social gathering for Thursday evening, January 11, at which Miss Daisy Campbell, Ben Hill, will be in charge of the program.

Home Economics Club of the university is planning a social gathering for Thursday evening, January 11, at which Miss Daisy Campbell, Ben Hill, will be in charge of the program.

Home Economics Club of the university is planning a social gathering for Thursday evening, January 11, at which Miss Daisy Campbell, Ben Hill, will be in charge of the program.

Home Economics Club of the university is planning a social gathering for Thursday evening, January 11, at which Miss Daisy Campbell, Ben Hill, will be in charge of the program.

Home Economics Club of the university is planning a social gathering for Thursday evening, January 11, at which Miss Daisy Campbell, Ben Hill, will be in charge of the program.

Home Economics Club of the university is planning a social gathering for Thursday evening, January 11, at which Miss Daisy Campbell, Ben Hill, will be in charge of the program.

Home Economics Club of the university is planning a social gathering for Thursday evening, January 11, at which Miss Daisy Campbell, Ben Hill, will be in charge of the program.

Home Economics Club of the university is planning a social gathering for Thursday evening, January 11, at which Miss Daisy Campbell, Ben Hill, will be in charge of the program.

Home Economics Club of the university is planning a social gathering for Thursday evening, January 11, at which Miss Daisy Campbell, Ben Hill, will be in charge of the program.

Home Economics Club of the university is planning a social gathering for Thursday evening, January 11, at which Miss Daisy Campbell, Ben Hill, will be in charge of the program.

Home Economics Club of the university is planning a social gathering for Thursday evening, January 11, at which Miss Daisy Campbell, Ben Hill, will be in charge of the program.

Home Economics Club of the university is planning a social gathering for Thursday evening, January 11, at which Miss Daisy Campbell, Ben Hill, will be in charge of the program.

Home Economics Club of the university is planning a social gathering for Thursday evening, January 11, at which Miss Daisy Campbell, Ben Hill, will be in charge of the program.

Home Economics Club of the university is planning a social gathering for Thursday evening, January 11, at which Miss Daisy Campbell, Ben Hill, will be in charge of the program.

Home Economics Club of the university is planning a social gathering for Thursday evening, January 11, at which Miss Daisy Campbell, Ben Hill, will be in charge of the program.

Home Economics Club of the university is planning a social gathering for Thursday evening, January 11, at which Miss Daisy Campbell, Ben Hill, will be in charge of the program.

Home Economics Club of the university is planning a social gathering for Thursday evening, January 11, at which Miss Daisy Campbell, Ben Hill, will be in charge of the program.

Home Economics Club of the university is planning a social gathering for Thursday evening, January 11, at which Miss Daisy Campbell, Ben Hill, will be in charge of the program.

Home Economics Club of the university is planning a social gathering for Thursday evening, January 11, at which Miss Daisy Campbell, Ben Hill, will be in charge of the program.

Home Economics Club of the university is planning a social gathering for Thursday evening, January 11, at which Miss Daisy Campbell, Ben Hill, will be in charge of the program.

</

Miss Brown and Dr. Munro Wed at Berlin, N. H., Ceremony

BERLIN, N. H., Jan. 6.—Miss Lewis Brown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Orton Bishop Brown of Berlin, N. H., was married on Wednesday, December 27, at the home of her parents, to Dr. Burton Stevenson Munro of Boston. Only members of the immediate families and a few intimate friends were present.

The bride was attended by Miss Beatrice Gilbert, of New York city, and the bridegroom's best man was his brother, James Munro, of Waban, Mass. The beautiful bride was given away by her father, Mr. Brown. She was gowned in ivory chiffon velvet with tulip veil and a coronet of orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of yellow roses and lilies of the valley. Miss Gilbert was gowned in pale blue crepe and carried red roses and lilies of the valley. The decorations were appropriate to the Christmas season.

Emory Auxiliary Will Give Luncheon.

Emory University hospital auxiliary will sponsor their annual luncheon on Tuesday, January 9, at 12 o'clock in the lecture room of the First Methodist church. This is the most important meeting of the year as plans for work will be given and brief reports from committees will be heard.

The following are the officers of the auxiliary: President, Mrs. Fred E. Thomas; first vice president, Mrs. S. F. Boykin; second vice president, Mrs. John A. Mangat; treasurer, Mrs. Luther Medlock; recording secretary, Mrs. L. Banning; corresponding secretary, Mrs. W. O. Potts. Committee chairmen: Linen, Mrs. W. H. Lawson, Mrs. Rowland W. Bryce, co-chairman; nurses' home, Mrs. B. T. Carter; Lucy Elizabeth Pavilion, Miss Anna Godwin, acting chairman; house, Mrs. Martha Bigham; children's ward, Mrs. Homer Sanford; publicity, Mrs. J. W. Setze; library, Mrs. George N. Lester Jr.; advisory, Mrs. J. L. Dennis, Mrs. A. L. Norcross, Mrs. Frank M. Newell, president for life, Mrs. R. K. Rambo. For further information telephone Mrs. Garnett W. Quillian, Hemlock 1756, or Mrs. W. L. Ballenger, Cherokee 3966.

Supreme Forest To Install Officers.

Supreme Forest Woodmen's Circle, Maple Grove, No. 86, and American Grove, No. 217, will hold a joint installation Thursday evening in the hall at Red Men's wigwam. The installation will be public. Mrs. Clara E. Cassidy, national director and state officer, will be the presiding officer. Mrs. Annie L. Byars, state attendant, will be the installing attendant. Mrs. Ossie Moon, state auditor, will be installing chaplain.

All members of the Woodmen's Circle of Atlanta and East Point and members of the Woodmen of the World are invited to come and bring their friends.

Prices Slashed!

In A Final CLEARANCE Monday Only!

75 Fall and Winter

DRESSES

That were $ up to $7.95
NOW 250

95 DRESSES

Silks, Wools, Velvets, Knits

That were $ up to $12.95
NOW 400

14 EVENING DRESSES

that were to $14.95

Now $5 Monday

COATS!

Were $19.75
$12 Were to $35
Were $39.50
$27 Were to $49
$34

Swagger and Tailored
SUITS...were to $16.75
Now $9 Monday

J. P. ALLEN'S
DOWN STAIRS STORE

Letter Written by Prominent Atlanta Man Figures Conspicuously in Molding Romantic Destiny of Famous American-Born Marchioness Curzon of Kedleston

The above photographs of Marchioness Curzon, of London, the former Miss Grace Hinds, of Decatur, Ala., and members of her interesting family are in the possession of Henry B. Scott, prominent Atlantan, who spent a portion of his early life in the home of Mrs. Joseph M. Hinds and the late Mr. Hinds, parents of the British peeress, when they lived in the colonial mansion in Alabama. Reading from left to right, upper row, are Lord Scarsdale, Mrs. Hinds and Mrs. Ambrose Dudley, the nephew, mother and sister of Marchioness Curzon,

By Bessie S. Stafford.

A historic, colonial mansion in Decatur, Ala., with massive white pillars supporting a shingled roof, and green shutters opening at the will of the occupants, was the birthplace of the beautiful Marchioness Curzon of Kedleston, of London. The American-born peeress is one of the most glamorous figures in England, and lives in splendor at No. 1 Carlton House Terrace, a residence which was willed by her husband, the late Marquis George Curzon.

As the former Grace Hinds, she spent her childhood and girlhood in the ante-bellum mansion in Decatur, which was one of the four houses left standing after the War Between the States. The house was built in 1824, and during the civil war was used as headquarters for Confederate and Federal officers of different times.

Writes Letter to Uncle.

At 18 months old, Grace Hinds was taught to take her first step by Henry B. Scott, of Atlanta, who lived for a number of years in the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. Hinds, in Alabama. Mr. Scott was instrumental in molding the character of the Marchioness Curzon, his action being taken without the knowledge of her parents or herself. He wrote her maternal uncle, John Trillia, who lived in Buenos Aires, and told him that he had a boy in the United States mail contractor, an important and lucrative business known as the star route, involving the delivery of mail to certain villages not reached by railroads.

One fine day, after Mr. Scott had passed his sixtieth birthday, Mr. Hinds stopped him on the street and told him that he had watched him for a long time, and that he desired a bright and progressive young man to help him carry on his business. Mr. Hinds' influence with congress necessitated his going to Washington, D. C., where he was well received, and during his absence from Decatur, he engaged Mr. Scott to expedite the delivery of the United States mail, in accordance with Mr. Hinds' contract with the government.

To refine and motherly Mrs. Hinds, who welcomed him into her home, Mr. Scott caused to do the molding of his character. She gave him her love and advice in the same degree she bestowed these blessings upon her own children. Not until her children were grown did they realize that Mr. Scott had been instrumental in their education, and that he had blended with the family life within the Hinds home.

Mrs. Hinds was a native of South America, in which country Lucy Anita Trillia became the bride of Mr. Hinds, who at the time, was American consul to Brazil. They moved to Decatur, where Mr. and Mrs. Hinds married and have their children, including two sons, Trillia and Albert, and two daughters, Grace and Dot, were born to Mr. and Mrs. Hinds in the colonial mansion.

Friendship Endures.

The friendship between Mrs. Hinds and Mr. Scott has endured through the storm, and in any gathering she immediately drew to her side interesting persons, who fell captive to the charm of the American-born beauty that paraded in the society of the world. A superb figure and carriage, luminous brown eyes and matching brown hair, warmth and vitality, gave spirit to her loveliness. Lord Curzon was a widower, and was not created a marquis until after his marriage to Mrs. Dot Hinds, the first wife was Mrs. Mary Leiter, of Chicago, and his predilection for American-born women was evidenced again when he led Grace Hinds Dugan to the altar, thereby elevating her to the British peerage.

Colonial and Dramatic.

It is a colorful and dramatic record. Mr. Scott gives relative to his entrance into the family circle of Mr. and Mrs. Hinds in Decatur. At 13 years old, Mr. Scott ran away from the parental roof in Greensburg, Ind. He argued that success was to be found in the different parts of the country, because everybody he knew seemed to have migrated to some other section of the country. He heard his father and his father's friends tell over and over, that they had moved to Greensburg from other parts of the United States, and listened to their boast of the success entailed from this move.

His father, Edward Scott, moved to Greensburg from New Jersey, and his mother was of English descent. The stories and pictures of cotton the picture having been taken in London. The beautiful Marchioness Curzon is pictured in the center as the 16-year-old Grace Hinds, at the time she lived in Decatur, the photograph having been taken at the time Mr. Scott wrote the letter to her maternal uncle, John Trillia, in Buenos Aires, which figured conspicuously in molding the destiny of the American-born British peeress. The family group also was taken in Decatur when Mr. Scott was a member of the Hinds household, includes Trillia and Albert Hinds, Mrs. Hinds, Mrs. Ambrose Dudley, the former Dot Hinds, and Marchioness Curzon, the former Grace Hinds. On the lower row from left to right are Henry B. Scott, well-known Atlantan, whose friendship with the Hinds family endures to the present day; Marcella Duggan, only daughter of Marchioness Curzon, and her late husband, the late Alfred Duggan, who is pictured with her mother, Marchioness Curzon, as she looks today; the late Marquis Curzon, who at the time of his marriage to the former Mrs. Duggan, was Lord George Curzon, former viceroy of India.

Miss Helen Clark Weds Mr. Neal

CARROLLTON, Ga., Jan. 6.—The wedding of Miss Helen Clark to Heidt F. Neal Jr., of Columbus, Ga., took place on Sunday at noon at the Methodist church immediately following the morning worship. An arrangement of ferns, yellow chrysanthemums, snapdragons and gillyflowers about the chancel made an exquisite setting for the ceremony. At the close of the morning service Miss Mary Clark, sister of the bride, sang "All for You," accompanied by Mrs. Lewis Camp, organist. At the strains of the bridal chorus from "Lohengrin" the bride entered with her brother, Marion Clark. They were met at the altar by the groom and his best man, Prentiss Neal, of Columbus.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. W. H. Clark, father of the bride, who is pastor of the church. Mendelssohn's "Wedding March" was used at the recessional.

The bride was modestly attired in a brown suit with seal collar and brown accessories. She wore a shoulder bouquet of sweetheart roses and was never more lovely than on this occasion. She is the second of a charming trio of daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Clark, who graduated from the Cartersville High school and attended Wesleyan College, where she took a prominent part in the campus activities. She recently taught in the Waynesboro Junior High school.

Mr. Neal is the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Heidt Fortson Neal of St. Simons Island, formerly of Washington, Ga. He attended Mercer University and is a member of the Alpha Tau Omega fraternity. He is connected with the United Oil Corporation at Columbus, Ga. After a wedding trip through Florida Mr. and Mrs. Neal will make their home in Carrollton, Ga.

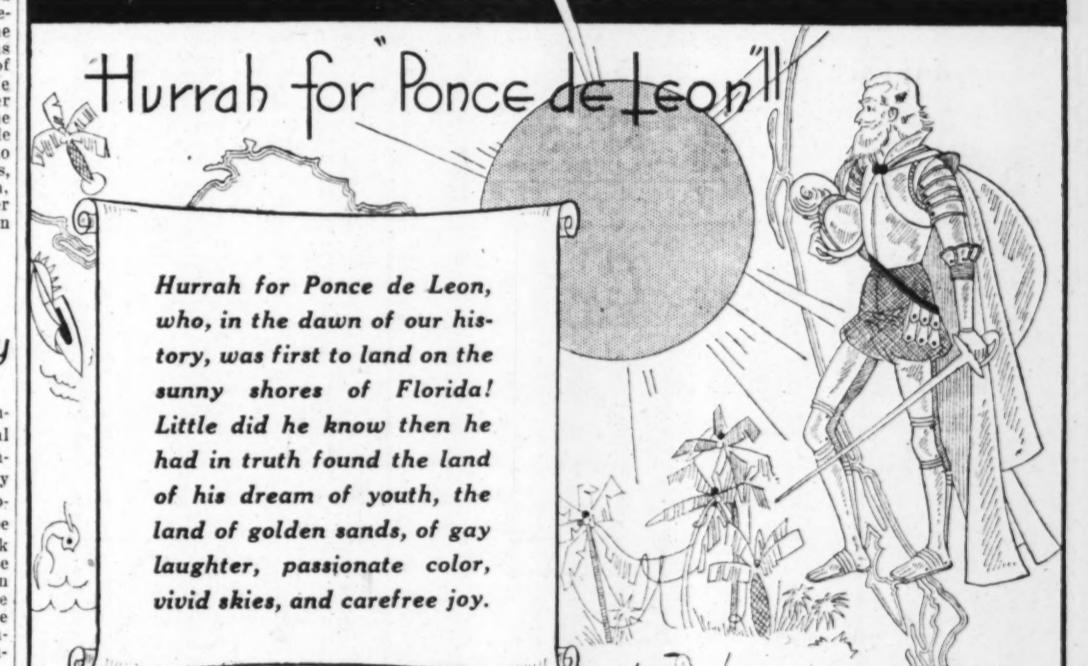

Immediately following the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served to the out-of-town guests and the members of the family at the home of the bride's parents. Mrs. Clark was assisted in entertaining the guests by Mesdames W. C. Cantrell, Lewis Camp and Miss Marion Crider. Mrs. Clark wore a black chiffon velvet with a corsage of yellow roses and yellow and white narcissi. Miss Mary Clark's gown of green wool crepe was worn with a hat of the same material and brown accessories. Her corsage was of pink roses.

The out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. John P. Neal, Misses Daisy and Marjorie Neal and Misses Nedra Fending of St. Simons, Ga.; Prentiss Neal, Frank Roberts, of Columbus, and Tom Hollis, of Atlanta.

Esther O. E. S. To Install Officers.

Queen Esther Chapter, No. 262, O. E. S., will install the 1934 officers at 8 o'clock on Wednesday evening, January 10, in Fraternity hall, 423-1/2 Marietta street.

Mrs. Julia J. Turner, past grand matron, of the Atlanta lineal chapter, with Mrs. Pauline Dillon, associate grand conductress; Mrs. Bessie McWhite, chaplain; Mrs. Anna Carnes, matron; Mrs. Jean Collier, organist; Miss Evelyn Pickens, Ada; Mrs. Florine Bromgart, Ruth; Mrs. Kate Phillips, Esther; Mrs. Rena Goodyear, Martha; Mrs. Leola Smith, Electa; Mrs. Elizabeth McCormick, warden, and Fred Ker, sentinel.

Women Lawyers Meet on Monday

In line with their policy of informative programs not only of a legal nature, but of national and world importance, a feature of the January dinner meeting of the Georgia Association of Women Lawyers, to be held on Monday evening at 6 o'clock at the Hotel Georgia, hotel will be an address by Dr. D. Witherspoon Dodge on the "Present Trend in the Economic Situation." Another feature on the program will be Miss Elizabeth Sheldon, who will render a musical program.

Miss Estelle Turner, president, will preside and request the members to attend this first meeting of the new year. Women who have been admitted to practice law are invited to join this organization which has for its object the mutual development of the legal fraternity among women.

Hurrah for Ponce de Leon, who, in the dawn of our history, was first to land on the sunny shores of Florida! Little did he know then he had in truth found the land of his dream of youth, the land of golden sands, of gay laughter, passionate color, vivid skies, and carefree joy.

Hurrah for Our Leon!

And hurrah for our Leon, who, like Ponce de Leon, forever searched out the new! Always the first, Leon finds fashions for Florida that fairly sing of golden sands, casinos, whispering waters of Biscayne Bay. And they are the gay, glad fashions that later in Spring will, at home, flit like brilliant butterflies from thrill to thrill.

Spivey—Shell.

CANON, Ga., Jan. 6.—The marriage of Miss Camella Meng and Charles E. Turner was solemnized on Monday, December 25, at the home of the bride in Winnsboro, Ga. Rev. H. Floyd Suttles, the bride's pastor, performed the ceremony in the presence of members of the extended family. The bride and groom will reside in Hogansville, Ga., upon their return from their wedding trip.

Mrs. Turner is the attractive and accomplished daughter of the late Mrs. Bernard B. Meng and Mr. Meng, of this city. She was graduated from Winnsboro College in June of 1932, where she was a popular student.

Mr. Turner is the son of the late R. Y. Turner and Mrs. Turner, of this city. He attended North Carolina State College and is a member of the Phi Kappa Tau fraternity. He holds a responsible position with the Stark mills at Hogansville.

Friendship Endures.

The friendship between Mrs. Hinds and Mr. Scott has endured through the storm, and in any gathering she immediately drew to her side interesting persons, who fell captive to the charm of the American-born beauty that paraded in the society of the world. A superb figure and carriage, luminous brown eyes and matching brown hair, warmth and vitality, gave spirit to her loveliness. Lord Curzon was a widower, and was not created a marquis until after his marriage to Mrs. Dot Hinds, the first wife was Mrs. Mary Leiter, of Chicago, and his predilection for American-born women was evidenced again when he led Grace Hinds Dugan to the altar, thereby elevating her to the British peerage.

His father, Edward Scott, moved to Greensburg from New Jersey, and his mother was of English descent. The stories and pictures of cotton

Swagger and Tailored

SUITS...were to $16.75

Now $9 Monday

Leon Frohsin

225-27 PEACHTREE

Hard—Bateman.

Mrs. Guy Burton Hard announces the marriage of her daughter, Miss Nellie Burton, to Robert Leighton Bateman, of Covington, Ga., the ceremony having taken place December 23, in Tuscaloosa, Ala.

ELIZABETH ARDEN*Educational Service*During the Week of January 15

Mrs. Evadnah Wills, Personal Representative, will hold classes on the individual care of your skin through the Arden C. T. S. method.

Two classes daily!

These groups will be strictly limited in size to assure personal attention. Make your registration this week at the Toiletries Department, Street Floor.

Regensteins
PEACHTREE • STORE

If you have ordered a 1934 baby—here is something specially for you!

53 piece LAYETTE

	Each	Total
3 Cotton Shirts	$ .50	$ 1.50
36 Diapers (first quality)	1.95 (doz.)	5.85
2 Vanta Knitties	1.00	2.00
4 Dresses or Gowns	.79	3.16
2 Outing Kimonos	.59	1.18
2 Receiving Blankets	.59	1.18
1 Big Knit Towel	1.00	1.00
2 Wash Rags	.25	.50
1 Rubber Sheet	.79	.79
Final Total		$16.91
Special Price		$13.50
Saving		$ 3.41

Budgeted Specials

DRESSES—Sheer batiste hand embroidered and hand made. Sizes infants' to 2 years. Regularly $1.59 and $1.75. $1.00

SHAWLS—Hand loomed. Pink and blue in size 27x36. Special $1.00

PILLOW CASES—Scalloped and daintily embroidered. Full sizes. Regularly 59c to 79c. 2 for $1.00

PILLOWS—Kapok with sateen. Regular size. Usually 39c. 3 for $1.00

PADS—Stitched and quilted. Size 17x18. Regularly 19c. 6 for $1.00

SHIRTS—Silk and wool. Single or double breasted styles. Infants' to size 1 1/2. Regularly $1. .69c

Baby Shop—Third Floor

Regensteins
PEACHTREE • STOREMaccabees To Hold Public Installation

The Maccabees will hold a public installation of officers Monday evening, January 8, at 7:30 o'clock, in Hall No. 3, Red Men's Wigwam. The program will be sponsored by the ladies and juniors, and taking part will be Mrs. T. S. Squires, Mrs. Jones, Mrs. Sarah Michael, Jacqueline Crockett, Marguerite Michael, Betty Ramsey, Evelyn Davis, Bobby Sheltor and Bobby Pruitt.

M. D. Gleason, past commander and installing officer, will take charge of installation services. Dr. Horace Grant will deliver an address expressing to the three outgoing commanders the gratitude of the organization for services rendered. E. A. Rock will address the order on the work of the Maccabees as a whole and R. E. Leatherman will speak concerning the local work.

Georgia Tent No. 5.

The officers to be installed are: Commander, W. L. Wynn; past commander, M. D. Gleason; lieutenant commander, O. D. Williams; chaplain, P. P. Stone; sergeant, P. W. Stone; master at arms, W. J. Leatherman; first master of guards, R. E. Wain; second master of guards, W. W. Dickey; chaplain, Cecil Moon; Pickett, W. A. Gay; record keeper, C. E. Bronley; captain of guards, Fred W. Ewing; trustees, Dr. Horace Grant, S. O. Pack and O. A. Durham.

Dixie Hive No. 41.

Commander, Mrs. J. W. Montgomery; past commander, Mrs. Florence Lowe; lieutenant commander, Mrs. Annie M. Williams; record keeper, Mrs. Ruth Wilkinson; chaplain, Miss Maureen Martin; mistress at arms, Mrs. Alice McArthur; sergeant, Mrs. Willia M. Stowe; sentinel, Miss Ila C. Mills; picket, Mrs. Edna O'Rear; first lady of guards, Miss Eunice Doss; second lady of guards, Miss Frances Rock; trustees, Mrs. Florence Lowe, Mrs. Eva M. Rock and Mrs. Bessie Leatherman.

Junior Court No. 416.

Commanders, Bobby Shelton, Dorothy Barfield and Marguerite Michael; past commanders, Virginia Banks, Irene Field and James Vaughan Jr.; lieutenant commanders, Dorothy Suntherland, Doris Henshaw and Jacqueline Walther; record keepers, Elice Wages, Emily Black; golden deeds recorders, John Pasley Jr., Helen Davis; chaplains, Sarah Hunt, Charline Stokes and Charles Denmark; sergeants, James Hope, Harry Davis Jr. and Robert McWilliams; Mrs. Hyacinth Smith, Thomas Black Jr.; flag bearers, Edwin Vicker Jr., George Zachos, Louise Roach, Elizabeth Walker, Beverly Dodson and Edward Welch Jr.; first guards, William Warren, Roderick Stone; second guards, Bernard Stone, Paul Baker.

Miss Carol Hutcheson Weds Mr. Trippie.

MOUNT VERNON, Ga., Jan. 6.—The marriage of Miss Carol Hutcheson, daughter of Colonel and Mrs. A. B. Hutcheson of Mount Vernon, and Loy E. Trippie, of Pelham, was solemnized at the home of the bride's parents at December 28, at 3:30 o'clock. This date was the 34th anniversary of Colonel and Mrs. Hutcheson's wedding. Rev. L. E. Brady, pastor of Macon Cherokee Heights Methodist church, officiated.

The home was decorated with southern style chrysanthemums, carnations and other flowers. On mantels and console tables silver candlesticks held white tapers. Mrs. M. B. Colburn received the guests and the altar was erected at the foot of the stairs in the reception hall.

Preceding the ceremony a program of music was rendered by a string trio, violinists were Mrs. Ora and Sue Lee; cellist, Mrs. A. S. Johnson, and were accompanied by Miss Elizabeth Lee. The vocal soloist was Miss Margaret Wenzel of Helena, Ark., a cousin of the bride.

Misses Julia McEachin, of Atlanta, and Dorothy Hall, of Soperton, lighted the candles, and were gowned in peach, taffeta. Patricia Peterson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Peterson, of Alley, acted as ring bearer and was dressed in canary crepe, and the ring was carried in the heart of a bride's rose.

The bride entered with her father and was becomingly gowned in a brown crepe dress, trimed with a fresh bouquet with brown accessories. Her corsage was of pink roses and lilies of the valley. The bridegroom had as his best man his brother, B. H. Trippie, of Shellingham.

After the ceremony an informal reception was held. In the dining room a color note of green and white was used. The tables were round, tiered and surmounted by a miniature bride and bridegroom, placed under an arch from which hung a tiny wedding bell, around the edge of each tier were white frosting roses and leaves. Misses Pauline Hughes and Quinella McRae assisted in serving. Mrs. A. M. Gates provided oranges and lemonade. Mrs. J. E. Hall kept the bride's book, and assisting in entertaining were Mrs. M. L. Stephens, Mrs. Elwell Littlejohn, of Gaffney, S. C., and Mrs. J. H. Peterson.

The bride and bridegroom left on a wedding trip to Florida. The bride wore a brown ensemble suit for traveling, a brown fur coat completing her attire. The couple will be at home in Pelham, Ga., after January 1, where Mr. Trippie is engaged in business.

Out-of-town guests were B. F. Vinson, Mrs. Darwin Clawton, Mrs. W. A. McEachin and Miss Julia McEachin, Atlanta; Mrs. Paul T. Elkins, Mrs. Herbert Crawford, Mrs. Eloise Taylor, Mrs. E. L. Jackson and Mr. Gates, Macon; Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Vinson and son, Billy of Fitzgerald; Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Hall, Miss Dorothy Hall, Billy Hall and Mr. and Mrs. Jim Peterson, Soperton; B. H. Trippie and Miss Jessie Trippie, Shellingham; Miss Mildred Lewis, Statesboro; Miss Celestine Williams, Statesboro; J. P. Peltier, Tifton; Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Fleming Jr., Tifton; Miss Margaret Wenzel, Helena, Ark., and Mrs. Lessie Fox, Vidalia, Ga.

Board Will Meet.

The executive board of the West End Woman's Club Monday, January 8, at 8 o'clock, during club members and their husbands. The hospitality committee, Mrs. Ben E. Starr, chairman; Mrs. T. E. Roberts and Mrs. Charles B. Fife, will be in charge. Bridge and other games will be enjoyed during the evening. Refreshments will be served by the committee in charge. An invitation is extended to members and their friends to attend. These parties will be held at intervals during the winter months and are to be sponsored by various committees of the club.

College Park Chorus.

Rehearsals of the College Park Chorus will be resumed Monday evening, January 15, at the home of Mrs. E. D. Barrett. A brief cessation of activities during the Christmas season and the week of opera will be followed by the weekly rehearsals.

Mr. and Mrs. Burwell Thornton Have Established Residence Here

Among the interesting newcomers being welcomed to Atlanta society are Mr. and Mrs. Burwell Thornton, formerly of Daytona Beach, Fla., who have recently arrived to establish their residence. They have taken possession of their attractive home at 140 Peachtree street and will be identified with the young married contingent.

Mrs. Thornton was formerly Miss Mildred Fentress, daughter of Dr. Horace Grant, who delivered an address expressing to the three outgoing commanders the gratitude of the organization for services rendered. E. A. Rock will address the order on the work of the Maccabees as a whole and R. E. Leatherman will speak concerning the local work.

Georgia Tent No. 5.

The officers to be installed are: Commander, W. L. Wynn; past commander, M. D. Gleason; lieutenant commander, O. D. Williams; chaplain, P. P. Stone; sergeant, P. W. Stone; master at arms, W. J. Leatherman; first master of guards, R. E. Wain; second master of guards, W. W. Dickey; chaplain, Cecil Moon; Pickett, W. A. Gay; record keeper, C. E. Bronley; captain of guards, Fred W. Ewing; trustees, Dr. Horace Grant, S. O. Pack and O. A. Durham.

Dixie Hive No. 416.

Commanders, Bobby Shelton, Dorothy Barfield and Marguerite Michael; past commanders, Virginia Banks, Irene Field and James Vaughan Jr.; lieutenant commanders, Dorothy Suntherland, Doris Henshaw and Jacqueline Walther; record keepers, Elice Wages, Emily Black; golden deeds recorders, John Pasley Jr., Helen Davis; chaplains, Sarah Hunt, Charline Stokes and Charles Denmark; sergeants, James Hope, Harry Davis Jr. and Robert McWilliams; Mrs. Hyacinth Smith, Thomas Black Jr.; flag bearers, Edwin Vicker Jr., George Zachos, Louise Roach, Elizabeth Walker, Beverly Dodson and Edward Welch Jr.; first guards, William Warren, Roderick Stone; second guards, Bernard Stone, Paul Baker.

Miss Carol Hutcheson Weds Mr. Trippie.

MOUNT VERNON, Ga., Jan. 6.—The marriage of Miss Carol Hutcheson, daughter of Colonel and Mrs. A. B. Hutcheson of Mount Vernon, and Loy E. Trippie, of Pelham, was solemnized at the home of the bride's parents at December 28, at 3:30 o'clock. This date was the 34th anniversary of Colonel and Mrs. Hutcheson's wedding. Rev. L. E. Brady, pastor of Macon Cherokee Heights Methodist church, officiated.

The home was decorated with southern style chrysanthemums, carnations and other flowers. On mantels and console tables silver candlesticks held white tapers. Mrs. M. B. Colburn received the guests and the altar was erected at the foot of the stairs in the reception hall.

Tom Cather has returned from a visit in Danville, Va.

Miss Margaret Mills, who is a student at the University of Pennsylvania, spent the holidays with her mother, Mrs. William G. Mills.

Miss Allen Hargrove has returned to Savannah after a brief visit with Mrs. E. T. Forrest Jr., in West End.

Miss Brodgon has returned from a visit in Leesburg, Fla.

Master Comer White has recovered from a recent serious illness at his home in Ansley Park.

Miss Jimmie Hix has resumed his studies at Emory University after a visit in Atlanta, Ky.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph M. Corrigan Jr., have returned to their home in Meridian, Miss., after a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Joseph M. Corrigan Sr., in Ansley Park and Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Mathews in Macon, Ga.

Miss Charlotte Richards has resumed her studies at the University of Georgia after a visit to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Richards, of Decatur, Ga.

Bill Jenkins has returned from a visit in Columbus, Ga.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Carter and children, Jean and Carol Carter, have returned to Johnson City, Tenn., after visiting Mrs. Leonora Carter.

Mrs. L. D. Pratt and young son, Edwin Pratt, are spending the winter in Miami, Fla.

Dick Pratt, of Mobile, Ala., left yesterday for Princeton University, where Misses Pauline Hughes and Quinella McRae assisted in serving.

Misses Julia McEachin, of Atlanta, and Dorothy Hall, of Soperton, lighted the candles, and were gowned in peach, taffeta. Patricia Peterson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Peterson, of Alley, acted as ring bearer and was dressed in canary crepe, and the ring was carried in the heart of a bride's rose.

The bride entered with her father and was becomingly gowned in a brown crepe dress, trimed with a fresh bouquet with brown accessories. Her corsage was of pink roses and lilies of the valley. The bridegroom had as his best man his brother, B. H. Trippie, of Shellingham.

After the ceremony an informal reception was held. In the dining room a color note of green and white was used. The tables were round, tiered and surmounted by a miniature bride and bridegroom, placed under an arch from which hung a tiny wedding bell, around the edge of each tier were white frosting roses and leaves. Misses Pauline Hughes and Quinella McRae assisted in serving. Mrs. A. M. Gates provided oranges and lemonade. Mrs. J. E. Hall kept the bride's book, and assisting in entertaining were Mrs. M. L. Stephens, Mrs. Elwell Littlejohn, of Gaffney, S. C., and Mrs. J. H. Peterson.

The bride and bridegroom left on a wedding trip to Florida. The bride wore a brown ensemble suit for traveling, a brown fur coat completing her attire. The couple will be at home in Pelham, Ga., after January 1, where Mr. Trippie is engaged in business.

Out-of-town guests were B. F. Vinson, Mrs. Darwin Clawton, Mrs. W. A. McEachin and Miss Julia McEachin, Atlanta; Mrs. Paul T. Elkins, Mrs. Herbert Crawford, Mrs. Eloise Taylor, Mrs. E. L. Jackson and Mr. Gates, Macon; Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Vinson and son, Billy of Fitzgerald; Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Hall, Miss Dorothy Hall, Billy Hall and Mr. and Mrs. Jim Peterson, Soperton; B. H. Trippie and Miss Jessie Trippie, Shellingham; Miss Mildred Lewis, Statesboro; Miss Celestine Williams, Statesboro; J. P. Peltier, Tifton; Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Fleming Jr., Tifton; Miss Margaret Wenzel, Helena, Ark., and Mrs. Lessie Fox, Vidalia, Ga.

Board Will Meet.

The executive board of the West End Woman's Club Monday, January 8, at 8 o'clock, during club members and their husbands. The hospitality committee, Mrs. Ben E. Starr, chairman; Mrs. T. E. Roberts and Mrs. Charles B. Fife, will be in charge. Bridge and other games will be enjoyed during the evening. Refreshments will be served by the committee in charge. An invitation is extended to members and their friends to attend. These parties will be held at intervals during the winter months and are to be sponsored by various committees of the club.

College Park Chorus.

Rehearsals of the College Park Chorus will be resumed Monday evening, January 15, at the home of Mrs. E. D. Barrett. A brief cessation of activities during the Christmas season and the week of opera will be followed by the weekly rehearsals.

HOSIERY—STREET FLOOR.

Regensteins
PEACHTREE • STORE

Weds in January*Dr., Mrs. Sage Honor Debutantes And Bridal Pair at Buffet Supper

Dr. and Mrs. Dan Sage were hosts last evening at a buffet supper at their home on Inman circle. Miss Margaret Sage wore a black velvet gown trimmed with a circle of heliotrope velvet. Miss Mary Sage wore a black velvet dress with rhinestone clips and Miss Mary Sage was also gowned in black velvet with which she wore a short jacket of aquamarine blue velvet.

Parrish—Owens.

COLUMBUS, Ga., Jan. 6.—Mrs. Ora Kate Parrish of Columbus, Ga., announces the marriage of her daughter, Miss Emma Lee Parrish, to D. W. Owens, the wedding having been recently solemnized. Following a brief wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Owens will go to Atlanta, where they will make their home.

Good News
SEMI-ANNUAL SALE

of I. MILLER and INGENUE SHOES

7.85 5.8

THE CONSTITUTION'S PARENT-TEACHER PAGE

Edited by MAINER LEE TOLER

OFFICERS OF GEORGIA CONGRESS OF PARENTS AND TEACHERS—Mrs. M. H. Gaines, at McDonough, president; Mrs. M. H. Coleman, of Marietta, first vice president; Mrs. J. W. Sibert, of Augusta, second vice president; Mrs. Cooper Campbell, of Columbus, third vice president; Mrs. D. D. Smith, of Swainsboro, fourth vice president; Mrs. Guy Wells, of Statesboro, fifth vice president; Mrs. H. S. Chesham, of Macon, sixth vice president; Dr. Joe Bowdoin, of Atlanta, seventh vice president; Mrs. W. P. Jones, of Macon, recording secretary; Mrs. Otto Kell, of Savannah, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Fred Scanning, of Atlanta, treasurer; Mrs. J. S. Davis, Atlanta, historian; Mrs. Karrine Donahue, Gwinnett, parliamentarian.

OFFICES OF ATLANTA COUNCIL OF PARENTS AND TEACHERS—Mrs. Byron Mathews, president; Mrs. Cleve Webb, vice president; Mrs. N. S. Herod, corresponding secretary; Mrs. J. D. Thomas, recording secretary; Mrs. C. S. Knight, treasurer.

Atlanta P.-T. A. Council Indorses Emergency Fund for Schools

Unanimous endorsement of a proposed measure by United States Senator Walter F. George to provide emergency funds to reopen closed schools and prevent others from closing their doors was voted by the Atlanta Parent-Teacher Council at its meeting yesterday at the Henry Grady hotel. In discussion of the matter it was pointed out that approximately 2,000,000 children are being deprived of an education by reason of enforced closing of the schools they attended. It was stated that this is particularly true of the rural areas of various states. Some money was lacking to keep the schools in operation. The situation was described as deplorable and one which demands emergency relief legislation.

Action of the council followed talk by Superintendent W. A. Sutton and Mrs. Z. V. Peterson, member of the board of education. Mrs. Peterson urged support of the proposed bill as the means to meet a drastic circumstance.

Principal speaker at the session was Miss Lillian M. Alexander, director of public health nursing in the city health department. She emphasized health matters as related especially to children of school and pre-school age and their parents. She said that public health nurses had assisted in the physical examination of 33,569 children in the city schools.

P.-T. A. Meetings

Joel Chandler Harris P.-T. A. meets Tuesday, January 9, in the school auditorium at 2:30. Mrs. Armand Carroll will speak on "What Music Means to Our Homes."

Joe Brown P.-T. A. meets Monday, January 8, at 3 o'clock, at the school, featuring Elementary School Day and a skit on home economics. The speaker will be J. T. Wilhoit.

North Fulton executive board of P.-T. A. meets Tuesday, January 9, at 10:30 o'clock.

Oakhurst P.-T. A. meets Thursday, January 11, at 2:30 o'clock. Miss Mamie Barnes, principal, will speak on "Discipline in the Home." The parent education class meets the same afternoon.

English Avenue P.-T. A. meets Tuesday, January 9, at 2:30 o'clock, in the school auditorium. M. E. Colman, director of census and attendance, will preside.

Executive board of Capitol View P.-T. A. meets Tuesday, January 9, at 12:15 o'clock, at the school. Mrs. P. E. Davenport, the president, urges a full attendance of all the officers.

Ponce de Leon school P.-T. A. meets Wednesday, January 10, at 2:30 o'clock. Mrs. J. Bonar White, chairman of social hygiene for the fifth district, will speak on "The Vital Question of Social Hygiene." Mrs. Jack Norris and Mrs. George Lewis will sing a duet.

Springs Street P.-T. A. meets Tuesday, January 9, at 2:30 o'clock at the school. Miss Beverly Wheatcroft, of the Georgia library commission, will speak on "Libraries and Library Extension in Georgia."

Highland Pre-school Association meets Tuesday, January 9, at 2:45 p.m. with Mrs. C. F. Crocker as speaker.

Highland P.-T. A. executive board meets in school library Tuesday, January 9, at 9:30 o'clock.

Mary Lin Pre-school Association meets Wednesday, January 10, at 2:30 o'clock at the school. The subject for this month is "Personality Development." Mrs. B. F. Crocker will be in charge. All mothers interested are invited.

Executive board of the S. M. Industrial P.-T. A. meets Tuesday, January 9, at 9:30 a.m. in the school library.

Bass Junior High P.-T. A. meets Tuesday night, January 9, at 7:30 o'clock, in the school auditorium. Rev. Peter Marshall will speak on "Dreams Wanted."

Executive board of Bass Junior High P.-T. A. meets Monday morning, January 8, at 9:30 o'clock, at the school.

Executive board of Kirkwood P.-T. A. meets Friday morning, January 12, at 9:30 o'clock, at the school.

Russell High executive board meets Tuesday, January 9, at 1:30 o'clock, at Russell High school.

Russell High P.-T. A. meets Tuesday, January 9, at 2:30 o'clock, in Russell auditorium. The state superintendent, M. D. Collins, will speak on "Thrift."

O'Keefe Junior High P.-T. A. meets at 3 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, January 10, in the school auditorium. Mrs. Alonso Richardson will address the meeting on "Good Literature and Current Events." Tenth Street P.-T. A. has been invited to attend, also to hold meetings in the O'Keefe auditorium until the remodeling of its own auditorium is completed. An invitation is extended to all interested friends.

R. L. Hope P.-T. A. executive board meets Monday, January 8, at 10 a.m. in the school library.

Executive board of Boys' High P.-T. A. meets Monday morning, January 8, at 10 o'clock, in the library of the high school.

Miss Frances Cox, librarian of boys' and girls' department, Carnegie library, will speak on "Leisure Time Reading of Children" at the meeting of the Jerome Jones School P.-T. A. on Tuesday, January 9, at 2:30 o'clock, at the school. The two second grades will have charge of the program.

Executive board of the Morning-side P.-T. A. meets at the home of Mrs. R. C. Mizell, 888 Rock Springs road, Tuesday, January 9, at 10:30 o'clock.

Jerome Jones school parent edu-

School Lunch Room Problems To Be Discussed by 5th District

Of this number 35.22 per cent, or 11,522 were found to possess some form of defect. Only 1,207 were found to have defective teeth, while 4,386 showed defective tonsils, 3,632 defective glands, and 5,545 lacked proper nutrition.

The number of cases of defective children has decreased substantially from previous years, the speaker asserted. "The public health nurses have noticed for some time," she said, "that health consciousness was being created, and that people are making an effort to keep well."

Annual health examinations for adults and a periodic checkup on the infant and pre-school children has become popular during the past few years. Co-operation with the health program, especially that of the infant welfare and the pre-school age, has been remarkable, as evidenced by the number of remedial defects corrected. It is impossible to estimate the splendid service given by the dentists and doctors.

Mrs. DeLois Hill, concert chairman of the Atlanta Music Club and the Parent-Teacher Association, announced that the Minneapolis symphony orchestra would appear at the Wesley Memorial church auditorium Friday evening, February 2.

Mrs. Byron Matthews, president, presided at the council session. The invocation was delivered by Rev. C. R. Stauffer, pastor of the First Christian church.

Mrs. W. M. Schneider announces that the school lunch room problems will be the subject of the meeting Friday afternoon, January 12, at 2:30 p.m. of the fifth district P.-T. A. in the cafeteria of the Fulton High school. Each association in the district is urged to have a representative present. Realizing the large percentage of mal-nourished school children in Georgia, the health economists committee of the State Parent-Teachers Association is continuing to concentrate its efforts on better school lunches for all the children in Georgia.

This committee, with Miss Leila Dunne, chairman, is urging each district president to appoint a committee to set up a remedial nutritional program to benefit this large group of young people in their district. It is believed that the best way to accomplish this will be to come effective rapidly through the schools if all the parents, administrators and teachers of these children of all classes in all schools will give their serious thought and concerted effort.

Druid Hills P.-T. A.

Hears Dr. Smart.

Dr. W. A. Smart, instructor of Biblical theory at Emory university, spoke on "The Challenge of Youth to the Church" at the meeting of the Druid Hills Elementary School P.-T. A. Wednesday at the school building. Mrs. R. J. Taylor, assisted by Mrs. E. Goodrich White, presented the program. Mrs. Willard R. Leach, president, presided, and requested the mothers to obey the law by not allowing children under 16 years of age to drive automobiles. Her request was unanimously endorsed.

Mrs. Leach presented the association a pamphlet for saving clipper money. Mrs. J. O. Anderson is chairman of scrap book and Mrs. George S. Ober Jr., is publicity chairman.

Mrs. Thomas Campbell, chairman of summer round up, was presented with a certificate from the National Congress of Parents and Teachers. Mrs. A. C. Glenn was appointed Child Welfare magazine chairman.

Mrs. J. B. McNelly spoke of preparing the children for the appreciation of the forthcoming opera season and Mrs. Paul Green stated that 20 children from the school orchestra. Prizes were given to Mrs. W. S. Johns, Mrs. D. B. Sinclair and Miss Mary Steadman, teachers of the classes bringing the largest number of books to the school library. Reports were made by Mesdames A. E. Foster, J. W. Mozley, principal; Albert Pritchard, H. W. Trimble, R. W. Evans, Mrs. L. E. Loemker gave several selections on the cello accompanied by Mrs. Paul Bryant.

R. L. Hope P.-T. A.

Plans Minstrels.

A minstrel show will be given by the R. L. Hope P.-T. A. Friday evening, January 12, in the school auditorium, the proceeds to go to the school library. There will be an admission charge of 25 cents. Seats will be reserved for those buying tickets, but not until Friday morning.

Those taking part in the minstrel are: B. H. Wilhoit, F. A. Mitchell, B. D. Wray, Frank Stevens, J. D. Norris, H. Clay Moore Jr., Henry Peoples, Heyden Jones, E. B. McDougal, Robert Warwick, Robert Crenshaw, John Jarrell, "Buck" Cheves, Ed Werner, Jack Lawless, Harry Lewis, H. A. Lawrence, W. C. Coart, R. E. Dale, Lee Wilkie, Bob Warwick Jr. and Chester Kitchens will also take part.

Assisting will be Lawton Miller, T. P. Branch and Dr. T. S. Sellers.

Presidents' Club Holds Luncheon.

President's Club of Atlanta Council of Parents and Teachers were honored by the presence of Miss Marion Telford, of New York city, at its luncheon last Thursday. Items of interest to the local parent-teacher presidents were discussed. Mrs. R. A. Long, president of the club, urged a 100 per cent co-operation in all Parent-Teacher activities for 1934.

There are 53 local Parent-Teacher Associations in the city. Mrs. Long urges all local associations to send their presidents to these luncheons. 35 presidents were present.

Mrs. Flowers was born and reared at Logansville, in Walton county, and is the only surviving member of a prominent old Georgia family, having been a daughter of the late Mr. Mrs. Elizabeth Moore. Following her marriage to Walter Phippen Flowers, a representative of a well-known Lawrenceville family, she moved to that city to reside. For over 43 years she has made Atlanta her home, where she is greatly beloved by a host of friends.

Mrs. Flowers was born and reared at Logansville, in Walton county, and is the only surviving member of a prominent old Georgia family, having been a daughter of the late Mr. Mrs. Elizabeth Moore. Following her marriage to Walter Phippen Flowers, a representative of a well-known Lawrenceville family, she moved to that city to reside. For over 43 years she has made Atlanta her home, where she is greatly beloved by a host of friends.

Mrs. Flowers was born and reared at Logansville, in Walton county, and is the only surviving member of a prominent old Georgia family, having been a daughter of the late Mr. Mrs. Elizabeth Moore. Following her marriage to Walter Phippen Flowers, a representative of a well-known Lawrenceville family, she moved to that city to reside. For over 43 years she has made Atlanta her home, where she is greatly beloved by a host of friends.

Mrs. Flowers was born and reared at Logansville, in Walton county, and is the only surviving member of a prominent old Georgia family, having been a daughter of the late Mr. Mrs. Elizabeth Moore. Following her marriage to Walter Phippen Flowers, a representative of a well-known Lawrenceville family, she moved to that city to reside. For over 43 years she has made Atlanta her home, where she is greatly beloved by a host of friends.

Mrs. Flowers was born and reared at Logansville, in Walton county, and is the only surviving member of a prominent old Georgia family, having been a daughter of the late Mr. Mrs. Elizabeth Moore. Following her marriage to Walter Phippen Flowers, a representative of a well-known Lawrenceville family, she moved to that city to reside. For over 43 years she has made Atlanta her home, where she is greatly beloved by a host of friends.

Mrs. Flowers was born and reared at Logansville, in Walton county, and is the only surviving member of a prominent old Georgia family, having been a daughter of the late Mr. Mrs. Elizabeth Moore. Following her marriage to Walter Phippen Flowers, a representative of a well-known Lawrenceville family, she moved to that city to reside. For over 43 years she has made Atlanta her home, where she is greatly beloved by a host of friends.

Mrs. Flowers was born and reared at Logansville, in Walton county, and is the only surviving member of a prominent old Georgia family, having been a daughter of the late Mr. Mrs. Elizabeth Moore. Following her marriage to Walter Phippen Flowers, a representative of a well-known Lawrenceville family, she moved to that city to reside. For over 43 years she has made Atlanta her home, where she is greatly beloved by a host of friends.

Mrs. Flowers was born and reared at Logansville, in Walton county, and is the only surviving member of a prominent old Georgia family, having been a daughter of the late Mr. Mrs. Elizabeth Moore. Following her marriage to Walter Phippen Flowers, a representative of a well-known Lawrenceville family, she moved to that city to reside. For over 43 years she has made Atlanta her home, where she is greatly beloved by a host of friends.

Mrs. Flowers was born and reared at Logansville, in Walton county, and is the only surviving member of a prominent old Georgia family, having been a daughter of the late Mr. Mrs. Elizabeth Moore. Following her marriage to Walter Phippen Flowers, a representative of a well-known Lawrenceville family, she moved to that city to reside. For over 43 years she has made Atlanta her home, where she is greatly beloved by a host of friends.

Mrs. Flowers was born and reared at Logansville, in Walton county, and is the only surviving member of a prominent old Georgia family, having been a daughter of the late Mr. Mrs. Elizabeth Moore. Following her marriage to Walter Phippen Flowers, a representative of a well-known Lawrenceville family, she moved to that city to reside. For over 43 years she has made Atlanta her home, where she is greatly beloved by a host of friends.

Mrs. Flowers was born and reared at Logansville, in Walton county, and is the only surviving member of a prominent old Georgia family, having been a daughter of the late Mr. Mrs. Elizabeth Moore. Following her marriage to Walter Phippen Flowers, a representative of a well-known Lawrenceville family, she moved to that city to reside. For over 43 years she has made Atlanta her home, where she is greatly beloved by a host of friends.

Mrs. Flowers was born and reared at Logansville, in Walton county, and is the only surviving member of a prominent old Georgia family, having been a daughter of the late Mr. Mrs. Elizabeth Moore. Following her marriage to Walter Phippen Flowers, a representative of a well-known Lawrenceville family, she moved to that city to reside. For over 43 years she has made Atlanta her home, where she is greatly beloved by a host of friends.

Mrs. Flowers was born and reared at Logansville, in Walton county, and is the only surviving member of a prominent old Georgia family, having been a daughter of the late Mr. Mrs. Elizabeth Moore. Following her marriage to Walter Phippen Flowers, a representative of a well-known Lawrenceville family, she moved to that city to reside. For over 43 years she has made Atlanta her home, where she is greatly beloved by a host of friends.

Mrs. Flowers was born and reared at Logansville, in Walton county, and is the only surviving member of a prominent old Georgia family, having been a daughter of the late Mr. Mrs. Elizabeth Moore. Following her marriage to Walter Phippen Flowers, a representative of a well-known Lawrenceville family, she moved to that city to reside. For over 43 years she has made Atlanta her home, where she is greatly beloved by a host of friends.

Mrs. Flowers was born and reared at Logansville, in Walton county, and is the only surviving member of a prominent old Georgia family, having been a daughter of the late Mr. Mrs. Elizabeth Moore. Following her marriage to Walter Phippen Flowers, a representative of a well-known Lawrenceville family, she moved to that city to reside. For over 43 years she has made Atlanta her home, where she is greatly beloved by a host of friends.

Mrs. Flowers was born and reared at Logansville, in Walton county, and is the only surviving member of a prominent old Georgia family, having been a daughter of the late Mr. Mrs. Elizabeth Moore. Following her marriage to Walter Phippen Flowers, a representative of a well-known Lawrenceville family, she moved to that city to reside. For over 43 years she has made Atlanta her home, where she is greatly beloved by a host of friends.

Mrs. Flowers was born and reared at Logansville, in Walton county, and is the only surviving member of a prominent old Georgia family, having been a daughter of the late Mr. Mrs. Elizabeth Moore. Following her marriage to Walter Phippen Flowers, a representative of a well-known Lawrenceville family, she moved to that city to reside. For over 43 years she has made Atlanta her home, where she is greatly beloved by a host of friends.

Mrs. Flowers was born and reared at Logansville, in Walton county, and is the only surviving member of a prominent old Georgia family, having been a daughter of the late Mr. Mrs. Elizabeth Moore. Following her marriage to Walter Phippen Flowers, a representative of a well-known Lawrenceville family, she moved to that city to reside. For over 43 years she has made Atlanta her home, where she is greatly beloved by a host of friends.

Mrs. Flowers was born and reared at Logansville, in Walton county, and is the only surviving member of a prominent old Georgia family, having been a daughter of the late Mr. Mrs. Elizabeth Moore. Following her marriage to Walter Phippen Flowers, a representative of a well-known Lawrenceville family, she moved to that city to reside. For over 43 years she has made Atlanta her home, where she is greatly beloved by a host of friends.

Mrs. Flowers was born and reared at Logansville, in Walton county, and is the only surviving member of a prominent old Georgia family, having been a daughter of the late Mr. Mrs. Elizabeth Moore. Following her marriage to Walter Phippen Flowers, a representative of a well-known Lawrenceville family, she moved to that city to reside. For over 43 years she has made Atlanta her home, where she is greatly beloved by a host of friends.

Mrs. Flowers was born and reared at Logansville, in Walton county, and is the only surviving member of a prominent old Georgia family, having been a daughter of the late Mr. Mrs. Elizabeth Moore. Following her marriage to Walter Phippen Flowers, a representative of a well-known Lawrenceville family, she moved to that city to reside. For over 43 years she has made Atlanta her home, where she is greatly beloved by a host of friends.

Mrs. Flowers was born and reared at Logansville, in Walton county, and is the only surviving member of a prominent old Georgia family, having been a daughter of the late Mr. Mrs. Elizabeth Moore. Following her marriage to Walter Phippen Flowers, a representative of a well-known Lawrenceville family, she moved to that city to reside. For over 43 years she has made Atlanta her home, where she is greatly beloved by a host of friends.

Mrs. Flowers was born and reared at Logansville, in Walton county, and is the only surviving member of a prominent old Georgia family, having been a daughter of the late Mr. Mrs. Elizabeth Moore. Following her marriage to Walter Phippen Flowers, a representative of a well-known Lawrenceville family, she moved to that city to reside. For over 43 years she has made Atlanta her home, where she is greatly beloved by a host of friends.

Mrs. Flowers was born and reared at Logansville, in Walton county, and is the only surviving member of a prominent old Georgia family, having been a daughter of the late Mr. Mrs. Elizabeth Moore. Following her marriage to Walter Phippen Flowers, a representative of a well-known Lawrenceville family, she moved to that city to reside. For over 43 years she has made Atlanta her home, where she is greatly beloved by a host of

Meetings

Peony Garden Club meets at 10:30 o'clock Thursday, January 11, at the home of Mrs. John Brickman, 769 Penn avenue. Mrs. W. A. Antiloff and Mrs. W. W. Alexander will be hostesses.

Sacred Heart Alumnae meet Sunday morning, January 7, after the 10 o'clock mass at the Sacred Heart convent. Plans for the Valentine party to be given for the benefit of the school will be discussed and chairman of the party will be appointed.

North Atlanta Chapter No. 36, E. S., meets Thursday evening in the chapter room, 1002 1/2 Hemphill avenue, at 7:30 o'clock. Mrs. Stella Wheeler will be installed as Ruth and Mrs. Maude Adamson as Electa. Mrs. Anna Mae Clegg, who is grand installing officer, assisted by Mrs. Macie O'Neil, as grand marshal; Mrs. Harriett Carpenter, as grand chaplain, and Mrs. Pauline Maddox, as grand organist.

Temple Sisterhood meets Monday, January 8, Miss Clara Harper and Mrs. Anna Mae Clegg, who is a program of piano and violin numbers, as announced by Mrs. Lewis Hirsh, chairman of music committee. A report will be given by Mrs. Leo Hein on the bridge, and a report by Mrs. Albert Kuhn, chairman of the religious committee, on a successful party held for the children of the Sunday school in celebration of the festival of Chanukah.

Druid Hills W. C. T. U. meets Wednesday, January 10, at 2:30 o'clock at the headquarters, 1436 North Highland avenue.

Auxiliary to the Railway Mail Association meets Thursday at 10:30 o'clock in Sterchi's clubroom.

Virginia Avenue Garden Club meets Monday, January 8, at 2:30 o'clock at the home of Mrs. F. A. Boston, 914 Virginia avenue. Norman Butts, landscape gardener, will give a talk on "Flowering Shrubs and Pruning."

The West End Study Class meets Wednesday, January 10, at 10:45 o'clock with Mrs. William E. Mansfield, 532 Peeples street.

Oakland City O. E. S. Benefit Club meets Saturday evening, January 13, at the home of Mrs. Kate Parham, worthy matron, at 1100 LaRosa Terrace, S. W. Mrs. Bernice Williams, chairman of the ways and means committee for January, and her co-workers are sponsoring this meeting and inviting members of the chapter to attend.

Business and Professional Women's Club meets at the Frances Virginia tea room Wednesday evening, January 10, at 6:15 o'clock. Reports for the past year will be made and officers elected for the coming year. Mrs. Cora Alexander, chairman of the committee on national business women's week, will outline plans for the observance of this week which is sponsored by the national federation annually in March.

Atlanta and Fulton county chapter of Service Star Legion meets Tuesday, January 9, at 7:30 o'clock in the palm room of the Atlanta Women's Club with the president, Mrs. W. F. Melton, presiding. Mrs. Warren D. White, state president of the Service Star Legion, will address the chapter.

The Woman's Union of the United Liberal church (Unitarian Universalist), meets at the parish house, 669 West Peachtree street, on Tuesday, January 9, at 11:30 o'clock. Mrs. Florence H. Brownell, the president, urges members to be present, as this is a very important meeting. New officers will be installed and the program for the year will be planned. Luncheon will be served at 1 o'clock.

The Peachtree Hills Woman's Club meets Wednesday, January 17, at 3 o'clock at the home of Mrs. C. Stegall, 79 Peachtree Hills avenue.

The executive board of the Atlanta Chapter U. D. C. meets Tuesday, January 9, at 10 o'clock at the chapter house.

The quarterly meeting of the Goodwill Auxiliary will be held at the Goodwill Industry, 33 Butler street, Tuesday, January 9, beginning promptly at 10:30 o'clock. Presidents and supply superintendents of the Methodist missionary societies of the city are invited to attend, and are invited to occupy the main officers who have been elected to the positions. Plans will be outlined for the work of the new year, and reports made of the Thanksgiving shower and the Christmas tree given the employees of the Goodwill Industry. Each supply superintendent is asked to bring a report of the work done in her missionary society during the last quarter.

Blakki Court, No. 25, L. O. S. of N. A., meets at Georgia Power Women's Club, 193 1/2 Whitehall street, S. W., on Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

Atlanta chapter, No. 57, O. E. S., meets Friday, January 12, at 7:30 o'clock in Joseph C. Greenfield Masonic temple on Moreland avenue at Little Five Points. After a short

Lovely Wife and Son of Fourth Corps Commander

Mrs. George Van Horn Moseley, charming wife of General Moseley, the newly-appointed commander of the fourth corps area, is pictured with their young son. Mrs. Moseley was formerly Miss Florence Barber, daughter of James Barber, who established the well-known Barber Steamship Lines, and who has been closely associated with the development of Pinehurst, N. C., for many years. Mrs. Moseley is an unusually attractive young woman and she and her distinguished husband enjoy wide popularity in army society. General and Mrs. Moseley and their young son will arrive in Atlanta at an early date for residence, coming here from Columbus, Ohio, where General Moseley has been in command of the fifth corps area, U. S. A., at Fort Hayes. The lovely photograph was made by Harris and Ewing, Washington, D. C.

business, the chapter will be open to the home of Mrs. J. C. Anglin, Fernwood drive, Tuesday at 2:45 o'clock.

Kirkwood chapter, No. 223, O. E. S., meets Tuesday evening, January 9, at 7:30 o'clock in the Kirkwood Masonic hall as marshal; Rev. Joe Thrall, as captain; Mrs. Elizabeth Gavett as organist, and Mrs. Le Vert Mitchell as soloist.

Atlanta Pilot Club meets Tuesday, January 9, at the Henry Grady hotel at 6 o'clock.

North Side Library Association meets Wednesday, January 10, at 2:30 p. m. with Mrs. I. T. Callaway Jr., 3156 Piedmont road.

Asalem Garden Club meets at the home of the new president, Mrs. George H. Coates, 1374 Emory road at 2:30 o'clock Tuesday, January 9, with Mrs. M. C. Adair as co-hostess. Installation of new officers of the club took place at the December meeting which was held at the home of Mrs. E. McElroy. The officers are: Mrs. Coates, president; Mrs. W. F. Callor, recording secretary; Mrs. R. D. Hale, corresponding secretary; Mrs. J. W. Autry, treasurer; Mrs. E. C. Houston, auditor.

Chi Omega Alumnae meet in the chapter house at Oglethorpe University at 3 o'clock Sunday.

Nix—Lowe.

Study Club of the fifth district, Georgia State Nurses' Association, meets Thursday, January 11, at 2:30 o'clock in the Georgia ball room of the Henry Grady hotel.

Asalem Garden Club meets at the home of the new president, Mrs. George H. Coates, 1374 Emory road at 2:30 o'clock Tuesday, January 9, with Mrs. M. C. Adair as co-hostess. Installation of new officers of the club took place at the December meeting which was held at the home of Mrs. E. McElroy. The officers are: Mrs. Coates, president; Mrs. W. F. Callor, recording secretary; Mrs. R. D. Hale, corresponding secretary; Mrs. J. W. Autry, treasurer; Mrs. E. C. Houston, auditor.

Chi Omega Alumnae meet in the chapter house at Oglethorpe University at 3 o'clock Sunday.

1934's Newest Patterns in Stamped Needlework

STAMPED BRIDGE CLOTHS of white linen with woven designs. 4 napkins. $1.19

GLASS TOWELS of absorbent quality. White striped with color. Simple designs. 10c STAMPED PILLOW CASES. 36x42-in. Bucilla casing known for wear. All white. 79c pr.

10-PC. LUNCHEON SETS. White linen. Scarf, 4 mats, 4 napkins and tray cover. $1.19

Second Floor

★ RICH'S

Exclusive at Rich's
Utica Percale
Sheets and Cases with Needlecrest Monograms

Luxurious Utica Percale Sheets—with the feel of silk and the strength of linen. Now individually monogrammed—at a new low price. Needlecrest Monograms include full three letters—in smart block design—size 2 1/2 x 3 in. Your choice of white, green, rose, blue, or brown needlework. The monogram is only 25¢ additional to the regular price of Utica sheets and pillow cases.

Hemmed	Hemstitched	Hemmed	Hemstitched
$2.45	72x99	$2.75	$2.65
$2.55	72x108	$2.85	$3.15

Pillow Cases

58c ea. 42x36 74c ea. 60c ea. 45x36 76c ea.

Second Floor

Meetings

Decatur High Girls
To Present Operetta.

The girls of Decatur High school will present a Spanish operetta, "The Toreadors," January 13 in the auditorium of the school.

The principals in the cast are Carolyn Bowers, Senor Dectorio; Norma Lee Pharp, Pablo; Gertrude Hobby, Benita; Mary Belle Cruger, Juanita; Elizabeth von Gerny, Wacheo; Betty Anne Niemi, Serafina; Lois Henderson, Maria; Margaret Denson, Delores; Doris Parks, Juan.

Those in the chorus are Dorothy Frank, Louise Broyles, Betty Jean O'Brien, Martha Dunway, Margaret Hollis, Ned Moss, Maelyn Tucker, Katherine Donald, Dorothy Ramspach, Patsy Cowan, Bobbie Ross, Mary Gilbert, Virginia Heaton, Jane Turk, Kathleen Elkin, Frances Jerigan, Elizabeth Cousins, Beverly Cone, Carolyn Pounds, Amelia Greenwald, Frances Starns, Dorothy Bodorf, Grace Bobo, Dean Honiker, Doris Tucker, Meadowine, Winifred Thompson, Mary Lois Riley, Betty Hayes, Martha Koehly, Eva Connally, Mary Winterburger, Charlotte Behn, Stella Hinson, Ida Mae Kissell, Virginia Ann Rumbley, Virginia Cofer, Helen Kirkpatrick, Eleanor Roettig, Martha Dunning, Anne Irby, Mattie Lee Mullis, Camilla Hugley, Mary Alice Sumpter, Margaret Morgan and Dorothy Avery. Tickets may be procured from the students.

Kitchens—Rivers.

J. W. Kitchens, of Atlanta, announces the marriage of his sister, Mrs. Katherine Rivers, to Lerner Marvin Rivers of Fairburn, on December 23. The marriage was solemnized at the home of Colonel Hal Lawson, of Abbeville, Ga., in the presence of a few close friends, with Rev. Charles L. Bass officiating. Mr. and Mrs. Rivers are residing in Fairburn, Ga., following their wedding trip to Florida.

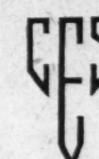

December 30 in the presence of a few close friends at the home of Rev. Peacock, Albany, Ga.

Gaines—Trammell.

Mrs. Mary L. Gaines of this city and Paul B. Trammell, formerly of Dalton, Ga., were married by the Rev. Louis D. Newton, pastor of the Druid Hills Baptist church, on Saturday, December 30.

Mr. and Mrs. Trammell are at home at 1025 Lanier boulevard, N. E.

★ RICH'S

3-Letter
Monogram
Stationery

49c
box

Individualize your stationery with your monogram in gold, silver or blue. Novelty finish in popular single sheets.

Street Floor

★ RICH'S

The Fashion
Secrets of Spring
Are Yours In

NEW WOOLS, tweeds, nubs, checks and patterns. Pastels $2.98
yd.

DARBROOK CREPE, sports silks in men's shirting stripes for tailored dresses. All silk. $1.00
yd.

MINGTOY, in 25 washable colors, lets you in on how bright the spring season will be in silks. $1.09
yd.

SATIN CREPES, faille crepes, canton crepes portray shades for lingerie and dresses. 84c
yd.

PEACHBLOOM CREPE exclusive at Rich's, in 50 new spring shades and is washable. 40-in. 74c
yd.

PRINTED CREPES, aglitter with flowers, confetti and geometric patterns. Pure dye. $1.00
yd.

PRINTED SHEER CREPES in monotypes, small neat designs and other new patterns. 88c
yd.

SHANTUNG, Belding, Hemingway's in pastel and sports colors. Special purchase, hence the price. 49c
yd.

KRISAL CREPE and Faille by Cheney, in black, navy and the new colors for street wear. $1.25
yd.

CRINKLE CREPE, Duplan fabric, one of the new weaves in light and dark shades, washable. 59c
yd.

DARBROOK CREPES, prints, large and small, on blue, black, green, rose, tan and brown. 88c
yd.

New Vogue, McCall, Pictorial Review, Butterick and Excella Patterns just in!

Second Floor

Meetings

Peony Garden Club meets at 10:30 o'clock Thursday, January 11, at the home of Mrs. John Brickman, 769 Penn avenue. Mrs. W. A. Antiloff and Mrs. W. W. Alexander will be hostesses.

Sacred Heart Alumnae meet Sunday morning, January 7, after the 10 o'clock mass at the Sacred Heart convent. Plans for the Valentine party to be given for the benefit of the school will be discussed and chairman of the party will be appointed.

North Atlanta Chapter No. 36, E. S., meets Thursday evening in the chapter room, 1002 1/2 Hemphill avenue, at 7:30 o'clock. Mrs. Stella Wheeler will be installed as Ruth and Mrs. Maude Adamson as Electa. Mrs. Anna Mae Clegg, who is grand installing officer, assisted by Mrs. Macie O'Neil, as grand marshal; Mrs. Harriett Carpenter, as grand chaplain, and Mrs. Pauline Maddox, as grand organist.

Temple Sisterhood meets Monday, January 8, Miss Clara Harper and Mrs. Anna Mae Clegg, who is a program of piano and violin numbers, as announced by Mrs. Lewis Hirsh, chairman of music committee. A report will be given by Mrs. Leo Hein on the bridge, and a report by Mrs. Albert Kuhn, chairman of the religious committee, on a successful party held for the children of the Sunday school in celebration of the festival of Chanukah.

Druid Hills W. C. T. U. meets Wednesday, January 10, at 2:30 o'clock at the headquarters, 1436 North Highland avenue.

Auxiliary to the Railway Mail Association meets Thursday at 10:30 o'clock in Sterchi's clubroom.

Virginia Avenue Garden Club meets Monday, January 8, at 2:30 o'clock at the home of Mrs. F. A. Boston, 914 Virginia avenue. Norman Butts, landscape gardener, will give a talk on "Flowering Shrubs and Pruning."

The West End Study Class meets Wednesday, January 10, at 10:45 o'clock with Mrs. William E. Mansfield, 532 Peeples street.

Oakland City O. E. S. Benefit Club meets Saturday evening, January 13, at the home of Mrs. Kate Parham, worthy matron, at 1100 LaRosa Terrace, S. W. Mrs. Bernice Williams, chairman of the ways and means committee for January, and her co-workers are sponsoring this meeting and inviting members of the chapter to attend.

Business and Professional Women's Club meets at the Frances Virginia tea room Wednesday evening, January 10, at 6:15 o'clock. Reports for the past year will be made and officers elected for the coming year. Mrs. Cora Alexander, chairman of the committee on national business women's week, will outline plans for the observance of this week which is sponsored by the national federation annually in March.

Atlanta and Fulton county chapter of Service Star Legion meets Tuesday, January 9, at 7:30 o'clock in the palm room of the Atlanta Women's Club with the president, Mrs. W. F. Melton, presiding. Mrs. Warren D. White, state president of the Service Star Legion, will address the chapter.

The Woman's Union of the United Liberal church (Unitarian Universalist), meets at the parish house, 669 West Peachtree street, on Tuesday, January 9, at 11:30 o'clock. Mrs. Florence H. Brownell, the president, urges members to be present, as this is a very important meeting. New officers will be installed and the program for the year will be planned. Luncheon will be served at 1 o'clock.

The Peachtree Hills Woman's Club meets Wednesday, January 17, at 3 o'clock at the home of Mrs. C. Stegall, 79 Peachtree Hills avenue.

The executive board of the Atlanta Chapter U. D. C. meets Tuesday, January 9, at 10 o'clock at the chapter house.

The quarterly meeting of the Goodwill Auxiliary will be held at the Goodwill Industry, 33 Butler street, Tuesday, January 9, beginning promptly at 10:30 o'clock. Presidents and supply superintendents of the Methodist missionary societies of the city are invited to attend, and are invited to occupy the main officers who have been elected to the positions. Plans will be outlined for the work of the new year, and reports made of the Thanksgiving shower and the Christmas tree given the employees of the Goodwill Industry. Each supply superintendent is asked to bring a report of the work done in her missionary

Grand Opera
Holds Interest
This Week

Of primary importance on the calendar this week to musically inclined and cultured Atlantans is that grand opera will be sung by the Chicago Opera Company at the auditorium for four successive days. Atlantans will welcome the opportunity to hear such tuneful and marvelous operas as Aida, Faust, Hansel and Gretel, La Boheme, Carmen and Il Trovatore. Aida will be sung on Monday evening as the opening opera in the series, and "first-nighters" will don their handsome evening gowns and glittering jewels, and their conventional dress suits to greet the return of grand opera in all of its glory.

Maestro Alfredo Salmaggi, under whose management grand opera will be presented this week, has enrolled in the casts such noted singers as Amato, Franco Tafuro, Bruno Castagna, Santa Biondo, Dreda Aves, Charlotte Ryan, Giuseppe Radaelli, and others. Alfredo Salmaggi is an imposing figure in or out of the operatic world. Standing well over six feet in height, with a great shock of jet black hair and a persuasive smile, he looks every inch the impresario—especially in his striking uniform of single-breasted frock, striped trousers, broad-brimmed, black Stetson and flowing black Windsor tie. He is the father of nine children, a supreme self-confidence and what has turned out to be a fine idea of grand opera at popular prices.

Miss Guttenberger
To Become Bride
Of John Illges

MACON, Ga., Jan. 6.—Announcement is made today by Mrs. Custis Nottingham Guttenberger, of Macon, of the engagement of her daughter, Miss Mary Kimbrough Guttenberger, to John Paul Illges Jr., of Columbus, the marriage to take place in February.

The bride-elect, a lovely blonde, vivacious and charming, is the second daughter of Mrs. Guttenberger and the late Mr. Guttenberger, and is quite a belle in Georgia society. She is a granddaughter of Mrs. Benjamin Kimbrough and the late Mr. Kimbrough, her mother having been before her marriage Miss Mary Rosser Kimbrough, of Hamilton. On her paternal side she is the granddaughter of the late Professor and Mrs. F. A. Guttenberger, of Macon, and is a sister of Mrs. Alfred Brumback, of Macon, B. F. Guttenberger, of Jacksonville, Fla., and Custis Guttenberger, of Honolulu. The bride-elect is a graduate of Lanier high school and later studied at Wesleyan Conservatory.

Mr. Illges is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Illges, of Columbus and a brother of Norman Illges and Miss Dorothy Illges. His mother was before her marriage Miss Dorothy Shannon, of Elberton, and on his paternal side he is a grandson of the late Mr. and Mrs. Illges, of Columbus. He studied for two years at Alabama Polytechnic Institute at Auburn and later at Wharton School, University of Pennsylvania, where he was graduated. He is a member of the S. A. E. fraternity. He is now secretary and treasurer of the Lummus Cotton Gin Company, of Columbus.

Mrs. Goodwin
Weds Mr. Judd
In Rome, Ga.

ROME, Ga., Jan. 6.—State-wide interest centers in the announcement of the marriage of Mrs. Jane Thomas Goodwin and William Jefferson Judd, which was quietly solemnized here on Saturday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock. The ceremony was performed by Dr. Robert Leyburn in his study at the First Presbyterian church, and was witnessed by Misses Jane Goodwin and Helen Goodwin, the young daughters of the bride, and Rowland B. Parker.

Mrs. Judd wore a modish ensemble of black wool combined with red, and a short sealskin coat. Her hat was a becoming model of black felt and the smart accessories were in black. A shoulder bouquet of talisman roses and valley lilies completed her costume.

Mr. Judd and his bride are at the Biltmore hotel in Atlanta, and upon their return to Rome, they will reside in an apartment on Alabama road. Mrs. Judd made her home in Atlanta for a number of years and has hosts of friends in the capital city. She moved to Rome about four years ago, and is quite popular socially. She is exceedingly attractive and charming, and possesses brilliant mentality.

Mr. Judd is a son of Mrs. William Jefferson Judd, of Richmond, and the late Mr. Judd, and his family has been prominent for generations in the annals of Virginia. His ancestors were identified with the early history of the Old Dominion and in its social and professional life. Mr. Judd is an instructor of modern languages at Darlington School for Boys in Rome.

Mrs. WASDEN
Mrs. WASDEN is the former Miss Eugenia Coleman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel T. Coleman, of Macon, and niece of Mrs. Frank Hawkins, of Atlanta. Mrs. Henry was Miss Catherine Molloy, of Chicago, and is a charming acquisition to Atlanta's social and Junior League ranks. Miss Guttenberger is a daughter of Mrs. Curtis N.

Guttenberger, of Macon, her engagement being announced today to John Paul Illges Jr., of Columbus, the marriage to take place in February. Mrs. Herrin is the former Miss Martha Rogers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Rogers. Mrs. Daniel was Miss Evelyn Lowndes, of San Antonio, Texas, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Holland Lowndes, former Atlanta and arrives here this week and will be welcomed into the younger married set of society. Photographs of Mrs. Wasden and Miss Guttenberger were made by Warlick's studio, of Macon, Ga.; Mrs. Henry's photo is the work of DuBois, of Chicago, Ill.; photograph of Mrs. Herrin made by Walton Reeves.

days here as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Inman Brandon at their home on Arden road. The bride-elect and Mrs. Brandon, who was the former Miss Louise Glancy, of Detroit, were schoolmates at Finch school in Europe, and in November Miss Mabee visited the Brandons and it was then that she became engaged to the popular Atlanta physician. The exquisite engagement ring

Continued in Page 10, Column 1.

Romantic Atmosphere Inspires Courtship.

Perhaps the romantic atmosphere in which Miss Edna Louise Mabee, of Saratoga,

N. Y., and Camden, S. C., and Dr. Lewis Monroe Smith, of Atlanta, met had some influence on their rapid courtship, which culminated in the recent announcement of their engagement. Miss Mabee and Dr. Smith were introduced when both acted as attendants in the wedding of Miss Lucia Page and William Heeks, which took place in New York last September. The mutual attraction of the pair was instant and during the few days following the wedding that Dr. Smith remained in New York they were constantly together.

Miss Mabee, who will be welcomed as an attractive addition to Atlanta's younger married contingent, has spent the past ten days here as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Inman Brandon at their home on Arden road. The bride-elect and Mrs. Brandon, who was the former Miss Louise Glancy, of Detroit, were schoolmates at Finch school in Europe, and in November Miss Mabee visited the Brandons and it was then that she became engaged to the popular Atlanta physician. The exquisite engagement ring

Miss Orme Weds
Oscar Miller
At Home Rites

Miss Mary Phillips Orme, beautiful young daughter of Mrs. Frank Orme and the late Frank Orme, became the bride of Oscar Francis Miller at a quiet ceremony solemnized on Saturday at high noon at the home of the bride's brother and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Duncan McCord on Collier road. The Rev. Wade Boggs, pastor of the Druid Hills Presbyterian church, performed the impressive marriage service in the presence of the immediate families.

Against a background formed of quantities of Talisman roses, combined with petal-pink snapdragons and deep pink chrysanthemums, the bride took her marriage vows. The green of palms and ferns and slender tapers were effectively arranged. Frank Troutman acted as best man for the bridegroom and the bride had no attendants.

Blond and lovely in her traveling suit of midnight blue tweed, the bride entered the long living room with her brother, Clinton Duncan McCord, by whom she was given in marriage. The suit featured a jacket ornamented at the neck and wrists with kolinsky fur, a smart off-the-face blue felt and blue accessories completed her costume and an exquisite spray of mauve throated orchids was pinned to the rich fur at her shoulder.

Mr. and Mrs. McCord entertained at a breakfast following the ceremony, where covers were placed for the bride and bridegroom, Rev. Dr. Boggs, and the immediate members of the two families. Mr. and Mrs. Miller left by motor for a wedding trip of several weeks, the destination of which was not revealed and upon their return they will take possession of their attractive apartment in the Huntingdon apartments on Peachtree road.

Governor's Staff
To Be Honored
At Mansion

Invitations have been issued by Governor Eugene Talmadge and Mrs. Talmadge to a dinner at which they will be hosts on Tuesday evening, January 9, at the executive mansion on The Prado in Ansley park in honor of the members of the chief executive's military staff, and their wives. The occasion will assemble 100 prominent Georgians, including a number of out-of-town guests who will journey to Atlanta especially for this event.

Governor and Mrs. Talmadge returned to Atlanta yesterday, the latter having spent several days at her former home in McRae. The governor and several members of his staff spent the past two days at Altama plantation, near Brunswick, as guests of Cator Woolford. On Thursday evening the governor, Mr. Woolford and his guests were entertained at dinner by Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Jones at The Cloister at Sea Island.

Atlanta Infants
To Be Christened
At Church Today

A trio of the infant contingent will enact the leading roles in a beautiful ceremony on Sunday, when Calie Jackson Healey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William T. Healey Jr.; Elizabeth Collier Worley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Worley, and Ada Healey Morris, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hollis Morris, are christened at the First Presbyterian church, following the morning service. Rev. J. Spole Lyons, pastor of the church, will officiate at the impressive ceremony.

Calie Jackson Healey bears the name of her maternal grandmother, Mrs. A. J. Orme St., and will wear the exquisite christening robe presented by her paternal grandmother, Mrs. William T. Healey. The gown, fashioned in the style of yesteryear, is finished with real lace and a becoming pink silk bonnet will complete the ensemble.

Ada Healey Morris, who bears the name of her great aunt, Mrs. William T. Healey, will wear a dress of sheer batiste introducing a real lace yoke, the ruffles ornamenting the bottom of the skirt and the sleeves, being edged with real lace. The dress was made by the baby's maternal grandmother, Mrs. Clifford Moore Davis, and a blue silk coat and cap, the gift of her great-aunt, Mrs. William T. Healey, will complete her outfit. Mr. and Mrs. Homer Morris are paternal grandparents of little Miss Morris.

Petite Elizabeth Collier Worley has been named for her maternal grandmother, the late Mrs. Harry Dodd, the former Miss Elizabeth Collier, of Atlanta. Born on her grandmother's natal day, the baby will bear her name with the same distinction that it was borne by Mrs. Dodd. She will be gowned for the christening ceremony in a robe of finest batiste graced with a handmade lace yoke, the handwork of the late Mrs. Dodd.

Center Hill, O.E.S., Installs Offices

Officers of Center Hill chapter No. 255, O. E. S., for the ensuing year were installed Saturday evening in Center Hill Masonic Temple on Bankhead Avenue. Mrs. Julia C. Thompson, past grand matron, grand chapter of Georgia, acted as grand installing officer; Miss Edna Wood, grand marshal; Mrs. Elinor Smith, grand chaplain; Mrs. Elizabeth Garrett, grand organist; Rev. J. D. Swagerty, grand soloist. The officers installed were: Mrs. Frances Riggins, worthy matron; A. L. Brewster, worthy patron; Mrs. Martha Sessions, associate matron; Jason A. Tugge, associate patron; Mrs. Nellie Mae Wright, treasurer; Miss Ruby Wood, secretary; Mrs. Aleine Brown, conductor; Mrs. Stella Brandon, associate conductor; Mrs. Maurice Thomas, chaplain; Mrs. Olive Baker, marshal; Mrs. Jewell Glore, organist; Mrs. Clara Fulton, Adah; Miss Edna Wood, Ruth; Mrs. Estelle Brett, Esther; Mrs. Annie Mae Camp, Martha; Miss Ruby Whitmire, Electa; Miss Thelma Day, warden; O. R. Riggins, sentinel.

The worthy matron was escorted to her station in the east where a star was lighted and Rev. J. D. Swagerty sang "Star of the East." Mrs. Sessions was escorted to her station in the west, while Mrs. Mand Thomas sang "Little Grey Home in the West." Mrs. Riggins, received beautiful gifts and flowers from her officers and friends. The retiring matron and past Mrs. Riggins, and O. R. Riggins received jewels from the chapter for their loyal services during the year. The 1933 officers presented the retiring matron, Mrs. Hogg, with a useful waffle iron, and a number of members and friends presented Mrs. Hogg with flowers and gifts. Each 1933 officer received a silver bracelet, a retiring matron, Mrs. Hogg, Mrs. Riggins named her finance committee and relief committee for 1934, and afterward refreshments were served in the banquet hall.

Romantic Atmosphere Inspires Courtship

Continued From Page 8.

presented Miss Mabee by her fiance was placed on the third finger of her left hand when Dr. Smith visited her at the Camden home of her parents during the Christmas holidays. The solitaire diamond, which is set in an old-fashioned Tiffany setting of gold, belonged to the future bridegroom's mother, the late Mrs. Monroe Smith, and is particularly cherished by the 1934 bride for that reason.

The first part of June has been selected by the couple for their marriage, which will take place in Saratoga, N. Y., and following their wedding trip, Dr. Smith and his bride will take possession of an apartment in Atlanta. Miss Mabee, who is decidedly buxom, is an enthusiastic equestrienne and is also fond of golf, which hobbies she will continue after she arrives in Atlanta for residence. She left yesterday for Camden, where she will spend some time at her parents' winter home.

Mr. and Mrs. Brandon leave today for Florida, accompanied by Mrs. Francis Gilbert. The trio will visit Mrs. Brandon's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Glancy, at their winter home at Naples, Fla. Mr. Brandon will remain for a week, while Mrs. Brandon and Mrs. Gilbert will not return to Atlanta for a month. At a later date Mrs. Brandon's sister, Mrs. Richard Hull, and her two adorable little daughters, Nora Joan and Susan Hull, will visit the Glancy's in Florida.

Attractive Matrons Sail January 10.

Atlanta is surrendering for several months two of its most attractive matrons, Mrs. Jessie McKee Nunnally and Mrs. Floyd McRae Jr., who embark on the Roma on January 10 to sail from New York for sun-swept Italy. Accompanied by their children, Jessie Nunnally, Gora Nunnally and Floyd McRae III, they will cross the Atlantic, and sail through the cobalt-blue waters of the Mediterranean, in order to land at Naples.

Through the medium of Mrs. Nunnally's membership card in the Garden Club of America, they will have the rare privilege of visiting famous villas and gardens in Italy. Rome, the most engaging of all the Italian cities, is in their itinerary, as well as Florence and Venice, and they expect to spend a week or more in each city. At Trieste, they will embark in the steamer Vulcana, which will take them to Ragusa, and to the island of Sicily the latter part of February. Palermo and other spots on this magic isle will be visited by the Atlantans, who will proceed to Syracuse in time for the open-air festival and presentation of the plays of Aeschylus.

Aeschylus was the father of Greek tragedy, who is said to have written more than 70 tragedies, among them being "Prometheus Bound," "The Seven Against Thebes," and "The Suppliant," and others too numerous to mention. He was born near Athens in Greece, years before the birth of Christ, but he migrated to Sicily, and a monument is erected to his memory at Gela. The plays of Mrs. Nunnally and Mrs. McRae are rather indefinite after the open-air festival takes place in Syracuse, but there is a possibility of their prolonging their stay abroad, and of meeting other well-known Atlantans contemplating a European trip in the near future.

Baby's Nursery Is Typically Masculine.

There is no excuse for small Vaughn Nixon II, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. William M. Nixon, being anything but a typical boy. This baby's lovely mother, the former Miss Betty Matthews, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert S. Matthews, of Thomaston, doesn't believe in too many frills and faces for boys, so the baby's clothes and even his immaculate nursery art strictly tailored.

When small Vaughn, whose paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Vaughn Nixon and who was named in honor of the former, returns in a week or so with his mother to their home on Chatham road, a perfectly appointed nursery awaits him. The color motif of blue and white is reflected in the wallpaper, which bears miniature horses and chariots, with blue predominating in the design on a white background. His white bed on wheels and the remainder of his furniture is white and made on very plain lines, making the room harmonious with the early American style of the house and just suited for a little boy.

Numerous girls and flowers have been showered upon Vaughn II by friends of his youthful parents. Perhaps the first flowers to be sent him by a little girl will be the beautiful long-stemmed roses which will be sent him the day he returns home as the gift of his dainty young cousin, Elaine Courts.

When this young man is dressed in his best to go visiting he will often wear the exquisite pink silk coat and cap which were given him by Mrs. Joseph Rhodes. Inheriting the attractive personalities of his parents, Vaughn Nixon II is destined for a popular and successful career.

Mr. and Mrs. Cooper's Attractive Cottage.

Expressing the artistic ability and the architectural genius of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph W. Cooper Jr., and their brother, Samuel I. Cooper, is their attractive white clapboard cottage recently erected on Chatham road. A southern adaptation of the Cape Cod cottages, the home is perfect in detail from the cunning Dutch entrance door, with upper and lower sections to the green shutters adorning each wide window. Fronting the road, the house is approached from the porch and through the entrance hall, which is inviting with its white woodwork and yellow walls.

A spacious library, paneled in knotty pine, overlooks the garden at the rear of the residence with its bay windows permitting an abundance of light when the resison Horton, formerly Miss Jennie H. Knapp, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank B. Knapp. Lower row, left to right, are Mrs. W. A. Cox Jr., who was Miss Nelle Evans; Mrs. Eugene E. Lyons, who was before her recent marriage Miss Eleanor Williams; Mrs. Maurice N. Moore, of Sparta, Ga., who was formerly Miss Maxine Elizabeth May, of this city. Photograph of Mrs. Lyons by Thurston Hatcher; of Mrs. Moore by the Lewis Photo studio; of Mrs. Cox by Davis-Paxon studio; of Mrs. Kerlin by Alfa Lomax; of Mrs. Hutchings by Elliott's Peachtree studio.

Chantilly pattern selected by the bride for her flat silver. Clothed in especial significance is a tall silver vase, beautiful in design, which was presented to Mrs. Miller by her mother, Mrs. Frank Orme. The vase was the first wedding gift received by Mrs. Orme and her late husband, Frank Orme, and was sent to them by a cousin of the bridegroom's.

Golden bordered Haviland china, which once graced the home of the bride's late maternal grandmother is included among the most prized possessions of the young couple. Presented to them by Mrs. Orme the set is perfect in detail and includes a complete service for both formal and informal occasions. A delicate tracery of green leaves, vines, and petal pink flowers adorns the dishes and when Mrs. Miller presides with a charming new-found dignity as a young matron the handsome wedding gifts will adorn her table.

Atlantans Interested In Augusta's Mayor.

Atlanta shares the interest of Augusta in the recent induction into the office of mayor of Thomas Barrett. The reason for this interest in the Georgia City is that Mrs. Barrett is the former Miss Louise Broyles, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Broyles, of this city. During her young ladyhood here Mrs. Barrett was listed among Atlanta's most popular belles and her marriage to Mr. Barrett was noted for its brilliance and attendance by fashionable southern society.

Since her marriage she has resided in Augusta, where her popularity has continued and where she and Mr. Barrett enjoy the distinction as leaders of society's young married contingent in that city.

In taking office as Augusta's new mayor Mr. Barrett promises a new deal to the citizens of that city in which no doubt he will receive the hearty co-operation of his wife, who is noted for her unusual executive ability as well as for her charm of manner.

Atlantans to Enjoy Mediterranean Cruise.

When the steamer Statendam leaves its pier in New York harbor on February 8, Mrs. Willis F. Westmoreland, Mrs. James T. Williams, Mrs. Flora McDaniel Pitts, and Herbert L. Mansfield will be among the passengers bound

Attractive Mid-Winter Brides Pictured in Group

What's Left Sale

WHAT A SALE — and "What's Left" goes tomorrow! ODDS and ENDS—One of a Kind—Floor Samples—Reconditioned, etc. Left from our Big Christmas Sale, Marked at Sacrifice Prices—Stock is Limited—SO HURRY TOMORROW! First Come—First Served!

$1 SPECIALS

$1.95 Metal Kitchen Stools $1.00

Enamel Kitchen Chairs, refin. $1.00

Pictures, values to $4.50 $1.00

Bridge, Table and Floor Lamps $1.00

SHORT LOTS

$7.50 Electric Percolators $5.95

Group of Lamps, Values to $24.50 $9.95

$29.50 Table Top Vanities $14.50

Chiffonieres, refinished $16.66

HEATERS

$8.50 Oil Heaters $4.95

$8.95 Gas Bath Heaters $5.95

$29.50 Powerful Circulators $19.95

$39.50 Gas Circulators $29.50

KITCHEN

$7.50 Dish Cabinets $4.95

5-Pc. Enamel B'fast Suites, Refinished $9.95

Kitchen Cabinets, Refinished $15.55

75-lb. Metal Refrigerators, Refinished $19.95

BEDDING

50-lb. Felt Platform Mattress $8.95

$12.50 Enamel Baby Crib $9.95

Metal End Day-Bed $19.95

Innerspring Mattress $29.50

STOVES

Oil Stoves, rebuilt $9.95

Coal Ranges, rebuilt $34.50

$49.50 Porcelain Gas Ranges $39.50

$98.50 Coal and Gas Range $79.50

RUGS

Congoleum Rugs, 6x9 $4.95

Tapestry Rugs, 6x9 $9.95

Brussels Rugs, 8.3x10.6 $16.95

$39.50 Axminster Rugs, 9x12 $29.50

ODDS & ENDS

100 Items, values to $1.50 25c

$9.50 Slip Cover Set $5.95

Console Mirrors, Values to $29.50 $9.95

$29.50 Fiber Suite, 3 Pcs. $19.95

RADIOS

Crosley "Beebox" $19.50

$69.50 Lowboy, deman'stor $29.50

7-Tube Philco $39.50

Long and Short Wave Lowboy $49.50

RUMMAGE

Side Ice Refrigerator $5.95

2-Pc. Living Room Suite $29.50

3-Pc. Bed-room Suite $29.50

4-Burner Oil Ranges $34.50

BEDROOM

3-pc. Suites, refin. $39.50

Chiffoniere $49.50

Twin-bed Suite $59.50

$98.50 Suite, 3 pieces $69.50

WINTER ITEMS

$1.95 Radiator Covers, Wal. 88c

$1.95 Coal Chute 99c

Warm Blankets $1.19

$7.50 Wool Comforts $4.95

LIVING ROOM

Mohair 3-Pc. Suite, rebuilt $49.50

$89.50 Damask Suite, 2 pieces $59.50

Tapestry 2-Pc. Suite $69.50

$149.50 KROEHLER Mohair Suite $98.50

DINING ROOM

5-Piece Dinette Suite $39.50

7-Piece Walnut Suite $49.50

8-Piece Adam Suite $79.50

9-Piece Walnut Suite $98.50

HAVERTY FURNITURE CO.

Corner Edgewood Ave. and Pryor Street

Other Society News
In Pages 5 and 6-C.

Before Baby Comes

Turn the months of waiting into ease and comfort. You can now avoid unnecessary pain and suffering. Just ask your druggist for Mother's Friend. The Bradford Co., Atlanta, Ga.

Mother's Friend
—lessens the pain

BETTY'S BLUE EAGLE
— By Russell Patterson —The Blow, the Blowoff and the Takeoff.

SUNDAY, JANUARY 7, 1934

Trade Mark Registration Applied For.

"HOW THOSE PRUDISH PURITANS DID THEIR NECKING UNDER ANOTHER NAME"

READ HELEN WELSHIMER'S STORY ON PAGE 3 THIS ISSUE.

YOU CAN'T EVER ACCOUNT FOR A Woman in Love

WHENEVER residents of Florida hereafter have occasion to speak of "indomitable will" most certainly their minds will envision the figure of Louise Turck Stanton, lately of Jacksonville. And whenever they speak of a great love and sacrifice, they will think of her too.

She was one of the astonishing romances in Florida history. Her strong will drove her on and on, until she had conquered almost unsurmountable physical handicaps to become perhaps one of the state's foremost sportswomen. And her will—plus a great love—drove her to death, which, for stark drama, rivals the wildest flights of the most lively imaginations.

The former Louise Turck was pretty, in a quiet sort of way, and extremely popular. She was well-to-do, a member of Jacksonville's best society and an artist of considerable talent. Perhaps because she had to fight so to overcome lameness, caused by infantile paralysis, she found her greatest pleasure in courting speed; speed on land, in an auto; speed on water, in a motor boat and speed in the air, in racing planes.

About two years ago, Louise met Gordon Stanton, a handsome and well-to-do young bachelor, who lived near Jacksonville. They had a great mutual interest in aviation and within a short time their friendship ripened into love—an all-engulfing love which proved to be the biggest thing in each of their lives.

They were married in a fashionable wedding, and for a honeymoon visited the beauty spots of Europe. Then they returned to Jacksonville and took up the sports they both cared for so much. Louise had more than 100 solo-hours of flying to her credit and her husband as many, but now they did most of their flying together. They could not bear to be separated. They even discussed a flight across the Atlantic together.

SHIP OF DOOM
The Two-Seated Bi-Plane Which Mrs. Louise Stanton Used in Her Dramatic Last Flight. An Exclusive Picture Showing the Ship on the Runway Just Before Mrs. Stanton Climbed In.

The months flew by and they were idyllically happy. Then one day not long ago, a friend brought word to Louise that her beloved husband, speeding home to her in his high-powered car, was in an accident. He had been killed instantly.

Louise was stunned. The soothing flow of tears would not come. She sat alone repeating over and over again: "I wish I had been with him! I wish I had been with him!"

She was lonely in the days that followed; lonely as only a person can be who has shared nearly every waking moment with a dearly loved one. She had no taste for her plane, her auto or her speedboat. She sought comfort in books, but she could not keep her mind to the printed words. Her friends feared for her health but she pooh-poohed them—and continued mourning.

Then one morning the manager of the Jacksonville Municipal airport received a telephoned request from Mrs. Stanton to "warm-up" a plane for her. At last, the manager thought, she had "snapped out of it." He wheeled out his own two-seater, twisted the prop and carefully checked the humming motor.

Shortly Mrs. Stanton arrived at the field. "Fill up the tank," she ordered. "I'm going to do a lot of flying." How true—"a lot of flying." A few minutes later she climbed in and calmly adjusted her goggles. She smiled pleasantly to the mechanics, opened the throttle, and roared down the runway.

She circled the airport once and then headed due east, out over the blue-green waters of the Atlantic. On and on she flew, leaving land rapidly behind her. On and on roared the plane. On and on—and on. She had enough gasoline for four hours flying. Probably, her friends said, when the indicator showed the gas supply almost exhausted, she began circling higher and higher. And when the last few drops sputtered through the engine, probably she went into the cool, blue-green waters of the Atlantic and—eternity.

When hours passed and Mrs. Stanton did not return, airport attaches looked in her car, and found several letters. One read: "I'm just going out into space to find out what it's all about, and if there isn't anything—that's o. k. too." Another said: "Sorry to have it happen this way, but I want you to know it isn't an accident. There's not a plane on the field that can reach me. I'll be at sea, that's all, and you can count on me that the job will be thorough. I don't want any wreckage found."

The Iron-Willed and Romantic Mrs. Louise Turck Stanton, Posed in Flying Togs Beside Her Plane, Just After She Had Been Granted Her Pilot's License.

TODAY—Winsome, Young Jacksonville, Florida, Artist and Debutante, Possessed of Iron Will, Overcomes Paralysis to Become One of State's Leading Sportswomen. Meets Handsome, Well-to-Do Bachelor, They Are Drawn Together by Mutual Fondness for Aviation. Friendship Ripens Into Love. They Marry, Honeymoon in Europe, Return, Devote Much Time to Flying. Their Love Called Idyllic. Then One Day, Speeding Home, Husband Is Killed in Auto Crash. Wife Mourns for Days. Early One Morning She Arrives at Airport, Orders Plane Filled with Gasoline. Smiles to Mechanics, Without Least Show of Emotion, Flies Out to Sea. When Hours Pass, Airport Attaches Find Letters Explaining Her Novel Solution for Her Earthly Cares. What Did They Say? Why Did She Write Them?

Among the letters was one to the manager of the airport containing a check paying in full for the plane she used.

Friends recalled that a few weeks before her husband's death, Mrs. Stanton had seen the film "Christopher Strong," in a Jacksonville movie theater. She had been greatly impressed by it, and it was said that she had revisited the theater to see it for the second time.

In the picture, the heroine was a strong-willed person, of much the same type as Mrs. Stanton. She was intensely interested in aviation and had planned to seek a new altitude record. The one great love in the heroine's life also ended disastrously; she found she could not have the man she loved, and she refused to face life without him.

The climax of the picture came when the heroine went to the airport, ordered her plane equipped for a try at the existing altitude mark. Then she nonchalantly climbed into the ship, smiled to the mechanics and roared off. She set a new record—and dove to her death.

Perhaps, Mrs. Stanton's friend said, this picture gave her the idea. She was quoted as telling a friend who accompanied her to the theatre to see the "Christopher Strong" picture; "What a grand way to die!"

Whether it did or not, Louise Stanton's will power is the key to her character and her tragic act. Most women, losing men they love, make an adjustment with life and live on. Rightly so. But Mrs. Stanton, possessed of tremendous single purpose, could not change.

Other women have sought death to be with their loved ones. Kipling wrote a famous poem, "The Last Suttee," telling of the sacrifice of the Boondi Queen who found death at her King's bier. Even today, among some castes in India, the wife believes she must die when her husband dies, so that she can be at his side in the eternal life to come. These women have many and varied means of achieving their purposes, but probably never in history was there a woman with will-power enough to die in such a dramatic fashion as Jacksonville's Louise Turck Stanton.

Highlights of Broadway

Rules and Fools

To me it seems that the liquor regulations of the great, free Empire State are all wet. To me it seems that the control of the industry has been diverted from the gangsters to the politicians. Where once "regulation" was enforced with the pineapple and the gat, it is now enforced by the cop who does the bidding of the office-holders who say who can sell where, as the big hoodlums did a few months ago, enforcing their say-so through their little hoodlums.

The idea apparently hasn't percolated yet that liquor is now as legal and honest and even decent merchandise as milk; that law-abiding people have a right, not only a privilege, to engage in such sale.

By Feet

The 1,500-foot rule, dictating that stores where the bottled goods may be bought to carry away for consumption off the premises must be that distance apart, strikes me as silly, arbitrary and un-American; and I would like to lay a little bet that it is unconstitutional and the first citizen who takes a stand in court will take it for a ride.

On its face, it is childish. To have the same distance rule for Broadway as for the Bronx and Staten Island is obviously cock-eyed.

Commissioner Mulrooney, all his life a policeman, smacks his lips over the opportunity to lay down verbotens. He says it is all for our own good and for the protection of the licensed merchants.

Well, let's see: How is it for our good, admitting that the less we drink the better off we are, that there should be fewer dispensaries and that they should be further apart? Prohibition proved that convenience and proximity mean less than nothing to those who want their toddy.

When I was a boy, I lived on a block which at the next crossing had four saloons on the four corners. I can't remember that anyone drank more because there were four places handy. No one made the rounds. This man went to this joint and that one went to that one. I don't think that if there had been four barbershops on those corners, anyone would have gotten shaved any more often than was his habit, either.

As for protecting the dealer—protecting him against what? Competition, of course. Since when? Since when, in this land, do we enforce monopolies by police power, so that one man may get rich and none other may make any money at all?

Since all the time. But not openly. That has been the habit of politicians for centuries. Now it is proclaimed not only as proper, but as noble.

How about the owners and lessees of stores? Haven't they an inherent and vested right to use those stores for the sale of lawful goods?

And who is to say and how is that one may judge, which one in any 1,500 feet shall be the lucky one? Will the licenses

LILLIAN BOND, the Beautiful, in "Three and One," a Clicker on the Big Alley.

A BUNCH OF THE NEWSPAPER BOYS WERE WHOOPING IT UP at the Waldorf-Astoria, Celebrating that "We-Can-Get-It-Now" Blessing—from Rye to Champagne. Left to Right, Otto Soglow, Russ Goldberg, Russ Westover, Ad Carter, Billy De Beck, H. H. Knerr, Robert L. Ripley, Jack Lait, George McManus, Milt Gross and Cliff Sterrett...Did We Have Fun!

be issued by priority of application? Yes, they will! The system couldn't be operated without favoritism even if politicians were saints. And New York politicians ain't.

Favoritism is as certain as the sunrise. Graft is almost as certain—graft of one kind and another. Mulrooney never "took"! But he will have to come through for others who do. When a man runs a district and there is a fat plum to be given away thereit isn't logical—if it isn't human—that the man who runs the roost will have nothing to say about who gets that plum.

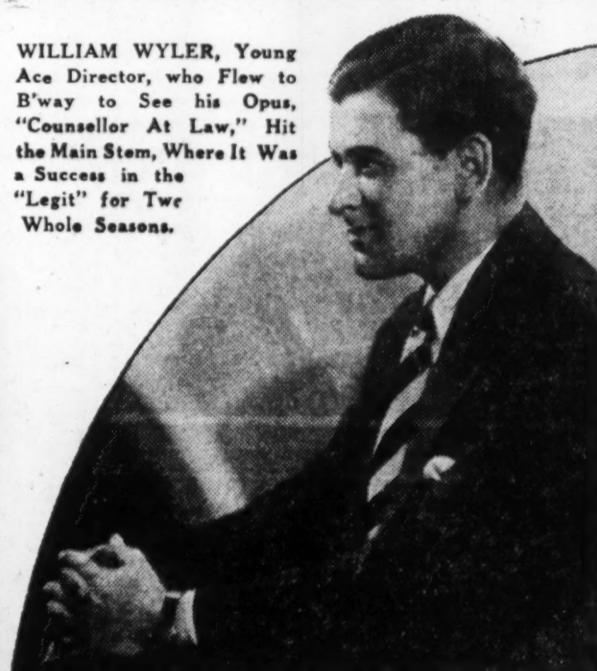

It is a decidedly unhealthy condition when any board may, without accounting to anyone and everyone, say this person can have a license and that person cannot. This is the condition in New York today. Dozens of men as honest as most of those who have licenses sit and tremble and wait and wonder. Why? They're just as good as the next man. Licenses to sell and to serve should be issued to every person who applies and pays the fee—grocery stores, delicatessen stores, drugstores, restaurants, clubs and hotels.

The idea of punishing those who ran speakeasies during prohibition is, I think, pretty googoo. If they shouldn't be allowed to sell because they sold illegally, we shouldn't be allowed to buy because we bought illegally. They are men who, largely, were in the liquor business before prohibition. That is their trade.

Anyway, I see from reading the license lists that plenty of former bootleggers and speak-proprietors are getting their

WILLIAM WYLER, Young Ace Director, who Flew to B'way to See his Opus, "Counselor At Law," Hit the Main Stem, Where It Was a Success in the "Legit" for Two Whole Seasons.

That gives all the speak-easies the break, and those who failed or refused to sell illegally and went or stayed out of business must now be penalized.

It's all very high-handed, this laying down untried rigid rules of time and distance to prevent nine of every ten who want to rent places, hire help, buy equipment and merchandise and engage in selling what it is utterly legal to sell, from so doing.

I believe we should let them all in and tax them all. Let the natural laws of competition and supply and demand fix how many there should be and where they should be.

Thereafter, of course, there should be some police regulation.

I say it is as legal to sell gin as it is to sell milk—but gin isn't milk. All sensible folk realize that. But the behavior problems should be handled after the places open and not by not letting them open, except, of course, where the Board knows that the applicant is a notoriously bad and unsafe citizen.

After the places are running, they should be scrupulously watched against selling to drunkards and youngsters, making their places concentration points for criminals or other obnoxious groups, or causing noise and disorder and immorality.

The idea that men mustn't drink at a bar in the Waldorf or the Astor is fanatical and worthy of Kansas or the Carolinas, not New York.

All these petty policies will be outwitted and unenforceable, just as the mother of them all, prohibition, the blind old Queen of Don'ts, was run down in time and kicked off her crazy throne; but it seems her soul goes marching on and her unscrupulous hand still threatens and beckons and points—and rules.

CHECK THESE DATES JANUARY 23, 24, 25 and 26

ATLANTA'S GREATEST COOKING SCHOOL WILL BE HELD THEN. READ THE CONSTITUTION FOR DETAILS.

How Those Prudish Puritans DID THEIR Necking UNDER Another Name

But now and then a mother came back to add a word of advice . . . "Best see that the center-board is down, my dear."

By Helen Welshimer

THE Puritans were too pure for many of the things countenanced by this "depraved" generation. You can see them raising their hands in holy horror at mention of such terms as "petting" and "necking."

But the Puritans, despite their public protestations against many manifestations of human behavior which today would be considered both natural and proper, had their moments. And one of them was the good old custom of "bundling."

It took a new and popular Broadway play, "The Pursuit of Happiness," to acquaint modern youths and maidens with this courting practice that has been dead and forgotten for ages and which, when it came to greasing the chutes for Cupid, has it all over anything the 20th century can offer.

At least, Prof. David Snedden of the Sociology Department of Teachers' College of Columbia University, thinks so. He has made a study of modern love. And he thinks the early trend was better.

A man and a maid were on a much more direct route to matrimony back in the bundling days.

There were Blue Laws, of course, when Massachusetts and Connecticut were very, very young. Amusements were restricted. So was public love-making.

All nice lovers were asked to step into the bedroom, please. The mothers of the demure New England maidens suggested it. They even saw that the prettiest hand-blocked quilts were placed on the four-poster beds.

Then they closed the door.

"BUNDLING," according to the people who write dictionaries, "is lying or sleeping together in the same bed without undressing, once a practice of lovers or engaged couples in Wales and in parts of New England and Pennsylvania."

Here is the original set-up.

Every four-poster bed was equipped with a centerboard. A centerboard is a long piece of wood—not too high—which was let down between the lovers.

When a man and a maid viewed each other with desirous eyes the man always asked permission to call on the girl. If she and her parents both consented—ultimate end, matrimony, of course—her mother helped her heat the warming pans and even suggested that the girl rub corn meal on her face to make it more alluring.

If the parents didn't favor the questing swain, matters were more difficult. The maiden had to place a lighted candle in her bedroom window-sill to let the man know that he had found favor in her eyes anyway, and then she had to bring him into her father's house by stealth.

Sometimes she practiced secrecy, anyway. It made it more exciting. If her father and mother heard them merely smiled in their sleep.

While the demure New England lass waited she read the Bible and said her prayers. She came out rather weakly with "Lead us not into temptation," much stronger on "but deliver us from evil."

THAT was stern New England. Parents approved the method of courtship. They didn't have to worry because their children were sitting in the darkest corner of a movie, necking in an automobile on a dark country road, or making whoopee at a roadhouse.

When they were in bed, at least they knew where they were.

That was the New England way. Bundling was the conventional method of wooing a girl although it seems that nobody but history students knew much about it until the playwrights got busy.

People married early, following brief courtships. That is the way it should be, according to Dr. Snedden. Not the bundling. But the direct route to the altar.

"That period of life in which courtship bulk-large has been steadily growing longer and longer," Dr. Snedden says. "I am referring to those pre-marriage years during which persons of both sexes, biologically mature, enough for marriage, are enabled to become acquainted, to mingle together and to obtain some privacy for the intensification of interests and affections—including even the exciting approaches of dancing, spooning, petting, walking out, boy friend associations, and the like.

"Present day American conditions of co-education in schools and colleges, of great freedom of movement in the streets and churches and other places, and of the employment of women in urban communities, greatly increase these pre-marriage associations.

Courtship interests begin to flourish as early as 16 and may continue for five or ten years.

"Present day American conditions of

co-education in schools and colleges, of

great freedom of movement in the streets and churches and other places, and of the employment of women in urban communities, greatly increase these pre-marriage associations.

Courtship interests begin to flourish as early as 16 and may continue for five or ten years.

"Present day American conditions of

co-education in schools and colleges, of

great freedom of movement in the streets and churches and other places, and of the employment of women in urban communities, greatly increase these pre-marriage associations.

Courtship interests begin to flourish as

early as 16 and may continue for five or ten years.

"Present day American conditions of

co-education in schools and colleges, of

great freedom of movement in the streets and churches and other places, and of the employment of women in urban communities, greatly increase these pre-marriage associations.

Courtship interests begin to flourish as

early as 16 and may continue for five or ten years.

"Present day American conditions of

co-education in schools and colleges, of

great freedom of movement in the streets and churches and other places, and of the employment of women in urban communities, greatly increase these pre-marriage associations.

Courtship interests begin to flourish as

early as 16 and may continue for five or ten years.

"Present day American conditions of

co-education in schools and colleges, of

great freedom of movement in the streets and churches and other places, and of the employment of women in urban communities, greatly increase these pre-marriage associations.

Courtship interests begin to flourish as

early as 16 and may continue for five or ten years.

"Present day American conditions of

co-education in schools and colleges, of

great freedom of movement in the streets and churches and other places, and of the employment of women in urban communities, greatly increase these pre-marriage associations.

Courtship interests begin to flourish as

early as 16 and may continue for five or ten years.

"Present day American conditions of

co-education in schools and colleges, of

great freedom of movement in the streets and churches and other places, and of the employment of women in urban communities, greatly increase these pre-marriage associations.

Courtship interests begin to flourish as

early as 16 and may continue for five or ten years.

"Present day American conditions of

co-education in schools and colleges, of

great freedom of movement in the streets and churches and other places, and of the employment of women in urban communities, greatly increase these pre-marriage associations.

Courtship interests begin to flourish as

early as 16 and may continue for five or ten years.

"Present day American conditions of

co-education in schools and colleges, of

great freedom of movement in the streets and churches and other places, and of the employment of women in urban communities, greatly increase these pre-marriage associations.

Courtship interests begin to flourish as

early as 16 and may continue for five or ten years.

"Present day American conditions of

co-education in schools and colleges, of

great freedom of movement in the streets and churches and other places, and of the employment of women in urban communities, greatly increase these pre-marriage associations.

Courtship interests begin to flourish as

early as 16 and may continue for five or ten years.

"Present day American conditions of

co-education in schools and colleges, of

great freedom of movement in the streets and churches and other places, and of the employment of women in urban communities, greatly increase these pre-marriage associations.

Courtship interests begin to flourish as

early as 16 and may continue for five or ten years.

"Present day American conditions of

co-education in schools and colleges, of

great freedom of movement in the streets and churches and other places, and of the employment of women in urban communities, greatly increase these pre-marriage associations.

Courtship interests begin to flourish as

early as 16 and may continue for five or ten years.

"Present day American conditions of

co-education in schools and colleges, of

great freedom of movement in the streets and churches and other places, and of the employment of women in urban communities, greatly increase these pre-marriage associations.

Courtship interests begin to flourish as

early as 16 and may continue for five or ten years.

"Present day American conditions of

co-education in schools and colleges, of

great freedom of movement in the streets and churches and other places, and of the employment of women in urban communities, greatly increase these pre-marriage associations.

Courtship interests begin to flourish as

early as 16 and may continue for five or ten years.

"Present day American conditions of

co-education in schools and colleges, of

great freedom of movement in the streets and churches and other places, and of the employment of women in urban communities, greatly increase these pre-marriage associations.

Courtship interests begin to flourish as

early as 16 and may continue for five or ten years.

"Present day American conditions of

co-education in schools and colleges, of

great freedom of movement in the streets and churches and other places, and of the employment of women in urban communities, greatly increase these pre-marriage associations.

Courtship interests begin to flourish as

early as 16 and may continue for five or ten years.

"Present day American conditions of

co-education in schools and colleges, of

great freedom of movement in the streets and churches and other places, and of the employment of women in urban communities, greatly increase these pre-marriage associations.

Courtship interests begin to flourish as

early as 16 and may continue for five or ten years.

"Present day American conditions of

co-education in schools and colleges, of

great freedom of movement in the streets and churches and other places, and of the employment of women in urban communities, greatly increase these pre-marriage associations.

Courtship interests begin to flourish as

early as 16 and may continue for five or ten years.

"Present day American conditions of

co-education in schools and colleges, of

great freedom of movement in the streets and churches and other places, and of the employment of women in urban communities, greatly in-increase these pre-marriage associations.

Courtship interests begin to flourish as

early as 16 and may continue for five or ten years.

"Present day American conditions of

co-education in schools and colleges, of

great freedom of movement in the streets and churches and other places, and of the employment of women in urban communities, greatly increase these pre-marriage associations.

Courtship interests begin to flourish as

early as 16 and may continue for five or ten years.

"Present day American conditions of

THRILLING FIRST PHOTOS OF THE WORLD EVER TAKEN

—and the Amazing Adventure Told by the Man Who

SO HIGH THAT THE 100-MILE DISTANT HORIZON SHOWS THE EARTH'S CURVE
Herr Willi Rugi's Amazing First Photograph of the Earth as Seen from the Stratosphere by the Infra-Red "Eye" of the Camera—Recording a Magnificent Scene That Was Invisible to the Photographer Himself Because of the Screen of Mist and Clouds.
(All Photographs on This Page Are Exclusive Globe Photos.)

PILOT SCHUETZE AT WORK
Though the Great Balloon Is Shooting Upward
Toward the Stratosphere a Thousand Feet a Minute, the Scientific Expert in Charge of the German Expedition Hasn't Yet Attached His Oxygen-Inhaler.

UP INTO the stratosphere in an open-basket balloon went a bold party of German scientists lately. Flinging aside the safeguards used by Professor Piccard and the Soviet balloonists, who employed sealed cabins with the normal air-pressure inside, the Germans pitted their unprotected bodies against the awful rigors of a trip into space.

Their object was to measure light-rays more directly than had been previously done, and to take direct photographs of the earth with the recently-developed infra-red process, which pierces through mist. In both they succeeded.

Herr Willi Rugi gave the world such a series of photographs as was never seen before—sharply detailed vistas of the earth from the stratosphere. Some of them were taken from a height of more than seven miles.

Yet, until he returned and developed his plates, Herr Rugi thought the expedition a failure—for the mists made the earth totally invisible to the human eye.

One of his pictures clearly shows the curvature of the earth—duplicating the feat of Captain Albert W. Stevens of the United States Army, who caught the earth's curve in a remarkable photo about two years ago. Herr Rugi's picture shows much greater detail, due to the process employed.

In infra-red photography, bright green registers as white, accounting for the sharp contrasts of color in the futuristic, map-like design of fields, orchards, cities and highways.

Here is Herr Rugi's own story of the thrilling and dangerous flight. The scientific implications are endless, looking as they do toward man's ultimate conquest, both of the upper reaches of the atmosphere, and of the hitherto unconquered obstacle of fog.

By WILLI RUGI
(Photographer of the German Balloon Ascent Into the Stratosphere)

Copyright, 1933, by King Features Syndicate, Inc.

IT WAS ten minutes after five in the morning when Herr Schuetze, the leader of our expedition, gave the sharp command: "Balloon cast off!" So began the great ascent which was fated to take a dramatic turn.

We had the largest of all German free-flying balloons, the "Bartsch von Sigfeld." After hours of work, its 10,000-cubic-meter capacity had been inflated with 5,000 cubic meters of hydrogen. The instant the anchoring line had been cast off, it arose with record speed.

OUR purpose was to break the German altitude record of thirty years' standing, as well as to make our scientific investigations. From the start Herr Schuetze made every effort to rise as rapidly as possible, throwing overboard as much ballast as his skill dictated. Within twenty-five minutes we had risen to a height of six thousand meters, or more than 19,000 feet—at which point the gas in the bag had expanded to the volume of 10,000 cubic meters, due to the lowered pressure of the atmosphere.

We had previously planned and allotted every item of the work to be done, for questions of organization cannot be improvised at such elevations. To spare our lungs, we had begun to operate our oxygen-breathing apparatus at 4,000 meters, though still at that point we were fully comfortable. Now it was time for my photographic work to begin.

AIR MYSTERIES

Half the atmosphere is below 5.8 kilometers or 19,000 feet.

The lower atmosphere is called the "troposphere." It extends upward from the earth to about 33,000 feet.

In the troposphere, the atmosphere is built up vertically, in huge columns which turn or twist. The Greek word "tropos" means a turning motion.

Above the tropopause, at about 33,500 feet, begins the stratosphere, extending upward to space itself.

In the stratosphere, the atmosphere is in layers—strata—and is vaporless, frigid, quiet.

Air-pressure in the stratosphere is three pounds to the square inch, or less, compared with 15 pounds at sea level and within the human body.

surface and was increasing each moment as we arose. Anticipating this, I had brought along infra-red plates with the necessary filters, but so far I had had no experience with this process of photography and I went about my work with skepticism.

More ballast was thrown out. At 21,000 feet it became extremely cold. Our fingers felt numb and in spite of our warm clothing we began to shiver. The thermometer explained it—it was 24 degrees below zero! The spinning of the balloon brought us alternately into sunshine and shadow, and the difference in temperature was marked. Still we rose.

Through the mist we caught a glimpse of what seemed a little village. Could it be Leipzig? It was! With our telescope we could make out the Battle of Nations monument, the new circular addition east of the city, and the thin thread of the River Saale. Now we were 24,000 visible—shrouded as though it did not exist.

Above our heads was the infinite space of the stratosphere, which passed from our level upward from a most delicate shade of pastel-blue to a dark blue-black. It was flashing, unvaryingly clear.

A VISTA FROM THE DIZZY THRESHOLD OF INTER-PLANETARY SPACE
The Cloudbank on the Distant Horizon—Conservatively 100 Miles Away—Obscures the Curvature of the Earth in This Picture. In the Middle Distance, a Great Mass of Cumuli Casts a Portentous Shadow on the Area Below—the Inhabitants of That Shadowed Spot Are Saying: "Too Bad It's a Cloudy Day, It Will Spoil the Flight!"

feet up. We were compelled to suck our oxygen flasks vigorously and our fingers grew damably numb.

Suddenly we noticed that every motion of our bodies and hands was causing physical distress. It meant we must husband our strength. Our experienced pilot sat down; we followed his example—as the balloon entered a layer of impenetrable vapor and became invisible above our heads. It was the tropopause—the upper reach of the troposphere or lower atmosphere—the last cloud-ceiling.

But a moment later we had burst through, into the stratosphere itself, and beheld a panorama of incomparable grandeur and beauty. Far below us, the long stratus clouds sailed by, and among them the cotton-like heaps of the cumuli, and above the two the downy film of the cirrus clouds. The earth itself was completely in-

Suddenly snow began to fall!

"How is this?" I exclaimed, shouting because I was beginning to be quite deaf. "Snow out of a cloudless sky!" Then I looked upward, and was startled to see a quantity of vapor issuing from the filling-nozzle of the balloon.

I am honest enough to confess that I experienced a momentary shock. I called our pilot's attention to the matter, and he explained it. A certain amount of such leakage was normal, considering the very low air-pressure. And the expanding gas froze at a temperature of 47 degrees below zero, falling as snow when it condensed.

We were in a temperature of considerably less than 47 below.

After considerably more ballast had been disposed of, our balloon climbed to 36,000 feet. We now had the feeling of being completely severed

READERS OF THE CONSTITUTION

DAILY HEALTH TALKS BY DR. BRADY.....	1,689 LETTERS
THE FRIENDLY COUNSELLOR, CAROLINE CHATFIELD.....	819 LETTERS
ELY CULBERTSON, CONTRACT BRIDGE EXPERT.....	982 LETTERS
GLADYS GLAD'S BEAUTY DEPARTMENT.....	854 LETTERS
NANCY PAGE—HOME-MAKER'S COLUMN.....	1,675 LETTERS

KEN FROM THE STRATOSPHERE

"Hot" Them

an Open the to ity—as
'w—n—
Red Eye" i the rve
elf

THE TAKE-OFF
Here's How It Looked from the Ground as the Huge Open-Basket Balloon, the "Bartsch von Sigsfeld," Departed for the Awful Perils of the Stratosphere. Note the Clustered Sacks of Sand-Ballast Around the Unprotected Car.

puffed and blotched, were turning alarmingly green! I was thankful I could not see myself. They looked like men attacked by super-violet sea-sickness.

From time to time our heads drooped over to one side. It was a desperate effort to straighten them up again. I felt at times as though I had been dozing for years. Not even long and regular breaths of oxygen could dispel the lassitude of space.

But Herr Victor Masuch, the assistant of the Potsdam Scientific Institute, continued to manipulate his instruments. His task was to measure the light-rays. Now, by signs, he called our attention to one of the barographs, which had risen to its extreme top limit.

WE STILL had 40 bags of ballast left and could have gone yet higher. But our breathing was shorter and shorter and our pilot, well knowing the dangers, decided to descend. Anxious for a record, I accepted his decision with a heavy heart, but knowing it was best. He opened the valve.

How swiftly we fell! The ropes dangling outside the basket streamed straight upward. The cloudbank rose toward us with frightening speed; we pierced them at a terrific rate. The relief to our senses was, however, immediate.

Now the landscape was visible below us and it became urgently necessary to stop our descent. Plenty of ballast went overboard and soon we hung stationary. But much of the sand had fallen less rapidly than we—either slowed down by air-resistance or caught underneath the great

CAMERA SECRETS

Electrically-heated cameras were used by German altitude-flyers as long ago as the World War, to counteract the cold of extreme heights.

Infra-red photography is an old subject of experiment, developed recently as photography's latest conquest.

It is valuable at long distance, especially when visibility is poor.

Infra-red rays are shorter than any visible light-rays. Hence they can pierce mists that are impenetrable to the human eye. But the thicker fog and clouds still halt them.

The infra-red process requires an ordinary distance camera equipped with (a) a plate sensitive to infra-red rays and (b) a dark red, opaque filter placed between the lenses, to exclude all but the invisible rays.

In infra-red photography, the brighter landscape-greens register as white, giving the effect of snow. Details are very sharp.

"LANDSCAPE PLOTTED AND PIECED"
About a Dozen German Cities and Towns, with Cultivated Fields Between, Are Visible in Willi Rugi's Photograph, Made from the Stratosphere by the Infra-Red Process. He Thought It a Failure, Because of the Mists That Hid the Earth—Until He Developed the Plate in His Darkroom.

balloon—so that now it came showering down on our heads as if we were caught in an African sandstorm.

We were still at a great elevation and could not orient ourselves. Directly below us was a lake, evidently a flooded soft-coal excavation. Since we had no inclination to end our voyage in a bath, more ballast was emptied and we drifted toward an attractive village surrounded by open fields. With wonderful skill our pilot settled us to earth, so gently that we had no need to use the usual technic of grasping the overhead hand-ropes to deaden the shock. We touched ground.

AND here came a small army of school children, greatly excited. They had seen us through the windows and simply bolted their classes. They made a good holding-crew and we refrained from deflating the balloon so that everyone could come to see it—which they did, from miles around.

After all, we had been but three hours in the air, though we had seen a good deal of the world and touched the edge of the infinite universe. My greatest thrill came later, in the dark room. I had thought my photos a certain failure—now I developed the plates. To my amazement, they were crowded with detail which had been completely invisible to us. They had a softness, beauty and clarity that justified, to me, whatever discomfort had been undergone.

I laughed, now, to recall my bitter feeling of disappointment and dismay when I had looked down and seen the earth vanishing from my sight behind the dreaded screen of vapor. Here were cities, towns, railroads, highways, curving lines of rivers and straight criss-cross boundaries of fields, mapped out on the photographic plates like the clearest of cubistic paintings. The pictures I had taken from the maximum height of 36,000 feet were as clear as the others—and, more, they showed that seemingly miraculous phenomenon, the curve of the earth itself! I was glad I had ventured into the stratosphere.

A TINY TOWN—THE BIG CITY OF LEIPZIG!
Seen from the Stratosphere by the Infra-Red Camera's "Eye," the Big Manufacturing and Railroad Center Resembled a Stippled Spot in a Cubistic Canvas. Willi Rugi's Camera Caught Such Details as the Early-Morning Shadows Cast by a Trestled Highway—in the Upper Center of the Picture—and a Suburban Factory "Stoking Up" for the Day's Work—at the Lower Left.

NEXT WEEK—Suppose YOU were a juryman or jurywoman, in a "heart-balm" or a "love-theft" case—how would you decide it? Would you be moved by the pretty plaintiff's tears, her beauty, her well-dramatized sorrow? Or would you take a sterner view based on the modern equality of the sexes? These present-day "courts of love" will be described next week, with nine fascinating cases on which to exercise your wits.

WROTE DURING 1933 TO—

LILLIAN MAE AND ANNETTE DRESS PATTERNS .....	54,043 ORDERS
QUILT AND HOUSEHOLD ARTS PATTERNS .....	16,118 ORDERS
SECKATARY HAWKINS' FAIR AND SQUARE CLUB .....	5,216 LETTERS
SALLY SAVERS' COOKING DEPARTMENT .....	5,026 LETTERS
COMICS AND MISCELLANEOUS FEATURES .....	1,296 LETTERS

SECKATARY HAWKINS AND HIS FAIR and SQUARE CLUB

THE GROTTO OF SILENT PETS

MONDAY.—Today we boys held a meeting in our clubhouse and made up our minds to search until we found the hiding place of Gideon and his gang. The way Gideon gets away from us every time we are on his trail is getting us boys sore, and we figure that we have enough clues to track him down. One sure thing is that the old spring house o. Dobel's farm is a mystery, since the door is locked and there is no sign of any kind of a lock on the outside. Roy Dobel got up at our meeting today and said his daddy gave him permission to break in the door and find out who has had the nerve to fasten the door on the inside. Our captain was for going right up and breaking in. But I said to wait a while, since we suspect Gideon hides out there. If we go bust in the door, what good will it do? Gideon will see us after him and will give the spring house a wide berth from then on, and maybe we'll never catch him. But if we lay low and watch closely, maybe we'll find Gideon or one of his tough gang some day leading us right to the secret of the spring house. The boys said I was right, and we adjourned the meeting.

TUESDAY. — Judge Granberry sent word by Doc Waters today that he wanted to see me in his office at 4 o'clock. I got there on time, and the Judge was waiting for me. "I'm glad you are punctual for once," he said, and shoved a chair in front of his and told me to sit down. "I am not going to preach to you, my boy," he continued, "but I know you have been in a few fights since I saw you last and—"

"Just had to take my own part, Judge," I broke in. "We fellows never start fights, but when anybody starts something on our old river bank—well, we just have got to fight back, you see."

"Of course!" exclaimed the Judge. "But avoid every fight as long as it is possible to do so with honor, of course! However, the reason I sent for you is this—you know a Dalmatian when you see one?"

"Never heard tell of it, Judge," I said, "but it sounds like something in the Bible—"

"No, this Dalmatian I have reference to is a dog—a very valuable dog, in fact, and it has disappeared from the home of a very noted lawyer in Watertown."

"You want us boys to find it back?" I asked.

"You are my junior police, aren't you?"

"Yes, of course, Judge—you always called us boys that!"

"Well, on your mark, then! But wait, here's another thing—Miss Lisbeth Homer announces to Watertown police the loss of her Persian or Angora kitten, or cat. I don't know which, the day after the disappearance of the Dalmatian dog. The Watertown officials believe the same thief took the dog and the cat, and headed down the river this way."

"Seems like everything comes down our way, Judge," I said.

"But that isn't all," said the Judge. "People in our home town are reporting losses of animals, too. A pet squirrel belonging to Albert Dominique, who runs the restaurant up on Main street."

"Oh, yes, Judge, I remember—it's the little squirrel he keeps in his window in a revolving cage—"

"He used to keep it, you mean!"

"He doesn't have it any more. Someone has taken it. And the parrot that used to swing on a big metal ring on Johnson's porch all last summer—well, it's gone, too. Stolen, all of them. Now see here, Hawkins—could it be that the rascal who started stealing things when Mr. MacLinn's fishing tackle first disappeared a few weeks ago—couldn't it be the same fellows?"

"I wonder!" I said. "I don't know—you see, Judge—"

"No, I don't see! Now listen! As Chief of my Junior Police, you will get your high order spy system working, and find for me the culprit! We want to keep a good name for our town, and it is up to us to see that everything is fair and square. It's your job, Hawkins!"

WEDNESDAY.—Before I went to bed last night I looked up in Dad's dog book and found that a Dalmatian was a dog with lots of spots. That ought to be easy to find. I told the boys today what the Judge had said, and they were surprised! But they were interested, too, and so during our club meeting we got the high order spy system to working, and all the boys are out now, while I write this down in my big book, searching for the spotted dog. Naturally that would be easier to find than a cat or a parrot or a squirrel. Dogs like that with spots all over can be seen easier, and what's more, a dog likes to be outside more than a cat or a parrot. And as for the squirrel, when they get out into a woods like that on our river bank, it takes an eagle eye to see one. Anyway, they are the nuttiest things. One bit me once when I tried to catch it. And a parrot nipped me when all I was doing was trying to pet its feathers.

THURSDAY.—Our high order spy system worked today! Just as we were gathering around the long pine table in our clubhouse to hold our meeting today, Roy Dobel rushes in with the news that he had just come from the spring house on his daddy's farm, and that he heard sounds behind the wooden door. So we all postponed the meeting and went along with Roy to the spring house.

"Deploy!" called out our captain, Dick Ferris, as we approached the slope. And I knew Dick had been reading his dictionary lately, trying to get wised up on how to command a bunch of fellows in action.

"What's that mean?" yells Jerry Moore, as all of us came to a standstill.

"It means spread out in front and approach the enemy from all sides," said Dick. "Hawkins, you take the lead, and watch out when you start to break in the door. Roy Dobel, you go with Hawkins—you've got the sledge hammer—bust in the door, and then step aside and let Hawkins go in first."

"Okay!" sang out Roy, as he took the hammer down from his shoulder and approached the wooden door of the spring house. But before he could raise the hammer to strike, I pulled him back.

"Get back!" I called sharply, in a low voice. And I made a motion to all the boys to fade from sight. I fell upon my stomach behind a small bush and pulled Roy and his hammer down beside me. For I had caught the thief on Dobel's farm. There was a big camp fire burning on the river bank, and Mr. Dobel had a big kettle hanging over the fire from three big sticks, and he said he was making burgoo for us boys, so we could spend the day there and eat when we got hungry and have a good time. Roy showed us his new colt—it's a black one with four white legs, and he's named it Stormy Weather, come down early tomorrow and follow it out."

SATURDAY.—We held our club meeting. I asked him why, and he said every time he looked at white feet he thought of the colt running in the snow and getting its legs covered white. We waited

All of us boys were securely hidden from sight by the time she had that door open. Yet it seemed that she was surprised to find that the door, which she had opened from the inside, really led out upon this particular stretch of the old river bank.

And then, quickly, she swung the door back into position, and we could hear the cross bar fall back into place. Our captain was for smashing in the door at once. But I said no. We hadn't expected to find a girl behind that door. We weren't fighting girls, I said. We should go back to our clubhouse and hold a meeting and talk it over. Which we did.

FRIDAY.—Today just as we were starting our club meeting, the Pelham boys, led by Bringen, came into our clubhouse.

"Listen, Hawkins," says Bringen, "we boys want you to stay away from the old spring house."

And with that, then, we showed surprise and mistrust.

My Light Shone Upon the Startling Figure of a Spotted Dog.

Are you in partnership with Gideon, Bringen?" asked our captain.

To which Bringen replied: "No.

but Gideon thinks we are in partners with you. Every time you hear us do something he blames us for it."

We told the Pelham fellows to go back to their side of the river and stay there and we would stay on our side. Which they did.

After they were gone, Jerry Moore suggested that we go up to the spring house and bust in the door. But I said "No, let's wait a while longer. Tomorrow is Saturday—we will have all day to figure out this mystery, and I'll make a plan tonight and we can meet early, and then we went on up to Dobel's farm. There was a big camp fire burning on the river bank, and Mr. Dobel had a big kettle hanging over the fire from three big sticks, and he said he was making burgoo for us boys, so we could spend the day there and eat when we got hungry and have a good time. Roy showed us his new colt—it's a black one with four white legs, and he's named it Stormy Weather, come down early tomorrow and follow it out."

SATURDAY.—We held our club meeting. I asked him why, and he said every time he looked at white feet he thought of the colt running in the snow and getting its legs covered white. We waited for him to put back the stones when they left. We all squeezed through, and found ourselves in a long, dark corridor, damp and smelling of the earth. I soon had out my electric flashlight and threw the bright ray around. It showed us a narrow, winding way, which we followed for about 10 feet until we came to a small opening like a doorway to a doghouse—we had to get on our hands and knees to enter, but once we entered—ah! As I stood up in the cavern, and threw my light around, I realized that we were standing in the most sacred sanctuary of—who? Was it aion or someone else? Whoever it was, I knew we were standing in the private hiding place of the thief who had stolen things. For my light shone upon the startling figure of a spotted dog, lifelike in its pose upon a wooden base, yet when I touched it I knew it was not alive. It was stuffed. So were the other things grouped upon the rocky shelves about it—there in the corner the Persian cat, on the shelf above the many-colored parrot, and on a limb jutting from its artificial root in the clay-molded base a canary bird and a few feet from it a squirrel, a nut held to its nibbling jaws with its tiny forefoot claws. All of them as dead as doornails—yet stuffed to a perfection, that upon first sight, seemed lifelike!

"But Doc," said our captain, "how come the stuffed animals to be in the cave behind the spring house, then?"

"See here!" said Doc, suddenly. "Did you ever see any boy actually in the spring house or coming out of it?"

"No," I said. "The door has been barred on the inside. And till we got our first taste of the burgoo, which was served in tin cups and tasted like vegetable soup to me, and then we went up to the spring house. Roy hampered in the door and with his sledge hammer, and we all went out upon the old river bank.

And then, quickly, she swung the door back into position, and we could hear the cross bar fall back into place. Our captain was for smashing in the door at once. But I said no. We hadn't expected to find a girl behind that door. We weren't fighting girls, I said. We should go back to our clubhouse and hold a meeting and talk it over. Which we did.

FRIDAY.—Today just as we were starting our club meeting, the Pelham boys, led by Bringen, came into our clubhouse.

"Listen, Hawkins," says Bringen, "we boys want you to stay away from the old spring house."

And with that, then, we showed surprise and mistrust.

My Light Shone Upon the Startling Figure of a Spotted Dog.

Are you in partnership with Gideon, Bringen?" asked our captain.

To which Bringen replied: "No.

but Gideon thinks we are in partners with you. Every time you hear us do something he blames us for it."

We told the Pelham fellows to go back to their side of the river and stay there and we would stay on our side. Which they did.

After they were gone, Jerry Moore suggested that we go up to the spring house and bust in the door. But I said "No, let's wait a while longer. Tomorrow is Saturday—we will have all day to figure out this mystery, and I'll make a plan tonight and we can meet early, and then we went on up to Dobel's farm. There was a big camp fire burning on the river bank, and Mr. Dobel had a big kettle hanging over the fire from three big sticks, and he said he was making burgoo for us boys, so we could spend the day there and eat when we got hungry and have a good time. Roy showed us his new colt—it's a black one with four white legs, and he's named it Stormy Weather, come down early tomorrow and follow it out."

SATURDAY.—We held our club meeting. I asked him why, and he said every time he looked at white feet he thought of the colt running in the snow and getting its legs covered white. We waited for him to put back the stones when they left. We all squeezed through, and found ourselves in a long, dark corridor, damp and smelling of the earth. I soon had out my electric flashlight and threw the bright ray around. It showed us a narrow, winding way, which we followed for about 10 feet until we came to a small opening like a doorway to a doghouse—we had to get on our hands and knees to enter, but once we entered—ah! As I stood up in the cavern, and threw my light around, I realized that we were standing in the most sacred sanctuary of—who? Was it aion or someone else? Whoever it was, I knew we were standing in the private hiding place of the thief who had stolen things. For my light shone upon the startling figure of a spotted dog, lifelike in its pose upon a wooden base, yet when I touched it I knew it was not alive. It was stuffed. So were the other things grouped upon the rocky shelves about it—there in the corner the Persian cat, on the shelf above the many-colored parrot, and on a limb jutting from its artificial root in the clay-molded base a canary bird and a few feet from it a squirrel, a nut held to its nibbling jaws with its tiny forefoot claws. All of them as dead as doornails—yet stuffed to a perfection, that upon first sight, seemed lifelike!

"But Doc," said our captain, "how come the stuffed animals to be in the cave behind the spring house, then?"

"See here!" said Doc, suddenly. "Did you ever see any boy actually in the spring house or coming out of it?"

"No," I said. "The door has been barred on the inside. And till we got our first taste of the burgoo, which was served in tin cups and tasted like vegetable soup to me, and then we went up to the spring house. Roy hampered in the door and with his sledge hammer, and we all went out upon the old river bank.

And then, quickly, she swung the door back into position, and we could hear the cross bar fall back into place. Our captain was for smashing in the door at once. But I said no. We hadn't expected to find a girl behind that door. We weren't fighting girls, I said. We should go back to our clubhouse and hold a meeting and talk it over. Which we did.

FRIDAY.—Today just as we were starting our club meeting, the Pelham boys, led by Bringen, came into our clubhouse.

"Listen, Hawkins," says Bringen, "we boys want you to stay away from the old spring house."

And with that, then, we showed surprise and mistrust.

My Light Shone Upon the Startling Figure of a Spotted Dog.

Are you in partnership with Gideon, Bringen?" asked our captain.

To which Bringen replied: "No.

but Gideon thinks we are in partners with you. Every time you hear us do something he blames us for it."

We told the Pelham fellows to go back to their side of the river and stay there and we would stay on our side. Which they did.

After they were gone, Jerry Moore suggested that we go up to the spring house and bust in the door. But I said "No, let's wait a while longer. Tomorrow is Saturday—we will have all day to figure out this mystery, and I'll make a plan tonight and we can meet early, and then we went on up to Dobel's farm. There was a big camp fire burning on the river bank, and Mr. Dobel had a big kettle hanging over the fire from three big sticks, and he said he was making burgoo for us boys, so we could spend the day there and eat when we got hungry and have a good time. Roy showed us his new colt—it's a black one with four white legs, and he's named it Stormy Weather, come down early tomorrow and follow it out."

SATURDAY.—We held our club meeting. I asked him why, and he said every time he looked at white feet he thought of the colt running in the snow and getting its legs covered white. We waited for him to put back the stones when they left. We all squeezed through, and found ourselves in a long, dark corridor, damp and smelling of the earth. I soon had out my electric flashlight and threw the bright ray around. It showed us a narrow, winding way, which we followed for about 10 feet until we came to a small opening like a doorway to a doghouse—we had to get on our hands and knees to enter, but once we entered—ah! As I stood up in the cavern, and threw my light around, I realized that we were standing in the most sacred sanctuary of—who? Was it aion or someone else? Whoever it was, I knew we were standing in the private hiding place of the thief who had stolen things. For my light shone upon the startling figure of a spotted dog, lifelike in its pose upon a wooden base, yet when I touched it I knew it was not alive. It was stuffed. So were the other things grouped upon the rocky shelves about it—there in the corner the Persian cat, on the shelf above the many-colored parrot, and on a limb jutting from its artificial root in the clay-molded base a canary bird and a few feet from it a squirrel, a nut held to its nibbling jaws with its tiny forefoot claws. All of them as dead as doornails—yet stuffed to a perfection, that upon first sight, seemed lifelike!

"But Doc," said our captain, "how come the stuffed animals to be in the cave behind the spring house, then?"

"See here!" said Doc, suddenly. "Did you ever see any boy actually in the spring house or coming out of it?"

"No," I said. "The door has been barred on the inside. And till we got our first taste of the burgoo, which was served in tin cups and tasted like vegetable soup to me, and then we went up to the spring house. Roy hampered in the door and with his sledge hammer, and we all went out upon the old river bank.

And then, quickly, she swung the door back into position, and we could hear the cross bar fall back into place. Our captain was for smashing in the door at once. But I said no. We hadn't expected to find a girl behind that door. We weren't fighting girls, I said. We should go back to our clubhouse and hold a meeting and talk it over. Which we did.

FRIDAY.—Today just as we were starting our club meeting, the Pelham boys, led by Bringen, came into our clubhouse.

"Listen, Hawkins," says Bringen, "we boys want you to stay away from the old spring house."

And with that, then, we showed surprise and mistrust.

My Light Shone Upon the Startling Figure of a Spotted Dog.

Are you in partnership with Gideon, Bringen?" asked our captain.

To which Bringen replied: "No.

but Gideon thinks we are in partners with you. Every time you hear us do something he blames us for it."

We told the Pelham fellows to go back to their side of the river and stay there and we would stay on our side. Which they did.

After they were gone, Jerry Moore suggested that we go up to the spring house and bust in the door. But I said "No, let's wait a while longer. Tomorrow is Saturday—we will have all day to figure out this mystery, and I'll make a plan tonight and we can meet early, and then we went on up to Dobel's farm. There was a big camp fire burning on the river bank, and Mr. Dobel had a big kettle hanging over the fire from three big sticks, and he said he was making burgoo for us boys, so we could spend the day there and eat when we got hungry and have a good time. Roy showed us his new colt—it's a black one with four white legs, and he's named it Stormy Weather, come down early tomorrow and follow it out."

SATURDAY.—We held our club meeting. I asked him why, and he said

When Justice Triumphed

By PETER LEVINS.

LIN a year notable for poisonings it seems fitting to narrate the story of the Buchanan murder, one of the greatest of American poison cases. For careful planning and expert execution, this Manhattan murder must be classed as almost unique. The killer worked out all the details months before the crime—for all we know he may even have drawn diagrams and made little lists headed, "Thing to do today."

Dr. Robert W. Buchanan, a young, inoffensive-looking Nova Scotia physician, arrived in New York city from Halifax in 1887. He moved into a house on W. 11th street, Manhattan, with his pretty wife and daughter, and built up a small practice in the course of the next few years. His practice, however, failed to give Buchanan the income he craved; he began dreaming of sudden wealth and a long life of ease, back home in Halifax.

In 1890, the physician complained to certain friends that his wife had fallen in love with another man. He was very distressed, he said. Later he informed friends that Mrs. Buchanan had seduced a highly virtuous girl named Helen Potts, had submitted to a sort of marriage, under slightly altered names, performed by an alderman, caused her to undergo an abortion, then been compelled by the girl's mother to agree to a public marriage ceremony performed by a minister. Two weeks before the scheduled wedding he killed Helen with morphine tablets.

Dr. Buchanan followed the Harris case with great interest, along with the rest of the newspaper reading public. Asked his opinion several times, he declared Harris had been an amateur.

"If he had known his poisons he would have known how to hide the symptoms of morphine poisoning," he said.

Matters grew steadily worse in the house on 11th street. Buchanan admitted to Macomber that he was actually becoming afraid of his wife. Later he asked Macomber to take his little girl into his home—the Buchanan home simply wasn't fit for a child any more.

Meanwhile, Carlyle Harris was convicted and, to his mother's horror and amazement, sentenced to death.

Dr. Buchanan next reported to Macomber that Mrs. B. had made a terrific scene and threatened to poison herself. "Go ahead," he had told her. "You know where the poisons are kept." The following week the woman was in such a beastly mood that the doctor feared she would put poison in his food. "I would appreciate it very much," he said to Macomber. "If you would permit me to take my meals with you."

Macomber readily consented. Thereafter the doctor slept at home, and conducted his business there, but ate his meals with the Macombers. By this time he and his tempestuous wife hardly spoke to each other.

The long series of preliminary moves came to a climax on the morning of April 22, 1892. Dr. Buchanan summoned Dr. B. C. McIntyre and informed him that Mrs. Buchanan had been taken suddenly ill about an hour before. Dr. McIntyre saw at once that the woman was suffering from hysterical symptoms and constriction of the throat, which he attributed to hysteria.

"I think a sedative will fix her up, doctor," said McIntyre. "I'll drop in again this afternoon."

However, when he returned that afternoon the patient was worse. "This is very unusual," said Dr. McIntyre.

"Yes—it quite baffles me," said Dr. Buchanan. "I should like very much to have another doctor's diagnosis."

"By all means."

At Buchanan's suggestion, Dr. McIntyre called in a neighboring physician, Dr. H. P. Watson. The doctors examined the woman carefully, but could find nothing wrong aside from a hysteria, which expressed itself in raving and rigidity.

They gave her more sedatives, assuring the husband that it couldn't be anything really serious.

The next morning Drs. McIntyre called at the house. To their astonishment the woman was much worse. In fact, she died at 10 a.m. She had been ill about 26 hours. The doctors signed a certificate attributing death to cerebral hemorrhage.

Two days later, April 25, Mrs. Buchanan was buried in Greenwood cemetery. Dr. Buchanan closed up the house, and went to his old home in Nova Scotia, having told his friend, Macomber, that after the ordeal he had been through, he needed a rest and change. The wife's estate was worth between $30,000 and $40,000.

The death of Mrs. Buchanan had, of course, meant nothing to the newspapers or the authorities. But over in Newark suspicion stirred in a man's mind. It was a small suspicion at first, but that doubt in his mind was like the pebble which precipitates a landslide.

Dr. Buchanan had not been gone a week when an old man walked into the office of The World, on Park Row, New York, and said that he had some information about the death in Newark of a former resident of Newark. A Mrs. Sutherland, who had married a doctor named Buchanan.

As usual in such cases, a reporter was assigned to listen to the man's story. He said his name was James M. Smith, aged 60, no occupation, and that he had formerly been associated with Mrs. Buchanan. The reporter had difficulty getting a straight story, for the fellow was evasive, and for some minutes The World man hardly listened.

Mrs. Buchanan had not been as represented, Smith declared. She had not been a respectable widow and the daughter of a banker, as her husband had said. On the contrary, said Smith with much hemming and hawing, the woman had been the keeper of a string of disorderly houses in Newark. That was how she had made all her money; she'd been in the business for years.

"That's very interesting," said the reporter, "but what's the connection? What are you getting at?"

Smith said he would come to

Weekly Crossword Puzzle

ACROSS.

1 Trimming of lace. 78 Two-masted vessel. 156 Fairy. 158 Holy persons. 80 Irritated. 162 Etherial salt. 81 Boa. 164 Irk. 83 Muse of poetry. 165 Constellation. 11 Deadly. 167 Run quickly. 16 Pricks. 168 Small column. 21 Small fruit. 169 Spectacle. 22 Worship. 170 Theatrical performance. 23 Ancient Roman magistrate. 93 Former rulers. 95 God of love. 97 Jejune. 98 Mountain range in Asia. 24 Wild buffalo of India. 100 Portico. 102 Harmonized. 104 Reptiles. 29 Ogled. 106 Rumor. 108 Part of head. 31 Unfamiliar. 110 Resting place. 32 Bewail. 112 Narrow strips of leather. 34 Period of time. 118 Pertaining to fat. 35 At the peak. 119 Part of a flower. 37 Serous fluids. 120 Move in circles. 40 Till. 122 Fool. 123 Impartial character. 45 By way of. 124 Lured for. 127 Child. Scot. 129 Hint. 47 Variety of Cinnamal. 130 Part of a flower. 49 Fortification. 132 Fragrance. 51 Spread for drying. 134 Unskilled. 52 Number. 136 Behave. 54 Locations. 139 Denominated. 56 Course. 141 Widgeon. 58 Grain. 142 Beak. 59 Violet-scented root. 143 Fixed epochs. 61 Trimmest. 144 Number. 63 Alt. 67 Vegetable. 146 Empty talk: colloq. 71 Small draught of spirits. 148 Grass used in paper manufacture. 72 Agromen. 150 Uninteresting. 74 One of a class of robbers in India. 152 Narrative. 76 Indian tribe. 153 Undaunted.

DOWN.

1 Check. 2 Drug plant. 3 Tolerate. 4 Intimidate. 5 Principle. 6 Meat. 7 Arabian seaport. 8 Extremities. 9 Valor. 10 Japanese coin. 11 Festival. 12 Accommodate. 13 Husbandman. 14 Dispensers of alms. 15 Shakespearean king. 16 Rested. 17 Seizes and devours. 18 Deprive of legislative position. 19 Domesticated again. 20 Burned. 30 English city. 32 Flew swiftly. 33 Sons of Isaac. 36 Docks. 38 Shower. 41 Complete. 42 Fillet. 43 Climbing plant. 44 Caper. 46 Imbecile. 48 Four-wheeled, curtained carriages: U. S. 50 Periods. 53 Bracing medicines. 55 Asterisk. 57 Beris. 60 Positive. 62 Give forth. 64 Bathed. 65 Eastern ruler. 66 Nickname of former president. 68 Hawaiian birds of plumage. 70 Encircled.

WINTER SPORT TOGS

Colorful Outdoor Costumes

*Are Smart as Well as Practical, with Novel
Coats, Jackets and Ski
Pants for Comfort and Style*

AT EXCLUSIVE MOUNTAIN RESORTS

*A*BOVE: a chic skating costume consisting of a blue woolen skirt and hip-length plaid jacket that is double-breasted and boasts patch pockets. The scarf and the cunning beret are of red suede. The brown suede suit, with its double-breasted jacket that buttons high, is especially youthful. A lovely and practical skiing costume fashioned of weather-proof wool shows the new Norwegian trousers in navy blue, with a bright red shirt with zipper closing. You won't be cold in the two-piece bright green, brushed wool suit at the right. It has a slip-on jacket with a reinforced chest, rolled collar and patch pockets. Here, too, the Norwegian trousers are worn, finished with orange bands.

TROUSERS THAT FLARE

*T*HESE are featured in the interesting costume of dark green wool, with the cunning waistcoat jacket of dark tan checked wool, at the left. Corduroy plus-fours, worn with a turtle-neck sweater in bright orange and yellow sleeveless chamois vest, combine to make the next stunning skiing costume. At the right, the bright red knitted pants, topped with a brown knit sweater, with yellow scarf and mittens and the yellow and red cap, are very effective. Navy and red is always smart. This two-piece ski suit of navy blue weather-proof wool has a red knitted collar and wrist bands. Mittens and cap are knitted in the same shade.

Copyright, 1939

HOME-MAKERS WILL BE DELIGHTED WITH THE CONSTITUTION'S COOKING SCHOOL—JANUARY 23RD, 24TH, 25TH AND 26TH.
FOR DETAILS, READ

THE DAILY CONSTITUTION

FIFTIETH ANNIVERSARY OF THE NINE O'CLOCKS CELEBRATED AT BRILLIANT NEW YEAR'S EVE BALL

JESSE DRAPER AS "THE BIG, BAD WOLF"—Dr. LeRoy Childs, Bobby Jones and Jackson Dick, as "The Three Little Pigs," were one of the outstanding features at the Nine O'Clocks' New Year's Eve ball.

GRAVES SMITH AND MRS. LUCILE ALLEN WILLIAMS in the attractive costumes they wore at the Nine O'Clocks' New Year's Eve ball.

"MARY HAD A LITTLE LAMB"—Miss Mary Ann Carr impersonated the beloved character of childhood at the Nine O'Clocks' New Year's Eve ball.

(Photographs by Bill Mason)

MISS BETTY COLE, as "Queen of the Bowery," one of the original costumes that attracted much attention at the Nine O'Clocks' New Year's Eve ball.

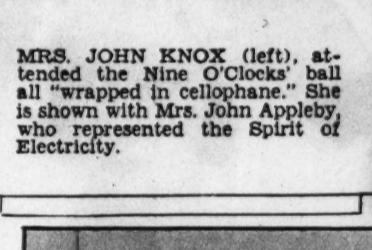

A NEW DEAL IN COSTUMES—A deck of cards was the motif of the costume worn by Miss Edith Marshall at the Nine O'Clocks' New Year's Eve ball.

INTERESTING COSTUMES at the Nine O'Clocks' ball. The group includes Lawson Kiner, Allen Johnson, R. F. Maddox Jr., Mrs. R. F. Maddox Jr., Allen A. Johnson, Miss Lucy Eastwood, Chapman H. Hyams III.

IN APPRECIATION of his service to the Nine O'Clocks, Thomas S. Palmer (left), was presented with a silver tray by members of the club. Dr. LeRoy Childs made the presentation. Miss Ida Sadler is standing in center.

MRS. JOHN KNOX (left), attended the Nine O'Clocks ball all "wrapped in cellophane." She is shown with Mrs. John Appleby, who represented the Spirit of Electricity.

MISS BETTY TIMMONS, sponsor of the Nine O'Clocks' ball, as a "Belle of the Sixties," photographed with her escort, Cobb Torrance, president of the Nine O'Clocks.

FIFTIETH ANNIVERSARY OF THE NINE O'CLOCKS CELEBRATED AT BRILLIANT NEW YEAR'S EVE BALL

JESSE DRAPER AS "THE BIG, BAD WOLF"—Dr. LeRoy Childs, Bobby Jones and Jackson Dick, as "The Three Little Pigs," were one of the outstanding features at the Nine O'Clocks' New Year's Eve ball.

GRAVES SMITH AND MRS. LUCILE ALLEN WILLIAMS in the attractive costumes they wore at the Nine O'Clocks' New Year's Eve ball.

(Right)
"MARY HAD A LITTLE LAMB"—Miss Mary Ann Carr impersonated the beloved character of childhood at the Nine O'Clocks' New Year's Eve ball.

(Photographs by Bill Mason)

MISS BETTY COLE, as "Queen of the Bowery," one of the original costumes that attracted much attention at the Nine O'Clocks' New Year's Eve ball.

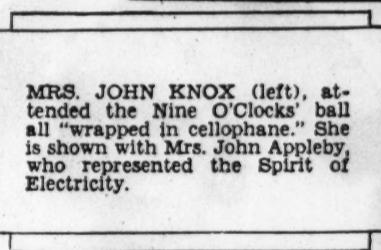

A NEW DEAL IN COSTUMES—A deck of cards was the motif of the costume worn by Miss Edith Marshall at the Nine O'Clocks' New Year's Eve ball.

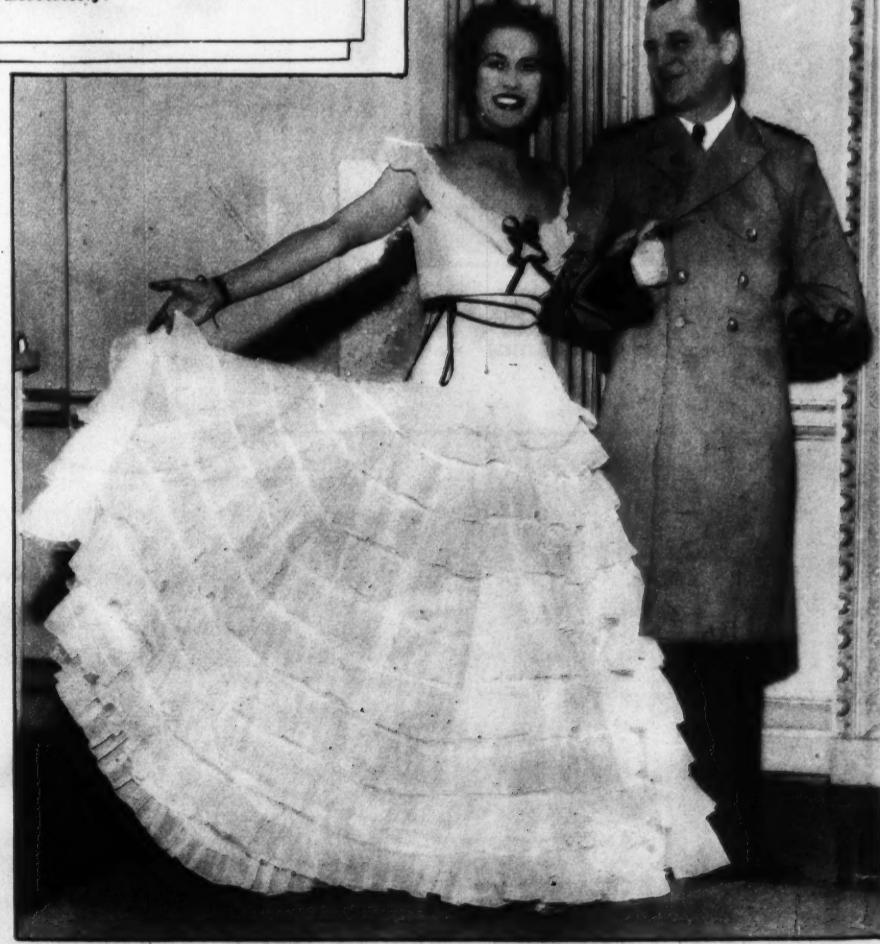

INTERESTING COSTUMES at the Nine O'Clocks' ball. The group includes Lawson Kiser, Allen John, Mr. F. P. Maddox Jr., Mrs. R. F. Maddox Jr., Allen A. Johnson, Miss Lucy Eastwood, Chapman H. Hyams III.

(Left)
IN APPRECIATION of his service to the Nine O'Clocks' Thomas B. Paine (left), was presented with a gift by members of the club. Dr. LeRoy Childs made the presentation. Miss Ida Sadler is standing in center.

MRS. JOHN KNOX (left), attended the Nine O'Clocks' ball all "wrapped in cellophane." She is shown with Mrs. John Appleby, who represented the Spirit of Electricity.

MISS BETTY TIMMONS, sponsor of the Nine O'Clocks' ball, as a "Belle of the Sixties," photographed with her escort, Cobb Torrance, president of the Nine O'Clocks.

FASHION PLATE—Paris dressmakers have voted Mrs. Harrison Williams, socialite of New York and Palm Beach, the best dressed woman in America.

CALIFORNIA'S "MONUMENT" TO SPEEDY JUSTICE—Sixty outlaws paid with their lives on this hangman's tree of early days in California. The tree is located at Big Oak Flat, Cal.

"SILVER LINING"—This remarkable photograph by Thurston Hatcher, of Atlanta, was awarded third prize in a world-wide contest conducted by the International Rotarian Magazine. Nearly 3,000 photographs from 18 different countries were entered. The photograph was made near Columbus, Ga.

(Left) WARM SPRINGS KIDDIES TO SHARE PRESIDENT'S BIRTHDAY CAKE—This cake, baked in commemoration of President Roosevelt's approaching birthday, January 30, weighs 344 pounds. It will be sent to the children at the Warm Springs Foundation. Colonel Henry L. Doherty is standing beside it.

"UP ABOVE THE WORLD SO HIGH"—This man is picking his way to a pinnacle of the famous Drei Zinnen peak of the Dolomites. On this climb this "ropeway" provides the only footway and handhold.

MISS VIVIAN AINSWORTH, New York chemist, is probably the country's only woman tester of strong drink. The big hostilities are employing chemists to safeguard their patrons.

"PRINCESS" MDIVANI, the former Barbara Hutton, one of America's richestheiresses, when she attended the opening performance of the 49th season of Metropolitan Opera in New York.

RICH WIDOW NAMED IN $1,000,000 HEART SUIT—Mrs. Alice Fleitmann has been sued by Mrs. Robert Stafford, also a social registerite, for $1,000,000 for alleged alienation of "Bob" Stafford's affections.

FORMER ATLANTA BOY NOW MOVIE STAR—Eugene Henderson, who entered the movies shortly after he graduated from Tech High school, is now being rated as one of the best of the younger actors. He is shown here with Carol Lombard.

TRACING THE ORIGINAL AMERICANS—Here is a group uncovering ancient Aztec homes in northwestern New Mexico. The archaeologists expect to find many new facts of daily life among Americans who were an ancient race before the Mayflower landed.

10,000 PEOPLE ATTEND "FISHING FESTIVAL" AT LAKELAND WHEN STATE'S LARGEST LAKE WAS DRAINED

A Constitution Roving Ford Feature Photographed by Kenneth Rogers.

WHICH ONE SWALLOWED JONAH?—This young man, Jodie Spell, exhibits two of the big ones he caught when they drained the 10,000-acre lake near Lakeland, Ga.

TRY THESE IN YOUR FRYING PAN—Two big ones taken in the net at Lakeland.

WHO SAID "POOR FIGHT"?—They look pretty lucky to be held by such beautiful young ladies as these. Left to right, Misses Frances Moorman, Jane Peters, Jerry Rivers, Jackie Studsill, Louise Peters, Margaret Jones and Mary Threatte, all of Lakeland.

RUN, FISH, RUN!—Here comes the seiners in the Lakeland lake, looking for the big ones in the 500 acres of water. The lake was eight miles long and four miles wide before it was drained. It was the largest lake in the state.

YUM! YUM! YUM!—This happy party is enjoying fresh fish, cooked on the bank at Lakeland when the big lake was seined by state permission. Back row, left to right, Cam Young, Dr. L. L. Robinson and W. J. McKinney. Front row, left to right, Mrs. Braswell Deen, Congressman Braswell Deen, Miss Sue Reid and Stanley Smith.

ON YOUR MARK—Ed Rivers, popular speaker of the Georgia house of representatives, gets ready to fire the gun which started the seiners into the lake. Left to right, Homer Foster, Mr. Rivers and Sheriff Jule Sipple, of Savannah. State Treasurer George Hamilton is looking over Mr. Rivers' shoulder.

FISHERMAN'S LUCK—And good luck for everyone but the fish who are very near the frying pan.

IN THE BAG—Except this time it's a net. Just some of those which did not get away from the Lakeland, Ga., "lake drainin'." It is necessary to drain the lake every 10 years to rid the basin of undergrowth and reptiles.

BUT DON'T GO NEAR THE WATER—These spectators went as near as they could to see the start of the "Fishing Festival."

THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION

SANTA BIONDO, lyric soprano formerly with the Metropolitan, will be heard in Faust, Pagliacci, Hänsel and Gretel and La Bohème during the week of opera to be presented here by the Chicago Opera Company from January 8 to 13.

CHIEF CRAZY BULL, grandson of Chief Sitting Bull, most noted warrior of all North American Indians, being interviewed by Barbara Baker, feature writer of The Constitution, when the chief visited Atlanta recently. (Bill Mason.)

ANN HARDING, who is starred with Clive Brook, in "Gallant Lady," at the Grand.

VICE PRESIDENT JOHN NANCE GARNER as he opened congress on January 4. He is shown on the rostrum of the senate chamber.

GULF REFINING COMPANY OFFICIALS, together with salesmen from the four states, comprising the Atlanta district, photographed during their recent convention in Atlanta.

NINO RUISI, AS "MEPHISTOPHELES" in Faust, which will be presented at the auditorium on January 9 by the Chicago Opera Company.

MORE THAN $6,000 was raised recently by 80 civic organizations of Athens, Ga., to secure toys and food for the poor of the community. A photo of the community Christmas tree, made during the distribution of the gifts, is shown above. Jack Martin, of Athens, was director of the drive.

(Left) JOHN LAW GOES TO PRISON—John Law, who as coach of the football team of Sing Sing prison, has given the wise crack boys much "grist for their mill," has been appointed confidential clerk to Warden Lawes.

OCEAN'S "PLAYBOY"—One of the most interesting of aquatic sights is the antics of a porpoise at play. Their graceful forms, as they leap from the water, may be seen off the shores of southern Georgia.

SUNDAY, JANUARY 7, 1934.

GRAVURE PICTORIAL SECTION

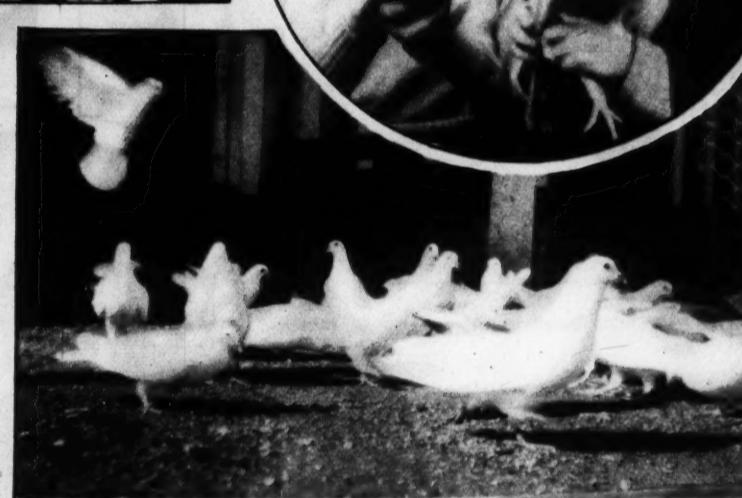

DREDA AVES, soprano of the Chicago Opera Company, as "Amoris" in Aida. This opera will be presented at the auditorium tomorrow night.

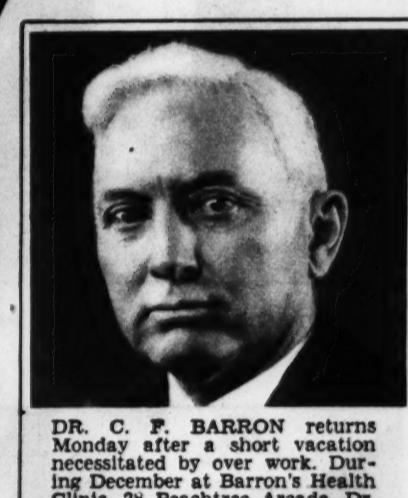

(Right) GIUSEPPE RADAELLI, lyric tenor from the La Scala opera, as he appears in Pagliacci. He will also be heard in Aida and Il Trovatore during Atlanta Opera Week, January 8 to 13.

SOUTH GEORGIA PIGEON FANCIERS PREPARE FOR SPRING SHOWS—Some of the fine birds from the loft of Burrell Richards, of Fitzgerald, are shown in the hands of Misses Bess Hattaway, Marcia Dickey and Dorcas de la Houssaye. The birds are White and Silver Kings. At left, Misses Louise Replogle and Margaret Jackson, of Fitzgerald are holding two of last year's prize winners from the Richards' loft.

A BEAUTIFUL LOFT OF WHITE KING PIGEONS belonging to W. G. Griffin, of Fitzgerald. They will be exhibited in the spring shows.

DR. C. F. BARRON returns Monday after a short vacation necessitated by over work. During December at Barron's Health Clinic, 28 Peachtree Arcade, Dr. Barron made more than 1,200 treatments to patients suffering from neuritis, arthritis and other ailments.

VERA, ISN'T THERE SOME WAY TO HAVE FEWER COLDS AND SHORTER COLDS?

POOR KITTY! OF COURSE THERE IS... JUST FOLLOW VICKS PLAN FOR BETTER CONTROL OF COLDS

To PREVENT many colds
... VICKS NOSE DROPS

VICKS PLAN FOR BETTER CONTROL OF COLDS

How
VICKS PLAN WORKS:
Vicks Plan provides proper care and medication, at the proper time and place, for every type and stage of a cold. In thousands of clinical tests, under medical supervision, Vicks Plan has greatly reduced the number, duration and dangers of colds. To millions, it has meant fewer, milder and shorter colds. The Plan is fully explained in each Vicks package.

To END a cold sooner
... VICKS VAPORUB

EIGHT PAGES OF WORLD'S GREATEST COMICS THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION

1st
COMIC SECTION

1st
COMIC
SECTION

ATLANTA, GA., SUNDAY, JANUARY 7, 1934.

THE TRAMP

SO DEAR OLD GRANDPA
IS NOT MY REAL GRANDFATHER
AT ALL - BUT HOW KIND HE HAS BEEN TO ME - SINCE THE NIGHT MY MOTHER DIED
AFTER THE SHIP WRECK -
HOW WELL HE HAS KEPT HIS PROMISE TO HER -
HE HAS BEEN MOTHER-
FATHER - GRANDPA -
ALL TO ME -

SIDNEY SMITH

OLD DOC YAK

"BLOOD MONEY"---the baffling tale of a love-murder---by Irvin S. Cobb, is now running serially in THE DAILY CONSTITUTION

A DARING PLUNGE UPWARD INTO THE UNCANNY DANGER OF THE STRATOSPHERE WAS MADE BY A PARTY OF GERMAN SCIENTISTS....

In an open-type basket balloon which exposed them to all the perils of air-pressure and more deadly cold. They obtained the most amazing earth-photographs on record, by the new infra-red camera process—sky pictures of a world they could not see! Read this scientific story and see the pictures on page 4 of today's Constitution magazine.

EIGHT PAGES OF WORLD'S GREATEST COMICS

THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION

2nd
COMIC SECTION

2nd
COMIC
SECTION

ATLANTA, GA., SUNDAY, JANUARY 7, 1934.

Moon Mullins

by
Frank H. Willard

KITTY HIGGINS

HOWDY BOYS!—John M. Holmes, for many years a Y. M. C. A. worker, is bringing to boys and young men a most valuable article each Friday morning on the editorial page of THE CONSTITUTION. Become a regular HOWDY BOYS fan.

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off. Copyright 1934

DICK TRACY

by CHESTER CLOUD

THIS IS RATHER A
TICKLISH MISSION I'M ON.
TELLING OLD MAN WHITE HIS SON'S A CROOK, BUT...
THE SOONER
THIS THING IS CLEARED UP,
THE BETTER.

Cooie FOR THE PATENT LAW Blooie

For Women Who Want To Be More Beautiful-----and don't we all?

Leola Allard starts at an early date exclusively in THE CONSTITUTION, her series on THINGS THAT MAKE WOMEN MORE BEAUTIFUL.
She will help you to select cosmetics which suit your personality, as well as your general make-up.

EIGHT PAGES OF WORLD'S GREATEST COMICS THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION

1st
COMIC SECTION

1st
COMIC
SECTION

ATLANTA, GA., SUNDAY, JANUARY 7, 1934

Tarzan

by EDGAR RICE BURROUGHS

© 1934 Edgar Rice Burroughs, Inc. - Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.

THE DANCE OF DEATH

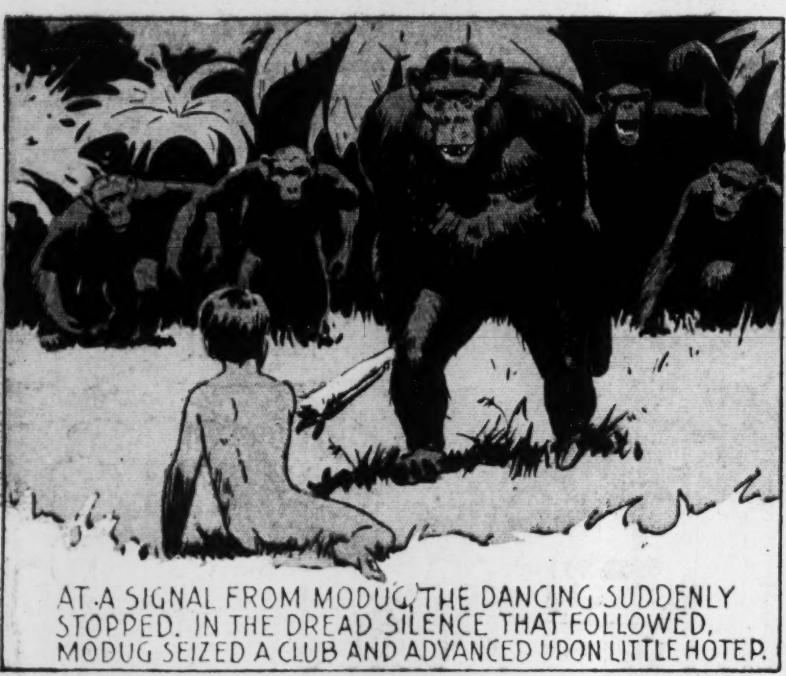

THE RISING OF THE MOON WAS THE SIGNAL FOR THE BEGINNING OF THE DANCE OF DEATH. WHILE THE SHE-APES BEAT THE EARTH-DRUM FASTER AND FASTER, LITTLE HOTEP LAY WHITE AND TREMBLING BETWEEN TWO APE GUARDS.

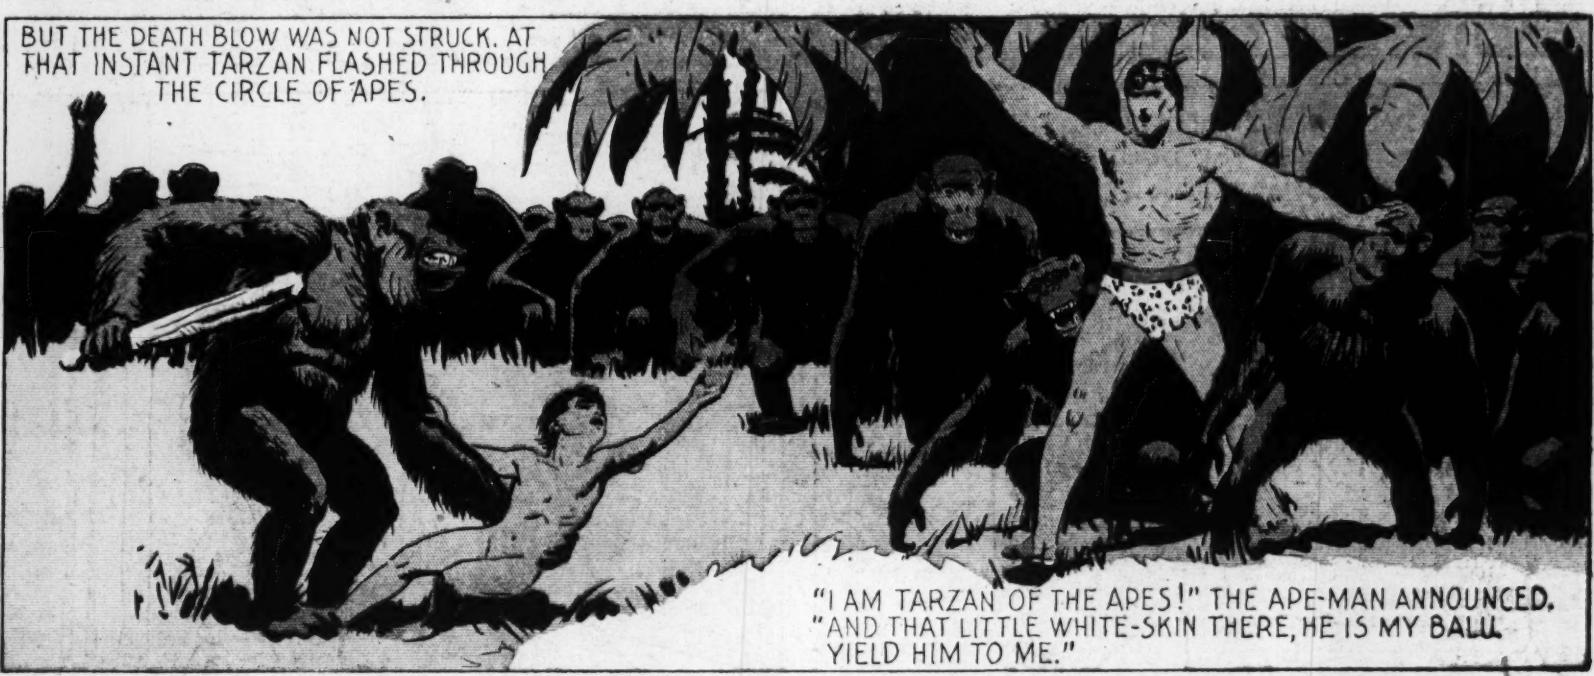

SUDDENLY MODUG, THE APE KING, LEAPED FROM THE CIRCLE, AND LOOKING FULL AT THE MOON, HE EMITTED HIS FEARFUL ROARING SHRIEK.

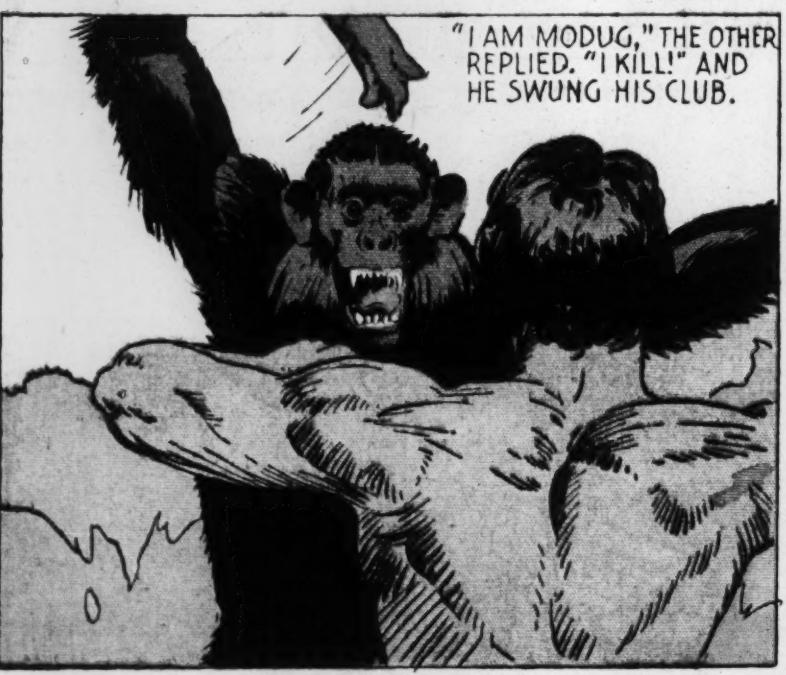

THE DANCE HAD BEGUN. THE APES LEAPED IN A MAD FRENZY, FASTER AND FASTER AS THE WILD PACE OF THE DANCE INCREASED.

AT A SIGNAL FROM MODUG, THE DANCING SUDDENLY STOPPED. IN THE DREAD SILENCE THAT FOLLOWED, MODUG SEIZED A CLUB AND ADVANCED UPON LITTLE HOTEP.

"I AM TARZAN OF THE APES!" THE APE-MAN ANNOUNCED. "AND THAT LITTLE WHITE-SKIN THERE, HE IS MY BALU. YIELD HIM TO ME."

"I AM MODUG," THE OTHER REPLIED. "I KILL!" AND HE SWUNG HIS CLUB.

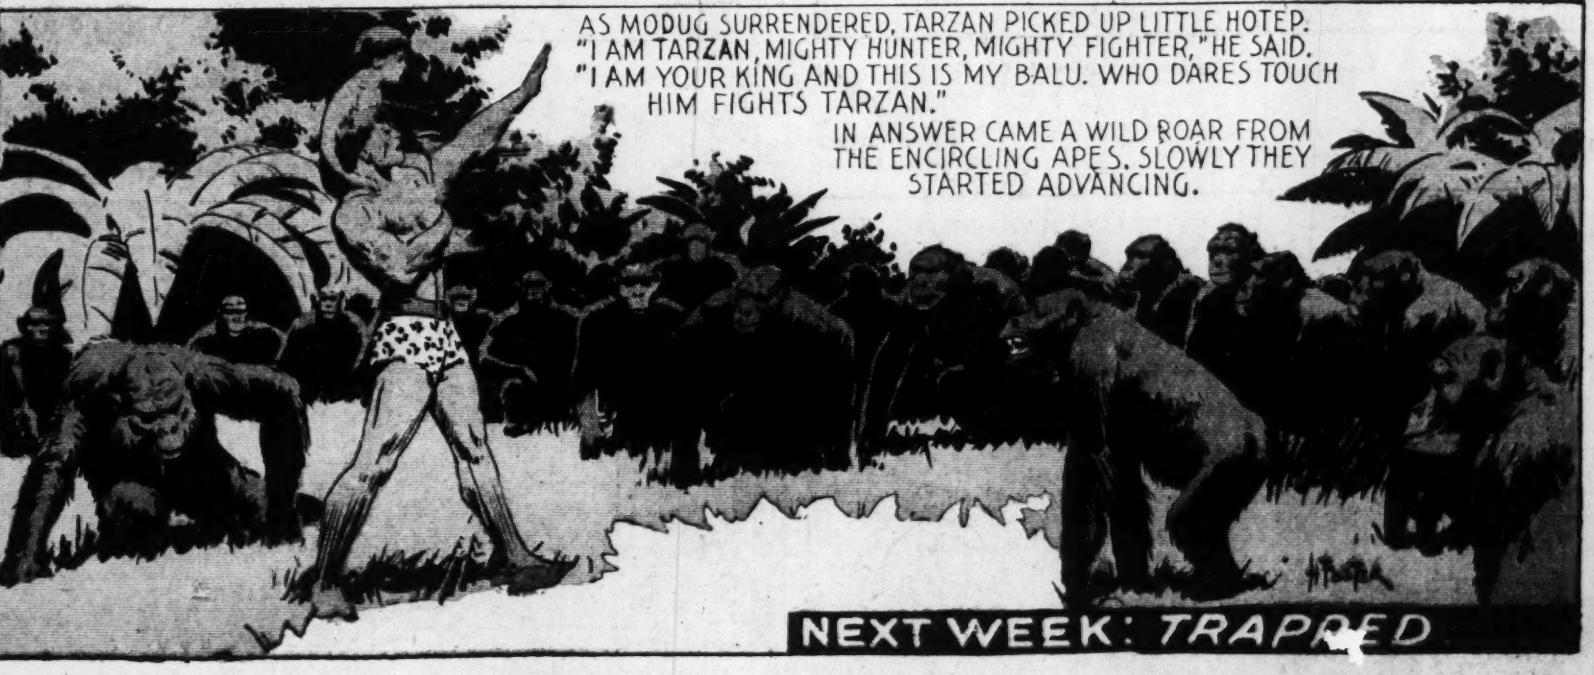

BUT TARZAN SEIZED THE CLUB AND REACHED FOR A CRUSHING HOLD.

IN A SECOND THEY WERE UPON THE GROUND, BITING, CLAWING, RENDING --- TWO SAVAGE BEASTS IN A DEATH BATTLE.

"HELP! HELP ME!" MODUG FINALLY CRIED. BUT NO APE KING CAN CALL FOR HELP IN BATTLE AND RETAIN HIS KINGSHIP. "KA-GODA?" TARZAN WHISPERED, MEANING, "DO YOU SURRENDER?" "KA-GODA," SAID MODUG.

AS MODUG SURRENDERED, TARZAN PICKED UP LITTLE HOTEP. "I AM TARZAN, MIGHTY HUNTER, MIGHTY FIGHTER," HE SAID. "I AM YOUR KING AND THIS IS MY BALU. WHO DARES TOUCH HIM FIGHTS TARZAN."

IN ANSWER CAME A WILD ROAR FROM THE ENCIRCLING APES. SLOWLY THEY STARTED ADVANCING.

NEXT WEEK: TRAPPED

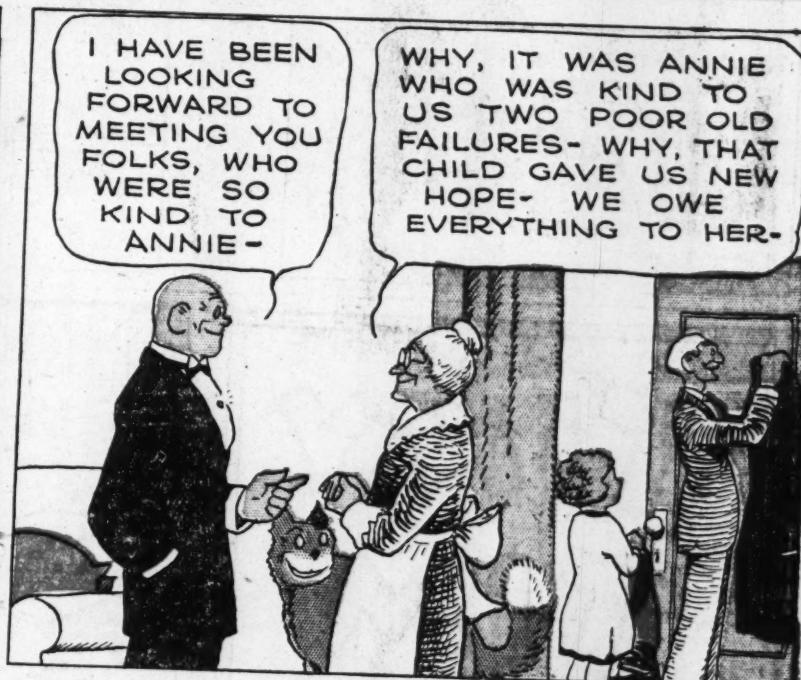

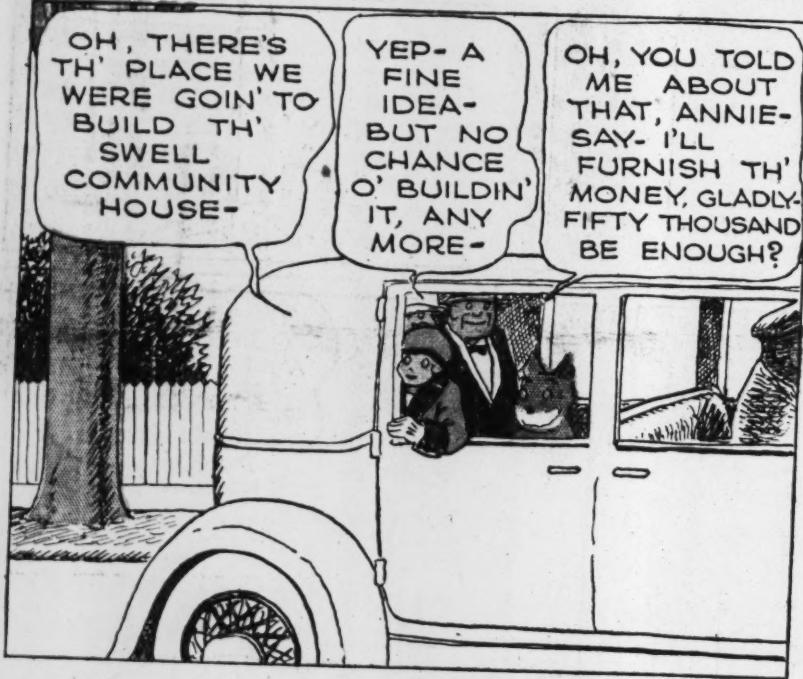

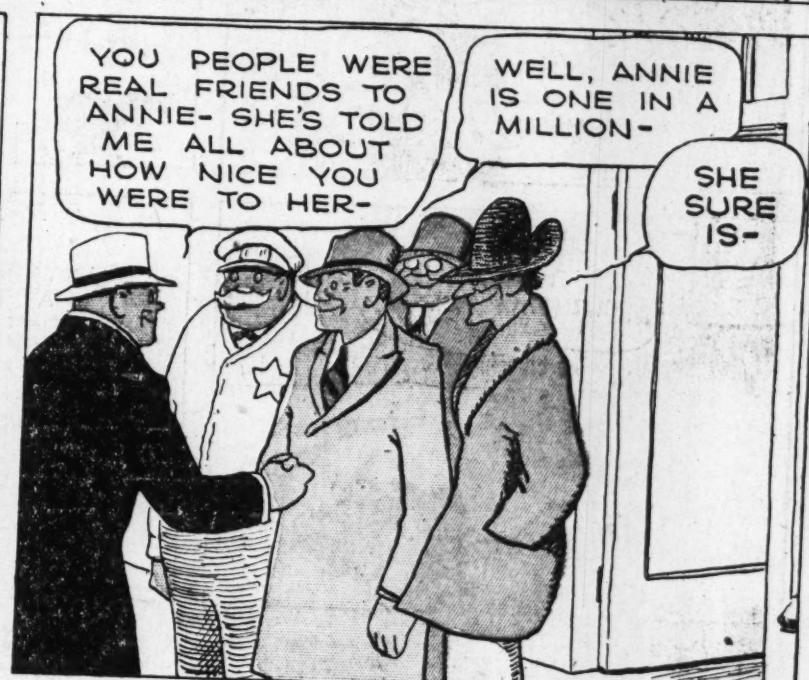

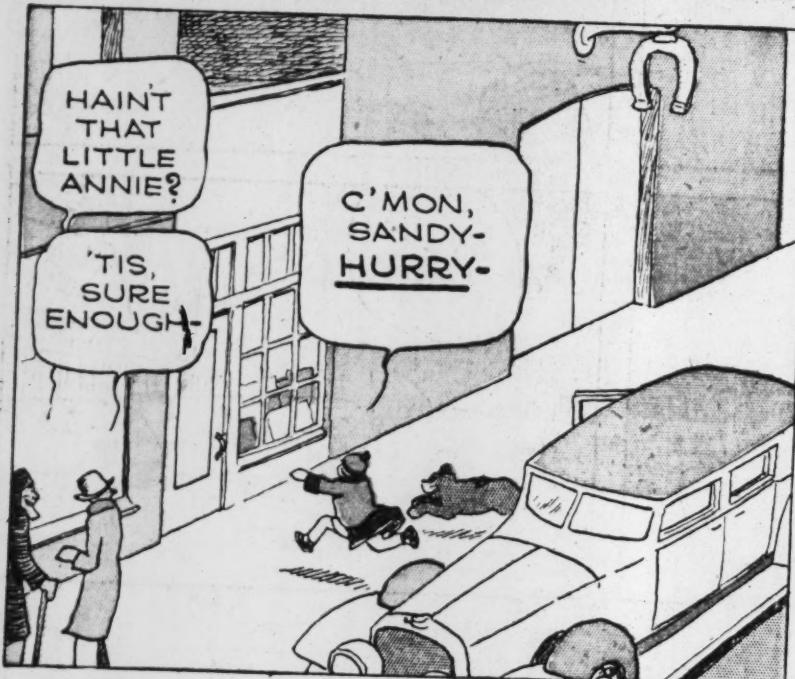

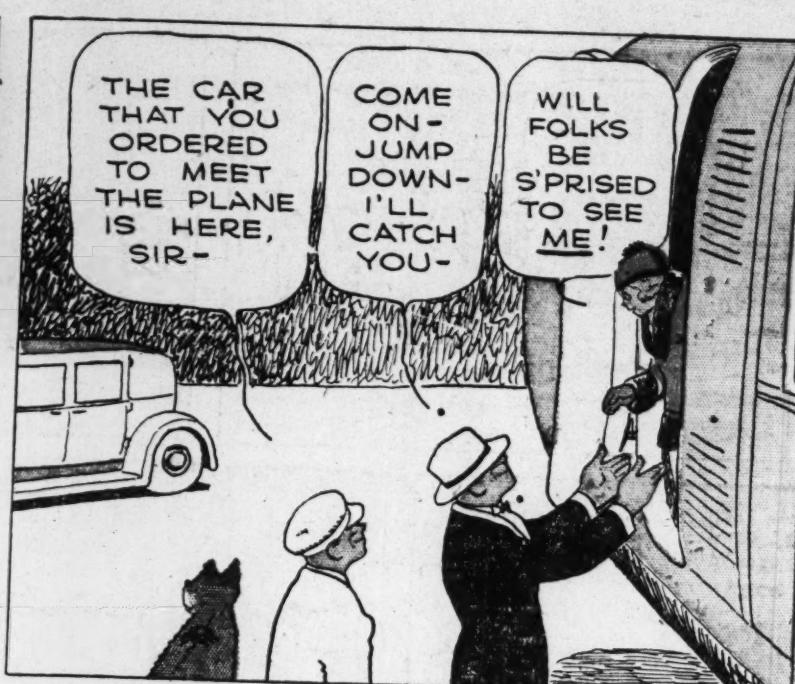

BEECH-NUT

Peppermint Gum means better Mint Flavor!

GELLOPHANE PROTECTS ITS FINE FLAVOR

Tune in to "Red Davis" - Monday, Wednesday and Friday nights on NBC Network and affiliated stations.

Reg. U.S. Pat. Off. Copyright 1934

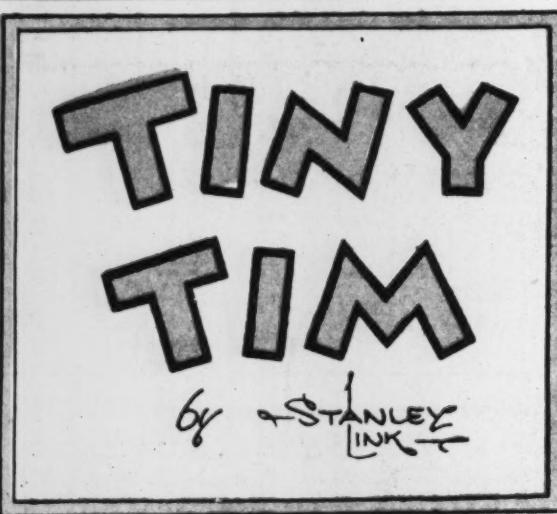

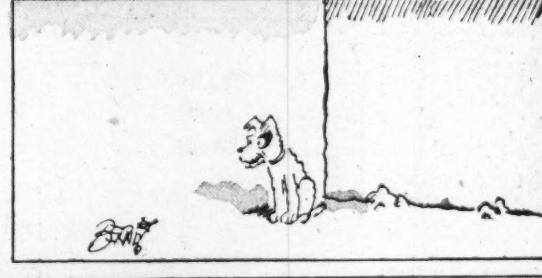

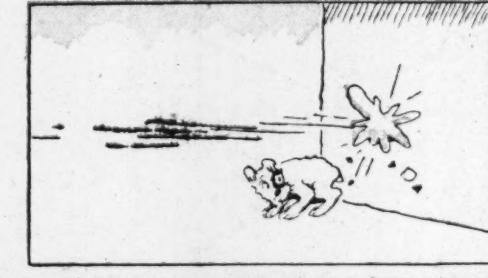

Maw Green

HAROLD GRAY

HERBY

YOU MAY FIND SMITTY AND LITTLE HERBY EVERY DAY ON THE COMIC PAGE OF THE CONSTITUTION